The Finish Line

A/N you know when Ayh opens her eyes in the beginning and goes "It is time!" that's how I feel right now. Love you hunies!!!

~~~Present day - Dunyo~~~

Phaidos stood in the center, Freya was close by she looked up at the sky and saw the dragons flying around, they had captured the model team as well. Freya's eyes, by looking, by looking, by looking through, to them, he stopped and stared at it with his hands on his hips.

Makkari and Druig sat on top of the table. Druig hadn't looked at her since she had arrived, he knew that she was waiting to do this, that he stood in front on his shoulder. Freya's eyes widened and she glanced at Phaidos.

"You need something to connect you all to me right?" She asked.

"Yes, that's what's holding me so." He said.

Freya walked up to him and created a silver bracelet. "It's kinda like your worn mind... I can change magic into the things I create."

He grabbed the silver metal, "So if we're wearing something made by you..."

"I can make sure you all have my energy." She said. He looked up at his design and it, and he smiled, as Phaidos slid in the design, he attached bits of the golden metals he uses.

"This could work." He nodded, "Can you make four more of these?" He said. Freya nodded and the two got to work.

They all stood in the room where the Arkhen statue was. Phaidos handed out the bracelets. "One will go on your right wrist and the other goes on the left." He said. "The silver is directly attached to Freya's magic."

Freya stepped up, she wore her armor, "Theoretically these should pull my magic just as it. Phaidos put a siphoning ability into the bracelets."

"Could you run out of energy?" Makkari signed.

"I won't." She said. "Ata-ne must be you need." She glanced at Druig, "Trust me." She said.

"Let's suit up." Phaidos said to the others. They all walked to the walls. Freya watched as the black walls swirled with golden light. The Eternals suits grew from the golden light, each with a dif. vision color. They raised their arms in the air and the golden and silver bracelets clicked into place.

Druig stepped over to Freya as the Sonns left flew itself toward the Emergence. She stood in front of the window, watching the world go by. She turned to him and he was already looking at her. "This is it, I." She said with a sad smile. "It's the finish line." She glanced down at his hand and wrapped her fingers around it.

"Keep your promise." He said.

She squeezed his hand, "I'll see you on the other side." She pulled back. She moved over to Sersi and Makkari. Druig walked over. Makkari took each of them separately to the ground. She took Sersi, Druig took Ikaris. She repeated in a blink of an eye.

She smiled and signed, "You ready?"

"Sure." Freya nodded.

"I won't go too far!." Makkari grabbed hold of Freya and she closed her eyes. Freya opened them and she was outside, the sun high in the sky and the ground rumbling beneath her feet. The energies around were a giant volcano on an island. Smoke billowed from the luminous and Lava bubbled at the top of it.

Sersi, Druig, and Makkari activated their bracelets. Freya felt a pull and she closed her eyes. The draining of her magic had already began. She took in a deep breath and her knees gave out. "Freya!" Ikaris called out, "Are you okay?"

"Turn it in." Druig said. "She can't take it!" Freya clenched her fists. She had to pull it together.

"Wait!" She put a hand up and a ice formed in her hand. She pushed it into the air. It created a shield and she fell. She pulled and looked down at Druig. "I can do this." She said. Freya's eft her hands into the air and created a forcefield around the four of them.

Druig looked over to Sersi and then to Makkari. Gold streams of energy wrapped around Makkari and Sersi, their bodies floated up into the air. The streams of gold connected the three of them and Druig's eft into the air. His arms were stretched out and he closed his eyes.

There were no whispers that echoed around them. Druig's eyes opened and the gold streams of energy turned into an orb. It erected them and the rumbling of the Earth slowed, then ceased. The smoke and lava dissipated. He was doing it, he was actually doing it.

Freya's forcefield was shattered and she fell, her powers were essentially distributed. She stood up but Druig was shot from the orb by a golden blast. Rains flew in, Freya jumped forward and slammed her six down, he blocked it with his forearm and sent a blast into her abdomen. She fell in love and clutched her stomach.

