

Journey to Happy Ending Chapter 32

"What's it like to fall in love?" Edward's slender fingers flipped his wine glass rhythmically. He slouched back in his chair and squinted at them with a faint smile.

"Are you serious? Who are you in love with, boss?" Rain was so shocked that he lost his grip on his glass and spilled some cognac, staining his shirt. He wiped it off and stared in disbelief at Edward.

Duke didn't overreact, although he was also shocked by Edward's words. His cold eyes glistened and his mind started turning gears.

"Who can I fall in love with? I'm just curious about it." Edward apparently knew how stunned they were upon hearing his words. He could easily tell from their reaction. And he wanted to keep things light, and maybe not delved too deeply, but the topic was so astonishing that no one would let him go that easily.

"Edward, Just say it. Who are you in love with? Tell us and we can give you some suggestions." Rain was always so interested in that kind of gossip. He would not give up until he got an answer.

"Look at the women around me. What kind of woman do you think I'd fall in love with?" Edward would never let them know his heart, before he knew exactly what kind of feeling it really was. It was impossible for him to expose his feelings to them, even they were his best friend, at least not now.

"Now that you ask this question, I'm sure that you have someone in mind. But I don't know if she's the same one I'm thinking of." Duke said casually and cast a glance at him.

who I'm thinking about. Should I feel honored?" Edward looked at him with wait and see how long you can escape from it." Duke was getting angry, because Edward always made fun me a bone! What is this about?" Rain felt isolated. They didn't took his annoyance out on him. Rain was Edward are always in sync, and not everyone understands them, then maybe there's smirk. He glanced at him casually and continued maybe you're just pissed because I uncovered your secret." Rain was happy now. He finally stood up and left they drank tonight? Hennessy. They were both CEOs. Why did they make him pay? They were far richer than not have made fun of them. Poor Rain! When would he learn how to protect himself from being evilly, Luke could not help but peek inside