

Keep A Love Profile, Sir! Chapter 20

Chapter 20 A Former Friend

“Didn’t I ask you to pay off her debt? Why? Does she still want to stay in that place?”

“No, our people just went to the clubhouse to tell Miss Frankie about this matter. Then, they saw the police take Miss Frankie away...”

The emotions in Micah’s eyes sank and the aura around him instantly froze.

“What did you say?”

Keith shivered and did not dare to hide anything. He told everything in detail.

“Miss Quincy is currently in the hospital for emergency treatment. The Quincy family has received the news and has already informed the lawyer to sue Miss Frankie for intentional murder...”

Micah’s back stiffened and the emotions in his eyes were hard to see.

At the police station

When Galilea was brought out of the police car, her heart was cold and she did not say anything. She just leaned against the cold wall of the detention center. .

There were intermittent complaints. “What bad luck, to encounter such a thing in the middle of the night.”

“That’s right, she actually had the guts to kill rich people.”

“Alright, the interrogation will be held soon. This time, we have to be more strict. All of you, be alert!”

Not long after, the iron gate was opened.

“Come out, time for interrogation.”

Galilea was brought into a small black room. With a whoosh, a dazzling light hit her face.

Opposite her, it was black.

It was black one-way glass. Sitting opposite the glass was an expressionless female police officer with a pen in her hand.

The scene that could only be seen in TV dramas was now really happening to her. "Name, age..." The police officer asked through the microphone.

Galilea answered her questions one by one. When she learned that the Quincy family would sue her for intentional murder, Galilea sneered. It was indeed a trap set by Dayana. "I didn't kill anyone. It was just self-defense. If you don't believe me, you can check the surveillance camera."

It was clearly Dayana who made the first move and deliberately bumped into the wine bottle she threw.

As long as they looked at the surveillance camera, they would know what was going on. The female police officer acted as if she hadn't heard anything and continued to take notes.

Finally, Galilea couldn't take it anymore and slammed her hand on the table.

"Did you hear me? I didn't kill anyone!"

Galilea was a little broken. Hadn't she paid off her debt yet? Why were the people related to Micah still clinging to her?

What she didn't know was that at this time, on the other side of the one-way glass, besides the police officer, there was also Micah. Micah looked at the thin figure through the glass. This person's back seemed to never bend down, even though she was about to be jailed. At this time, Director Forrest, who had heard the news, came to his side and rubbed his hands. "Mr. Lorenzo, I wonder what had brought you here?" = Suppressing the strange feeling in his heart, Micah glanced at Director Forrest coldly. After seeing his expression, this old fox instantly knew that things were not easy to handle. The Quincy family had already sent people to inform him. But Micah seemed to have a close relationship with the Quincy family, and he didn't know why he appeared here. On the way here, he had heard that the suspect was this person's wife. This was really melodramatic and complicated. "Director Forrest, how have you been? I came this time just for a small dispute."

A small dispute?

When Director Forrest heard this, he was shocked. He originally thought that Micah had come because he was afraid that the Quincy family would not be able to intimidate them enough.

Unexpectedly...

However, he quickly reacted. "Understood, understood. I just finished watching the surveillance video. It was just a small farce."

Director Forrest already felt that this matter was tricky. Now that Micah said this, it became easier.

“But... I wonder what relationship Mr. Lorenzo has with the person inside?” “She is a former friend.”