lost in her own agony, Manik sent all the people out locked the door sat on the couch with full attitude Latha didn't even recognise his presence

Manik smiled wickedly, "so...." he said

She chocked and jumped a little in her place in fear

When she saw Manik her eyes went wide with fear she shivered hugged knees tight and sat like a ball

"You want to kill my son?" He asked playing with his knife

She is seeing him from corner of her eyes with fear

He is not at all need to see her

"Ok I will say what plans I have done for, I will walk to king say what happened last night how your Sakhi died, then he will call you give you because if she even think of it the guards will kill her mercilessly, as she is future queen she looked at Manik in terror voice anywhere in mahal you will live like dead corpse from now

How dare you try to kill her??? How dare????? I just want you get rotten but she requested to be generous to you that's why as yuvarani your place will be safe for people outside but for us all above rules will be followed."

"I accept Yuvaraj" she bowed down

"Last one don't you dare to wear your footwear in life time"

He walked from Latha for last time. She cried her lungs out.

Manik went to his father, said everything and even said about the punishment he gave to Latha, he even requested him to bare the cat fight going to happen between Latha and Hema. Having no other way he agreed.

He even pitying Manik

Manik informed him that he is taking Nandini to safe place where no one knows about her presence.he agreed and even worried about the safety of her.

"Is she pregnant?"

Manik pressed his lips as he don't want to lie and same time he don't want to reveal as chances of abortion will be more till she complete three months, now it's only two months he don't want them to get excited about news and
