

I'm Richer Than My Billionaire Ex-husband Chapter 284

When Caleb and Tomas arrived, they saw that Emma had climbed onto the windowsill and sat down, and at that moment, their hearts were in their throats.

And Emma, the moment she looked at Caleb, was full of wretchedness.

"Caleb."

"Come down." Those two words, though commanding, were trying to be gentle.

Instead, a glint of smugness flashed under Emma's eyes.

How easy is it for Alina to take it all back just like that?

So what if she was sentenced?

"I was really out of it."

No matter how pleased she was in her heart, she still hid her inner delight in the presence of this man.

It's time to pick up the pace.

Between Alina and Caleb, it must end.

And she didn't believe that Caleb would really leave her alone. Even if it didn't matter that night.

What about what happened two years ago? That was a knot in Caleb's heart.

He had already found out that it wasn't her that night, so what happened two years ago couldn't be found out.

"I am truly out of options, I cherish everything you have given me so much, but no one is letting me have it."

Emma said in pain.

Caleb, "Since you cherish it, live and cherish it well, come down."

"But what can I do even if I cherish it? I'm simply not qualified to keep it all."

She was in tears, which would have moved any man who looked at such a Emma.

"I'll give you that qualification." Looking at Emma's swaying body, Caleb said.

What kind of person would be in a position to have it? Naturally, it is his wife.

Emma looked at Caleb in silence, and just watched, as if she had heard wrong.

Now that Caleb knows that Alina and Andre are not married to each other.

So, what about the child?

Emma just looked at Caleb, he would say such things to her at this time, she could guess he didn't know about the child.

So, she is now trying to get him to marry her before he knows about the child.

Just thinking of Caleb's attitude towards Alina, Emma became even more cautious.

"But between you and Alina..." When she said this, Emma's tone was so choked up that she could no longer speak at all.

And Caleb, just like that in front of her, took out his mobile phone and dialed a number out.

It was picked up soon.

"Sir."

"Appeal withdrawn."

Tomas, who was standing not far behind him, had cold sweat running down his spine as he heard this.

So now, Caleb is severing all ties with Alina for the sake of Emma.

"Now, come down." The man hung up the phone and looked over at Emma, who was still sitting on the windowsill.

And although Emma's eyes were still pitiful at this moment, no one knew what kind of complacency she was feeling in her heart.

Caleb's lawyer called Alina.

"What is it?" Alina's tone was icy.

As long as it was Caleb's people, she barely had a good face now, and what was Caleb up to now?

On the other side of the phone, the lawyer said, "Master Caleb said, you can ask for any other place, but what is under Miss Bell's name will not be given to you."

"In that case, I'll just have to go through the process."

Alina is assertive.

Now Caleb agreed to a divorce?

But even if he agreed to a divorce, everything that should be hers would have to be taken back in its entirety.

"Miss Hughes, why do you have to do this? Now Master Caleb has said that it all ends here."

"That's not for him to say."

Does he want to stop here and that's it? There's no such a good thing.

Without waiting for the other side of the phone to speak, Alina hung up the phone, with Stella by her side at the moment.

The moment Alina hung up the phone, Stella could not wait to insult Caleb and Emma for another ten minutes.

"Is Caleb planning to give up on you now?"

Alina snorted, "Who knows what kind of tricks Emma has played again?"

That's true.

Every time there is something on Emma, Caleb will definitely lose his mind.

Just wait and see.

Before, he was so tough with her, saying that he wanted to get everything straightened out, but now, he get back on his words.

As long as it involves Emma, Caleb probably doesn't care, but Alina.

Alina looked at Stella, "Stella."

"Yes?"

"It's not going to be easy to finish what's between me and her."

Caleb had told her time and time again that it ended here, but what exactly was it going to take to end it? Was it really that easy?

Stella, "Why wouldn't Caleb believe you?"

At this point, Stella really couldn't understand Caleb.

Especially after watching Caleb's attitude towards Emma in Oklens before, he seemed to be cold and icy as well, from this point of view, it was almost right that these two had no love at all.

"There's no telling what's going on with these two, so much so that no matter what's going on, he's protective as long as it involves Emma."

"....."

"But it doesn't matter." Alina said.

And she was telling the truth, they really didn't matter to her at all.

Stella nodded.

Apart from a sigh of relief, she did not really know what to say at this point in time.

Look at the time on her wristwatch.

"I'll go back first."

"Okay."

Stella got up and headed out.

Apparently she had come to dock with Alina on work matters, and now that the work matter was completely straightened out, there was no need for her to stay here.

Outside, when Stella walked outside, he saw Hector respectfully pulling open the car door for Chester, at that moment.

Subconsciously, she wanted to step forward, but after thinking of something, she lost her courage and withdrew her steps.

Chester went straight in.

Hector stood by the side of the car, looking at Stella indifferently, and such cold eyes pierced Stella's heart in this instant.

It has come to this between them, after all.

Eventually, indifferently, she passed by the man, who did not pull her back, with a detached coldness all over his body, as if he was treating a stranger.

Such strangeness made Stella's heart hurt even more.
