

I'm Richer Than My Billionaire Ex-husband Chapter 268

Caleb called Alina's phone again and again, however, Alina didn't answer.

"Caleb." Emma came over.

At this moment, her tone was all aggravation as she looked at Caleb.

Caleb looked sharply at Emma, that look was as if it had penetrating power, at this moment it wanted to see Emma through completely.

Emma, "Why are you looking at me like that?"

Caleb, "Why?"

Caleb was shocked in the fact that Emma begged Alina, not expecting at all that Emma would bow down to Alina.

After everything that had happened before, these two women hated each other.

And when Emma was asked why, her heart thumped and she took a deep breath and said, "I have no other way."

Alina is now pushing her to this point?

Is it that Emma is clueless, or is there something else going on in her world?

His eyes that looked at her carried even more penetrating power, and Emma was weak from such a look.

But no matter how weak her heart was, her face remained pitiful.

That pitiful look was silently asking Caleb not to make things difficult for her.

However the man's eyes were too sharp, and even when she showed the at the moment, Caleb's face didn't let up.

This leaves Emma's heart to grip.

Under the man's deepening, sinking eyes, Emma couldn't help but say in the end, "You saw what happened in Ingford."

"..."

"Now go back to Ingford, no matter where I go nowadays, everyone is shouting at me."

Now the whole world knows that she is the one who broke up Alina's marriage and even shared a meal with her at Werland Villa.

And the person who finally left Werland Villa was Alina. The mistress forced the legal wife away. This is challenging an all-female bottom line.

So no matter where Emma goes now, she will not have a good time.

But did those people really care about what the truth really looked like? No.

And she was the one who suffered the most pain.

Would she want to live in Werland Villa? Do those people really know why she lives in Werland Villa? Those people don't know anything.

"Stay out of it." Caleb pinched his aching brow, and now he was considered to have a severe brain pain.

He did not expect things to come to this.

Alina is now making more and more trouble again and again, and things are getting worse and worse.

"I will." Emma's tone tightened constantly as she spoke.

"But as you can see, I haven't done anything in all this time, and she's the one who won't leave me alone over and over again."

All this happening today is nothing compared to what happened some time ago.

The first period could be described as a mere fuss, now is really disturbing.

However what Emma doesn't know yet is that, she waited on her side for it to be over between Alina and Caleb, yet the man in front of her was unwilling to get a divorce.

Finally.

Caleb angrily took Emma back to Ingford with him, those public opinions are now buzzing, at the airport many people looked at Emma with a different look, although no one dared to come forward with Caleb around, but this let Emma know how ashamed she was now in front of everyone.

And naturally, these looks made Caleb's heart uncomfortable, and his face was dark at the moment.

"Caleb." Emma finally couldn't hold back and shouted at Caleb with all the aggression in her tone.

He gave a stern glance over the crowd.

The eyes of those people instantly moved to one side, but this was not the fundamental solution to the problem, and now everyone looked down on Emma.

Tomas was even more alarmed when he saw the scene.

He wondered what other scenes will follow this one.

And no matter how buzzed up Ingford is now, Alina is now over in Eglinton with Chester, blazing her career, and it's driving Caleb's anger through the roof.

Caleb came back to Ingford for three days, but Alina had not yet returned from Eglinton, which made Caleb, who was already at the peak of his anger, in rage.

Alina was just about to go back to Ingford.

Then she received a call from Andre.

During this period of time, because of some news between her and Chester, Andre's attitude had turned strange.

Especially after the big show in Eglinton, Andre did not call Alina even once.

At the moment, the call came.

Alina picked up, "Andre."

"The big show was a success, it's just a pity it wasn't me who was with you this time."

Why does that sound a bit sour?

But no matter what kind of position Alina stood in all these years, it was always Andre who was by her side.

Therefore at this moment, when listening to these words of Andre, Alina said, "I always have to be independent."

"..."

"But it's always good to get rid of the rumours that it's on you."

Yes.

Before, her success, no matter where she went, could not avoid being told that it was because of the good resources Andre had given her.

Though Alina would not deny.

But this time, it made those people among the post-show who had been saying that she was promoted by Andre's good resources, see what she was capable of.

In fact, compared her with Emma, they will know that a person who really does not have some strength, good resources won't work.

And the fact that Alina could be helped up so easily by Andre's good resources shows that she herself has some strength in her.

"You don't like the gossip?"

"No, but I always have to have strength of my own, don't I?"

Although Alina explained, Andre was still sour.

Originally, he wanted to accompany Alina at the Eglinton Show this time, but he could not find the time.

On the phone, Andre's breath was strained.

And Alina, catching this change in the man very clearly, asked tentatively, "What's wrong?"

Andre, "Between you and Chester..."

As he said this, Andre paused, clearly regretting asking somewhat.
