

The Legendary Man Chapter 301

Chapter 301 One Condition

“Jonathan! No!”

Seeing Jonathan raise the gun, Sophia quickly ran in front of his gun barrel with her arms in the air. She was using her body to stop him from shooting.

“Aunt Sophia, get out of the way!”

When Jonathan saw her standing in his way, he frowned and said, “This is between Emmett and me. Don’t interfere!”

“I can’t let you do it!” Sophia bit her lip and stated, “Jonathan, I know this is between you and him. However, do I need to remind you that I’m Emmett’s daughter? Without him, I would have never been born into this world. As his daughter, how can I stand by and watch you end his life? He is my father!”

Upon hearing that, Jonathan furrowed his brows and questioned, “Aunt Sophia, have you forgotten who sent an assassin to assassinate you last night?”

Someone who is willing to harm his biological daughter has no right to live in this world!

“I didn’t forget!” Sophia bit her lower lip so tightly that it looked as if it was going to bleed. “I will never forget that the closest person I have in this world tried to take my life last night!”

As she spoke, she couldn’t help but turn to glance at Emmett and Loretta, who were kneeling behind her.

Her gaze was full of despair, and she was utterly devastated.

What can be more devastating than finding out that my own parents want to end my life?

The second she turned around, Emmett instinctively lowered his head, not daring to meet her eyes.

“Jonathan, listen to me. Please put the gun down.” Sophia looked at Jonathan and pleaded, “Whether you want to admit it or not, they are ultimately your grandparents! Even if you cut ties with the Goldstein family, you can never change the fact that you are blood-related to them! If you end their lives today, I’m afraid Daniel and Elizabeth won’t be able to rest in peace. After all, the people you plan to finish off are your father’s parents!”

When Jonathan heard Sophia mention his parents, his hand that was holding the gun suddenly started trembling.

The only people that could inadvertently affect his emotions were his parents, Daniel and Elizabeth.

From the day he had his memory, he knew that his parents had given him the greatest parental love in the world.

Even though Daniel was the prestigious eldest son of the Goldsteins, he would bring Jonathan to go fishing, shrimp catching, or hiking every day after work.

Sometimes, he would even secretly take Jonathan to go shopping.

As for Elizabeth, she used to be a megastar.

However, she was willing to give up the life of a celebrity and stop being the center of attention for the sake of her son. Instead, she traded her glamorous life for one that left her preparing food and sewing clothes for Jonathan.

Elizabeth went from being a megastar who never stepped in the kitchen to a virtuous model wife and mother for her son.

Yet, all of it ended because of that car accident.

From then on, Jonathan became a destitute orphan who wandered the streets.

Consequently, the person he hated the most in his lifetime was the man kneeling before him and personally kicked him out of the Goldstein family, Emmett.

There was no one else he hated more than Emmett.

He hated Emmett more than he hated the enemy general who stabbed his chest and almost ended his life back when he was on the battlefield.

“Jonathan, I’m begging you. Please.” Seeing that Jonathan was still not lowering the gun, Sophia abruptly fell to her knees in front of him.

“Snob, I’m begging you! Please spare their lives! If you insist on taking a life for a life, take mine! Take my life on their behalf!”

“Aunt Sophia, what are you doing?” The moment Jonathan saw Sophia kneel in front of him, he hurriedly stepped forward to help her up. “Please, stand up!”

“I won’t get up!” She continued to kneel stubbornly, refusing to get up. “I won’t get up until you agree to stop! If you don’t agree to stop this, I will never get up!”

“Aunt Sophia, you’re forcing my hand!” Jonathan uttered grimly.

“If you think that I’m pushing you into a hard corner, then I am!” Sophia bit her lip and stated, “Let me be the bad guy, then!”

“Aunt Sophia, you...”

Jonathan wanted to say something else, but he swallowed his words.

What else can I say? If I am determined to finish off Emmett and Loretta, even Andy can’t stop me, let alone Aunt Sophia. However, she’s kneeling in front of me right now. What other choice do I have? Am I really going to finish off Emmett and Loretta before her?

“Aunt Sophia, please stand up!” After a long moment of silence, he finally spoke up.

Regardless, despite hearing Jonathan’s words, Sophia continued to kneel and refused to get up. “Jonathan, if you don’t promise me, I will not get up!”

“Fine, stand up. I promise!” Jonathan let out a long sigh and threw the gun in his hand away.

In my years of being Asura, once I raise my gun, I never put it down. Moreover, I never had mercy whenever I was finishing off my target. It is a habit I have developed during my years on the battlefield. However, today, I broke the record for the sake of Aunt Sophia!

“Snob, did you just agree?” The second Sophia heard his answer, she widened her eyes in surprise and looked at him incredulously.

Even she herself did not expect Jonathan to agree so straightforwardly.

“Yes. Can’t you see that I’ve already thrown my gun away?” Jonathan reached out to help her to her feet. “Stop kneeling on the ground. It’s chilly, and you might catch a cold!”

“Don’t worry. I have a strong body. I will not catch a cold so easily.” Sophia shook her head in an unbothered manner. After that, she looked at him, bit her lip, and said, “Thank you, snob! I know I’ve forced you to do something you are unwilling to do. I’m sorry!”

As soon as she finished her words, she suddenly grabbed both his hands.

“Why are you apologizing to me? Don’t forget that you are my aunt!” He glanced at her calmly and proclaimed, “I can spare their lives, but on one condition!”

“What is it?” she asked anxiously.

“From now on, the Goldstein residence belongs to you, and the two of them will have nothing to do with it anymore!” Jonathan looked at Emmett and Loretta, who were still kneeling on the ground, and said coldly, “Furthermore, from today onward, I don’t want to see them step a single foot into the Goldstein residence!”

The Legendary Man Chapter 302

Chapter 302 You Are Not At Fault

Emmett blanched the instant he heard those words. His face was ashen-white and ghastly as he thought about what he had just heard. The fact that they could not step into the Goldstein residence after today was the equivalent of kicking them out of the Goldstein family.

