

King of kings

Chapter 2201

Omi had an ingenious idea for a note that would allow everyone to practice here.

Omi immediately shouted, "Everyone, I have an announcement to make."

"What is it? Half price again?"

"No, where's the half-price, but it's a better thing than half-price."

"Uh, quick?"

Omi said, "From now on, anyone who, after seeking my guidance, will enjoy a discount as long as they do not leave this place."

"What preference?" The crowd was very curious, as if it was the first time they had heard of such a thing as a discount.

Omi smiled and said, "That is, when he comes to me for guidance again, that is, the second time, I will offer half price, for example, ten immortal coins for the first time, only five immortal coins for the second time, only three immortal coins for the third time, and only one immortal coin for the fourth time."

"Wow, really? That's too good a deal."

Omi smiled heedlessly, "Of course it's true."

A human being said, "Then for the fifth time, wouldn't you not want the immortal coins?" First web site m . kanshu8.net

Omi shook his head and said, "Where in the world is there such a bargain, the fifth time you come back to me, it will be back to the original price, then the sixth time it will be half price again, and so on. Of course, you must not have left here to enjoy this offer, if you leave midway, the next time you come back, it will start at the original price again."

"Well, it doesn't matter, it's the same where we practice anyway, it's even better to stay here and practice, save forgetting about it on the way back."

"Hahaha." Omi laughed out loud.

Omi was also too good at business, the half price once made them dare not leave, and once they left, the next time they would resume the original price. Moreover, the more people gathered here, the more favorable it would be for Omi, and the newcomers would definitely be psychologically shocked when they saw so many people here, and would trust Omi even more.

However, it was difficult to start everything.

And so, about a month passed.

Outside of Omi's training course, there were already more than two hundred people rehearsing in place.

Every day, there were more than a dozen people who came to take a look because they were curious.

Originally, those who were curious didn't really come to look for Omi's guidance, they were just taking a look, but when they saw that more than two hundred people were practicing here and seemed to be very devoted to it, they suddenly became a bit suspicious, was Omi's guidance really worth ten cents? So, with an itch and a bite, I managed to get pulled into utterance by Don.

The number of people just kept expanding.

In the blink of an eye, a year passed.

Outside of Omi's training course, the number of people had reached as many as three thousand.

Three thousand people practicing there was really uncommon.

With these three thousand people, Omi had the equivalent of a fixed income, as these three thousand people had no intention of finding another instructional class since they chose to stay here.

Of course three thousand people couldn't look for Omi's guidance every day, about every day, there were more than a hundred people looking for Omi's guidance, and after guiding ten thousand people, they went back to practice or even closed the door, some people only looked for Omi's guidance once every few months, some people even looked for Omi's guidance only once every six months.

Therefore, Omi's regular income was, for the time being, 500 Xian coins per day.

Of course, this was for 3,000 people now, and the more people there were in the future, the higher the income would be.

sp; Omi believed that as long as he had more and more people here, one day, he would become a legend.

But Omi must also plan ahead, only fixing 3,000 people now, he can still be busy, but what if it exceeds 10,000 in the future, or even more? That wouldn't be too busy. So, a plan must be made first.

Omi called those little brothers of his for a meeting.

"Big brother, business is so good right now, we're getting five or six hundred in every day." Fatty said happily.

"Yeah, your income now can almost be compared to those biggest instruction classes." Yun Xiaoyao smiled.

Omi said, "Unfortunately, I'll be exhausted if I continue like this by myself, now my capacity is just reaching a saturation state, if there are more people, it will be full. Jian'er is, the numbers are increasing every day, soon I won't be able to handle more people."

"Big brother, this."

"Big brother, good forbidden to have the current point of popularity, must not be discouraged ah, must persevere, in another ten years and a hundred years, I believe that there will be as many as ten thousand people out there practicing martial arts."

Omi laughed, "Ten thousand people, then I am going to be exhausted, do you want money or life. That's why I've asked you all to come here today to have a meeting, we must plan ahead to prevent the operation of future numbers."

Maeve asked, "So what do you mean, Don? What's it going to be?"

Omi said, "I must cultivate some talents from now on, and then let these talents get my true teachings, they will then mentor others and share the burden for me."

Bai Hanyan said, "Brother Tang, I don't think so, if you no longer personally guide them, these people will definitely be unwilling. They run to you because of your guidance."

Omi smiled, "I didn't say that I won't personally guide, everything needs to be strategic now, if you directly announce that you'll let whoever and whoever go to whoever and whoever guide you, that definitely won't work."

"What strategy do you have?" Shi Haoxiang asked.

Omi smiled, "For example, I took in an apprentice, A. A was very smart and inherited my skills, so I started to let him out to take orders. I announced to the public that in the future, if you look for A's guidance, you only need one immortal coin at a time. In this way, there will always be some who are short of money and will seek guidance from A. Of course, those who are not short of money, or those who need my guidance whether dead or alive, they will still come to me. But without a doubt, with an A, my burden will be lightened, and no matter what, I'll still be able to intercept a portion of the crowd for me. If I take on more than one A, but also B, C, D, and so on, then there will be even more to divert for me, understand?"

Lin Huajun said, "It's a bit complicated, but it's pretty much understood. However, I have a question."

"Say."

"The disciples you took in, can they really reach the same level as you?"

Omi smiled, "Of course not, after all, not everyone is me and can't do the same as me. But, there's no need to be the same as me ah, as long as they're that slight bit stronger than those fellows from the other instructional classes, that's enough. And being that slight bit stronger, I'm absolutely sure that I can train them out."

"I see, but those apprentices of yours, the ones they instruct, charge all to themselves?"

Omi laughed, "How is that possible, I'll give them a generous share every month, like, fifty-fifty or something."

"But when the money is in their hands, how do you know they're willing to take it out and split it with you?"
