“What about this post-sale demurrage, market float, basic operating expenses?”

“Hello, the post-sale retention deposit is to ensure a guarantee of safety to the customer, this deposit is refundable, usually after ten years, if the buyer confirms that the item you auctioned is flawless and does not have any false ingredients or internal damage, you just need to keep the bills, you can all come and return it.”

“The market float rate, because every auction item, is not priced strictly according to the official standard, there is a certain float rate, in order to ensure the fairness of the buyer, the market float rate needs to be borne by the seller. If, after ten years, the value of the auctioned item has not decreased greatly, this part of the float is refundable to the seller. If the float is significant, then the float will be refunded to the buyer. You can rest assured that the float is not collected by our auction house.”

“And the basic operating expenses, this is because, our auction house staff, before the auction starts, must advertise everywhere, this is an activity that must be operated, and in the process of operation, our auction house has also advanced many expenses in advance, and this operating expense must also be borne by the seller. In short, we, the auction house, directly charge the seller's fees, i.e. profits, only a share of the costs.”

Omi's forehead was all black lines.

This staff member, was very polite, as if every single fee item had a very F*cking justifiable reason, and they were all strictly according to the standard.

Mu Qianji slapped the list down and said, “If there are so many fees, then why didn't you say so earlier? That's too much of a difference, we were expecting to get 162 sixth grade spirit stones, but now it's only 115.”

“Hello, because our auction house directly collects the seller's fees, only a share of the fees, the rest of the fees are not obtained by our seller, moreover, the stranded gold, the market floating rate, are all refundable, please keep the bills, after ten years, if there are no problems, you can come back and return.”

Don growled, “I'll F*ck your refund.”

This is all F*cking excuses, what can be refunded, after ten years, you might find a reason to say that you can't return it.

“Hello, our auction house inheritance of tens of thousands of years, very formal, please don't worry about this, after ten years, as long as there is no problem, you can come and return it. You two, are you sure there are no problems? If it's confirmed, you can collect your spirit stones after signing the papers.” Remember the URL .kanshu8.net

Omi snorted, “Don't bother with me so much, in a word, give me 162 sixth grade spirit stones, if you really want to pay any more ghost gold, you guys go pay yourselves.”

"Sir, please don't embarrass us, okay? We also work according to the rules of the auction house, it's useless for you to make things difficult for us, we are just the most junior clerks of the auction house."

Omi glared at the woman, who was a very weak, enlightened stage servant.

"Find the person in charge of you." Omi said.

"Okay, please wait a moment, I'll go call." The woman was quite crisp and immediately went to call for someone.

Mu Qianji said, "This is too dark, why didn't you say that there were so many fees before, but now when you settle up, there are so many fees. It's decent on the surface, but who knows if it's true or not."

Omi snorted, "I thought that this phenomenon only existed in the mortal world, but I didn't expect that the spirit world also existed, in any case, I would never suffer this loss."

Soon after, the woman returned.

"Where is your person in charge?" Omi asked.

"Hello, Senior, since it's getting late, our person in charge has already left and we're closing up shop, so why don't you collect your spirit stone first and come back tomorrow when our person in charge arrives?"

"Fuck, I don't believe it." Omi immediately went to find the person in charge.

Unfortunately, the auction house did have lights turned off everywhere and most of the employees were packing up for the end of their shift, but as for the person in charge of the auction house, he was nowhere to be seen.

"Fuck, where did he run off to." Omi roared

"Hello, Senior, it's almost ten o'clock at the moment, and as soon as our manager finished the auction, he instructed us to change the twenty-eight percent to nineteen percent, and then he left."

"Yes? Wasn't it you he specifically told you to add so many black fees to me?" Omi said angrily.

"Senior, how is that possible, we are all strict."

"Alright, give me one more word of strict and I'll kill you." Omi couldn't stand hearing the word strict, these two words were really the biggest joke.

Mu Qianji was depressed, "Now that the auction house is closing, the person in charge has disappeared, and even Yu Mo can't be found, what are we going to do?"

That staff member said, "Senior, then how about, you guys go back today and come back tomorrow to collect the spirit stones when the person in charge comes?"

Mu Qianji said, "That's impossible, this is our spirit stone, why should we leave it with you first."

"Then you guys can collect it first, if there is anything you don't understand, come back tomorrow to find us in charge, okay?"

Mu Qianji and Omi met each other, and in the end, they decided to collect the 115 sixth grade spirit stones first, no matter how many there were, it was better to take them first. Moreover, after taking it away, Omi would be able to refine and upgrade it tonight, so that it would be even stronger tomorrow.

"It's fine, let's collect it first."

"Okay, please sign."

Omi said, "I won't sign it."

"Then I'm sorry, we can't give you spirit stones if you don't sign."

"Looking for death?" Omi took away the spirit stones prepared on the counter in one go.

That staff member was helpless as well.

Omi said, "I'll be back tomorrow, this isn't over, don't think I'm so easy to trap, I won't believe this of you."

"Senior, you're very welcome to come back tomorrow."

"Hmph." Omi snorted and turned to walk away.

The two of them didn't speak all the way, clearly angry.

If the auction house had pitched Omi openly and honestly, then Omi could have gotten mad on the spot and demolished the auction house. However, the auction house was smart enough to make so many messy fees, and there were two that were refundable, making it look like a serious fee.

Back in the inn room, Omi took out 115 pieces of sixth grade spirit stones.

One piece of sixth grade was equal to 1000 pieces of fifth grade, and these 115 pieces of sixth grade were 115,000 pieces of fifth grade spirit stones.

115,000 fifth grade spirit stones would be completely enough to raise Omi to the first stage of Exaltation, and it would take about 4,000 fifth grade spirit stones, or 4 sixth grade spirit stones.

However, at the Exaltation stage, the spirit stones needed would not be in fifth grade units, but in sixth grade units.

The spirit stones and realm advancement reference was as follows.

20 n-tier spirit stones, refining can raise it to the second stage of the M realm.

50 n-stone spirit stones, refining can be raised to the third level of the M realm.

100 n-stone spirit stones, refining can be raised to the fourth level of the M realm.

150 n-stone spirit stones, refining can raise it to the fifth level of the M Realm.

250 n-stone spirit stones, refining can raise it to the sixth level of the M Realm.

400 n-stone spirit stones, refining can be raised to the seventh level of the M Realm.

600 n-stone spirit stones, refining can be raised to the eighth step of the M realm.

1000 n-stone spirit stones, refining can raise it to the ninth step of the M realm.

4000 n-stone spirit stones (or 4 n+1-stone spirit stones), refining can raise them to the first step of the M+1 realm.
