

The Love She Didn't Say by Mona

Chapter 41 Can only say goodbye

"Alston, how can you do this, this is not fair to Elena, how can you propose to Elena just after you broke up with Elizabeth Taylor." Caroline Collin simply thought she taught him better than this.

Alston Rivers didn't feel there was anything wrong with what he did, "But doesn't Elena, she loves me? What's wrong with me proposing to her directly?" Deep in his heart, he felt that the way Elena Forbes kept refusing him is more or less a bit unappreciative.

But the thought of Elena's face that she wished she has nothing to do with him, he was panicked.

On one hand, he felt that she was just giving him a hard time, and on the other hand, he felt that she really wanted to stay away from him.

Caroline stomped her feet in anger, "What's wrong? What's good! The way you did this, who will think that you really want to marry her, isn't clear that you can't have Elizabeth Taylor, and you are frustrated so you come to Elena. She, of course, knew you are not sincere, then why would she agree to marry you!"

Alston subconsciously wanted to retort, but he opened his mouth and didn't know what to say, as if everything was not what he thought it was.

Why does even his own mother think he's wrong? He has broken up with Lizzy and proposed to who has been chasing him, is this not a very natural thing?

Seeing his son's face, Caroline knew that he had not listened to her at all, so she did not say more, but seriously began to think about how to keep Elena. They have been coming over here for the past two days waiting for her, and the result is that the receptionist of her company said that Elena Forbes had gone on a business trip, and the return date was not set.

They didn't want to just give up, so they had to keep waiting.

So, when Elena Forbes and Joey Smith were back from their business trip and carried the presents they had bought for others, they met Caroline Collin and Alston Rivers on a narrow path.

Elena was speechless, she didn't expect Alston Rivers to bring his mother all the way here.

She can ignore Alston Rivers, but Caroline is different, she has always favored her, so she has no way to refuse.

Caroline pulled Elena Forbes's hand and didn't let go, Elena Forbes had no choice but to indicate to Joey to take things up to the company first, she, herself, to deal with these two people.

Caroline pulled Elena Forbes into a hug and said happily, "Elena, it's been a long time, did you miss me?"

Elena nodded, "Yes, it is a long time, and I'm relieved to see that you are healthy, auntie."

Caroline smiled, from her heart, "it's fine, just can't see those people I wish to see, I was quite lonely, so I come back."

As she spoke, she looked around and said, "Is it convenient for you if we find a place to sit and talk?"

"Yes." After that, Elena led the two to a French restaurant. After ordering, Elena cut to the chase, "Auntie, just say what you want to say!"

Caroline sighed, "Alas, Elena, I watched you two grow up, now you are both adults, time does fly! But auntie wants to ask, what happened to you and Alston? Now you two don't even say hello to each other."

Elena tilted her head and said with certainty, "Auntie, I actually wanted to apologize to you, really shouldn't have disturbed you and Alston for so long before."

Not waiting for Caroline to answer, Elena Forbes continued, "Alston never loved me, you know that only that I badgered him again and again, so he paid attention to me, but I have now figured out that this is not good for both of us."

"So, I let him go, Alston will meet his true love, strictly speaking, he and I have not even been together, not even a couple, so is not even a broke up, we can only say goodbye to each other."

Chapter 42 You are my boyfriend

Elena Forbes said a whole lot at once so that Caroline Collin and Alston Rivers did not even have the opportunity to speak.

She broke her heart and crumbled it up for them to see. It was a process of self-analysis that even made her ache and choke up several times.

But she knows clearly, if not, if not to do this, if not to solve this matter completely, then there must be like today, the endless trouble.

So, in for a penny, let the day be the day, go into the battle. These years, she is really not happy, especially when facing Alston Rivers.

At this moment, looking at his ugly face, she even had an inexplicable feeling of pleasure, but also very amazing.

She suddenly realized that all this is meaningless, what is really important, is her own. After the conversation, Elena Forbes was much more relaxed, both physically and mentally.

And Alston Rivers is in silence, his world seems to be shattered, and the whole person is a bit out of the soul, showing a kind of decadence.

As for Caroline,her eyes were red crying. On this day,Elena Forbes had no more work in mind and went straight back home.

When she returned,she found that Joey Smith,who was supposed to be at work,was actually waiting for her at home.

Elena was puzzled, "You're done with the work at hand?Come back so early."

Joey nodded and sat down a bit towards her,"Elena,you have cried."

His somewhat distressed look made Elena Forbes stunned and laughed,

"Ha,it's okay,this is called tactical crying,so they never dare to bother me again."

Joey hugged her at once,"Elena,I can see that you are not that happy."

Because her smile tasted bitter, Joey,felt very unpleasant. "No,I am happy."Elena Forbes collected herself and felt the peace inside,a peace that she hadn't had for a long time.

She steadily pushed Joey away and looked him straight in the eyes, "Joey, I want to ask you,what do you feel for me?"

This is too blunt,Joey immediately blushed, and under the encouragement of Elena's eyes, he swallowed and said firmly:"Elena,I like you."

