“Ma, I’m home.”

“Ma?”

“.....”

“Eh, weird!” Maybe Mama is inside in the prayer room or study room?” then approach the door where the studyroom is and press the intercom from the wall near the door of study room. “Ma, I’m home. Are you in the study room, prayer room or your room?”

Inside the room, everyone is busy talking and chatting including the kids since they got asked by their Aunt, Uncle and Grandma. Because they were busy, they never notice the time and it’s already past twelve and even the bark from the dogs they didn't heard since inside the room until they startled when they heard a voice from the intercom and then the kids are excited enough and almost running to open, to greet and to hug for the first time their Aunt but stop by Aya, their grandma.

"It's Aunt Rei" said by the kids excitedly while running to the door but got stop

"Wait a minute kids, just endure it for awhile and you want Aunt to surprise, right?"

"Oh.... that's right we almost forgot"

"All of you seat down first and wait for the time"

"Yes Grandma/Mama Grand"

Press the intercom and said calmly.

"Welcome back Rei, I'm inside in the study room"

"Oh, did you just get out from the prayer room?"

"We got out from the prayer room and now we we're in the study room discussing something" Aya didn't lie and telling the truth but not revealing who are they.

"We? You have a guest Ma?"

"Yeah"

"Have you eaten your lunch and how about the guest?"

"We didn't realize it's already lunch time"

"You must have had a good chat, by the way Ma, how many are you there? Are they bringing their kids, if it's yes, how many kids are there?"

"Including me and you 10, 6 adults and 4 kids"

"Alright, I will go change first and then prepare the foods."

"....." didn't answer because she asked them and didn't press the intercom.

"Mei, did we close the door in the room?" Mei didn't answer because she wasn't sure but Lyn answered instead of her.

"Yes Ma, our room and Mei's room door got closed but you didn't lock it but I guess you locked Sis Rei's room."

"Thank goodness, and it's alright."

"Ma?"

"Ah, yes I talked to our guest for a while so I didn't reply to you right away. Go ahead and change first then inform me if the food is ready."

"Okay. Ah, by the way Ma do your guests prefer soda or water?"

"Orange soda for me and black soda for them"

"Okay"

Rei walk away and go to her room without noticing something since the two doors of her brother and sister rooms remain close. After changing she got down right away and now standing in the kitchen area, she cook the rice first then she opens one of the refrigerator and get something for her to cook. Aya even explain that she forgot that their study room have an intercom that also connected to the rooms except to the guest room and also told that when you’re inside in this you can’t hear anything even the dogs bark if the door is close since it’s design for sound proof and fire proof based, only you can hear the sounds of door bell if someone’s around near the living room. If someone try to trespass, an alarm will sound to active the security devices but it never been active after installing it since no one can tell because they taught it’s just a simple one storey house.
