

I'm Richer Than My Billionaire Ex-husband Chapter 299

Julia stepped forward, "Actually, Emma, you can live with dignity on your own, but it's a pity that you have to be a mistress."

"....."

"Although now you will be Caleb's wife, but no one will look up to you." When Julia finished, she turned around and gave Emma a fierce glare.

When Emma heard Julia's latter words, she was now even more irritated.

No one will look up to her?

Public opinion in the city has been buzzing for some time and she has become the talk of almost everyone's tea time.

And even if Caleb is about to marry her, she still remembered the way those people looked at her when she went to see the wedding dress yesterday.

Even if it is true that she is going to be Caleb's wife.

She was still looked down upon by those people, why? Even if she is standing in the same position as Alina, those people, too, look down on her.

She couldn't figure it out why she was the way she was.

Obviously standing in the same position and at the same height, why is the difference between them so huge?

Caleb is in the office.

When he received the call from Emma's driver, he kicked over his office chair and got up in a hostile manner.

At this moment, so many people in the conference room looked at Caleb in unison, and with just one glance, all of them could not help but lower their heads as well.

Now he's really scary.

Tomas, "Sir."

When he came back with the documents, he saw Caleb walking out with a hostile aura.

The world of Caleb now seems to have no peace and quiet.

In short, now even from Tomas, Caleb's world is all about this and that.

The car is already at maximum speed.

It was on the way to Collins Castle and it was obvious that something had happened there.

"Faster."

"Yes."

Tomas was always a good driver, but this was fast enough for him now.

.....

When Vanessa knew what Alina meant, she touched the back of Alina's hand and her tone was full of sighs of helplessness.

"I know you're aggrieved, and this is going to come to an end."

Just a moment ago, Vanessa knew that Alina, in order to clean up Emma, probably had to start with Caleb.

Right now, everything that Andre is doing is just suppressing Caleb, so that he can take care of himself for the time being and has no extra mind to bother with that matter of Emma.

In the opinion of Alina, that document against the Cooper family was still Caleb's move.

In this case, she would not let it go.

Vanessa, "If this matter is really Caleb's handiwork, I will never forgive him in my life."

Taking a deep breath, without waiting for Alina to speak, she said first.

Although Caleb was her son, Vanessa still couldn't accept that such a thing had happened.

"The truth will come out." Alina said.

She clearly sensed that there was something behind Emma, and if only that could be tapped out, then whatever it is that Emma has gone to such great lengths to conceal, it will expose completely as a result.

And what Alina is trying to do now is to dig the truth out.

“Yeah.”

Vanessa nodded, knowing what Alina meant.

It is always important to find out what should be found, even if so many years have passed, but something like the truth is not something that anyone can really hide.

Emma is still vicious after all.

What’s wrong with this move?

To have to touch her grandmother and parents is a thousand times more vicious than taking away her husband.

So much so, Caleb even presumed to think that Alina would end up in this matter with the end of her marriage.

These are two completely different things, how can he make such a request? After knowing about it, Vanessa was really angry.

Originally she wished Caleb to take care of Emma, but now after knowing this, there is nothing more to deal with.

“Well, do what you want with this, it was originally left to you by Grandfather, you have the right to deal with it.”

Although, Caleb is now rich.

He has a really good brain too.

Even Grandpa invested just bit back then, but he never thought that he would grow into a business empire as large as this.

But this important part, that is, the original one back then, was given directly to Alina by Max.

So not only does Alina now have those huge assets in VIG, which is what Caleb now has in these formerly so-called marital properties.

Now even if the divorce is split clearly, a large part of this actually belongs to Alina.

Therefore, Alina can now easily make Caleb a nervous wreck even without using Andre.

“By the way, Penny called me yesterday.” Speaking of Penny, the original seriousness under Vanessa’s eyes was no longer there, only endless tenderness.

It is said that people are related from generation to generation, which means that when it comes to your children's generation, the love you feel as a parent is probably still not fully reflected.

But, when it comes to your grandchildren, it's almost like you want to give out all your love.

"Is that so?"

When talking about the child, Alina's eyes were filled with tenderness.

She called her kid every day.

Rather, she didn't expect that the child and her grandmother were all so close now.

"She knows who is good to her." They haven't seen much of each other these days though.

But Vanessa almost always thinks of the child, so the child will receive the express sent by Vanessa side at any time.

She is not much of a shopper and has largely stayed at home over the years.

And yet, after seeing a cute dress at the mall, she has enjoyed going out anytime since then and just wants to give her granddaughter the prettiest dress.

She thought those little dresses were much nicer than the bespoke ones.

"The child has been raised well by you, you've worked hard all these years." Vanessa patted the back of Alina's hand and said.

Alina, "She's my child, I should put in much hard work."

That is motherly love.

However, just as the two were about to say something else, the butler hurried in and Vanessa, who had been interrupted, had a touch of displeasure on her face.

The butler's tone was grave, "Madam, something's wrong."
