

King of kings

1949

"Alright, let's tidy up the room." Omi looked at the room they were staying in, it was about a hundred square feet, it was too small, and it wasn't even separated up inside the room, it was just a whole piece.

"Damn it, the Half Immortal Clan is really bullying people, making such a small broken house to entertain guests." Omi cursed, it was impossible for the Half Immortal Clan to not have a bigger house, just heck arrange a place this small and have to share a hall with other races.

Little Fire Dao; "There are several other races that didn't come after that, when the other races come, this place will be even more crowded."

"By then, we'll be even more despised, and the other races, except for the Dragons, the Qilin, and the Vajra, will all look down on us." Lu Yu Xi said.

Omi said, "Look down on us if you want, this time it's just right, following this opportunity, I'll let those races have a good look at my power, and that what's more, the princess of the half-immortal race, she invited everyone to come and participate in her sword trial competition, I'm afraid that princess is very bullish, I, Omi, can't do anything else, I specialize in bullishness."

"Cheer up, Brother Chen, it's time for the other races to look at humans again."

"Yes, alright, there are so many of us, let's pack up first, let's divide this room into four spaces, one room for Little Flame and Yan Ling, one room for Purple Hitomi and Mei, one room for my teacher's wife, and the rest of you, all in the same room as me."

"Uh, I don't want it." Xia Xiaoxin was busy.

Omi said, "The conditions are limited, don't ask for so much, first live like this, everyone grieves a bit." Omi looked like he was serious, but Mu Qianji and the others knew that this was definitely not what he was thinking inside.

For the next few days, several women will have to live with Omi one room at a time, so I'm afraid there will be some tossing and turning."

With a wave of his hand, Omi used the boundary to divide the entire room into four small rooms. Of course, one of them was the largest, taking up almost half of the room, Little Fire and Yan Ling's took up more than ten square feet, as did Zi Hitomi and Ah Mei, and Yan Xin Yi's, who slept alone, took up the smallest. In this way, the original room of over a hundred square meters was divided into four rooms by Omi with a boundary. Remember the website .kanshu8.net

Boundaries are stronger and more soundproof than anything else.

Omi laughed, "Little fire, purple pupil, you can shout as much as you want at night or whatever, don't worry, my boundary is very soundproof, hahaha."

Yan Ling and Amei both blushed.

Mu Qianji twisted on Omi's waist and said, "Can you be more serious."

"Hahaha, don't worry, I'll let you know what it means to be serious." Omi said.

Mu Qianji stared speechlessly and immediately entered the largest boundary room to go.

Since Omi had recovered his memories from his previous life, it had to be said that his personality had indeed been affected, before, it seemed like he was more serious, but now he felt less serious.

At this moment, in the outside hall.

Several people from the Hiei Clan were still standing in the hall, and they were all looking at the door of Omi's room in exasperation.

"I really want to kick open the door to their room, rush in and catch that son of a bitch just now and beat him up." One of the men from the Xie Xie Clan said.

"Don't worry, when the sword trial competition is over and we leave the territory of the Half Immortal Clan, I won't let him go." The Xiezhi Clan man called Ajin said through clenched teeth.

At that moment, another race came, and more than ten people came.

The half-immortal race servant who brought them in said, "Everyone, you can choose from the spare rooms here, this hall is public, before the sword trial competition starts, you can only stay in your room or the hall, you can't go anywhere else." That half-immortal clan servant said to the new group of people.

A few hours later, Omi stood

Got up, stretched his back, looked at the beauty lying on the floor, and smiled hehehe.

Omi put on his clothes and walked straight out of the room.

It just so happened that several men from the Hiei Clan were eating dinner at a table in the hall.

"Rubbish." One of the men from the Xiezhi Clan looked at Omi and scolded him with contempt.

Omi was on fire and immediately walked to the corner of the hall.

"Wow." Omi peed in the corner at once.

"Damn." The Xie Xie clan that was eating shouted together.

On the floor, a long line of urine flowed into the middle of the hall.

After Omi finished pooping, he said nothing and went back to his room.

In the hall, those few Xie Xie Clan members who were eating dinner were stupid, so who could eat it.

"Ancestor, look, the quality of the humans in the Extreme South Continent, is too bad, they actually urinated and defecated everywhere."

"Hmph, those humble creatures just like cockroaches, that's how it was, this time coming to participate in the sword trial competition, living in the same place as them, it's really our doom, it's just that we can't fight, otherwise, I really want to pinch him."

"What now then, there's a puddle of piss on the hall floor."

"I'll go and advise the Half Immortal Clan, you guys don't run around." After saying that, that old ancestor walked out of the hall.

In the room, Omi smiled hehehe, what the heck, let them be disgusting, although it was true that Omi had no quality to pee in the hall, but Omi was forced to do it, who let them say that the humans of the Extreme South Continent were like cockroaches, since they were all like cockroaches, naturally they had to be like cockroaches to make them be disgusting.

"Omi, what did you do?Smiling?" Mu Qianji walked out of the room and saw Omi laughing.

"I just walked out, I wanted to find some water to drink, but I didn't realize that the Xie Xie Clan was having dinner, and I didn't do anything, so they just looked disgusted and called me trash.I got fired up and went straight to the corner and took a piss."

"Ah, you really took a shit?" Mu Qianji was startled.

"Nonsense, of course really pull, I'm not joking."

"The hall is a public place ah."

"Whatever, I'll pull a bubble if any race curses one more time, hahaha." Omi was funny when he thought about it himself.

Omi said, "I'll just do this kind of thing, you guys don't want to pee outside, I'll turn green if people see me."

"Nerve." Mu Qianji stared.

That ancestor of the Hiei Clan, came to the entrance of the manor.

"Hello guys, I have a problem to respond."

The old man at the door who was at the ninth stage of the Tribulation said, "Old Ancestor Xiezhi, although you are a parahuman, you still have to abide by our rules and are not allowed to walk around, why did you leave the place we have specified?"

"I have a problem to respond to, can you move the humans of the extreme south continent to the place of being?"

"Why the shift?"

"You guys are doing this with no respect for us, the humans of the Extreme South Continent are so low end, you let them come even though they are here, and you still let them live with us, do you know that the humans of the Extreme South Continent are extremely low quality, they urinate and defecate everywhere, and now the hall smells like urine when you walk in, and just now that person from the Extreme South Continent took a piss in the hall everywhere."

"I'll report your problem to my superiors, so go home."

“Hurry up and move them away ah.” Elder Xie Xie was relieved, it was killing him to live with those trash humans in the Extreme South Continent again.
