

I'm Richer Than My Billionaire Ex-husband Chapter 306

Cold sweat broke out on Tomas' spine.

Taking a deep breath, he said, "You know Miss Hughes's temper, every time on this matter of seeing you, she is very annoyed."

It was no longer a matter of being annoyed, it was that Alina was very much repelled from meeting him.

"Where is she?" As his words fell, Tomas could feel his anger.

Tomas looked at Caleb apprehensively and finally said, "She went straight to Waterside Villa."

Almost the moment the words fell, Caleb clenched his hands into fists, his bones were clacking, it was evident how much Caleb really cared about this matter and how angry he was.

"How shameless." Even though he was a man who was elegant, he couldn't help but angrily say this at this moment.

Tomas was even tighter at this.

He knew that this was actually Caleb being jealous.

He, in the end, still cared.

It's just that now they're both really divorced, so right now, his side isn't in a position to interfere with who exactly Alina is with.

The next day.

Tomorrow is the wedding, because of the fallout with the Collins family, so now almost no one cares about Caleb and Emma's wedding.

While Caleb is still busy at the company, and last night he didn't even go back to Werland Villa.

Emma's phone calls came in again and again.

Caleb picked up the phone unhappily, but the moment he picked up the phone, he still suppressed the stuffy weight in his heart.

"Emma."

"Caleb, you didn't come back last night?" Emma had a tone full of aggression.

Caleb, "Had an overnight meeting."

"Tomorrow is our wedding, I'm afraid."

"Scared of what?"

"I don't have a single family member around me right now."

Caleb then remembered that back then, Emma's mother was working as a nanny in the Hughes family, yet Emma had a sister

Her mother had passed away.

Then she still had a sister in this world, didn't she?

"Where is your sister?"

It was a wedding after all, and she should come.

And speaking of her sister Hope, Emma's heart instantly rose to her throat.

"She's busy abroad."

Busy?

Even if she is busy, she should come back, right?

However, when talking about her, Emma's heart was not feeling good.

She had never thought that her only family in the world, Hope, would be on Alina.

Ever since she had become a pilot, she had never contacted Emma.

She knew that Hope would actually fly back to Ingford once a week.

But they never saw each other.

During that time, she contacted Hope many times, at the beginning Hope was still willing to answer her calls, but after that, not to mention seeing each other, she didn't even answer her calls.

Hanging up Caleb's phone, Emma sat in the dining room, Lois brought out the finished breakfast and looked at Emma's not-so-good face.

She looked around subconsciously and saw that the butler and other servants were not there, only then did she ask Emma carefully, "What's wrong?"

It was not good for a bride to be in a bad mood this early in the morning.

Emma looked at Lois with tears in her eyes, looking as if she had suffered a great deal of grievance.

Lois' eyes were instantly filled with pain.

"Come on, you are going to be a bride tomorrow, nothing is more important than this?"

Emma's tone was choked with sobs, "Could it be that I'm really wrong?"

It was fine for others.

Why didn't Hope stand by her side?

Originally, the two sisters would really have been the pride of her hometown, one a female pilot who flew the skies at any time.

One was a famous designer standing on high ground.

And her dream was ruined by Alina and even her sister was not on her side.

This is really hard for Emma, but it seems that her sister has never understood her.

Lois, "Now is not the time to say right or wrong."

Lois, who did not know Emma's life before, had always felt that Emma was lacking in virtue and hateful, but she knew that Emma had come this far, and there was actually no way to turn back.

There seemed to be no other way but to keep going.

Emma, "But my sister Hope..." When talking about Hope, she could not hide the pain in her tone.

It was fine for other people to treat her like that, but it was her sister.

"Hope will understand you in the future."

In the future?

Is there a future?

It had been years since Hope found out about her relationship with Caleb, but why did she still ignore her?

Because of Hope's attitude, Emma actually doubted more than once whether she had really done it wrong.

If there was nothing wrong with her, why did Hope treat her like that?

"Don't worry about that now."

"But Caleb asked about her."

This is the most disturbing part, the key problem now is Caleb.

Caleb is now completely sure that the Collins family is not going to come, if her family member does not appear either, then it would basically be certain that this wedding would not have a single family member to bless.

"Then shall I go meet Miss Hope later?"

Meet Hope?

Emma calculated the time, today Hope just happened to land in Ingford.

Therefore, her originally disappointed eyes were now filled with hope when she looked at Lois, "Alright then."

Hopefully, Hope would come to her wedding.

Although, in her heart, Emma really had some doubts about herself, but as Lois said, at this point, there was no room for turning back.

So, she still hoped that her only relative in this world would forgive her.

At least her loved ones were on her side when everyone was criticising her.

"Don't worry, I will try to get Miss Hope to come."

"It would be really nice if she could come."

"Yeah."

Lois nodded.

Hearing that Lois was going to find Hope, Emma felt better.
