

The Love She Didn't Say by Mona Chapter 33

Chapter 33 A habit of taking care of others

Inadvertently, Elena Forbes remembered that once Elizabeth Taylor said she was perverted, and that comment, it really fits her!

Like now, she should have been crying in the room, but when she heard about this, she actually has the urge to applaud and laugh, how ironic it is!

Elena Forbes licked her lips and said to Elizabeth Taylor: "Not so anxious about how to manipulate Alston Rivers from far away, you should pay more attention to your husband, sharpen your eyes."

After saying that without waiting for Elizabeth Taylor's reaction she hung up the phone, the corners of her mouth curled up in a smile that made her even more like a fox, at least Joey

Smith thought so.

He cleaned up the kitchen and came out, he saw such a smiling Elena Forbes, for a moment, as if the girl he just seen in tears did not exist at all.

"What's so happy?" Joey asked curiously.

"Nothing!" Although Elena said so, her hands did not stop. She typed a message quickly and then sent it to a phone number that she knew by heart.

Joey was slightly downcast and said to Elena, "Miss, the day after tomorrow, it's summer vacation."

Elena Forbes thought about it and said, "This way, I will send you the company address, you can come whenever it's suitable for you, the offer I will let my HR send you, so, give me a copy of your resume."

Her words have just fallen, Joey has sent his resume over, she looked at the dense experience above, and looked at Joey.

She couldn't help but exclaim: "I didn't expect it, you're actually an all-rounder!"

This sincere exclamation made Joey Smith blush a little, "I'm just working a little more different job."

"Too modest," Elena Forbes shook his head, "after that in the company, there is no need to hide your ability, the company needs talent, not an old bird."

The corners of Joey Smith's mouth twitched and then agreed to do so. Elena arranged for the driver to send him out, and only then did he look more closely at his resume.

Both parents died in a car accident, and his address confirmed to her that he was indeed the one she had in mind.

That butterfly birthmark!

This matter, in fact, is a knot in her heart, when she was a little, and lived in a distant community, all her friends were moved with their parents one by one and finally left her.

She was the king of children when she was a child, and the child with the butterfly birthmark was the youngest of them.

She doesn't remember when that child stopped showing up anymore, she asked the other children and they didn't know anything about what happened to his family.

She asked her parents but learned that the boy's parents had died in a car accident and were about to be put in an orphanage.

She was so worried that she ran to his house to look for him and saw, instead, a car with that child driving away.

The child's unlit eyes carved straight into her heart.

After that day, she became even more demanding of herself, believing that she was not strong enough, so much so that she, the eldest sister, could not even protect her youngest brother.

She fell silent and spent all her energy on her studies.

And Alston's appearance, in fact, is an accident, because of his smile, she remembered so deep, then thought it was love.

Elena Forbes thought with emotion, and later about it became a habit, a habit of taking care of others.

Chapter 34 You wouldn't lie to me

In fact, all she needs is to vent her emotions, she needs a special tool to store her passion that has nowhere to go.

And at this moment, Alston Rivers received a message sent to him by Elena Forbes, about Elizabeth Taylor and her husband.

All the previous facade was busted, Alston's hands shaking, simply do not want to face these things, he did not understand why he did not go to check this before.

Now caught him off guard, he thought of Elizabeth Taylor in his previous life, did she lie to him in the same way? Only what happened, someone helped her to cover it up. These are not the most important, the most important thing is he is cuckolded.

Surprisingly sneaking to see other men under his nose for so long, is really no way for him to accept, "Elizabeth Taylor!"

He gritted his teeth so hard that scared his friends next to him, his friends at this time, really did not dare to speak, afraid to provoke him even more. But the truth is, his fear of Alston Rivers is not that much the scariest is the one who looks after Alston Rivers and you really don't want to mess with her. :'. That pervert, Elena Forbes, has been controlling everything in her hands, even if they now broke up, but everyone feels that she is setting up a trap and waits for them to jump. So much so that everyone does not dare to get too close to Alston. Elena keeps Elizabeth Taylor's marriage from him, but now according to Alston's look, seems he knew! His friend sneak glanced at Alston's cell phone, relaxed, it's Elena Forbes herself told him. Phew, that's fine, he was wondering which unluck wretch is going to get into trouble. At this moment, he is also wondering, is it true that Elena Forbes has fallen in love with that college boy and left Alston, whom she loved so much before? But even he is so aching about the answer, he doesn't dare to ask Alston, unless he thinks his life now is way too perfect, and they all know that Alston Rivers on the surface gets along with them well, but in fact, he doesn't think too much of them. So, the thing you have to do it secretly, after a while, he asked other friends to see what they are thinking, and as expected, they all think that it's more like Elena Forbes is doing it on purpose. Alston was filled with anger, so he didn't have time to think about what his friends were thinking, he just wanted to find Elizabeth Taylor to settle the score, but unfortunately, he didn't know where she was. After thinking for a moment, Alston called Elena, "Elena, can you give me the specific information about her?" Elena Forbes was a bit confused, "Don't you think I'm lying to you?" "You wouldn't lie to me," Alston Rivers said with such certainty, "Elena, I'm sorry." Elena's mouth twitched, "stop, that's it, or later, what you want, I'll send you an email later." It didn't take long for Alston Rivers to receive all the information on Elizabeth Taylor and her husband, very detailed, even the hotel rooms they once booked. Alston Rivers no longer knows which face he should put on, after all, he asked for this all by himself.

The Lizzy in his heart has always been so gentle and lovely, and he can't accept the fact that she has been lying to him.

