And look at second place, only 75 points.

So much difference between first and second place.

But when everyone read the first place answer, everyone shut up.

"I'm convinced."

"I'm also convinced, this person's answer can indeed be several times more brilliant than everyone else's." The crowd said.

After that, the third answer was spread out, and the first one, which was also over ninety points.

In the end, three answers were given, and everyone had no more objections.

The captain said, "Now, you can reveal the names, after revealing the names, please, twenty of you, add up the scores of your three answers separately, and the top ten in total will be the commander I need."

Everyone watched nervously as the assistant went to reveal the names.

In an instant, the names of all the replies were revealed.

The first thing everyone saw was that in all three responses, the first place was Omi. First URL m.kanshu8.net

"Ah." Seeing that it was Omi's name, Shen Medicine blacked out on the spot.

Omi laughed and said, "Captain, the total score of my three answers is 285."

The captain said to Omi, "Omi, from this, you are an outstanding commander, you are the person I need, congratulations, become the commander."

"Thank you Captain." Omi laughed, at this moment everyone looked at Omi, their hearts didn't know what to feel, there was a doubt in their hearts, was this Omi, really strong in this area? However, it was too late to say anything now, everyone had no objections when the name wasn't revealed just now.

Shen Medicine was now staring at Omi in depression, he had just praised that first place and admired it, it was disgusting to think about now, but he couldn't change his mind.

Everyone reported their scores, and in the end, the top ten were released.

The first overall score was, of course, Omi.

What Omi didn't expect was that Shen Medicine actually entered the top ten as well, and was ranked sixth overall.

The captain said, "From now on, you are the commanders of my team, and according to your score rankings, Omi, you are one group; Hua Hai, you are two groups; Barbarian Bull, you are three groups, and so on. Alright, you twenty people, you can go to rest first, what happens next is none of your business."

Next, it was the remaining 290 people, how to group them.

After a simple grouping, the 290 people were divided into ten groups, with each commander managing one group each.

Omi shouted out, "One group, follow me, hahaha."

Omi brought his group members to an open space.

That Jia Tianyu, who had grabbed the flag with Omi before, was actually in Omi's group as well.

"Brother Tang, take care of it." Jia Tianyu said to Omi.

"Haha, brother Jia, you didn't even become the commander, but you came to my group."

"Alas, I made it into the top twenty, but unfortunately, my total score didn't make it into the top ten in the second round."

"Brother Jia, from now on, you and I are all brothers."

"Polite and courteous, then, how about we don't want to be born on the same day, but die on the same year and month."

Omi said, "No, all of us can't die."

"Haha, it's nice to think so, but in another three months, we'll be going to the Southern Zhan Continent to participate in the operation to annihilate the Old Demon of Heaven. I've heard that the Old Demon of Heaven's Demon's lair has over 100,000 demon soldiers."

"That's right, when the time comes, king against king, soldier against soldier, it will definitely be a fierce battle ah, it's scary to think about, I should have known that I wouldn't participate in the recruitment this time." Jia Tianyu said with regret.

But Omi smiled and said, "That would be fun."

Omi also knew that the Old Demon of Heaven had 100,000 demon soldiers, so it definitely wouldn't be a lie, because previously in the Earth Immortal Realm, when Omi was a small soldier in the Mi Clan, the Mi Clan had a thousand or two thousand soldiers, not to mention the majestic Old Demon of Heaven.

That night, Omi and his group members, ate and drank extensively to properly enhance everyone's relationship, which was also ordered by the captain.

At this moment, somewhere in the barracks, Captain Ming Cheng was sitting at the table reading a document, this document was issued by the regiment, meaning that the captains of the 29th regiment's various squadrons were ordered to intensify their training for the next three months, and after three months, they would send out their troops together.

"Ugh." Although he had expected it, the captain still sighed, he seemed to see the fate of the newly recruited Twenty-ninth Regiment, and it seemed that the fate of the regiment was fierce.

However, this was an order from the Immortal Court, the Immortal Court would not pity the lives of any celestial soldiers, the Immortal Court only wanted to see the result, which was to defeat that rampant old heavenly demon, and with the shocking might of the heavens, let the rest of the Earth Immortal Realm, who were foolish and did not take the Immortal Court seriously, know that the Immortal Court was not something that anyone could mess with.

Just at this moment, a woman came in from outside, this woman was still wearing a military uniform, although the uniform was plain, but it couldn't hide her beautiful figure, and then look at her face, it was incomparably delicate and beautiful.

"Brother, what are you doing." That woman walked in and busily smiled a call.

"Little sister, what are you doing here."

"Brother, can't a sister come to see my captain brother ah, by the way, brother, how is your new soldier." The woman asked.

"It's not bad."

"Not bad what's the concept of not bad, is it better than the ones you brought before?"

"Don't mention the previous batch to me, the vast majority of them are gone, and the remaining ones that are still alive have been integrated into the 28th Regiment. If I'm not mistaken, the fate of the group I'm leading now, three months from now, is probably the same, and when I gathered today, I looked at them and thought about the fate of a few months, I couldn't help but cry several times. Especially there are still a few geniuses among them, the thought of such good talent, but unfortunately a few months later maybe their lives will die forever, alas."

That beautiful woman said, "Brother, such a great feeling ah, the one who can make you so pity, must not be an ordinary genius, tell me."

Captain Ming Cheng smiled bitterly, "Indeed, I found out today that in my team, a genius named Omi is very outstanding, by the way, he is also a kind of deep space genius who can enter a kind of deep space."

"Ah, no way." That beautiful woman was startled.

"Yeah, geniuses who can enter depth space, but they're rare. As we all know Zhou, any immortal who reaches Golden Immortal and wants to break through further must have an approval slip from the Immortal Court, which is never possible if the Immortal Court doesn't approve it. Those who are able to enter Deep Space, on the other hand, are not bound by the Immortal Court."

"Mhmm, hearing my brother say that, I'm all a bit interested in getting to know him."

"Oh, there will be a chance, come to my barracks some day, I'll introduce you to them."

"Good." That beautiful woman nodded, a person who could enter Deep Space was absolutely necessary to get to know, because this kind of person was not bound by the realm of the Immortal Court, and their future prospects were simply unpredictable. Only, this kind of person would also be more of a disaster, for reasons that everyone understood, the reason why the Immortal Court was constrained was that it didn't want too many powerful people to appear. And most of the immortals that the Immortal Court was able to approve were not able to fight, not able to fight, naturally they were not afraid of them becoming immortals above the Golden Immortals.
