

I'm Richer Than My Billionaire Ex-husband Chapter 64

No one knows that, at the scene, how helpless she was, how desperate she was, the moment she fell, she could not remember how many pairs of feet stepped on the back of her hand at that time.

She even clearly heard the sound of bones cracking, the kind of pain that pierces the heart and bones, to now her forehead is still in a cold sweat.

The doctor came over with her examination report, "Miss Bell, according to the film, your right index finger and ring finger have crushed bones and need immediate surgery now."

"Surgery?" When she heard surgery, Emma's face went white.

The doctor nodded, "Yes, surgery is necessary."

"Isn't it corrective?" If it's corrected, why does she need surgery?

Emma opened her mouth, her lips were trembling.

Doctor, "You don't have a normal fracture, it's a comminuted fracture, and according to the film, it's not a comminution on the joint, but on the middle joint of the finger and also the head joint."

"So will I be able to keep my finger?" Emma looked at her hand, at the swelling of her right hand.

Looking at the area the doctor said, her heart was beating uncontrollably.

Doctor, "Yes, but it's not much use, you can use the force, but only the root."

It means there's basically little strength in the rest of her body. That's where she holds her pen, and she's not on top of her game yet.

She has beaten Alina yet, how can she not be able to use her right hand?

Emma couldn't help but tremble at the thought of it.

"Isn't there anything else you can do? Like fix it." Emma spoke again, and her tone couldn't even help but tighten.

Her fingers cannot be without strength, especially the fingers of her right hand.

At this moment, she trembled and looked at the doctor with fear. Facing the word 'surgery', she was so afraid.

However, to her horror, the doctor shook his head, "Unfortunately, your condition is too severe to repair."

“No way.” Emma roared hysterically as soon as the doctor’s words left his mouth.

How come it can’t be fixed?

She just got stepped on, how come she has to go to the point of finger weakness?

She doesn’t believe it.

“You’re all Alina’s people, aren’t you? That bitch won’t let me keep my finger and wants to destroy me completely, right?”

The ward was in instant chaos.

The doctor and nurse looked at each other.

They came from the exhibition, but didn’t know who Alina really was, so they didn’t know what Emma was talking about.

“Miss Bell, this is a hospital, please calm down.”

“How do you tell me to calm down, how do you think I’m going to calm down?” Emma roared.

Doc, “Miss Bell, I know this is a cruel truth for you, but...”

“I don’t want surgery, I don’t want surgery.” Emma shouted frantically.

She doesn’t want surgery.

She tried to move the fingers of her right hand, but it is in great pain.

With her swollen fingers, she couldn’t do anything but hurt.

Madly, she was going to grab the pen in the doctor’s coat pocket.

Crowd, “Miss Bell, please calm down.”

The pen taken out of the doctor’s pocket fell to the ground.

Frozen looking at the pen that fell to the ground, and the pen body and cap fell apart, she almost fainted.

How can she not hold a pen?

“It was Alina who gave you the money, how much did she give you?” Emma’s eyes were scarlet and she was completely out of her mind.

At this moment, she only felt that she had so many conflicts with Alina before, Alina also hated her in her heart, right?

But is this revenge of hers too cruel?

Let her lose the opportunity to hold a pen in her right hand. Alina is really the cruelest person in this world, to destroy all that she has.

Who the hell said Alina is kind? She is the most sinister and poisonous person.

“Have you calmed down?” The doctor looked at Emma , and asked seriously.

Emma doesn’t say anything and looks to the doctor.

“Please call Caleb.” She’s going to make Caleb kill that bitch.

Alina destroyed everything she had, so why should she still stand on that high platform like that naively and accept everyone’s dazzling moment?

Doctor, “On the way to the hospital, we have helped you to call the person you note husband in the phone, no one answered.”

At this moment, when thinking of this note, Emma laughed coldly.

When exactly did she change that note? It seems to be from three years ago, when Caleb wanted to use Alina to save her.

Later, Alina didn’t come to the hospital after all, and Caleb looked for her like crazy.

She thought, without Alina, Caleb will eventually marry her, so she made a note in her phone book addressing Caleb as husband.

But looking back on it now, it’s ironic.

“Not answering the phone?” Emma took a deep breath.

Without waiting for the doctors and nurses to answer, she said, “I don’t want surgery. Just help me deal with it conservatively first.”

She doesn’t want surgery.

Although she has not had anything in the medical field, at this moment, Emma knew very well that once she had the surgery, she would probably never have the chance to hold a pen in her right hand again.

In the hotel.

Alina was really tired, so she fell into asleep.

In the other presidential suite, Mrs. Collins remained by Caleb's side throughout the night, and Caleb never had a chance to leave.

Until dawn, Mrs. Collins was gone.

Caleb, "You know what happened back then, why do you..."

Speaking of the year back then, Vanessa was angry, saying, "I don't know what it was like back then. As far as her appearance is concerned, I believe that she took the initiative to throw herself at you."

It was said that Caleb ruined Emma's body?

But looking at her so eagerly tried to enter the Collins family, Vanessa knew she was up to Staying with Caleb's father all those years, She could read other's mind.

She did not come out often, it was because many faces are seen through, she felt it disgusted, and did not want to see it.

"Caleb, do you really know Emma?"

Vanessa's tone was serious.