He exclaimed, “Jonathan Goldstein! What right do you have to kick me out of the Goldstein family? I’m the head of the household! I call the shots and make the decisions in this family!”

As he spoke, Emmett glared vehemently at Jonathan with a ferocious look. After all, no one knew just how much he had invested and sacrificed for the family in his capacity as the head of the household.

For the sake of keeping his hold on the reins of the Goldsteins, he had gone to great lengths to kick Jonathan out of the family, even going so far as to send men to assassinate his very own daughter. Everything he had done was so he could sit comfortably on the throne he had fought for.

However, despite all this, Jonathan had used but a single mere sentence to snatch his seat from him and kick him out of the family to boot. To Emmett, this was no different from killing him right where he stood.

“What right do I have?” repeated Jonathan mockingly in response to Emmett’s words. He sneered and continued, “Emmett Goldstein, I think there’s one thing you’re still unclear about! This is not a negotiation. I am telling you unequivocally that this is your one and only chance of survival! It’s either you lose your life, or you scam from the Goldstein family!

“From now on, don’t let me see your face again! If I do, don’t dream of looking to anyone to save your life. Not Sophia and certainly not even God himself!”

No sooner had the words left his mouth than Jonathan turned to leave. He couldn’t be bothered to continue this pointless charade with Emmett any longer. He fixed his gaze on Andy, who was kneeling just beyond the entrance, and yelled, “Andy Morsley!”

“Yes!” acknowledged the man promptly.

In a split second, Andy’s aura had undergone a dramatic change, and he was now overflowing with killing intent.

“I hereby order you to mobilize the ten thousand Asura Guards under your command and surround the Goldstein residence! If Emmett doesn’t scam within half an hour, you have my permission to march straight in and level the place! Kill whoever dares to stand in your way!” commanded Jonathan in a frigid and haughty voice.

“Yes, Sir!”

Upon receiving the order, Andy didn’t bother disputing or questioning any aspect of it. Instead, he pulled out his phone and dialed a number. Soon after, he was connected to his subordinates, and he instructed, “You have the next ten minutes to mobilize all the Asura Guards we have available. Gather at the Goldstein residence in Yaleview and wait for my command! Remember to be in your full combat gear and prepare for battle!”

“Yes, Commander!”

The second the call ended, Andy silently turned toward Jonathan and shared, “Sir, I have conveyed your orders as instructed!”

“On your knees!” ordered Jonathan indifferently as he glanced at Andy before turning and fixating his attention again on Emmett. All the blood had long drained from Emmett’s face as he knelt on the ground before Jonathan. “You still have another half an hour to reconsider your decision. It’s purely up to you whether you live or die!”

“Jonathan...” began Sophia in an attempt to intercede on behalf of her father. However, Jonathan interrupted her and stated firmly, “This is my bottom line, Aunt Sophia! If he doesn’t scam from the Goldstein residence in the next half hour, I can’t guarantee what will happen next.”

“But... Jonathan...”

Her mouth had begun to open as she prepared to step in once more. Nonetheless, Jonathan interrupted her yet again and exclaimed, "There's nothing else to be said! Back then, this was exactly how he chased me out of the Goldstein family! Not to mention, I was only ten years old at the time!"

Over ten years ago, this was precisely how the Goldstein family had treated Jonathan and without so much as a warning. At that time, he was still swallowed in grief and sorrow by the deaths of both his parents and had yet to recover from the trauma fully. Regardless, the Goldsteins didn't care about any of that and had moved to kick him out of the family mercilessly. As such, Jonathan was fully aware that he was now doing unto Emmett only what had been done to him back in the day.

"I'm sorry, Jonathan..." mumbled Sophia apologetically. A tinge of heartache flashed across her eyes in response to Jonathan's mention of what had happened all those years ago.

No one understood better than her what it was like for one to be utterly alone and without anyone to rely on. Back then, she had felt precisely this way when she was all alone overseas, and she knew full well that Jonathan surely had gone through much worse than she had. At the very least, she had money to her name, as well as a family and home. This was a stark contrast to Jonathan, who had nothing at all.

"There's no need to apologize to me. You're not the one at fault," replied Jonathan flatly as he looked at Sophia before his eyes turned cold and flitted back to rest on Emmett.

"It was them. It was the entire Goldstein family!"

He added, "I'm merely doing unto them what they inflicted upon me back then! I'll treat them with the exact same methods they did with me."

Advertisement

The living room fell deathly silent following Jonathan's proclamation. At this point, even Sophia couldn't think of anything she could say to help intercede on Emmett's behalf.

Indeed, without a doubt, things were as Jonathan had described. Back then, the fault did lie with the Goldstein family, and Jonathan was merely returning the favor with the current state of affairs. From where he stood, he was doing nothing wrong at all. He knew that if the situation was reversed and it was him kneeling on the ground before Emmett, there was no way that Emmett would let him off easily. After all, the latter had very nearly sent Jonathan to his death just the night before.

After a protracted silence, Emmett finally gave in and lowered his head in submission, declaring, "We'll leave. We'll do as you say and leave the Goldstein residence!"

As he said those words, it was almost as if his throat had instantaneously failed him. His voice was now low and hoarse and devoid of any energy whatsoever.

"Let me help you, Dad!" exclaimed Sophia upon hearing her father's words. She immediately rushed forth and helped support Emmett, who was crippled by Jonathan, as he struggled to rise to his feet.

Following that, she immediately used her other hand to grab hold of Loretta, who had been shot in the leg, and helped to raise the woman to her feet as well. With just her strength alone, she somehow managed to support the total weight of both of them.

“Thank you, Jonathan!”

Just as she arrived at the door, Sophia abruptly turned around and made that remark.

Jonathan casually lit a cigarette upon hearing her words of appreciation and stared meaningfully at her. He reminded her, “Don’t forget. You’re still my aunt, after all.”

