

The Unknown

"Who's there" Elliot said getting out of his bed.

"come out i dare you" he continued to say walking around his room.

he gave up a er a couple minutes because he thought he was hearing things, but also the fact he was home alone.

Elliot kept hearing creaks and foot steps which made him really creeped out.

"i'm not playing bruh, come out" Elliot said picking up a glass bottle from the side of his bed.

Ash walked out from a dark corner.

"yo ash!" Elliot said putting down the bottle and ash walk towards him.

"what made you think you can come do that shit to y/n" ash said pulling a pocket knife out of his pocket.

"yo man, i didn't mean no harm. i didn't know y'all's was a thing." Elliot said backing up into his bed.

On the paper Elliot gave me it had his address so I obviously knew ash was there. I was going past speed limits, stop signs, red lights. there was no stopping ash could've done anything now.

I got out of the car because i was at Elliot's address and i started banging on the door.

Ash froze and looked behind him while the knife was at Elliot's neck.

"is your parents home" ash said looking back at Elliot.

"um, no. they're not supposed to be here till next Thursday" Elliot said shaking.

"then answer the door" ash said picking up Elliot with the knife still at him.

The door opened slowly, then when Elliot seen me he opened the door faster.

"y/n" he laughed nervously

"move" i said pushing him.

i didn't see ash what made me freak out.

"what did you do!" i said pausing there looking around.

"what did i do! i think you mean what did ash do" Elliot said with his hands up.

i walked over and pushed him.

"what was that for" he said while i continued pushing him.

"what do you want from me" Elliot got loud.

"where's ash" i said looking down at the floor.

Elliot looked up and ash looked out the corner put us one finger on his lip to signal him to not say.

"um, i don't know maybe home" Elliot said scratching his next.

"do you uh, want some co ee" He said trying to get ash out.

"sure" i said very calmly.

While Elliot was walking me to the kitchen he looked behind him and Ash was giving him the death stare.

I sat down while Elliot sat down handing me some co ee.

"so what makes you think ashtrays here" Elliot said tapping his fingers.

"i know my boyfriend" i said taking a sip of the co ee.

"b-boyfriend?" knowing from all the hints ash gave him.

I spat out the co ee. "i don't like black co ee" i said pushing it away from me.

"so how long have you been dating ash" he said staring around his finger.

"um i think the night of the party." i said looking around the room.

"did you feel anything from me when we kissed"

"hell no!" i said looking straight at him.

"you have to feel something" Elliot said putting his hand on mine.

i pushed his hand o "i don't get what you don't understand about me loving ashtray. i love him. i love him. i really do" i said getting up.

"now if you don't mind, i'm going to head out" i stared to get up and Elliot grabbed me.

"don't go" he said cause he didn't want to be alone whit ash.

"oh, um. okay" i said confused

"so like can i go watch tv or sum"

"i have a tv in my room"

"do you have a tv in the living room" i said not wanting to go in his room.

"uhm yea"

i walked towards the living room and Elliot pulled me. He saw ashtray and he didn't want me seeing him. "what are you doing." i slapped his arm and walked right past ash.

Elliot stood right in front of ashtray.

i looked back "who's behind you" i said to Elliot, and Elliot moved so i can see ash.

"ash?" "what. what are you doing."

"oh you bitch! you told me ash wasn't here" i got up to slap Elliot but ash grabbed my arm and hugged me.

i hugged him back confused, once i pulled away i said " what are you doing here ash"

"i believe me and you have a mess to clean later on" ash said looking at Elliot and grabbed my arm heading to the door.
