

Journey to Happy Ending Chapter 265

Annie's fists clenched. She must have been crazy enough to come here, to believe there was any chance between her and Rain. A stab of annoyance shot through her. Annie literally couldn't bear looking at her beloved man fooling around with another woman any more. She was excessively exhausted. The world started to spin at her feet. The sight of Rain and Leena giggling with each other hurt her eyes. Annie didn't know how to deal with her feelings toward Rain anymore.

"Aren't you hot standing here? Why are you just standing in the sun like that?" Edward's brow rose as he tried to block the sun with his palm. He couldn't stand the heat and urged them to leave.

"Not really. The sun is quite enjoyable today. Edward, you are cooped up in that air-conditioned room for too long. You don't know how to appreciate the gifts of nature." Leena teased him with a big grin. However, she could also feel the burning heat on her cheeks. Obviously, they had been standing in the sun way too long.

"Let's go! I don't want him to pass out from heat stroke right here right now." Rain stole a glance at Edward. He felt greatly amused to tease him in front of Leena, instead of getting teased himself.

Annie stood still as she watched their car disappear into the distance. Slowly, she stepped out from behind the pillar, tears ran down her cheeks like strings of pearls. Her heart ached so much that she started to have second thought about her boldness. She was wrong in the first place. She would never be able to catch up with him.

It would be better if she left now. She hated to lurk around in the background, looking for him in every possible corner and only to find him fooling around with another woman. She would rather retreat to her own world where she could pretend that he belonged to her. There, she imagined him to be hers. Annie took a last glance at the street end where the car took off and disappeared into the crowds as if she was never here today.

Whispers. This restaurant had romantic decor with an expensive menu and extraordinary service. It was us?" Like Edward, Rain also suspected something fishy. He wondered why on earth Leena would bother to have dinner with them. As far as he was wrong?" Leena acted all innocently. She quickly rolled her eyes and gave them a big smile. The words were already at the tip of her tongue sudden?" Edward carefully

a week. Don't miss me too much!" Leena picked up the glass and had a sip.

contest. I don't think you have the fair mind a judge needs." Rain scornfully looked at Leena from head to toe. His voice sounded serious as he shook believe in me. Anyway, that's not why I asked you out." Leena didn't have any hard feelings regarding Rain's scornful words. She knew him well enough that she understood he was just trying to get her to become all about?" Edward carefully cut the steak into smaller pieces for her and pushed the plate in front of her. He casually threw the question at her and patiently waited for her answer.

can't yell at me like Mr. Cold." Leena summoned up her courage and warned them