

The Love She Didn't Say by Mona

Chapter 14 You really have to be so cruel?

Before Joey Smith could refuse, he saw that Elena Forbes had already started the car and the school was getting farther and farther away from him. At this moment, he tilted his head to the sky, "Miss, what exactly do you want from me?"

"Still don't know? I am taking you to my house!" Elena was kind enough to explain to him.

Joey scratched his head, "But this is not right, I can't take advantage of you, although you are good-looking and rich, you are still a girl!"

Elena was stunned for a moment, she did not expect Joey would say so, she thought that when she forced a man into this kind of thing, the man should be screaming to resist her to death.

Stroking her chin, Elena laughed, "Huh, little Joey is so considering then it seems I've really found the right person!"

This comment makes Joey Smith speechless for a moment, also realizes that this woman is not easy to mess with, so he chooses to shut up.

Elena didn't say anything more either and drove the car into the gate of the new villa.

Joey got off after her, "Miss., this place looks so new!" Elena Forbes was speechless for a moment, "At this time, shouldn't you worry about your own safety?"

She said, this boy is really big-hearted, still able to remain calm, really something.

Just thinking about this, not far from the shadows came out of a man, his whole body exudes cold air.

"Elena Forbes, what do you mean?" Alston Rivers was breathing heavily at this moment and looked at Joey Smith in disgust.

Joey was frightened by him and was busy hiding behind Elena.

This caused Alston to snicker, "You just use this kind of good to piss me off? Elena Forbes, I've been patient with you enough, you'd better throw this person out immediately. Otherwise....."

"Otherwise, what?" Elena Forbes asked curiously as she blocked Alston's figure. Joey frowned, "This Mr., you are also too disrespectful to her!" Elena turned her head and glared at him, "Shut up and don't talk." Joey was a little upset, but still shut up, after all, it seems to be a matter of those two people, he better not involve.

Looking at Elena's reaction, Alston was thrilled, thinking it seems she still cares about me.

At this moment, Alston can almost be sure that if he lowers his head a little, he can make Elena Forbes reappear in his life again.

However, he has long been spoiled by her, when he tries to do so, he has no way to say something soft, this time, Alston Rivers was frustrated.

While his thoughts were flying around, Elena spoke, "Mr. Rivers, this is my private villa, and has no intention of opening it to outsiders, please go back to where you belong, don't go around here, it will annoy people."

In an instant, Alston's face looked uglier, "Elena Forbes!"

Elena did not give way, "Mr. Rivers, I followed your ass for fourteen years, what I got you to know better than I do, I think no one can still come back to you after so many years of the cold face."

These words are more or less heart-breaking, making Alston Rivers speechless for a while, his chest rising and falling rapidly!

Elena Forbes mocked, "I suggest you try to calm yourself down, otherwise, I will not call an ambulance for you if you faint."

"Elena Forbes, do you really have to be so cruel?" Alston couldn't believe this.