Elena smiled,this time really from the heart kind,she took the initiative to hug his waist"really good,Joey Smith,from now on you are my boyfriend."

Hearing these words, Joey steeped in spirit, "Elena, I believe you said this after deep consideration."

"That's for sure."Elena nodded with certainty,this time,she was going to enjoy life.

The excited Joey is like a little gyroscope, "Elena, I've been wanting to say for a long time,your place is actually a bit monotonous,let's set it up,like home,OK?"

Elena naturally has no opinion,at this time she thought of a thing,"Joey,those things in your room,you can throw away if you don't like them, I will buy you something new."

Joey,who didn't expect her to bring this up,laughed,took Elena's hand,and went to his room,"Let me show you!"

The original many decorations have long since disappeared,replaced by a very warm arrangement,so that Elena found very soothing, "look at this,when did you start,have you long been planning this?"

Chapter 43 The most stupid one

"You can guess!" Joey Smith smiled and showed Elena Forbes his closet,which was packed full,"those unsuitable clothes,I put away,after all, they are so expensive is a waste to throw them away."

Elena covered her forehead and smiled,thinking that Joey was really a wonderful person,"You actually don't mind?"

Joey pursed his mouth,"That is your heart,although it is to another person, but cannot just waste it!"

Seriously,Elena was moved by his words"Joey Smith,you win,I do think,this life,it is difficult for me to meet a young man like you again."

"Then you have to cherish me!"Joey Smith gave her a wink and said playfully.

Elena's brow arched,surrounded by happiness.

She did not deliberately pay any attention to the matters of Alston Rivers and felt that the person was really farther and farther away from her.

Seeing Alston again is because the Rivers Group needs her help, but Elena Forbes,this person,since she said they are no longer together,then kept her words,so leaving Alston Rivers desperate.

In the end, he could only lament,"Elena, I really didn't expect that you would look like this when you got ruthless."

Elena is expressionless,"Mr.Rivers,we are not even partners now,what you need is to find a suitable agent to take care of Rivers group,not to come to me in an emergency."

She said very pertinently,"I and you,have been strangers,as to why,you should be clearer than anyone else is,then so be it,Mr.Rivers, I have to go."

He looked at Elena Forbes's cold face and let out a long sigh, he never thought that there would be a day when Elena Forbes wouldn't even want to see him.

Just like he once did to her, everything he did before,at this time,gave it all back to him.

Only at this time, he can feel clearly,Elena Forbes's helplessness.People,probably only when they are really in other's position,and really feel the specific things,can choose to face it.

He is in deep remorse.If he used to care about Elena,even a little bit,they should not end up like this

In this life,he had planned to live a good life with her,but reality taught him a lesson hard, not all people,will always wait in place.

All people will have a fatigue period, will have emotions,when it all presses on them,and finally overwhelmed,they can only choose to leave, because there is no way, because they really cannot bear it.

The more he thought about it,the more his heart ached for Elena Forbes,and at that time she must have had more pain in her heart,right?

Alston slapped himself hard and rushed through the door at that moment Elena looked up in surprise.

Sitting in the car, he was in tears, all of this, but he was to blame.

What should he do? He doesn't know, he is now like a rootless grass, with no support in this world.

Everything he once had turned out to be a bubble. It turns out that without Elena, he couldn't even run Rivers Group long. In the last life, the burden on her body, the weight, and she had to face his various cynicism.

How ridiculous, it turns out that the most stupid one has always been him.

Can't see the sincerity of the people around him, instead of holding a glass ball as a precious pearl!

Chapter 44 Something weird

It must be that the God can't even stand him anymore, and then throw him here so that he can polish his eyes and wake up, Alston Rivers thought.

Suddenly, there was a knock on the car window, and he lowered it to see a woman outside.

"Julia Green? We already have nothing to do with each other, what are you still doing here?" Alston said coldly.

Julia looked at him pitifully from outside the car, "Alston, I'm pregnant." At this moment, an intimidating light flashed in Alston's eyes, but he quickly narrowed his eyes and opened the car door.

"Come up here, didn't you say you took your pill then?" His voice was low and husky.

Julia had a burst of excitement under her eyes as she got into the car, "I did take it, it just didn't work for some reason."

Alston nodded, didn't say anything more, and drove towards the hospital. On the way, he said to Julia Green, "Keep the baby, I know what you want, I can give it to you."

Julia's eyes flickered for a moment, "Alston, I really like you, it's just that before you had Elizabeth Taylor and Elena Forbes around, there was absolutely no place for me."

Alston mockingly hooked his lips and quietly watched Julia's performance without making any comments.

In the end, what he needs now is just a child, and it doesn't matter much who is the mother.

He found that since he understood that it was no longer possible with him and Elena, his feelings had become too indifferent and completely dispensable.

The previous restless heart, now completely rest, only when sees Elena, will have a strong stirring, but everything is too late.

Time passes quickly, and in the blink of an eye, Joey Smith has graduated three years ago, these years, he has been in Elena's company, from interns to small staff, to project managers and then to the general manager.

The promotion cannot be said to be slow, but no one will gossip about him, because all his efforts all the results of his efforts, are seen by everyone.