Almost immediately, Sophia’s eyes began to redden. She pursed her lips and looked up at the sky as she valiantly tried to fight the tears that were threatening to stream down her face. Finally, she bit down hard on her lip and continued to support Emmett and Loretta as they made their way toward the main entrance of the Goldstein residence. However, just as she was about to walk through the door, she was suddenly greeted by the sight of a horde of burly men dressed in black from head to toe. They rudely blocked her path and prevented her from moving forward. Next, she saw an old man dressed in a gray formal suit stride into the Goldstein residence with a dragon-headed cane in hand.

Countless other burly men in all-black clothing followed behind him. With one quick look, it was apparent that they had completely surrounded the Goldstein residence.

“Trying to leave, Emmett? Where to?” asked the elderly in the gray suit.

The second he saw Emmett, the old man chuckled coldly and stepped forward to block their path.

“Nathan? What are you doing here?” asked Emmett in surprise.

He had recognized the old man in the gray suit the second he laid eyes on the latter. This was Nathan Zeller, the head of the Zeller family, which was part of the four prominent families in Yaleview. All the men that followed closely behind him were actually from his personal team of bodyguards.

“What do you think?” countered Nathan as he eyed Emmett frostily. “I told you previously that I would come to level your Goldstein residence if you didn’t meet my terms by sundown. You were supposed to get ahold of your promiscuous daughter and her boy toy; otherwise, I would have the Goldstein family pay in blood for their crimes. Did you think I was joking with you?”

The Legendary Man Chapter 303

Chapter 303 What Real Hell Feels Like

“Nathan, you...” The moment Emmett heard what Nathan said, his expression darkened.

He had never felt such humiliation in his life before.

Not to mention, both his legs were broken by Jonathan, and he was then cast out from the Goldstein family by the latter. In the end, he was even blocked by Nathan at the entrance of his house.

After all, he was the head of the Goldstein family. There was no way he could take in such insult.

“What about me?”

At that instance, Nathan displayed a cold smile. “Emmett, let me tell you. If you don’t want to die, hand over your shameless daughter and that toyboy. If not, it’ll be the end for the Goldstein family today!”

“Sophia, go and find Jonathan now!” Emmett’s first reaction upon hearing Nathan’s words was to ask Sophia to escape.

Go and find Jonathan! At this point, only he can rescue you!

However, as soon as he finished his sentence, Nathan stretched his hand and blocked Sophia’s way. “Do you want to escape? Do you really think you can do that? Come. Tie this b*tch up!”

“Yes!”

The second he gave out his order, a dozen of bulky men approached without hesitation and surrounded Sophia completely.

Upon seeing that scene, Sophia’s face darkened, asking anxiously, “Wh-What do you guys want?”

“What do we want? I want to kill you!” With a cold look, Nathan scolded fiercely, “What are you guys waiting for? Tie her up right now!”

“Yes!”

Soon after, those men grabbed Sophia’s arm and pinned her to the ground.

With her body size, there was no way she could possibly beat a dozen of strong men. Before she could even resist, she was tied up by those men.

“Tie these two old things up too!” After seeing Sophia getting tied up, Nathan displayed a cold look as he shifted his gaze toward Emmett and Loretta.

“Since you two old things wish to die, I’ll fulfill your wish! Today, I’ll have the entire Goldstein buried together with my grandson! Do it now!”

Right after he gave his order, those men approached and kicked Emmett and Loretta, who were both lame and had no strength to fight back at all.

Right after they both collapsed to the ground, those men tied them up.

In the blink of an eye, the three of them were all tied up.

After that, Nathan scanned them coldly. “There’s another one left! Sophia, where’s the toyboy that’s under your care? Where is he? Hand him over to me now!”

“What toyboy? I have no idea what you’re talking about,” Sophia said while biting her lip.

“Are you playing dumb with me?” Nathan sneered after hearing Sophia’s words.

“Sophia, do you think playing dumb is going to help you survive? Mark my words. Even if I have to dig through the entire Yaleview, I will find that toyboy! Then, I’ll cut down his meat little by little until he dies!”

Upon saying that, Nathan waved his hand. "Search for him! Don't let anyone alive escape from the Goldstein family! Capture everyone who's alive, and let no one escape!"

"Yes!"

As another order was announced, those men took their weapons and charged toward the courtyard.

Yet, the moment they rushed into it, they saw a young man, who still looked like a student, showing up in front of them suddenly.

"There's no need to search. Besides me, there's no one alive left in the courtyard!" the young man explained.

"Who are you then?"

Nathan's expression darkened the moment he saw the young man.

"If I'm not mistaken, I'm the toyboy that you mentioned." Jonathan looked at him nonchalantly.

"You're that toyboy?" The second Nathan heard what Jonathan said, his gaze was locked on Jonathan and was filled with rage. "So, you're the one who broke my grandson's arms and legs?"

"That's right. I was the one!" Jonathan had no intention to deny it at all. "It looks like I was being too lenient! If I had hit him harder, there would be no trouble now! I won't even have you bunch of pests bothering me now!"

What is this Zeller family? So what if they are one of the four prominent families in Yaleview?

In Jonathan's eyes, they were nothing more than a bunch of ordinary useless humans.

"What did you say?" Nathan's expression darkened after he heard Jonathan's words. He couldn't believe his own ears.

What did he just say? He was being lenient? He had broken my grandson's limbs and still has the guts to say that?

"Was I not loud enough? Did you not hear it clearly?" Looking at Nathan's befuddled face, Jonathan repeated, "I said that it looks like I was being too lenient! If I see him again, not only will I break his arms and legs, but I'll also take his life! At the same time, I'll destroy the entire Zeller family!"

At that moment, Jonathan's gaze turned utterly cold.

The second he saw Sophia getting tied up by them, he had made up his mind to pronounce the Zeller family dead.

In truth, he didn't have many close ones in this world, and Sophia was one of them.

As such, whoever laid their hands on her might as well dug their own grave.

