

I'm Richer Than My Billionaire Ex-husband Chapter 93

In Alina's hand?

Emma's face stiffened as she looked at Kara.

It had to be said that no matter how much she had achieved over the years, she did have a lot of good resources that had fallen into her hands during her time at eF.

At the thought that Jay had not waited a moment for her to get out of her contract when she returned from Oklens just to work with Alina, her heart was pounding!

"Emma, if she stays in Ingford, you'll only lose Mr. Collins as well." Kara looked at her already in action.

She continued!

Emma, "....."

At those words, she looked at Kara!

At that moment, it was more than silence.

There was no doubt that Kara's analysis was terrifying to her.

Alina's presence was so terrifying to her.

She couldn't stay in Ingford!

That was Emma's thought at the moment.

"Do you have any ideas?" Looking at Kara, she finally spoke.

She had seen what Alina could do, to make the Collins like her, she did not take Caleb highly.

It was a side of Alina that Emma had never seen before.

Kara, "Now, continue this farce of yours! You're going to make me have complete reversal for you."

A complete reversal?

Meaning, to get public opinion on her side?

So Alina was pressured to leave Ingford?

“But she’s a person who’s not afraid of anything.” Emma said her thoughts, that was the Alina she had seen in her time.

The meek girl she had once seen at the Hughes family was gone.

The Alina she saw now was so frightening.

“So you’re willing to lose everything you have now?”

Lost?

She hadn’t even lost it yet, and Alina was screaming for her to give it all back.

Emma dreaded to think what it would be like if she lost Caleb.

“Do you really want to go back to the woods?”

Emma’s face turned white.

“To put it nicely, it’s a beautiful place! But to put it mildly, it’s the middle of nowhere, are you really going back to that place?”

“Don’t say that!” Emma didn’t want to hear any more.

Her birth had been a pain in the neck for her.

Once in the Hughes family, they both had parents, why were their fates so different?

Alina grew up in a privileged environment, with endless dresses and hobby classes.

Her mother and father were rich and in love.

In such a healthy environment, she had everything.

She was like a star in the sky, enviable, and Emma was desperate to destroy her.

“You have to admit, your career is ruined now, and without Caleb, you’ll really have to go back to the poor mountains and grow crops like your parents!”

Emma looked at Kara with a shudder running through her body.

This was a fact Emma never wanted to face.

Because her parents were farmers!

She had blamed her mother more than once for bringing her into the world, when she first arrived at the Hughes family.

The Barbies Alina played with even had beautiful dresses.

And what about her?

The most she could remember playing with since she was a child was mud!

She envied Alina's life and hated herself for not being born into a family like hers!

"Think about it, she has to leave Ingford!" said Kara in a heavy tone as she looked at her.

When Emma was left alone in the ward.

In her mind, there was a storm of bad memories from the past! She didn't want to go back to the mountains, not since she had been with the Hughes family.

Alina had to leave Ingford!

Even though she was now out of her depth in the business, Alina could not take advantage of all the eF resources.

Caleb arrived at Mulherd Manor.

When he saw Lucy, "Where is she?"

"Lady Alina is busy." Lucy didn't look good when she saw Caleb.

She hadn't known about the situation and had thought Caleb and Alina would be fine, but when she found out about Emma.

Lucy now looked at Caleb with a different face.

After all, she'd grown up with Alina.

Caleb wouldn't leave until he saw Alina, and she eventually went to get Alina.

Seeing Caleb, Alina didn't look too good, "I thought you hadn't had time to show up for me all week."

After all, Emma had made such a fuss. According to her methods, she would have kept Caleb around at this time, no matter what.

Caleb had a cigarette in his hand!

In the smoke, the more irritable he was.

Alina, "Put it out!"

Her words were very serious and very forceful.

She had already decided in her heart that she would not put up with Caleb any more, and having made that decision, she was now in a position to say so.

No tolerance!

Just absolutely not.

Caleb looked at her with a sharper look in his eyes, but Alina met it without any fear, and with an unmistakable strength in her eyes.

Finally, Caleb put the cigarette butt down in the ashtray.

Alina took a sip of the tea and heard Caleb say, "Whatever your tactics are, put them away!"

Caleb had been watching Alina and Emma's actions for some time and had seen some of them.

There was a whole lot of backstabbing going on.

Now that the public opinion was so overwhelming, Alina must have a plan.

Alina laughed lightly, "So worried about her?"

"....."

"Don't worry, she can't die, she won't die!" Alina said in a sarcastic tone.

It was a big fuss, but Alina knew Emma too well, she was a person who cherished her life.

At those words, Caleb darkened his eyes.

Caleb's tone was even colder, "68th floor!"

Alina, "....."

"She jumped!"

Obviously, Alina didn't believe this. Jumping from such a height, if she didn't fall to her death, she'd be scared to death.

She was afraid of heights, she naturally knew how frightening that height was, so she would never have dared to do so!
