

《Immaculate Spirit》

Chapter 22

"Are yo...you sure sweetie?" Said his mom, seemingly reeling from the shock.

"Yes mom, i then start to observe him discreetly. Everything about him his fake, his laugh, his smile, it's almost like he's dead inside. I never met someone like that."

"Dear you just come back from a coma, maybe what you feel about him he just link to that." Said tentatively Diane, trying to reassure herself.

"I know that you would prefer that granny but i'm sorry, this is real. Mom do you believe me?"

"I always believe in you sweetie and since that day, i would never doubt you again." Said hls mom with conviction, warming is heart.

"Can you start to looked into him? discreetly?"

"By legal mean that would be difficult and i just remember that Caldwell he's a friend from the attorney general, my boss. He even help him get elected. I could risk my job and that is in the best scenario."

"So, we used the 'other way'? Said Nathaniel with a little smile.

"Glad that you didn't forget what i teach you son." Karine said with a proud smile.

His mom was not the usual prosecutor. After more than ten years has an appointed lawyer, she experienced first and foremost how the people used the law to crush the little guy. She believe in justice first and law in second which wasn't usual for a lawyer.

"I always had the best teacher but mom you need to be careful if he came to know that we are investigating him, he would do anything to put a stop to it. What i feel from him... it's very scary."

"Don't worry sweetie, i would be prudent. Nobody never caught me snooping, you know that."

"Dear, Karine, you should consider something before engaging in something like that. This is not our problem first of all. Why would you do something who could threaten our entire family for no reason?"

"Because it's the right thing to do granny. I know that you aren't as cold as people believe you to be. I know that you are kind and sweet. I agree with something tho, we can't involve the entire family without proof of wrongdoing. We could looked into him privately at first and then talk about it and put this into a vote. I could be wrong after all." Said Nathaniel nodding.

"I know someone who could help. He's a very gifted PI and he work with us before. He's trustworthy and stealthy, very expensive as well but he hardly matter. I would call him." Said Diane, sighing.

"Thanks granny." He said, kissing her cheek which made her smile fondly.

"We would take a week and then we would share what we find next week. If we find something, we would gather the entire family and put it to a vote."

"We? Baby what would you do that could help with it?" Ask Karine, starting to worry.

"Mom you would look in his finance and taxe records, We need to know how much money he have and how he makes it. Grandma, get you PI into his history and background, i don't believe he came from an orphonage at all. Me? i would look into his fondation in Africa and in the middle East."

Seeing that she was going to say something, he add.

"Don't worry mom, i have skills too." He said, smiling mysteriously.