"What did you say? Young man, did I hear it wrongly? What makes you think you can destroy the Zeller family?" Nathan thought he had heard some kind of joke. "Even Emmett won't dare to say such a thing, let alone you, toyboy!"

"I'm different from Emmett!" Upon hearing Nathan's words, Jonathan glanced at him faintly. "He didn't dare to break your grandson's limbs, but I did!"

"Go to hell!"

Hearing Jonathan mentioning his grandson's broken limbs again, Nathan was beyond exasperated. "No wonder Sophia, this bitch, has a thing for you! Besides having a bold look, you also have a bold mouth as well! However, there's no use having a bold mouth! It can't save you!"

Upon saying that, Nathan waved his hand while giving out an order. "Do it, but don't kill him yet. Keep him alive. I want to torture him slowly and cut his flesh down slice by slice! I want to show him what real hell feels like!"

The Legendary Man Chapter 304

Chapter 304 The Demonic Terminator

"Yes, sir!"

Once Nathan gave his order, more than a dozen burly men charged toward Jonathan with weapons in their hands.

At that moment, Nathan's eyes were filled with hatred.

He wished to skin Jonathan alive.

How dare he hurt my grandson. I want the toyboy to beg me to spare his life!

"You want to end my life with these vermins?" Noticing that the burly men were charging toward him, Jonathan was unperturbed. He didn't even spare them a glance.

"Nathan, don't you think that you've underestimated me so much?"

Without saying more, he turned around and gave a loud shout to the empty front yard.

"Andy, get over here!"

"Yes, Mr. Goldstein!"

Upon hearing Jonathan's words, the people caught a glimpse of a dark figure. Then, someone suddenly appeared out of nowhere. It was Andy Morsley.

Before they could comprehend what was happening, Andy had stood in front of Jonathan.

"Mr. Goldstein!"

Andy kneeled on one knee and awaited Jonathan's instruction.

"Teach these vermins a lesson. I want their lives to end. Remember to do it properly. I don't want their blood to splatter on the front yard."

He didn't think that they were worth the time for him to deal with them personally.

Advertisement

“Okay, Mr. Goldstein!”

Having said that, Andy turned to face the burly men. His aura changed all of a sudden. A strong murderous intent had exuded from him.

It was as if he was a Demonic Terminator who had just returned from the battlefield.

His aura was enough to make everyone gasp in fear.

Casually, Jonathan lit a cigarette. “I’ll give you time until I finish smoking this cigarette. Is it enough?”

Andy was filled with confidence. Not only the group of vermin, but he also believed that he could even end the lives of dozens of elite soldiers of the Four Asura Guards within the time frame as well.

His position as the King of War of Asura’s Office wasn’t something that he had bought with money.

Instead, he earned it by blood, sweat, and tears.

Nathan sneered upon seeing Andy, who stood in front of Jonathan. With a cold smile and a disdainful look in his eyes, Nathan said to Jonathan, “I was wondering where you found your confidence. So this is it. You have a backup with you. But he’s alone. I’m afraid it’ll be difficult for him to protect your worthless life.”

Then, he turned to Andy and said, “Do you think that when you have the same first name as the King of War of Asura’s Office, you would be him?”

He shouted to the burly men, “Guys, take them down! Both of them!”

Advertisement

With a wave of his hand, the burly men lifted their weapons simultaneously and charged toward Andy. Meanwhile, Andy could see that they were either holding swinging clubs, spears, or machetes in their hands.

If one of them were able to strike Andy, he would surely either end up dead or paralyzed for life.

Nevertheless, Andy remained unfazed while facing dozens of burly men with weapons in their hands. In fact, he was looking at them condescendingly.

Old-fashioned weapons? How dare they use old-fashioned weapons in front of me?

During all these years on the battlefield, I’ve never backed away when facing thousands of men with deadly weapons. This time, these losers aren’t even worthy of going to the battlefield. But here they are, wishing to fight against me. Do they have a death wish?

All of a sudden, they saw Andy’s face darkened as he charged toward them.

With just one punch, he crushed the head of a burly man who was at the frontline. Then, he turned around and elbowed another burly man. He had managed to crush the man’s throat.

Whenever he made a move, it was always an ultimate blow. He didn't wish to delay the matter any longer.

For him, he would end someone's life once he made a move. On a battlefield, there was no chance for dirty tricks. Survival was the only thing that mattered.

No one would have any time to spare.

Clang!

Andy proceeded to kick a burly man's thigh. Then, he continued to grab the man's neck. Using his strength, he twisted the man's neck. The sound of a crack was heard in the air. The burly man didn't even have time to cry in pain when he dropped to the ground. Blood began gushing out of his orifices. The entire scene was brutal and vicious.

In less than a minute, he had ended the lives of half the burly men who had first charged forward.

The rest of the burly men looked at the Demonic Terminator with fear in their eyes. Almost immediately, their knees went weak. Then, they turned around and ran away.

Who are we kidding? Is he even human? In less than a minute, he ended the lives of half our men. We are retired soldiers hired from overseas. Before this, we had encountered many brutal and bloody situations. Moreover, we have ended many people's lives. But it looks like we can't even stand a chance when we fight against Andy. How can he be a human being? He is the devil!

The remaining people exchanged looks among themselves. In unison, they shouted, "Run!" Nothing else was said. They turned around and ran away.

Once Andy realized their intention, he gave a cold smile. Darting forward, he grabbed a burly man's neck and twisted it hard. With the sound of a crack, Andy had broken the man's neck. The man didn't even have the time to turn his head around.

"Are you trying to run away? Have I allowed you to do that?"

Immediately, he pushed the lifeless body away. Then, he charged once again into the crowd and started his massacre.

The minutes ticked away.

There was no survival among the dozens of burly men once Jonathan's cigar had burned halfway through.

It was just in the blink of an eye.

Advertisement

The burly men who followed Nathan had ended up being cold and lifeless corpses. The moment Nathan saw the situation, he was scared out of his wits.

