

Journey to Happy Ending Chapter 58

"Staff Gu! How did you get involved in a fight?" Mark called out approaching the crowd already gathered. He almost ran to see if he could help Kevin. He had been waiting for Kevin for a long time outside. He could have expected everything, but not that he would be busy fighting other men.

"Mark, you know him?" Edward noticed Mark's anxiety. It seemed that he knew the man with Daisy.

"Mr. Mu! You're here too! Is that man with you? Please stop him. The man he's fighting is Mr. Gu, the staff officer in our military base," implored Mark while explaining Kevin's position. The circumstances had become a little critical since Daisy was roofied. Mark had been waiting in the car for them after the secret capture of the munition merchants. But when no one had come out, he went in to search for them, and noticed the fighting.

"Stand aside, Luke," ordered Edward. Luke was a skillful warrior, but he didn't get the best in his fight with Kevin. This meant that Staff Gu was no ordinary man. He must be as good as Luke, if not better. Edward had imagined him full of malicious intent at the beginning. That was why he had not stopped Luke from fighting him. But since Mark had explained Kevin's position, he understood that he could no longer connive in a fight with a military officer.

Luke readily obeyed, stopped his attack and retreated to Edward's side. While walking back to him, he glanced at the woman in Edward's arms, and was startled when he recognized her. She was Mrs. Daisy, his master's wife. No wonder his master wanted her back.

As Luke stepped back, Kevin walked to them, indignant eyes fixed on the giggling woman, who was happily cuddling in Edward's arms. He wondered who this handsome man was, and what was his deal with Daisy. Did he know her? And more importantly, did Daisy know him?

"What do you want? Give her back to me," commanded Kevin, fixing Edward with an unblinking stare. Kevin felt a little upset. It was all his fault. If he hadn't been so slack, the man could have never taken Daisy from him. But he couldn't let Daisy go with him, as he had no idea what his relationship with her was.

"For what?" Edward dryly asked. His eyes turned cold as he looked at Kevin. He had remembered who he was. Wasn't he the man Justin had shown him? He did not forget how affectionate and infatuated this man appeared to be as he had looked at his wife.

subordinate and it is my obligation to keep her safe and take her back to the barracks," explained Kevin. Not scared of Edward's stare, obligation also to keep her safe and ensure that she reaches home," said Edward aggressively. Overwhelmed by his words, all the people around were stunned, except for Mark and Luke, husband?" With utter disbelief, Kevin asked Mark in shock. When he saw Daisy's acts of affection, he had speculated her relation with that man. But he still felt heartbroken when his guess was confirmed. A sudden pain appeared in his left

could he handle

meet you. I am Kevin Gu, the Chief of Staff in S City Military Base," Kevin introduced himself, reluctantly offering Edward a hand. After all, Gu. I am Edward Mu, the CEO of FX International Group." Edward gave his introduction as he shook hands with Kevin.

drugged." Rain had no idea what had happened before. But according to his experience, Daisy's behavior revealed that she wrong with her." Duke was wondering why a married woman would come to such a club with other men, but he knew better than to mess around with other's family affairs.

her?" Edward coldly questioned Kevin and Mark. He had also noticed Daisy's abnormal in the middle of her assignment. We were just taking her to the hospital," Kevin explained while averting his eyes. After all, it was his fault. But he didn't think that she would drink the wine even when she knew never turned her so horny, and she had been so quiet when she had drunk the last time. Now, it turned out sorry. It's all my fault," apologized Kevin quickly when he saw how angry Edward was. He was by no means a rude and unreasonable person, who excused himself from his

I would like to take my wife home. May I?" Edward asked, ignoring Kevin's answered Kevin sulking. A husband's taking care would be the best solution. He was a little worried before, wondering what he would do if they didn't find a cure