

I'm Richer Than My Billionaire Ex-husband Chapter 61

Emma looks to Caleb.

The man now has no the same deep sharpness that he had just shown Alina.

The men set her eyes once again on Alina, who was receiving a warm welcome from the world on the high stage.

Apparently, she never had such a dazzling scene when she was around him, and last show in Ingford, it was Andre who accompanied her. Wasn't it Andre who accompanied her in every appearance she made in the past few years? That man witnessed her dazzling every time?

Tomas received a message, "Check every Alina show for the past two years."

Joslan Hughes.

The name was once so foreign to him, yet today it is the name that represents Alina's journey to the top.

Because the 'Tomorrow' was so sensational, the designers who came back on stage could not stir the hearts of those who had not yet calmed down unless their work was really too good.

In this competition, Emma had prepared her own presentation, but she didn't expect Alina to be more impressive.

So when she stood on the high platform, all the people she saw were mingling.

It seems like the crowd did this after Alina came on stage.

It's Alina again.

Emma clenched both fists, her face in the light became more and more white, and finally she concluded, "This is my narrative of my work."

She finished hastily and got off the stage.

Kara, who was waiting below, saw Emma coming down like this and her face turned sullen, "You didn't prepare last night?" She could not help but question.

When she was there last night, Emma was drinking, so she didn't prepare properly.

Once in a decade. Such a good opportunity, but Emma ruined it.

"What's the use of being even better prepared? Those people don't treat me with any semblance of respect." Emma said suppressively.

When she stood on the stage, there was not even a single eye contact, there was no more humiliation than this.

Kara, "What do you care about that? Do you know that a lot of important people will be present today, and you..."

Kara was going crazy, and she noticed that after Alina came on stage, there was already a lot of secret talk about the differences between her and Katie's work.

Katie is a designer who has been famous in this business for a long time, and her work is very strict every time.

Alina's work, on the other hand, is more sensual.

Both have their own characteristics.

Isn't this normal? How did these people get into trouble with Emma?

The more Kara looks at Emma, the more she feels angry. If it weren't for Apricot International Group, she wouldn't even bother with her, and the more she feels that it's not worth it to promote her so much.

"Think about it." Kara snorted coldly and turned to leave, obviously furious.

Emma stood in place, her blood chilled, when she was on stage just now, she didn't think that much, nor did she think how important it was for her to be selected for this opportunity for ten years, but after being yelled at by Kara in such an angry manner, she realized that she might be in trouble.

It's Alina's fault.

The more Emma thought about it, the angrier she became.

Kara sent a message out to Stella.

She must also find a way to get Emma out of the company's contract, or let someone else take her, this kind of garbage had no professional ability, and still wants to become a designer.

She kind of experience, even if it is to compensate for breach of contract can not work with such a person.

After it's over.

Journalists on site were interviewing their target designers for the day, and Joslan Hughes was naturally among them.

Alina and Ayden have always been inseparable.

When Alina was asked about the plagiarism incident, Ayden subconsciously tried to protect her, but was stopped by Alina.

Stella suddenly stepped forward and stepped in front of Alina with a gentle smile on her face.

She said, "I've been covering Miss Joslan since before she entered the competition, and I think I can give you an answer to the question about Miss Joslan's plagiarism."

"May I ask when you were with Miss Joslan for the entire documentary?"

"From the moment she decided to compete, I was there for her."

What does this mean?

Apparently, Stella lied.

Although they had to do her follow scene coverage, they spent very little time together at Ingford, so how could they have been working together from the beginning?

At this moment, Alina realized that something was wrong.

Kara, not far away, watched nervously as she saw Stella answering the reporter's questions.

This idiot didn't see the message, did she?

Stella, at this moment, just felt dizzy in her own head.

She was ready to give up Emma, and she and Alina have no deep hatred, so why ruin her?

She tried to stop this from happening, but Emma grabbed her, "What do you mean?"

Just now after leaving, Kara are not cared all the follow-up? She is still the company's contract designer.

Se threw Emma away and was heading towards Alina.

But Emma pulled her back again, "You have to come with me now."

Kara can't stay for half a minute now.

Although she could only try to break her contract when she got bach, she has already started to give up Emma now.

“You’re a grown-up n now, and I think you should know what you’re doing and what not to do.”

Then she would just go deal with the next scene.

Emma naturally heard what Kara meant and her face went pale.

“What do you mean?”

“Let’s wait until we get back to Ingford.” With that, Kara pulled her hand out of Emma’s.

Without waiting for Emma’s reaction, she headed straight for Alina’s direction.

And Emma stood still, her already not-so-good face was even whiter.

Back to Ingford? Is she breaking her contract?

Emma’s hands were clenched at this moment, she could hear that Kara was giving up on her?

Kara was the special assistant Caleb chose for her at the time, and she was so proud, but every designer she brought in had extraordinary achievements.

Without waiting for Kara to pass, Stella’s voice suddenly rang out over the crowd as she said, “Before I explain everything for Miss Joslan, I want to have something for everyone to hear.”