H-How is this possible? That guy used less than five minutes to end the lives of the retired soldiers. But these are the foreign professional mercenaries I have hired using an enormous amount of money. Is this a joke? Even the Four Asura Guards of Asura's Office wouldn't be able to do what he had just done.

Thus, Nathan's whole body trembled. Looking at the Demonic Terminator in front of him, he blurted out, "Wh-Who are you? Where are you from?"

Andy, meanwhile, merely gave him a cold look. It was as if Andy was looking at a dead person. "Do you think that you are entitled to know my name?"

To him, Nathan was no different from being dead. It didn't matter what his identity or his social status was.

Therefore, a dead person wouldn't be qualified to ask for his name.

"You..."

Andy's words had left Nathan flustered. The Zeller family was one of the four prominent families. Thus, as the head of the Zeller family, he deemed it impossible not to have the right to know Andy's real name.

It was a great humiliation for him.

After ending the lives of all the burly men, Andy turned to look at Jonathan, who was standing behind him. "Mr. Goldstein, did I exceed the time?"

"No, you didn't."

Shaking his head, Jonathan threw the last part of the cigarette butt onto the ground.

The Legendary Man Chapter 305

Chapter 305 Are You Threatening Me

"That's good to hear."

Andy heaved a sigh of relief. He took a brief glance at Nathan, who was trembling slightly. Then, he turned to Jonathan and said, "Mr. Goldstein, this old man is the only one still alive. Do you want me to end his life as well?"

Without lifting his head, Jonathan replied, "Do it."

The moment Nathan brought the group of burly men to enter the Goldstein residence, it meant that he was already as good as dead.

Upon hearing Jonathan's instruction, Andy replied, "Yes, Mr. Goldstein!"

Then, he strode toward Nathan. In an instant, Nathan's heart skipped a beat. With face pale as a sheet, he said, "Wh-What do you want to do?"

"What do you think?" Andy asked coldly.

"D-Don't come here!" Watching Andy getting closer, Nathan was overwhelmed by an immense fear that he had never felt before.

It was a feeling that he had never experienced in such a long time.

The Zeller family was one of the four prominent families in Yaleview. As Nathan was the head of the Zeller family, no one dared to threaten him for many years. In fact, he had forgotten when was the last time he was threatened.

“Let me tell you something. I am Nathan Zeller, the head of the Zeller family. We’re one of the four prominent families in Yaleview. If you dare to hurt me even for the slightest bit today, the Zeller family won’t forgive you!” As there was nothing else he could do, he had no choice but to mention the Zeller family. He wanted to use the name to scare Andy off.

Advertisement

What he didn’t know was that Andy would never be scared of the Zeller family. Is he joking? I won’t even raise an eyebrow if all four families join forces to fight against me. Why does he think I will be scared of the Zeller family alone?

With a cold smile, Andy responded, “Yaleview’s four prominent families? The Zeller family? In my eyes, you’re worth nothing! I’m not afraid of the Zeller family. To me, I think you are merely ants that I can trample on. I’m not worried even if the four families join forces to fight against me.”

What is this nonsense about the Zeller family and the four families? They’re worth nothing in the eyes of Asura’s Office. Just an instruction from Jonathan will make the Zeller family and even the whole Yaleview be destroyed in an instant.

“You...”

Nathan was filled with rage upon realizing that Andy didn’t seem to be worried about the Zeller family. “Young man, think about it carefully. If you dare to invoke the anger of the Zeller family, you won’t be able to handle it. Nothing will happen to you after you’re dead. But it won’t be the same thing if your family is dragged into the mess.”

“Are you threatening me?”

Upon hearing Nathan’s remark, Andy’s face darkened. All of a sudden, he charged forward. Lifting his leg, he kicked Nathan’s stomach hard. There was a loud thudding sound.

The kick was enough to make Nathan, who had threatened Andy, crumple and kneel in front of the latter.

Andy’s eyes darkened while he stared at the man kneeling in front of him. “Nathan, do you know how many years has it been since someone dared to threaten me? The last person who dared to do so had long died.”

Having said that, Andy lifted his left hand and grabbed Nathan’s neck. With a loud thud, Nathan was thrown heavily to the ground.

Following that, Nathan spat out a mouthful of dark blood.

Meanwhile, he felt as if his body was fallen apart.

The moment he saw Andy approaching him slowly, he panicked all of a sudden. “Young man, d-don’t be rash!”

In an instant, the feeling of fear that he had never experienced before filled his body.

Advertisement

“If you dare to end my life, the Zeller family won’t forgive you. Colin won’t let you off easily as well!”

When Andy heard the name, he frowned. “Colin? Are you talking about the chiliarch of Dragon Scale Guards, Colin Zeller?”

The moment Nathan realized that Andy knew Colin, his eyes brightened. “Yes, that’s him! He’s my son!”

“Colin’s your son?” A conflicted expression appeared on Andy’s face.

As the King of War for Dragon Scale Guards of Asura’s Office, how could I never know the chiliarch is actually Nathan’s son? In fact, Colin is my subordinate!

Upon seeing the conflict on Andy’s face, Nathan thought that Andy was finally worried to hear the name of someone that Nathan knew. Without any delay, he started to threaten Andy by saying, “Yes, that’s right. Young man, let me tell you. If you dare to hurt me, Colin won’t forgive you. Even if you run to the end of the world, he’ll still be able to find you and end your life. Moreover, he’ll skin you alive. Other than you, your whole family will suffer as well.”

When he heard the words, Andy couldn’t help but give a cold smirk. “End my life? Skin me alive? Nathan, I have nothing against you. But even if Colin is standing here right now, you can ask him if he dares to speak that way to me.”

As soon as he finished, Andy didn’t wish to waste his time anymore. Lifting his left hand, he gave a hard punch. He intended to end Nathan’s life quickly.

Before he could swing his fist, a loud rumbling sound was heard outside the Goldstein residence.

