

《Immaculate Spirit》

Chapter 3

BIP... BIP... BIP...

The women who were still beside his bed stopped their conversation and stare in disbelief at the heart monitor.

"Something is happening! He's BP is rising! Check the electrode!" Said Nancy while resetting the heart monitor, the intern removing the blanket and getting to work.

"Electrode are good"

"Heart Monitor too, he's BP is still rising. We need the doctor on call, now!"

'FINALLY! I DID IT!' Exclaimed joyfully Nathaniel, looking at the rumble of the wall who keep him trap all those years.

But something keep nagging at his mind, something is not right. Looking around him, he finally spotted something that did not belong there. Within his body, a second ball of light similar to himself was there. That where the similarity between them stop. Where he was pure white, the other ball was totally crimson and radiated coldness and killing intent. That's where a realization hit him.

'It's trying to take my body!'

Gathering his soul once again, Nathaniel threw himself at the red ball of light. Upon collision, spark flew and the red ball was pushed back some distance away.

While the nurse and the intern outside were working hastily to control his vital, suddenly the light in the room start to flicker.

"No please, not now! Not a power failure now!" exclaim the nurse in distress.

"WHO ARE YOU? AND WHY DO YOU WANT TO TAKE MY BODY?" Yell Nathaniel at the crimson ball.

That was so unjust, now that he could come back, someone wanted to steal his body. He learn something about the crimson ball when he strike it, he was a person, and furthermore a man. When he touch him; it's like part of him resonate with that ball. That's scared him a little.

"What the f are you talking about kid! I don't even know where i am for f sake!" angrily reply the crimson soul.

"We are in NY and this is my body" say Nathaniel, his anger diminishing.

"i don't know what happen, i died on my last mission and now i'm here. I just saw a light and i follow it, thinking it was paradise and i ended up here."

"that's weird. My name is Nathaniel, what is yours?"

"Marc and for f sake kid don't be that guileless. I could lie just to steal your body!" exclaim Marc hotly.
