

I'm Richer Than My Billionaire Ex-husband Chapter 83

Finally, it was Alina who was too nervous, Caleb didn't mean to stay here, and before he left, "Think about Brooklyn."

When she heard these words, Alina immediately got angry again.

This man won't be satisfied until she's pissed off, will he? He's still reminding her about Brooklyn.

Emma is really important to him.

Alina, "Don't even think about it."

It's his own debt, what does it have to do with her? Think about it? Think her ass.

Alina cursed Caleb with all the bad words she knows, but her heart is still not relieved very much.

Caleb is gone.

Alina, however, is very angry.

"Lady Alina, don't be angry anymore." Lucy said.

Three years ago, he hurt Alina for the sake of Emma, and he is still so endless.

No matter who is at this point, it is also absolutely intolerable.

"I'm not angry." Alina has long stopped caring him.

Between her and Caleb, only love will feel hurt, and when there is no love, everything he does will not hurt her.

Back to the room, she called Penny, and she is probably still having dinner as Shirling is just getting dark.

"Mommy, I miss you." On the phone, the child is sweet-mouthed.

"Mommy misses my baby girl, too."

It seems that the grandmother's matter is to catch tight, until the grandmother's matter is investigated clearly, she will immediately go back to Shirling.

As for the rest, it would have been unimportant to her.

She talked to Penny for a while.

After that, she talked to her grandfather for a while. On the phone, her grandfather gave her a lot of instructions, and Alina nodded.

This night, Alina slept extremely well.

The next morning, Alina went to AIG, not that she took the chairmanship seriously.

She also knew that according to Caleb's ruthless tactics, the shares would sooner or later be taken back by him, and the group was developed by him.

How could she be allowed to play anything?

She was purely here to give Caleb a hard time, and when she arrived, she saw Isabel's car in the garage.

And upstairs, to her further surprise, Emma was also there.

Seeing her, Emma's face was full of wariness and discontent, "What are you doing here?"

Alina, "What does it matter to you?"

"Alina, don't you think you are insistent? You said you don't care while appearing in front of him, you're still as hypocritical as ever."

Emma said fiercely.

Alina froze for a moment at her words.

Hypocritical?

So the kindness she showed Emma in the past, in Emma's eyes, was just her hypocrisy?

So, that's what she thought.

At this moment, looking at the hatred in Emma's eyes, Alina noticed not all good will be seen to be good.

"I don't know if I'm hypocritical or not, but I do know you taught me one thing."

"Don't mind other people's business, good or bad, you'll get your comeuppance."

This is a clear retort to Emma.

Emma looked at Alina with a white face.

In her eyes, there are tears of aggression.

She looked like Alina had bullied her. Alina snickered, lazy to take care of her.

Isabel came out of Caleb's office and the moment she opened the door, everyone felt the coldness coming from inside the office.

"Meet me at the lawyer this afternoon." Isabel said to Alina.

Alina nodded, "Okay."

Isabel is gone.

And Emma froze for a moment when she saw Isabel, and then looked freely at Alina.

At the moment Isabel disappeared, Emma said, "Caleb is going to divorce you, isn't he?"

Emma has seen Isabel on the cover of a magazine, a very famous divorce lawyer.

Alina looked at Emma like she was an idiot, "She's my lawyer."

At this, Emma's face froze.

Looking at her, Alina thought she was brainless. No wonder Caleb couldn't promote her in the past year even in help of ef.

Alina went in.

And Emma stood there for a long, long time, unable to come back to her senses. So Alina asked Isabel to be her lawyer?

She wanted Caleb to get nothing after the marriage?

When she thought about it, Emma's face got worse and worse.

In the office.

Alina looked at Caleb, who did not look very well, and thought that Isabel had just showed a lot of evidence against him.

"How much have you prepared?" Eventually, Caleb finally spoke, his tone full of chill.

Alina, "I have all the evidence of your cheating, especially the ones you have done recently, I will just pick two of them."

At the word, his eyes flashed sharp.

At this moment, he finally understood that Alina's divorce was not a temper tantrum, nor was it just a joke.

She, for real, wants a divorce.

Without waiting for him to say anything, Alina continued, "Do you think Emma would still be attracted to you if she knew you get nothing?"

The two looked at each other, one was a calm provocative smile, while the other, was sharp and darkly dangerous.

"What do you want to say?"

"Want to try it?"

So that she successfully can walk away from the marriage? She is really smart.

"You really want to get rid of me that badly?"

"Of course."

"....."

"Daydreaming about it everyday." Alina was telling the truth.

When she learned that the marriage between her and Caleb was still going, no one knows what she really felt in her heart.

Some people say she's stupid.

The divorce is what the third party wants.

Yet she just wants to get rid of this man.

Alina looked at Alina, scrutiny in her eyes.

He really tried to see Alina through.

Alina was a bit uncomfortable by his gaze, "Originally our relationship was quite simple and clear before, it was you who didn't cherish it."

She meant that when she asked nothing from the divorce, yet this man refused.

He always felt that she had some conspiracy.

Alina doesn't mind at all what kind of person she really is in Caleb's mind.
