

I'm Richer Than My Billionaire Ex-husband Chapter 69

The more Caleb tries to clear Emma with the recording, the more Alina seems to expect Caleb to screw her.

So it's solid evidence to Emma.

Now, not to mention the gold PR, even God can't clear Emma's name.

The man's mind swept away like crazy.

At this point in time, it is probably clear that Emma is basically finished.

"Give me the tablet." Caleb said in an annoyed tone.

He is now really eager to strangle Alina.

Tomas hurriedly handed the tablet to Caleb, who repeatedly watched the video screen on it, though without naming names.

But the special temperament and height can make people see who exactly is.

After Alina had her fill, Andre booked her a special flight back to Shirling, and Finley took her to the airport himself.

Alina swiped her tablet, and she had to say that Stella was really fast.

Now that Caleb's chances of getting under her skin have been completely eliminated, she can now go back to Penny in peace.

Stella's number flashed on the phone, and the other side picked up, "Alina, all the vloggers have forwarded it."

Especially now that it's so hot, this news topped the headlines almost immediately.

With all eyes on her, Alina couldn't believe that Caleb would dare to drag her down now.

"Thanks." Alina said.

Stella is a rare good friend, trust is the most treasured between friends.

And Emma's focus is never on that.

"We are friends."

“By the way, I had Brandon transfer in the medical bills to your Grandma’s account at the hospital.”

“I don’t need that.”

“Stella, I am grateful that you were not forced by this weakness to betray me, and how can I leave you to bear all the difficulties by yourself?”

“Alina.” Stella suddenly got choked up on the other side of the phone.

She said, “If Grandma knows, she would rather not be cured than let me do such a thing.”

“Well, I know.” So Stella is a girl who deserves to be loved.

Then Alina hang up the phone with Stella.

Alina looked at the comments on the video screens, and they were all overwhelming all criticizing Emma.

So it goes without saying exactly what kind of tough times Emma is having right now.

And that, too, can’t be blamed on her.

Soon after, Stella called and Alina picked up, “Stella.”

“You gave the hospital a million?” Stella exclaimed in shock.

Apparently, Alina was not expected to be so generous.

Alina, “So you tell the hospital to schedule surgery for your Grandma.”

That’s a lot of money to cover the cost of surgery.

“Alina, how can you...?”

“Your Grandma’s health is important.” Stella’s sentence was cut short by Alina before she could finish it.

She had listened to that recording.

It was two thousand a day.

It can be seen that the cost of surgery is definitely not low.

And she is now in a position to help her friend, why not Alina help her?

“Alina, how can I thank you?”

“We’re friends, don’t let that stress you out.” Alina helps Stella, but she doesn’t want to put too much pressure on Stella.

After coming down.

She also had Brandon look into it, saying that Stella’s salary over the years was basically spent on her grandmother.

This year, however, she was even more overwhelmed by the deteriorating condition of the elderly.

Stella posted a text as fast as she could, intertwined with that video, sweeping all in order.

Her title clearly states how she was coerced with her seriously ill grandmother before the competition, and how Alina secretly helped her after Alina learned about it.

The contrast between good and evil is stark.

Caleb had just finished sorting out how to help Emma, and there was an outpouring of criticism of Emma for being a vicious competitor.

Now it is even more directly even the moral bottom line is completely torn.

Caleb ruthlessly slammed the tablet in his hand on the carpet, making a muffled, and the atmosphere was even colder to the limit at this moment.

Jack was also looking at his phone, apparently saw it too.

This article did not use the fans to push, but now in just an hour, it has millions of forwarding.

Caleb’s phone vibrated, and when he looked at the number, the danger in his eyes rolled over even more at that moment.

He picked up the phone, “Hello.”

“Mr. Collins, we found out that Miss Joslan’s malicious competition was indeed facilitated by Miss Bell.”

“Now we met and decided unanimously that it is to nullify Miss Bell’s results in the competition and cancel the qualification of future exhibitors.”

The person on the other side of the phone said formulaically.

It was a good game, but now it is made dirty.

For the even boundary organizers, authority is being challenged again and again, plus now public opinion is getting bigger and bigger.

The competition quota will be announced tonight.

If Emma was still on the list, everyone would have attacked.

If Emma had nothing to do with this, the organizers would have stopped it from happening.

But now it's different.

The organizers have been given the latest evidence that everything is related to Emma, plus something so big that it draws a lot of fury from everyone.

So Caleb's original communication is now useless.

Caleb smashed the phone straight away.

Katie looked at the furious Caleb and said, "This is Oklens, you can't just take control of everything."

This is the first time since Caleb took charge of AIG that things have gotten so out of control in his hands.

And Jack has no idea what this game means for Emma, let alone Caleb.

Caleb was trying to give a final closing gift to Emma.

Her taking the international route was his final compensation for her based on that incident back then.

But things turned out the way they are now.

Caleb slammed the door and left.

Tomas and Jack looked at each other.

Tomas asked Jack apprehensively, "Is there really nothing that can be done about this?"

"Yes."

If there is a way, how come Caleb looks annoyed?

Jack, "Tomas, what do you think Emma is?"

Tomas froze at this question.