"I should have done this first sometime ago." Rains grabbed hold of Druig by the neck and flew into the air. Freya followed him and created six spirits as she could. Her eyes glared up, she could feel it. "Druig!" She yelled, he looked down at her. Rains let him go and she let him drop. He took his first ground and Makkari and sent a rush.

Freya looked at Thanos and he looked back to Druig's. His gaze, his not fully shook, her voice not working, she wanted to scream at him. But Lemaris was turning to something he was.

Her eyes turned up to the sky where Ikaris was. He didn't hesitate, he flew toward the Sonns and destroyed them in a blind blooming a Symbiot. The Sonns came crashing down, Makkari grabbed Sersi and Freya flew into the air to dodge it. The ship landed along the beach. Makkari de-Phaseses and Threw to safety.

Sersi landed behind Druig, "Druig, let's go." He said. "It's over." He said so confidently, arrogantly. Just like Ikis, Ishmir, Zeno, and...

"You could not live with your own failure." Thanos said as he stood behind Freya. Phaseses walked along the perimeter with her. "And ignore all that bring your flight home to me."

She looked behind her, calm but seething with energy. Any form of her power being shamed was reported by her rage. Her eyes, her hands, her feet, her whole body. "I'm not." She said. Her voice was tight through gritted teeth. He nodded his head, his eyes slowly glancing he shot a blast out and she threw up a shield without even moving. She looked at the ship, hitting him in the gut. He fell. She disappeared and reappeared right next to him. "Doesn't feel good, does it?" She asked and grabbed his neck, digging her nails into his skin. Her feet blasted to the ground and she flew into the air.

"You could not live with your own failure." Thanos said as he stood behind Freya. Phaseses walked along the perimeter with her. "And ignore all that bring your flight home to me."

"I'm not a god." Ikaris walked up to her.

"No, you certainly are not." Thanos started to glow, "but I am." She grabbed his head and her magic entered his head and he let out a scream. His eyes glowed gold but then she reconnected with her powers. "Not so powerful without those eyes of yours, huh?"

He screamed out and it was like a sonic boom of energy released from each her and, but she couldn't – she had to finish the job. She had two – this power shot through her magic. She had to destroy him. Rains burns and Freya back. She slid back in the sand, she wind knocked out of her.

"Freya!" Phaidos walked past her, his arms up. He shot golden blasts from metal devices around his wrists. "We got you." He said.

Freya clenched her arms and a blast of light exploded on either side of her arms like wings. She slipped her hands together in front of her and they were connected. She knew her balance and stumbles to the ground. They don't and then it's Sersi, Druig, Ikaris, and Ikis and rocks. Freya Kicks Ikis in the side she disappears and reappears behind him. Ikis's eyes widen and he looks down against his chest, his arm has no energy in it. She leaves it there, a scream and two testicles come from her body. They slash at Freya, who quickly makes a sword. She cuts them both and they slither back to Ikis's body. Freya throws out a hand her magic wraps around Ikis's body and she sees the sword directly at her neck.

"Does this bring back memories or what?" Ikis grins and grabbing against Freya's magic. "I've had you can't remember."

"Stop saying that!" Freya stomps her boot onto Ikis's chest.

"Does it make you upset? That I know more than you? That I remember the truth?" She asks. Freya can feel sweat run out of the corner of her eye. She glances up. Sersi and Ignite are indeed a couple. Ikis's eyes flash to Ignite and then back to Freya and then at her. Druig... Druig, no! Ikis, he can see and he knows what Freya is sick. "That soul bond really did a number on you, Ish," Ikis said. Freya looked down the magic was gone. Ikis grabbed the sword and shattered it with her magic. "Always the weak one." She threw a blast at Freya and it knocked her into the sand. Ikis jumped into the air and charged directly for Druig.

Ignt sat up but as she tried out. The ground beneath her was sinking. She couldn't break down this was not the time. She was stronger than this she had to be stronger than this. She pushed in the ground and cried out in pain, Jaw jinged the leather on her back. She flew toward Ikis, Sersi blocked her visions as she could not see what he was alive. He had to live.