Shortly after, many black-armored soldiers gathered quickly outside the residence. All of them were fully armed with heavy artilleries in their hands.

Once they had assembled together, they quickly pointed their gun toward the Goldstein residence.

At the same time, there were countless military trucks and tanks surrounding the whole Goldstein residence.

Wh-What is going on?

Baffled, Nathan found the situation to be very puzzling.

At the same time, the expression on Emmett and Loretta’s faces changed as well.

I-Is this the army? Why are they surrounding the residence?

While everyone was stupefied, a black-armored soldier holding heavy artillery entered the Goldstein residence quickly. He then kneeled on one knee in front of Andy.

Solemnly, he said, “Greetings, Commander! Following your order, a hundred thousand Dragon Scale Guards of Asura’s Office have gathered outside. Commander, please give your order!”

“Get up.”

Andy waved his hand dismissively. The soldier quickly stood up. Nathan, meanwhile, watched the whole exchange with a horrified expression.
Commander? The Commander of Dragon Scale Guards of Asura's Office?

In the world, there were only two persons worthy of being called Commander by Dragon Scale Guards. Moreover, the two people were the only ones who could give commands to a hundred thousand Asura Guards in the team of Dragon Scale Guards.

One was Asura himself.

The other one was Andy Morsley, one of the Four Kings of War of Asura's Office.

"You're actually Andy Morsley?" At that moment, Nathan felt that his knees had buckled. Suddenly, a cold shiver ran down his spine.

The Legendary Man Chapter 306

Chapter 306 Time For You To Go

How is this possible? How can he be Andy Morsley? That man is one of the Four Kings of War of Asura's Office! He's also the man who commands a hundred thousand Dragon Scale Guards! Why on earth would he kneel in front of Sophia's toyboy? But Andy, as one of the Kings of War, only listens to the command of one person in this world. That will be Asura himself, the legendary and mysterious person!

Upon seeing Nathan's bewildered look, Andy glanced at him coldly. "Haven't I told you my name from earlier on? Your son is in Asura's Office. Didn't he tell you who is the real master of Dragon Scale Guards?"

"Impossible! It's absolutely completely impossible. Something must be wrong somewhere!" Nathan looked dejected. He wasn't willing to believe what had happened. Indeed, Colin had informed him of the real master of Dragon Scale Guards.

Also, Colin had told Nathan that Andy, the King of War for Dragon Scale Guards, was the former's superior.

But why is Andy here in the Goldstein residence? Why would he kneel to a toyboy? How is this even possible?

Andy continued to stare at Nathan icily. "It looks like your son didn't tell you who is the real master of Dragon S cale Guards. If that's the case, I think that he can't become the chiliarch anymore. If he doesn't even know who he is serving, what is the use of him being a chiliarch?"

Having said that, Andy turned to look at the soldier standing in front of him. "Relay my command to the others. Colin Zeller, the chiliarch of Dragon Scale Guards, is officially dismissed from his position from today onward. Also, he'll be in detention for one year. He won't be allowed to step out of the base camp for Dragon Scale Guards camp. Those who violated this command will have their lives ended without mercy."

"Yes, sir!"

With that said, the soldier immediately walked out.

After he had left, Nathan finally realized that he was in deep trouble. Previously, Asura had brought eight teams of Asura Guards to conquer Yaleview. The Zeller family was able to survive the massacre and become one of Yaleview's four prominent families because Nathan's son was the chiliarch of Asura's Office. Now that his son had been dismissed, it would mean that the Zeller family would be in trouble as well.

Gritting his teeth, Nathan said, "Andy, this has nothing to do with my son. You can take revenge on me, but don't drag my son into this matter!"

Upon hearing his remark, Andy gave him another icy stare. "If your son is involved in this matter, he won't just be locked up for one year. I'll end his life immediately. That's enough. Stop talking nonsense. It's time for you to go."

As soon as he finished, Andy flicked his wrist. A black gun appeared in his hand. He pulled the trigger immediately. The loud bang of a gunshot was heard. The gold-colored bullet went straight into Nathan's head.

Thump!

With bewildered eyes, Nathan slumped hard onto the ground.

He had died with an unresolved grievance.

Till the end, he didn't understand where it went wrong.

He didn't know why the Zeller family was destroyed. At the same time, he didn't know what he had done to offend Andy.

Moreover, he didn't know why Andy would listen to the toyboy.

Could it be...

Before Nathan lost his consciousness, he finally understood it.

In the whole world, Andy would only listen to the commands of one particular person.

That man would be Asura.

The moment Nathan dropped to the ground, Andy turned to look at Jonathan. "Mr. Goldstein, I've ended the lives of the vermins. Do you have further instructions?"

After giving him a nonchalant look, Jonathan said, "That's all. Continue to kneel here."
"Yes, Mr. Goldstein!"

Without saying more, Andy immediately kneeled on the ground.

At the same time, Jonathan walked up to Sophia hurriedly. He quickly loosened the ropes on her body. As for Emmett and Loretta, he didn't bother to even look at them. He wasn't concerned with the well-being of the two people.

"Aunt Sophia, are you okay?" Jonathan asked softly.

"I-I'm okay." She then shook her head hastily.

Sophia looked self-conscious when she looked at him.

It wasn't because she was afraid of him. Instead, she found it hard to accept the sudden change in his identity.

Previously, she was able to use her status as an elder to bully him occasionally and flick his forehead many times.

Once she knew that he was the legendary Asura, she realized that she would no longer dare to touch him even if she was allowed to do it.

What a joke! Jonathan doesn't even have to lift his finger. With just a word, he can command a hundred thousand Asura Guards to destroy the Goldstein residence whenever he wants. Even Andy, one of the famous Four Kings of War of Asura's office, can only kneel on the ground obediently. The legendary Demonic Terminator doesn't even dare to stand up without Jonathan's instruction. I wouldn't even dare to flick his forehead anymore. I don't want to have a death wish.

