

King of kings

1815

One day later.

In the Seven Seas.

The five super families all held family meetings.

For example, at the Black Water Pearl I Clan.

"Everyone, what happened yesterday is still fresh in our minds today, but it turns out that we were all tricked into believing that there were no new relics at all, that it was just an illusion that deliberately attracted us to that place. Tricking us that there were new relics being born, and that there might be fake immortal artifacts as well, but it turned out to be a great trap."

"Yesterday, our Yi Clan, more than thirty Half Immortals died, and our entire family wept over it."

In the Deathblade Fu Clan, there were also white lanterns hanging everywhere and all the Half Immortals were mourning in silence.

After the silence, the strongest person of the Fu Clan said, "May they rest in peace, it's only been one day, our Fu Clan, originally over 160 Half Immortals, now over 50 have died, oh my god." That strongest man suddenly covered his chest in pain.

"Clan leader, what is that new relic, what exactly is it?" A half-fairy asked.

"I'm not sure, all I know for sure is that it was never good, and he deliberately lured us there."

"Why would it want to lure us there?" One second to remember to read the book

"If I'm not mistaken, that thing was sealed there, and it's been sealed for a long, long time. After I came back yesterday, I purposely went to hide and look for it, and I really found some very distant legends. According to the legend, countless years ago, a young archaic ferocious beast came out of nowhere, no one was a match, the entire spirit world was in dire straits, and the spirit world humans were in danger of extinction. Originally, that Quasi-immortal, who was about to ascend, but for the sake of the spirit world's heavens, he sacrificed his life to successfully seal it."

"So, then, the thing that sucked out so many of our brothers yesterday on the Dead Sea is that Swallowed Vicious Beast?"

"I think it should be, I originally thought it was just a legend, but I didn't expect it to be true. Once upon a time, this archaic ferocious beast almost destroyed our entire spirit world ah, but I never thought that now it seems to be escaping out again."

"What if that ferocious beast escapes out again? Who else could reseal him this time? Our spirit world doesn't even have the ninth stage of the Tribulation now, let alone a parahuman immortal."

"I don't know, I think that if that archaic ferocious beast breaks free from its seal again and comes out, it will be the day of the end for all of us human immortal cultivators. Even if we five powers unite, we simply won't be able to stop it from taking a single breath, you all saw the terror yesterday, that archaic ferocious beast, it hadn't even really shown its face, just roared, its Qi spewed out the ocean thousands of meters in radius, and several hundred of us Half Immortals were sprayed to death."

"Phew." Everyone's heavy intake of breath, this was too strong, not a power level at all.

"Nowadays, the aura is getting thinner and thinner, and the immortal cultivation resources are getting worse and worse every year, with the immortal cultivation resources back then, no one could resist that archaic beast, let alone nowadays. If I hadn't run fast yesterday, don't say you guys, even if it was me, holding a pseudo-immortal weapon, I would have surely died." The Fu Clan's strongest man said in fear.

Every single one of them had a feeling that the end of the world was coming.

"That ferocious beast, when will it break free of the seal?"

"This cannot be predicted, if it really is the young ferocious beast sealed in the legend, then the seal has been in place for so long and is only now starting to loosen up

The seal means that it's not going to break free so quickly for a moment or three. I think it should still be able to hold on for a hundred or two hundred years."

"This sealed archaic ferocious beast, I'm afraid that it's even more powerful now than it once was, having once all but nearly caused the entire cultivation of the human race to perish, and now I'm afraid it's even worse."

"The end is coming, is it possible that we humans are really going to become extinct from now on?"

The five great families of the entire Seven Seas were meeting, and although the sealed creature wouldn't run out for a while, it wouldn't take long, at most three hundred years, if not longer.

In the Five Heavy Seas, the Mo Dynasty.

Omi was telling this matter to Mu Qianji and the others.

Mu Qianji and the others all looked shocked.

At that moment, someone came to look for Omi.

"Senior Tang, His Majesty the Long Emperor asked you to go there."

"Uh, good."

Omi immediately came to the main hall of the palace.

"Uncle Qing, what are you looking for me for?"

Mo Qing handed Omi the ancient book and said, "Take a look at what is recorded on this page above."

Omi immediately took it over.

"Tens of millions of years ago? The Behemoth? The entire human race is in mortal peril? In the end, it was sealed at the top of the Dead Sea by a prospective immortal who was about to ascend at the expense of himself?"

Omi quickly finished reading it.

"Uncle Qing, what is this Behemoth Beast?"

"I don't know, it's an ancient book that was handed down a long time ago, and I originally thought that it was talking about some mythical stories or folklore that was based on falsehoods and Batangas. However, after seeing what happened to the Sea of Death yesterday, I had someone go through the ancient book and found this."

"Uncle Qing, are you saying that the terrifying thing at the bottom of the sea yesterday was the Behemoth that almost destroyed mankind, as recorded in this ancient book?"

"It's not impossible, after that I have checked many legends about the Bimbo Behemoth, this Bimbo Behemoth, the legends say is not a species of our time and space, it's a species of the Immortal Realm. Now this sealed Bimbo Behemoth, it looks like it's not even an adult yet, otherwise, a single claw would be enough to destroy a planet, and our entire spirit world, would be torn apart by a single claw."

"Ah, so exaggerated."

"Why were those strong men of the Seven Seas yesterday so afraid, in this spirit world of ours, ordinary things are no longer able to frighten the strong men who hold pseudo-immortal weapons, unless it's something that transcends our time and space."

"If it's true, then this Behemoth is afraid that it's going to break free of the seal."

"Once it breaks free, all of us, all of humanity, will be finished. In our world, I'm afraid the human race will become extinct."

"Uh, and no one will do anything about it?"

"Who cares? Haven't you heard, the entire universe, thousands of intermediate worlds like ours, even if one of them pops out, from the height of the universe, it counts for nothing."

"I'll go."

"Alright, Omi, that's not what we're worried about yet either, the most important thing now is to hurry up and cultivate. Hopefully, that sealed ferocious beast won't break free so quickly and leave us a few hundred more years, if we ascend to the Immortal Realm, it won't affect us." Mo Qing said expectantly.
