

I'm Richer Than My Billionaire Ex-husband Chapter 294

After watching around, Emma looked at Yoyo with annoyance, "Are you sure these are all designed by big name designers?"

This is the best wedding headquarters in Ingford.

When it comes to style and good looks, there's probably no shop in this town that can match this place.

"Of course not." Yoyo looked to Emma and smiled respectfully.

That smile, however, was uncomfortable any way.

Yoyo said, "The new trendy and popular design today is the one by Joanna and Alina. Only for Alina, I just negotiated that her design will be the next treasure of our shop."

"....."

"Right now, if you want better, it can only be Miss Joanna's."

"After all, it takes some obscure designs to carry off the so-called new wave of big name designs."

Yoyo has been in the shopping mall for a long time, she really speaks of an art or something.

Emma looked at Yoyo with anger.

Her and Caleb's wedding is just around the corner, yet who would have thought that something like this would happen now?

Even in a wedding dress, there are people who dare to make things difficult for her.

"Still want to choose?" Yoyo looked at Emma and asked with raised eyebrows.

Choose?

All that should have been seen earlier has been seen.

She couldn't even fancy those styles, she's a designer herself, to get her to wear those kind of clothes, how could she bear this in her heart?

But wearing Alina's and Joanna's, that wasn't an option for her.

"Hmph."

"....."

“Tomas, let’s go.” Yoyo and Alina’s relationship was clear to her now. Continuing to stay here at this time would only be self-defeating.

She, in any case, could not be in this place.

Tomas stepped forward and took Emma with him.

Yoyo looked at Emma’s angry look and covered her stomach and laughed. The staff, after seeing Yoyo like this, all think that this boss is, really, too immodest.

She has already pissed off her customer, but she can still laugh. How can she do business like that?

Emma is furious.

It was especially stressful for her when she was out and about, with passers-by pointing at her when they recognised her.

In the car, Emma, “Tomas, did I really do something wrong?”

It’s no longer a question of being wrong.

Although the wedding between Emma and Caleb was now just around the corner, what Emma had done to Alina is all absolutely immoral.

In this case, Tomas, “That’s what you want.”

This is what Emma wanted for herself, and whether this is the right way or not, she probably knows this in her heart.

Yet, she was just so determined to snatch it all in her hands, then now faced with it all, naturally, she can blame anyone for being too hard on her.

As Tomas said, it was what she wanted and what she chose.

Emma’s heart was heaving.

It was clear that he heard that Tomas was not on her side, even now that she and Caleb were getting married.

But these people around Caleb continue to look down on her.

This was all she had begged for herself.

“You’re right, that’s what I want.” And this is probably the hardest time for her now, isn’t it?

And the harder it is, the more she has to marry Caleb.

It was as if things had come to such a pass that there was no turning back.

Emma has no idea how she got back to Werland Villa, now that everything in her name is gone, all taken back by Alina.

It was as if she had run out of places to go other than to live in Werland Villa.

Caleb has not returned until now.

"Tomas."

"Yes."

"Just choose a random wedding dress." At this point, Emma didn't want to go out at all now.

After all, it had just happened and no matter where she went at this time, those people would be pointing fingers at her.

And she really didn't want to face those looks.

Tomas, "Yes." He nodded his head.

Tomas turned around and left, and Tomas didn't say a word about what happened today to Caleb.

After all, Caleb was annoyed during this time, so now, at this time, these little things, in Tomas's opinion did not need to be reported.

Kara arrived at Werland Villa.

Looking at Emma, she said, "Half a million..."

"Do I look like someone who would be short of that half a million?" Kara hadn't finished her words when she was interrupted by Emma.

Although Kara was unhappy with Emma, she was in the end someone who went all the way with Emma.

As for the things Emma did, Kara actually didn't agree too much, after all, the morality was corrupted to such an extent.

There are a few people who can really look up at Emma.

Especially since Emma is now penniless.

On the Collins Castle, there was no telling what had been discussed between Vanessa and Caleb, ever since the incident with Alina three years ago.

The two of them, for probably the first time ever, stayed in peace for more than three hours.

In those three hours, no one knows exactly what they talked about.

When he came out, Vanessa took Caleb's hand, "Go back first."

"Okay."

Caleb frowned and left with his eyes full of preoccupation.

Julia poked her head out from behind Vanessa and looked at Caleb's still placid back, then at her amiable mother.

What a miracle.

During these years, every time Caleb left full of anger, she would then hear the sound of her mother dropping various things.

"Mum, what did you say to Caleb?"

Julia pulled Vanessa with curiosity.

This wedding is just the last three days to go, it's rare to have such emotions.

Vanessa, "What do you think I can say?"

"I'm curious."

"Vanessa poked Julia's head, and Julia covered her head, "Mom!"

Vanessa, "He is my son, and we can't change it even if we come hard."

That, said somewhat hopelessly, is the truth.

Caleb has been tough for a few years now, and yet up to now, he is still with Emma.

"Then you accept it, mum?" Julia looked at Vanessa in shock.

Vanessa then gave her a fierce glare.

What was that all about?