"Aunt Sophia, you don't have to be awkward with me. No matter what happens, I'll always be the Jonathan you know."

After seeing the uncomfortable look in her eyes, Jonathan couldn't help but sigh deeply.

From the start, he knew that the situation would be inevitable the moment his identity was revealed.

It was just as what he had expected.

The moment that his identity had been revealed, he noticed the distant feeling between himself and Sophia.

"Okay. I-I understand." Even after hearing his words, Sophia's awkwardness didn't disappear immediately. Instead, she fumbled to untie the ropes on Emmett and Loretta. After helping them up, she added, "Jonathan, if there's nothing else, I'm going to send them to the hospital! If we delay it any longer, I'm worried that they might have some problems..."

She kept looking here and there. It was as if she didn't dare to look Jonathan directly in the eyes.

"I'll arrange someone to fetch you." He decided not to force her to behave just like she had been previously. Instead, he turned to Andy and said, "Get some men to send them to the hospital."

"Yes, Mr. Goldstein."

With a nod, Andy stood up and left.

There were soldiers already waiting for them at the entrance when Sophia walked out with Emmett and Loretta.

The moment they walked out of the residence, they immediately saw the black-armored soldiers.

At a glance, they were amazed because they couldn't tell how many people were there.

Moreover, they were unable to see the faces clearly.

It was because all the soldiers wore the same uniform and had the same posture.

Everything was the same, including the expression in their eyes. Their gaze was filled with murderous intent.

At that moment, guns were directed at the Goldstein residence.

Meanwhile, their hands were placed on the trigger.

It was as if they were waiting for an order. An order that would command them to destroy the Goldstein residence at any time.

The Legendary Man Chapter 307

Chapter 307 It Was My Fault

“Ms. Sophia, please get into the car.”

Andy personally stepped forward and opened the car door for her.

“Okay.”

Sophia nodded and sorted her thoughts. She then helped Emmett and Loretta get into the military SUV one after another. Looking out the window of the vehicle, they saw countless heavily armored soldiers. Emmett’s gaze had mixed emotions instantly. He never dreamed that the abandoned child who was kicked out of the Goldstein family by him more than ten years ago would one day return like that! Asura? That abandoned child is the legendary Asura? How is this possible?

Even at that moment, Emmett still couldn’t accept that the abandoned child who was kicked out of the Goldstein family and forbade to set foot in Yaleview for the rest of his life turned out to be the legendary godlike man! How is this possible? How could Jonathan be Asura?

“Dad, stop watching. Let’s go!” Looking at Emmett’s eyes filled with complicated emotions, Sophia couldn’t help but speak to interrupt his thoughts.

“Sophia, do you think I made the wrong choice back then?” Emmett’s eyes flashed with confusion. He thought that if he hadn’t kicked Jonathan out of the family and Yaleview and had kept him, the Goldstein family might already be the head of the four prominent families.

The Zeller family could become one of the four prominent families in Yaleview by having just one chiliarch of the Dragon Scale Guards. So, with Jonathan, could the Goldstein family become the largest elite family in Chanaea?

Thinking of that, Emmett wanted nothing more than to slap himself in the face.

Oh, Emmett! You’re smart and can predict anything! Despite that, you never expected that the abandoned child would become the legendary godlike man Asura who led the Eight Asura Guards to sweep and conquer all of Chanaea! The four prominent families are useless! In front of the Asura’s Office, they’re just ants! Jonathan can level the entire Yaleview with just one step! What’s so special about the strong Zeller family, one of the four prominent families anyway? With just one single order, Andy can destroy them alone! Compared to the Asura’s Office, the four prominent families of Yaleview aren’t even worth mentioning!

Hearing Emmett's words, Sophia couldn't help but glance at him and ask, "What do you think? Dad, the reason why I'm still willing to stay by your side isn't that I think what you are doing is right or wrong, but because I'm your daughter! You're the one who brought me into this world!"

She continued, "Besides, I have no choice. I can't watch you die in front of me! For the so-called Goldstein family and the so-called position as the head of the family, you have done so many wrong things for so many years. That year when Daniel and his wife had just died, you kicked their only bloodline in this world out of the house! If they know about this, they won't let you go even if they become ghosts!"

Even if they did something wrong, he still rushed to the front and protected them.

At the time, the Goldstein family wasn't constantly fighting, harsh, and scheming against each other. They only had familial affection.

However, after the unexpected death of Daniel and his wife, the entire Goldstein family seemed to have changed in an instant.

They became cold-hearted, indifferent, and without a trace of affection.

In the eyes of other people, there were only personal gains in the Goldstein family. They didn't care for familial affection at all.

"I did this for the Goldstein family..." Emmett couldn't help but lower his head when he heard what Sophia said. He gave himself an excuse that he didn't even believe himself would say.

"For the Goldstein family?" Hearing that, Sophia couldn't help but sneer, "Do you believe this excuse yourself? For the Goldstein family, you kicked Jonathan out of the house after Daniel and his wife had just died? For the Goldstein family, you sent someone to assassinate your daughter? It's not for the Goldstein family at all but you, right?"

Sophia didn't hesitate to expose Emmett.

He only cared about himself and his position as the head of the family.

Hearing Sophia's words, Emmett tried to explain himself with his head lowered. "If I send someone to kill you and Jonathan, the Zeller family will lead their troops to destroy our family. I did it for our family. I had no choice but to sacrifice you and Jonathan! You saw it just now that Nathan personally led troops to our family. If Jonathan wasn't there, who would be able to protect our family?"

Advertisement

Sophia sneered, "You have to sacrifice your daughter and your grandson for our family? Nathan annihilated and made the Goldstein family's blood splatter for the sake of his grandson, but you? You wanted to make your daughter and grandson die for the so-called Goldstein family! Emmett, if it isn't for me being your daughter, even I would look down on you!"