They are not blind people into the Elena Forbes company, the first examination is the character, so there has never been old bullying the new, or who does not obey and deliberately make difficult for others, and so on.

In its place, there is a warm atmosphere at work, where everyone almost treats it as a second home.

The company's afternoon tea break is even more popular with the majority of employees their workplace, which has now successfully turned from the previous two floors into the current building, the staff retention rate is even higher than ridiculous, so that several bosses have come to learn from her experience.

It's just that Elena never said much about anything, it's actually quite simple, a simple work environment and a substantial income, that's all.

This day, Elena had just come back from a business trip, and felt that the atmosphere of the company was so a little bit weird.

These employees, one by one, were secretly stealing glances at her, Elena wondered, her | makeup smashed? Or she was not properly dressed?

Thinking about it, she felt that it was not right, she clearly looked at herself before entering the door and adjusted her clothes to ensure that she is in her fullest state before entering the company.

After all, if she has a slight headache, she will certainly attract a big wave of concern, so she is touched and funny, so she has to be fine.

Elena Forbes walked suspiciously to her office door, and at this moment, even her senior secretary stole a glance at her, and the feeling that something was wrong became even heavier.

Chapter 45 The End

Push open the door, only to hear a "bang", the ribbon fluttered down from her head, Elena Forbes was confused.

She looked over towards the opposite side in bewilderment, a large group of supervisors was flanking Joey Smith whose ears were red.

At this moment, a subtle premonition flashed in her heart, it can't be?

As it turns out, yes, Joey got down on one knee to her, took a ring box from behind, and started stumbling over his lines, the more he read, the less smoothly.

Suddenly, self-loathing, he directly shut his mouth, pulled Elena Forbes's hand over and put the ring on her hand.

Joey closed his eyes and said, "Elena, this proposal, I prepared for three years, I have always felt that I do not deserve you, so I have always been working hard."

He unconsciously choked a sob, "Today, I finally have the courage, says the words buried in the deepest of my hearts, Elena, marry me, or I marry you, it does not matter the important thing is that I want to have a family with you."

"In fact, whether you say yes or no, I will always treat you well until the day you say yes. Of course, if you like someone else in the middle, I will not quit, I will snatch you up to me!" Joey said fiercely.

Elena saw the seriousness in his eyes, but also saw his uneasiness, at this moment, she seems to see herself.

When Joey was a little lost and about to bow his head, Elena held his hand that was about to hang down and whispered, "Then you marry me."

Joey was surprised, he thought she was going to say no, so he nodded his head repeatedly, afraid that Elena would backtrack, "Yes, Yes, Yes!"

Elena smiled lightly, pulled him up, and kissed him.

The sound of "click" rang in her ears, this scene, recorded by colleagues, saved forever.

After the proposal, they worked while preparing for their marriage. Their wedding date was Valentin's Day. The wedding is not very grand, but also not simple. The things they used at the wedding were powered by new energy, which is both environmentally friendly and safe.

Coupled with the fact that they are both attractive, so they have attracted a lot of comments on the Internet

The company also directly promoted their new energy equipment by taking advantage of the wedding.

Make the best of what you have, not wasting anything. On this day, Alston Rivers died of an allergic reaction to peanuts, which caused severe heart failure.

And his death did not cause the slightest fluctuation.

Before this, Alston Rivers was checked for heart failure, but there was no one else, who could value him as much as Elena Forbes, not even his mother Caroline Collin.

Matter of peanut allergy, he is aware, but the moment of seeing Elena married, he only wanted to eat peanuts and sent himself to the ICU.

The matter of Alston's death, someone told Elena, but in return, she simply answered "Oh".

She is now living the happiest life, and Alston Rivers can no longer affect her.

Joey Smith embraced her from behind the next moment, "Elena, what do you want to eat tonight?"

"Steak Joey, this time do not forget your ingredients." Elena smiled. Her body can no longer sense coldness, and, the more alive and younger, simply like a miracle.

Alston Rivers, who was actively seeking death, felt the noisy sounds around him and opened his eyes all at once.

What caught his eyes was her mother's worried and reddened eyes, and his voice was hoarse as he said, "Mom?"

Caroline rang the bell in a frenzy and grabbed Alston's hand, "Son, you're scaring mommy to death, once again, mommy really can't take it."

Alston was bewildered for a moment, everything in his mind gradually clear up, he is back?

He covered his heart, touching the obvious scar, and burst into tears. He roared in his heart, Elena, Elena, but she would never give him a response again, she was in another world with another person, living very happily, blindingly happy.

For a long time, so long that the doctor had finished examining him, and only then did Elizabeth come.

Knowing everything, Alston didn't pay attention to her and returned home in silence.

After this, they got divorced, ignored her various cries, and sent her along with her previous husband, to the police station.

Because he could not be without someone around, Caroline stayed to take care of him, this time, mother and son rely on each other for half of their lives.

Later, Alston focused on charity, and in his later years, he donated everything and was all alone.

Before he died, he heard Elena Forbes's voice and laughter.

End of the full text