

Journey to Happy Ending Chapter 61

"Oh, I see. Aren't you supposed to be at work today?" Daisy squinted at Edward and was dazzled by his bright smile.

"I'm not only your husband, but also the boss. My company won't go out of business if I'm gone for a day." Edward pulled out a chair and sat down, watching her playfully. "Rain is capable. I don't need to worry about it."

And, in the office of FX International, Rain shivered at his desk suddenly, as if he had heard what Edward said.

The word "husband" sent Daisy deep into thought. She frowned slightly but soon felt relieved. Edward was right. He was her husband. Although they had been out of contact for so many years, they were a married couple.

Mrs. Wu served them some small salmon-cakes with ginger-sesame sauce, perfect for such hot days.

"I need to get back to the base to at least pack some necessities." Daisy thought that she should bring some essentials and clothing here since she would be living here. She didn't like the things upstairs at all.

"Okay. I will go with you after lunch." Edward had also thought of it, so he agreed delightedly.

"I can do it myself. I don't have much. Well. I don't intend to move. Don't bother." Daisy didn't want Edward to be on base. Those who took part in the mission last night knew that she had downed the love drugs by mistake. If they saw Edward there, they would gossip.

"What if I insist?" Edward glanced at her unhappily, wondering, 'Does she even like me? I'm not presentable? She actually refused me!'

know what to say. She knew how overbearing Edward was. She frowned. She had no idea what to took the

They had agreed to give each other a chance, but it seemed is today. We need you here. Aren't you coming in?" Aaron didn't go to the City of Night Romance last night, so almost forgot the meeting. If he wasn't there, those stubborn old men would Daisy. Something came up. Stockholders' meeting. I can't go with you." Edward stood up.

Mark will help me." Edward wouldn't go with her.

sort you out after I come back." Edward snorted in her ear. What happened before had to be settled as well.

died on Daisy's lips. 'I just refused him. Why did he treat me so harshly?' Daisy rolled met Edward as soon as he entered FX must be tired from last night." Rain snickered, picturing what happened the night before.

the elevator. Rain could imagine tell me, Daisy must be all sexed up after those drugs, right? That's why you're late." Rain followed Edward tone. He furrowed his brow, making his displeasure known. He had a talent for could he? How dare