

Journey to Happy Ending Chapter 108

"Honey, I'm hungry. Let's go out to eat something," said Daisy gently in Edward's ear in a sweet and natural voice. Her breath blowing over his skin, his body stiffened for several seconds, and the feeling made him smile.

Daisy knew he had a right to be angry. She had countermanded his orders in front of the employees. So she talked to him in the way he liked, and calmed him down.

Hearing Daisy call him "honey" made him pretty happy. 'Daisy knows this works for me every time. I underestimated her.' he thought.

"OK, honey. Let's go." Edward waved his hand, dismissing the employees.

"Yes, Mr. Edward." Everyone breathed a collective sigh of relief. They were now more impressed with Daisy. They would never again mistake her for an ordinary woman. She was the wife of the CEO, and they resolved to remember that.

When they stepped out of MY Mall, the sun was setting and the sky was flame-red. The clamorous city began to quiet down.

Belinda was holding Justin's hand, smiling and looking at him. She liked him very much and wondered when she could have a lovely son like him.

for dinner? Whatever you want. My treat," said Belinda gently, still looking at Justin excitedly. His eyes sparkled lie to you?" replied

his mother and said, "I'd like a fan of the food there, though. I ate so much of later that you like eating there?" pleaded Justin, and then narrowed his eyes into the him there, so he's trying to get you to do it." Leena was sulking. Justin was close to everybody but her, so she wouldn't at Leena and thought, 'What a bad woman!' He wondered when Aunt Belinda became Leena's sister-in-law. Uncle Duke didn't even Uncle Duke's wife?" Feeling free to ask embarrassing questions had always been one sister-in-law, and now even Justin is confused. Do you want me to end up alone?" Belinda didn't understand why Leena wanted her to be when he knew she doubted that he had some kind of secret illness?

on her