

Journey to Happy Ending Chapter 37

"God! I'm freezing! Who was the jerk that messed with the air conditioner?" Rain Xia yelled and rushed out of the office. It seemed that he was eager to find out who did this and was going to kill him. Edward stopped and gave Rain a cold eye. Rain was confused and wondered if he had done something that offended him.

Of course! Of course he had offended him! Because that so-called 'jerk' was Edward's son, so how could Edward not be angry?

"Edward, you're here! Wow! And with Justin too! When did Justin come here? Why didn't you come see me?" Rain put on a saccharine smile. Everyone could tell that he was buttering them up.

Justin rolled his eyes, thinking why couldn't this man act like a normal person? Why did he behave so oddly every time Justin showed up?

"Uncle Rain, do you have a problem with daddy? If not, how come you just noticed him? He was there a long time!" What he said would affect both Edward and Rain. How dare Edward hire that woman? How dare Rain call him jerk? Killing two birds with one stone, that was his favorite thing to do.

"Justin, Did I offend you today? Don't start with me again!" Rain was pissed off. He couldn't figure out how he had offended both of them. Could anyone give him a reason? He was always left out. This time he wouldn't stand for it. He would know what was going on.

"You didn't offend me. But you offended Mr. Mu." Justin wore a bright smile on his face. His smile was as beautiful as a blooming flower.

Rain scratched his head. Did he really offend him? Why didn't he realize it?

and his son had the right to adjust bite to eat. Do you want to go with us?" Edward decided to ignore them. He wasn't stupid, he knew the tricks Justin played. It was difficult to get him involved in anything, unless he was willing to be.

stupid not to go." Rain still remembered the to be ignored. She also wondered why there were so many handsome men in the FX International Group! She may a multinational company, Edward knew that sometimes he couldn't do things in an absolute way, leaving no space to compromise, so he always remembered to show some respect to lowered the temperature of the air conditioner was this lady, who was standing right in front of him!

Foreign Trade." Edward introduced her with a distant voice instead of a warm one. Rain paid little attention to her as well. If Edward didn't care, neither did he.

didn't see you just now. My name is Rain Xia, deputy CEO of the FX International Group. Nice to meet you." He reached out his long, slender fingers to shake with her without realizing what he said made Mary meet you too." Mary thought she was really calm today. Although she was totally ignored by them, she still could talk to them peacefully. If unhappy. He couldn't understand why they would Edward carried Justin and walked out first while Rain followed them casually. Mary bit her lip and caught them up. She knew something was wrong. Everyone ignored her. She resolved to change her walked in, they immediately drew people's attention. After all, it would be difficult not to pay attention he ate. He'd lose his appetite. That's why he generally chose to have looked at Edward in admiration now and then. Her face went red