He is a handsome man with wealth, how come he can't compete with that fat-headed middle-aged bald man? It's all too ridiculous. Thinking that before he was reborn, he even married Elizabeth Taylor, a feeling of revulsion came up all of a sudden.

The wine that Alston Rivers drank was vomited out in this way, and it was really a wretched mess.

Chapter 35 Dealing with Gossip

Elena Forbes does not know that her information has caused such interesting consequences, she is still busy with work at this time, as for other people's matters, she has nothing to do with it.

In this case, the most carefree person is her, after all, she is just a bystander.

In fact, today was also the first day that Joey Smith prepared her food, and the first day he officially joined her New Energy company.

This is a day to celebrate, Elena thought, she booked a banquet in advance, waiting for after work and taking everyone to have fun.

Joey is now busy helping everyone to print things, starting from the most basic things, he also really thinks this work opportunity came too incredible.

But since he came, and the job is related to his major, then he has to do it all the way, and by the way, he trusts Elena Forbes's ability deeply and believes he can certainly see a lot of things beyond his level following her.

Joey's intuition told him that, Elena Forbes can bring him a change, and the change is never something as simple as the surface, of course, all this has a prerequisite that is to ensure that Elena Forbes has always been interested in him.

This is a very bad condition, frankly speaking, he is a little apprehensive, and doesn't know how to keep her interested. And all the initiatives, are in the hands of Elena Forbes.

While thinking this way, Elena's secretary Windy called out to him, "Joey Smith, Miss. Forbes wishes to see you."

Joey responded while walking towards Elena's office, "Miss. Forbes, is there something wrong?"

Elena Forbes handed a pile of materials to him, "Give you two days to finish reading these things, next week you go with me to New Zealand, we have a project there."

Joey was surprised, "But Miss. Forbes, I am a freshman here."

“So what?” Elena didn’t take this seriously at all, she knew Joey Smith’s ability, naturally, she wasn’t afraid of her employees gossiping, anyway, in the end, they would all be slapped in the face by reality.

Elena looked like nothing, making Joey think he did not have much choice, a little aggrieved, said, “But Miss. Forbes, don’t you worry about your reputation?”

Elena laughed lightly, “Do you worry about your reputation?”

The meaning in her tone is obvious, they would call people like him, “gigolo” Joey’s face blanched, “In fact, I get the job by myself, I pass the interview.”

“I know.” Elena said in a cold voice, “Joey Smith, during work, I don’t talk about feelings, you should know that, what you face in the future, are our customers, not the so-called gossip.”

“Dealing with gossip is very simple, smash those things with absolute strength, you should know that no one’s perception is unchangeable, as long as you have the ability to destroy everything when the time comes they are at your disposal.” Elena feels she is nagging.

When she was with Alston Rivers, he didn’t even have the privilege to let Elena teach him.

Well, with Alston’s character, no matter what she says he will not believe it, only think she is planning some tricks, ready to do something bad against him.

She has long been used to it, and numb, there is really no point.

In fact, this time, Alston’s reaction actually surprised her, as if this was the first time he believed her, for the matter of his ex-girlfriend, Elizabeth Taylor.

It feels so ironic to think about it, why are there such strange people? Well, she should say, why are people so strange?

Why is human nature so puzzling?

Despite what she just said to Joey Smith, she knows she still hasn’t achieved that absolute power, otherwise, things between her and Alston Rivers, wouldn’t have ended up that way.

What Elena Forbes wants to do most now is just to run her company well, and then casually talk about love, to spice up her life a little.

As for Alston Rivers, she has long stopped forcing him, although occasionally she will subconsciously think about him, to consider some things for him, when she calmed down, oh, they haven’t seen each other for so long!

Elena shook her head in amusement, she was still too young, and could not really do anything without showing it on her face, now, she had to let someone watch her change her face.

And Joey was stunned by Elena Forbes’s words, seriously thought it over, and finally felt that there is nothing wrong with what she said, but who can reach that level?

At least it must be a person who can control others’ mouths, but he is just a college student, although not knowing anything, also have the idea of climbing up, but it is just an idea.

· Joey Smith sighed, why he is not as capable as Elena Forbes?

But at this moment, he was relieved a lot, after all, they just said he climbed on her bed, he physically would not get hurt, at most was looked down on.

The reality is, has he been looked down upon for any less time? Since the death of his parents, since going to the orphanage, all of this has given him a sense of unreality.

He can no longer remember what it was like to be a child, just think there was a time when it was really dark, and he struggled hard to climb out but there is no way out.

That quagmire, trapped a part of his life, how terrible, sometimes nightmares caught him. The situation now, to him is already very good.

He has never forced himself to do anything, college is one, so many years, he worked so hard, for what? Is not to break free from that mire?

Now here is the opportunity, if he still doesn't take this seriously, then it is him who doesn't know chalk from cheese.

Thinking about it, Joey felt that he had hit the jackpot, he was confident in himself, on these materials that Elena Forbes had just given him, he was able to read and derive something.

At this moment, Joey's heart back to its chest, "Miss. Forbes, I know, I won't let you down, you just wait and see."

Hearing this from him, she smiled from the bottom of her heart, "I know I haven't convinced you, after all, I haven't even convinced myself, it's just that your answer tells me that we can move forward together, and that's the best part."

Joey nodded, although he inwardly felt that Elena looked down on herself too much, overly modest, her words, still made him very happy, sweeter than honey.

"Then, Miss. Forbes, I'll go out first." Joey Smith said steadily.
