

Journey to Happy Ending Chapter 111

"You want drinks?" Edward frowned. The last thing he wanted tonight was to be with a drunken woman again.

"No! It's just that my brother wants to have a drink with you." Leena managed a smile and gave a quick glance at Duke, hoping he didn't notice what was going on here. Anyway, he had been staring at Belinda all the time. He wouldn't notice anything.

Edward glanced at Duke, and found that he was lost in his thoughts, his face grew thoughtful. Then Edward looked at Leena with a knowing smile. It was evident that she was planning something. That was fine by him. He was just curious about what she was up to.

"Justin, you must make sure that your aunt Belinda is going to drink later. OK?" Leena whispered in Justin's ear, "Make it or break it, everything depends on tonight."

"Why me?" Justin rolled his eyes in despair. He rolled his eyes more frequently than ever since he met this terrible woman.

"Ha ha! Because with you, she will let all her defences down!" The drug she prepared wasn't too strong. If they didn't have any feelings for each other, nothing would happen. She got it just this morning from a friend who worked in a bar, knowing it might come in handy sometime. It didn't occur to her that the opportunity would come this soon.

"You don't mean to drug both of them, do you?" Justin asked her uncertainly. He could almost figure it out just by the way Leena stared at aunt Belinda. He knew about these little tricks all too well. All the time he had spent on the Internet paid off.

"Bingo. You got it. But we won't drug Mr. Cold." If one of them is sober, there's still a chance to save the situation.

sudden chill and shivered. She looked around, but wrong?" Daisy asked with concern, noticing Belinda suddenly shivered while talking. Daisy was now sitting next It's probably the air conditioner. It's constantly blowing cold air." Belinda shook her head and gave a small

Did you notice that Duke has been watching you all night? Are you sure nothing is going believe me? See for yourself." Belinda groaned. Why did everyone feel that she was coupled with that man?

nice guy. Think about it." Daisy teased her. Belinda was her me? Don't make fun of me. No way, I can't and you have a fiery spirit. You are made for each other!" Daisy looked up and saw Duke talking to her husband in a low voice. Both men took a look in their direction every a crush on Belinda, don't you?" Edward gave him a playful glance and leaned what you think?" Duke asked. He had put his poker face so. I think you two can make a good couple. You've been waiting so long. It's time to move smile reached his lips. Dazzled by his smile, Daisy looked away the moment she walked away from me. You know me very well. I wouldn't bother to hold people and things that don't into deep melancholy, frowning. Edward had brought back some bad memories. At the same time, he was not sure about