

I'm Richer Than My Billionaire Ex-husband Chapter 290

This woman's thinking is as ridiculous as ever.

Caleb's action was really big, and now everyone in the whole Ingford knew that Caleb was about to get married to Emma.

And the Collins family hadn't been in contact with Alina all this time.

Stella is here.

"I didn't expect that Emma would get what she wanted after all, how is it going on your side anyway?"

It's about those things that are in evidence.

Alina, "Caleb probably still did something on this."

How else could there have been no news until now?

However, Alina is not in a hurry, the result will come out, just a matter of sooner or later.

As she said to Emma on the phone, Emma thought that marrying Caleb that what she once did would not have to be paid for?

She was wrong.

When the time comes, she will be even more wretched.

"Caleb is really too much." Stella had always rarely complained.

Now, she insults Caleb.

Some time ago, he was still pestering Alina, and now he's marrying Emma.

It's really upsetting.

"Don't talk about him, I'm going out later."

"To see Chester?"

"Yeah."

When talking about Chester, Stella's face went white, obviously thinking of Hector who was beside Chester.

But only a moment later, the emotions in her eyes were all but swept away.

Looking at Alina, she said, "The good thing is that now, despite what happened, no one has criticised you and Chester."

Alina nodded.

Stella knows that Alina has always handled public opinion very well, and this is no different this time.

Alina looked at Stella.

Stella, "What's wrong?"

"You and Hector know each other?"

Stella's face went white.

And such a change of face confirmed what Alina had in mind, that these two had a story.

And it's not a simple story, to be sure.

Eventually she took a sigh of relief and nothing was said.

.....

It was the driver who picked up Alina. Chester was already sitting in the dining room and the moment he saw Alina, there is even more endless tenderness under his eyes.

"Just got a call from Brandon." Chester said with a smile on his lips.

And when Alina heard what he said, she stiffened.

"When did Chester become so familiar with the assistant by my side?" Brandon, who had been by her side since leaving this Ingford.

However after this big show in Eglinton.

Brandon and Chester seem to have a particularly strong connection with each other.

As she said this, she stepped forward.

A metre away, Chester suddenly reached out to her and pulled her into his arms.

Instantly, her body became stiff.

Caleb, who followed in behind, saw this image. At that moment, he lost his mind.

At this moment, upon seeing this image, Caleb could no longer find the right words to describe this relationship between them.

And Alina and Chester were startled when they saw Caleb.

Alina subconsciously wanted to get out of the man's arms, but was held down in his arms, "Sit well."

"Chester, you are moving really fast. The divorce certificate is still new, and now you want to get married in a hurry?" This was said with a bit of irony.

Of course, this sarcasm was aimed at Alina.

Alina did not have a good face, but in the end did not say anything, but Chester said, "After so many years, if I do not hurry up, what if she runs away again?"

And Alina looked fiercely at the man's face, and at that moment, in the man's face was endless inquiry, wanting to see something.

At the moment, however, there is a sense that nothing can be seen.

And Caleb clearly heard the implication of this too.

His elder brother was never a man who would just fall into love, so how come he was so inclined towards Alina?

However, he was really curious as to what kind of past was between Alina and Chester.

There are some things that Caleb does not dare to think deeply about.

Without waiting for him to think of anything, Chester opened his mouth, "Your wedding day is coming."

"In three days, right?" These days, that wedding between him and Emma was kind of the talk of the whole Ingford.

Basically, a lot of people are cursing how the hell Emma got to marry Caleb.

Caleb's face sank as he subconsciously looked at Alina. Alina's face did not fluctuate in any way.

At that moment, no one knew how Caleb's heart was really turning over.

She has probably been waiting for this moment all along, right?

Alina was not in the mood to have the lunch here, so she simply found an excuse to leave, ten minutes later, she was stopped by Caleb's car on the road.

His car overtook theirs like a bullet, and Chester's driver's face went white at the sight.

"Miss Hughes."

"It's okay, you can go back by yourself." After saying that, Alina pulled open the car door and got out.

She knew that there was no telling what kind of trouble this would cause if she didn't see Caleb.

The man's car window was half down, revealing the icy side of his face.

"Get in."

Without speaking, Alina got into the car.

The car, like a stray arrow, rushed off, and at that moment the man's heart was heaving, unable to hide his anger in any way.

"Between you and him it is serious?" Eventually, the man spoke first, breaking this silence.

Alina, "Serious or not, can't you see it? In the future, when you see me, remember to call me..."

Alina paused in her tone and looked at Caleb with a meaningful smile shining under her eyes, and then, she said, "Sister-in-law."

And when Caleb heard these words, he got pissed off.

At this moment, his brain went blank.