Freya was struck by a violet blast her body seized and she fell from the sky and rolled on the ground. She faced a scream and she knew, she knew – it was his scream. She'd – her ears hurt. Ikis was Druig was on his knees turned to her, Ana's tentacles in his neck. His eyes were closed and his body shaking.

"You goodbye to your lover boy!" Ana shouted. The ground beneath them sunk, Sersi a motion away fell to the ground, she looked down at the ground. Freya looked back to her and then over to Druig and Ana.

"I'm making contact Tiamut!" Sersi shouted. She knew that Sersi and the others would need her magic. She knew that Ana knew that whatever was inside her could help them. She knew this was the only way.

"There was an idea, called the Avengin Initiative, the idea was to bring together a group of remarkable people, to see if they could become something more. See if they could work together when we needed them to fight the battles we never could..."

That is who she was, she was an Avenger. She couldn't give up. She had to push on even if it meant crossing the finish line.

Freya turned to Sersi, "Use my power!" She stood up. "End this..." She turned to Ana. "Let. Him. Go!" She pushed her hands forward.

Flares flashed in her mind. Tony, Natasha, Loki, Gabriella, Maria, Matteo, David. Druig, Aaron. Valkyrie. Her people. Freya's hands ran up her hair and she moved. Freya felt her soul, her heart, Ana ripped them out of Druig and held them back.

Sersi pressed her hands into Tiamut. Freya's body trembled, shook, weakened. Her knee gave out and hit the ground. She kept her hands up, eyes narrowed and no. They light is with me!

"You can't win." Ana walked past Druig. "You've given too much now." Ana. She ripped the tentacles from Freya's group. They radiated into Freya's neck and torso. "Stupid girl."

Freya looked up at Ana who stood above her, blue blood oozing from her body. "And this time, I win."

She saw the galaxy when it was created. The rolling hills of Wyeth. She saw a life she never lived and yet it was hers. Her face, her parents, her memories, her life. Freya felt her soul, her heart, Ana's tentacles in her neck. Ana's eyes widened as she realized what she was doing.

"Stop!" Freya looked at Ana who stood above her, blue blood oozing from her body. "And this time, I win."

Freya's mind. She was back on Earth. The power in her body was overwhelming. She felt like she would explode now, she felt alive. She looked down at Ana, fully in her element now.

With a flick of her wrist, she raised Ana into the air. Her eyes were wide but her body was still. "I remember. Ana," Freya's eyes narrowed, "I remember everything." She said. Ana's eyes widened in horror as she realized what Freya did not. Not only did she remember.

"She was raising us like lambs for slaughter!" Ana screamed out, "It was me! I was the chosen one, you took it from me!"

"I never chose this. But you, you chose to join the Hunt, to side with Ikaris, to torture me, and you chose to kill Gabriella!"

"Artemis is alive!" Ana screamed. "She's alive! Somebody took her a – world before the emergence!"

"Who?" Freya asked and relaxes Ana from her hold. She moved closer to them, they both hovered above the ground.

"I don't know." Ana said and raised her arms in the air and she threw what was last of the powers at Freya. "So close!" She shouted. Ana grabbed onto her and pushed her down.

Freya caught herself midway. She hovered above Sersi and Tiamut. The gold mist turned on to a white, like marble. She looked at Ana and raised her hand.

"Stupid girl." Ana said and threw out a hype. Blinding blues of light. Ana covered her face with her arm the violet energy around her Ana not use to the brightness of Freya's. By the time Freya pushed her hand back, there was nothing in.

Suddenly, Freya felt the pull again like her cosmic energy was draining but this time she could handle it. She felt her magic travel through space and time. A gold camera wrapped around her body and eft. It went streams of gold it ed towards her, connecting with Ana. She held him, drowning the energy, to flow through her and connect back to her. Like a wheel, never-ending and connected.

Did you know it?

Or did we hate it?

I need all the thoughts.

I hope this isn't too far fetched or complicated. Let me know if you have any questions! Idk if I explained it well.

this also isn't the end. Tomorrow's chapter will show what happened in that last paragraph, any ideas?
