

I'm Richer Than My Billionaire Ex-husband Chapter 99

Alina's brain was throbbing with pain too!

She had all gone from Shirling to Ingford, yet no one had noticed, Alina was shocked and stunned.

There was a lot of commotion on the phone, for Andre was already up, and then there were a lot of noises.

No doubt everyone was going to Penny's room to confirm.

Alina hung up the phone with a headache and looked at the girl in her arms, now staring at her with eyes wide open.

She needed to be examined!

Two minutes later, Andre called, "Penny's missing."

Andre on the other end of the line was worried.

Andre had been staying at Collins Castle last night, he had been a bit drunk last night, so he was too confused to know anything.

But now!

"In my arms!" In the car, Alina sat with the child in her arms.

The storm was still raging in her head, how on earth did her child get to Ingford?

"How did she get here?" Obviously, that was Andre's concern on the other end of the line.

She was only two years old!

And Collins Castle in Shirling is such a long way from the airport, is this child a genius?!

Normally, she's such a nice, quiet child. How could she suddenly do something so amazing?

"I don't know!" Alina was desperate.

Andre was equally desperate, "Grandma's in a panic when she finds out, she was in Penny's room when I went over."

It's a mess.

"I am going crazy!" She heard Andre on the other end of the line before Alina could say anything.

The Lawsons were probably in a mess.

The old Lawson's blood pressure went through the roof and he would have been dead if he hadn't got Penny by Alina's side!

Alina, "I nearly went mad too, is Grandpa all right?"

"He's still lying on the sofa."

It was a real scare.

The child, who had been sleeping so well, had suddenly disappeared from the room and Collins Castle had been turned over without finding her.

So the elderly was worried

"Oh!" Alina sighed, not knowing what to say now.

She felt very bad.

Andre, "So what do you mean now?"

"Come and get her!" Alina was outright annoyed.

How could Penny be left in Ingford? It was a no-brainer.

All the Collins were in Ingford, Caleb too.

She'd just yesterday got rid of Caleb and now there was a child!

The mere thought of it made Alina desperate.

"Mama." Penny, who had just been in Alina's arms, looked at Alina in anguish when Alina told someone to get her back.

Alina's head was hurting.

She couldn't stand the look on her daughter's face, she wanted to give her life to her whenever she put on that look of anguish.

"Come on, I will take you home." In short, Penny couldn't stay here one minute longer.

Penny, "I don't feel well."

“What doesn’t feel well?”

“My head hurts!”

Alina’s heart skipped a beat when she heard her daughter had a headache, and felt her forehead, which was really hot.

She was desperate.

After all, she had no experience with children, so the only thing she could think of at this point was to take her to the hospital.

To Andre on the phone, she said, “Caleb can’t know about her, you have to come to Ingford!”

There was no doubt that Alina was really going crazy, it was really bad.

“Got it!”

Andre hung up the phone.

Alina gently put her child on the passenger side, but found a serious problem, the seat belt wouldn’t be able to hold her.

She was too small.

How the hell did she get here in her small body? At this point, Alina was racking her brains and couldn’t figure it out.

Half an hour later, at the nearest hospital, Alina appeared like a madman with her child.

She had come out without her shoes.

The doctor took the child’s temperature, which wasn’t too high, prescribed some medicine and sent her home for observation.

In the car.

Alina gave Penny water, “How are you fell?”

“I fell bad.”

Alina’s heart melted at the sight of her daughter’s big, adorable eyes.

Although she was taken by surprise and helpless, she was happy to see her daughter.

After calling Lucy and hearing that Caleb had left, she was relieved to take Penny back with her.

But on the way, she told Andre to come and take her away as soon as possible, Caleb was a madman.

Although their relationship was now cleared up, but going to Mulherd Manor was like going home! The last time she went to Shirling, she was worried Caleb would find out.

This time, in a place where she could come and go as she pleased, Alina was even more worried, so she had to get Andre to come and take the child away.

Mulherd Manor.

Lucy was in shock when she saw girl who looked partly like Alina and partly like Caleb!

“Lady Alina, this is?”

“My daughter!” Alina sat on the sofa, desperate.

She had just given her child some porridge and her medicine, and at this moment, she was barely able to recover from the morning’s frenzy.

Lucy, “Master Caleb is the father?”

Lucy looked at Alina with some trepidation, her mind in a tizzy.

Alina, “Yes!”

“So...”

“She is leaving tomorrow.”

To the older generation, this was a sin! Lucy’s eyes were full of pain when she looked at Penny at the moment.

“child.” There was love in her voice.

Penny was holding her mug and drinking from it, and Lucy loved her even more.

She touched the child’s head, it was still hot, but not too hot.

But it’s important to be careful with fevers, especially when it comes to children.

Alina looked through Penny’s bag, apart from the mug she was holding, there were two dresses and the rest were nappies.

Looking at Penny, she teased, "You're still wearing diapers?"

She was a bit of a failure as a mother!

Penny, "I have to wear it at night."

"Okay."
