

I'm Richer Than My Billionaire Ex-husband Chapter 270

In fact, right now, she is in a very tormented state of mind.

She's really scared.

When the deadline is up.

What if Brodie went to Alina if he couldn't get the money? But Alina has not let up on her.

How did she become so shrewd now?

Whenever things are on the verge of being discovered in this way, it would be a lie to say that Emma does not regret it inside.

Because once something is done, she can't seem to erase it.

And especially when she can't sleep peacefully over these things, how sad those days are for her.

After that fluke, she would get high spirit again.

"Out of the country?"

When he heard Emma say she was going abroad, Caleb frowned.

Emma nodded, "Yes, I don't want to be here anymore, and you've seen what people say about me living in Werland Villa."

Before, it was clearly to avoid Chester, but now what?

It was clearly Alina who left Werland Villa on her own, and those people insisted that it was she who had forced Alina to leave.

It was not a good feeling for her to have such a charge placed directly on her, and yet, what to do?

Caleb frowned, cold light shining in his eyes.

But in the end, nothing was said.

And Emma, while looking at the man in such silence, was upset.

"Just let me go, will you?"

No matter what she wanted to gain from Caleb before, and no matter what she wanted to make Alina lose something, and now.

Emma just wanted to run away, and in the midst of threats like Brodie's, all she wanted to do now was run away.

She really didn't want anything else.

Caleb frowned, "Where do you think you can go?"

"She said this at the Eglinton Show, and you think there's room for you in this world now?"

At those words, Emma's face once again went white.

Although this had always been known to her since her return from Eglinton that things had come to this, at the moment in being said by Caleb, she was sad.

Alina is really ruthless, leaving her not place to stay.

"She really is so cruel." As she said this, Emma's tears were falling down, so pitiful.

This time, Alina has put them all to see her sinister side.

"And this thing is so far out of reach now, I don't know when it will end."

This is now a deadly place for Emma as well.

Her heart panicked even more when she learned that Caleb had sued Alina and Andre as well.

Although Caleb had always believed that Alina's daughter was Andre's.

But the last time she saw the resemblance between that child and Caleb at Mulherd Manor, Emma knew that the child was Caleb's.

And now Caleb has sued Alina.

So is it possible for Alina to tell the truth about the child in order to cope with this lawsuit?

After Caleb knew that he and Alina still had a daughter, wouldn't it be logical that he would side with Alina?

The more she thought about it, the more panicked Emma's heart became. She was going mad, not at all expecting things to come to this.

What to do?

She really didn't know what to do.

Everything just surrounded her and there was absolutely no way out now.

Especially on Brodie, this is the problem that must be solved for her at the moment, once she makes Brodie lose hope on her, then...

“Wherever I go, I’m leaving you, okay?”

In the midst of this desperate situation, Emma just wanted to leave Caleb.

Although Caleb had not really been kind or gentle to her over the years, but at least he was the one she could rely on.

Just the thought that Caleb might end up siding with Alina for the sake of that child, then at that time, what exactly did she have left?

Nothing.

That’s what makes Emma panic the most.

She had long since gotten used to being protected by Caleb over the years, no matter what this guardianship actually meant.

Even though she knew that Caleb never loved her.

But she didn’t have the courage to lose her guardianship.

But now, what the hell should she do?

“Leave Werland Villa, leave me, and you might be sent to North Eglinton by Chester, have you forgotten?”

Earlier when talking about going to North Eglinton, the reaction from Emma was dramatic, yet now.

“I can see that as long as I am by your side, Alina will not let me go.”

“...”

“So, let it end, let it all end.” Emma, really, was going crazy.

She did not expect that there would be such an uncompromising relationship between Alina and Caleb, which would have been as long as Caleb and Alina were really divorced now.

Then whatever was going on between them would now be over as well.

As soon as it's over.

She was right by Caleb, safe and sound by him, and would do nothing more in the future.

Once upon a time, Emma really didn't know that once the bad things have gone, there is always a bit that still lifts out.

She thinks she's done a clean enough job, but things are, really, not as simple as she thinks.

Once it starts, it is not easy to be over.

What she once did not understand, she now understands completely, but this understanding seems to have come late for her.

"It doesn't matter if I go to North Eglinton." Emma said bitterly.

She wanted so badly to be by Caleb and was so reluctant, but now she was not sure she could always be by Caleb.

Alina is really too fierce.

Such a step-by-step approach, which was never expected, now she had seen and thoroughly experienced it.

Caleb's thin lips were pursed and his eyes were cold.

Emma's heart was already tormented.

Now looking at the man's eyes at her, her heart was in her throat.

"Caleb."

She moved his lips to say something, but at the moment she couldn't say anything at all.

Caleb, "Really want to leave?"

"Yeah."
