

I'm Richer Than My Billionaire Ex-husband Chapter 277

Chester looked at Alina.

Not to mention that now Alina sensed that Emma was perverse, even for someone like Chester who didn't know Emma too well, he felt that there was something very suspicious about the matter.

He just didn't know if Caleb will be aware of it.

He didn't think so.

After all, his mind was always on Emma.

"Don't worry, I'll let Hector figure this out."

Alina nodded her head.

In fact, all this time, he was investigating this matter, just this matter is after all in the dark.

Once in the Hughes family, Emma looked so simple and innocent, who would have thought there would be so much behind it.

Today, no one knows what she is hiding inside.

"Alina."

"Yes?"

"Between you and Andre, how exactly did you make Caleb misunderstand?"

Alina, "He's always been unable to see anything clearly, hasn't he?"

So, how exactly this was misunderstood, up to now, Alina has not been too clear.

Chester smiled.

Alina, "Well, let's not talk about him."

Between her and Caleb, it was only a divorce. Although he would protect Emma, but for Alina, the matter of Emma is even more crucial.

"Okay."

Seeing that Alina did not like to hear about Caleb now, Chester did not bring it up again, but that was what he was happy to see.

All things, though now looking in the shadows, are in fact on the verge of being touched.

Who knows what the scene will really be like when things expose?

Emma is back.

This is really fast, and she even sent a message to Alina.

"I'm already at Ingford Airport."

This text message is provocative.

Alina looked at the message and the corners of her mouth lifted up in a sarcastic smile.

"Heh."

Marry was right behind Alina, and she naturally saw the message on Alina's phone.

"Emma." Marry thought she had seen all kinds of people.

But it was really the first time she had seen such shamelessness woman.

The thought of it is infuriating.

Alina, "Come back just in time."

It's just that this person is back, so does this behind the scenes mean that she has actually taken care of it this time?

Once something has happened, it is always time for the truth to come out.

The fact that Emma was able to leave Ingford to deal with this matter because of it reinforces the fact that this matter is not really simple.

She wanted to see what it would be like when the matter was finally turned upside down.

"This woman is very cunning, you should be more careful, Miss." In Marry's opinion, Emma was not only cunning, but vicious.

But the good thing is that now Alina is actually not a simple person, so at this point, there is actually no need to worry about anything.

Alina, "It's good that she's back."

But this time, when Emma dealt with these matters, it was probably because she was too impatient, and therefore now aroused more or less suspicion.

On her own side, she probably didn't realise it yet.

But this time, her leaving can trigger so many things, which is an unexpected gain for Alina.

"Yes."

Marry nodded.

It's good to be back. After all, there are still so many things lying around in this Ingford that are waiting for Emma to take care of.

.....

In the end, it is one person who is certain to win, and one side who has more control and understands better is naturally the winner.

Caleb said earlier that Alina's subjective sense was too strong.

What he doesn't know, however, he is actually the one who is subjective.

He thought to himself that the relationship between Alina and Andre was the one relationship that existed that he could not forgive the most.

He even hated the entanglement between Alina and Chester, but in the end, he chose this relationship between Alina and Andre.

Emma, who came back and provoked Alina, was obviously absolutely convinced that Caleb would win in the matter of counter-suing Alina.

And she was determined that this will soon be over.

Mulherd Manor.

When Alina saw Emma arrive, her hand that was squeezing the milk cup tightened.

Finally, a cup of milk was thrown in Emma's face.

"You still dare to come?" She had underestimated Emma's courage to come here.

And Emma said to Alina, "Let's talk."

She was generally unconcerned about the milk on her face, wiping it all off with one hand, showing no concern whatsoever.

Alina raised his eyebrows, "Talk?"

"....."

"I don't think there's anything to talk about between us."

Emma, "That child is Caleb's."

That child is Alina's soft spot, especially since this comes out of Emma's mouth, she is particularly disgusted.

And as Emma looked at the danger flickering under Alina's eyes, she knew what she was most unwilling to face.

"If this lawsuit between you goes on, the child will surely be revealed."

She knows too well that the relationship between Alina and Andre is not at all what Caleb thinks it is.

In this way, there will be no child between them.

And now, Caleb has sued Alina, and that's what worries Emma the most.

It's only a matter of time before something happens.

Alina, "So, what do you want to say?"

"You want me to give you back everything and take the share that still belongs to you."

"....."

"But are those things really that important compared to a child?" At this moment, Emma was just looking at Alina with great assurance.

Alina naturally knew what Emma meant.

People grow through trials and tribulations, and after what happened this time, Emma understood more clearly how important Caleb really is to her.

Although every step she took now was so dangerous, she couldn't care less.
