

Journey to Happy Ending Chapter 154

Edward was shocked to hear what she said. He just came downstairs and found himself being blamed.

"Who said that? Even if my wife is a village girl, she is a beautiful, beautiful village girl." Edward put Justin down and walked towards Daisy. He sat on the sofa beside her. He looked at her playfully and decided to play along with her little game.

"ha ha... But Edward, a beautiful village girl is still a village girl. What's the difference?" Edward tried to get away with it, but Leena wasn't going to buy it.

"Let me tell you what the difference is. A beautiful village girl, like Daisy, is a beauty with brains. And as for the others, they all just goof around and stir up trouble every day." Edward just wanted to coax his wife to end this topic, and he had no qualms about taking Leena as a comparison. He didn't mind that his argument was far-fetched.

"Ha ha! Daddy, you are terrific! You're my hero indeed!" Justin said with a broad smile; he was glad about what had happened. Leena wanted to drag this debate further, little did she realize how cunning Edward was.

"Edward, you honestly think I am that kind of girl?" Leena asked in a feeble voice, feeling guilty. The reason she was afraid of going home was that she had just got herself into trouble.

have registered their marriage today. Aren't my brother and Belinda are married? Really? As it turns out, calling Belinda my sister-in-law ultimately made her my legal sister-in-law." Leena was so the sight of Leena's smug face. He was always trying ha... maybe... that helps too." Leena muttered guiltily. She was torn between the idea of going back to verify her accomplishment and the terror of jumping into the fire her sly husband. Feeling a little surprised at how fast Duke had moved;

from Belinda about this. Was Belinda afraid what Belinda was worried about. Not long ago she had declared that it was never going to happen. But now not only did she sleep with him, but she also married him! Belinda was depressed at the thought of how she got tricked into this mess by that despicable man. She was too embarrassed to sound? Happy? Or still mad at me?" This question was more important to Leena, as it affected her life in many ways. She had to think? Why don't you take a second to consider the consequence of your actions before you make a move?" Edward glanced at Leena. Although he doted on her, he was