The reason why Sophia was still sitting there and staying by Emmett and Loretta's side wasn't that she had forgiven them both. It was because she wasn't as ruthless as the two of them. She couldn't bear to watch her parents die in front of her.

"Stop talking and leave me alone for a while!" Emmett's head was lowered, and his expression was grim.

On the other hand, when Loretta heard what Sophia said, her face looked perplexed immediately.

At the time when she was at Jadeborough, she coerced and lured Jonathan back to Yaleview using the title of the successor of the Goldstein family.

After she was rejected by Jonathan, he even scolded her.

It seemed that the words she said at the time felt like a slap that landed harshly on her face.

At that moment, she felt like a fool.

In front of Asura, let alone the title of a mere successor of the Goldstein family, even the whole Goldstein family was probably like an ant in his eyes.

The car slowly drove out of the Goldstein residence.

Emmett's head became lower and lower as he looked at the rows of black-armored soldiers outside the window. His body became more and more stooped.

Suddenly, he looked up at Sophia and said, "Sophia, I'm sorry! It was my fault!"

After saying that, Emmett seemed to have aged several decades.

He had never lowered his head and admitted his fault to anyone in his life, let alone his daughter.

The Legendary Man Chapter 308

Chapter 308 Wipe Them All Out

The moment Emmett lowered his head and admitted his mistake, Sophia couldn't help but look at him and say, "It's not me who you should say sorry to, but Jonathan! Do you know how he survived in the past ten years? Do you know what it means for a teenage child to be kicked out of the house by you and not allowed to step into Yaleview for the rest of his life? It means that you have driven him to a dead-end! There was no way for him to survive except to keep moving forward!"

Sophia suddenly became very agitated.

Yes.

She couldn't calm down at all.

It was because that was her nephew.
Her eldest brother and sister-in-law's only bloodline in the world!
That was why she couldn't calm down.

"However, it's all thanks to you guys. Otherwise, how can Jonathan become that legendary man?" said Sophia.
Asura!

That was the only god in the minds of countless people throughout Chanaea.
In less than three years, that one person had led the Four Kings of War and the Eight Asura Guards to sweep and conquer all of Chanaea.
It was also because of him that Chanaea changed from a collapsing war-torn world to a country with short-term peace.

Advertisement

All of that was caused by a man who came out of nowhere.
Despite that, Sophia had never imagined that the legendary godlike man would be her nephew.
It was undoubtedly unbelievable.

If it weren't for the fact that she saw the countless black-armored soldiers gathering quickly at the door of the Goldstein residence within ten minutes because of an order from Jonathan and pointing their guns at the residence, she wouldn't have believed it.
Jonathan is Asura!

"Forget about that. Even if I kneel in front of him, he probably won't forgive me!" Emmett subconsciously shook his head when he heard Sophia ask him to apologize to Jonathan.

It's impossible. More than ten years ago, I was the one who kicked Jonathan out of his house and out of Yaleview.
Jonathan was only ten at that time.

More than ten years later, Emmett even sent someone to assassinate Jonathan.
How could Jonathan even forgive him after all of that?

Advertisement

The man didn't end Emmett because of Sophia. Otherwise, Emmett might already be dead by Jonathan's gunshot.
"If you truly repent and know that you're wrong, I think Jonathan will give you a chance."
Sophia shook her head and sighed.

Jonathan wasn't a heartless person. Otherwise, when he led hundreds of thousands of his troops to pacify Yaleview a few years ago, he would've already destroyed the Goldstein family.

The family wouldn't even have a chance to provoke Jonathan again and again.

"However, I hope you know that you're wrong, not because of Jonathan being Asura! If this is your reason for repentance, forget about Jonathan's unwillingness to forgive you, even I won't forgive you both!"

Silence filled the entire car upon hearing Sophia's words.

Only everyone's breathing could be heard.

The car was shuttling quickly between the high-rise buildings.

On the other hand, in the courtyard of the Goldstein residence, Jonathan lit a cigarette and sat on a stone.

That stone was his best playmate as a kid.

Whenever Daniel went out to work, Jonathan liked to sit quietly on a stone alone. He watched the birds flying in the sky and the ants crawling on the ground.

He hadn't been back there for more than ten years.

That meant it had been more than ten years since he last sat on that stone!

"Dad, Mom, are you seeing this? After more than ten years, I'm back! However, this time, no one can kick me out of the house again! No one will stop me from setting foot in Yaleview again! Your son had grown up and became stronger! Are you two seeing this?" Jonathan muttered to himself while looking up at the sky.

Meanwhile, after Sophia got in the car, Andy walked in from the door and said, "Mr. Goldstein, they have already boarded the car!"

"Okay!"

Jonathan then nodded and simply gave a wave. "Have a seat!"

"Okay, Mr. Goldstein!"

With Jonathan's order, Andy no longer kneeled. He found a stone and sat in front of Jonathan. "Mr. Goldstein, what are you going to do with the Zeller family?" asked Andy. The death of Nathan didn't mean that the Zeller family was done for good.

There was still his son and hundreds of members from the entire Zeller family.

Also, there was another son of Nathan, who was the chiliarch of the Dragon Scale Guards at Asura's Office.

Jonathan replied nonchalantly, "Wipe them all out! From now on, I don't want to see Yaleview having the four prominent families or the Zeller family! Do you understand?"

"Understood, Mr. Goldstein!"

The moment Andy heard what Jonathan said, he was immediately shocked. Andy was well aware of the weight of Jonathan's words. He also knew what it meant. From that day onward, the four prominent families would be no more in Yaleview.

Because of Jonathan's words, the domineering four prominent families that controlled half of Yaleview were about to be wiped out. They were going to be completely crumbled.

"Hang on. I remember that the Morsley family of yours is also one of the four prominent families, right?" Jonathan casually flicked the cigarette ash while looking at Andy. Upon hearing that, Andy's face immediately turned pale. He then stood up suddenly and, with a thud, he kneeled in front of Jonathan. "Mr. Goldstein, let me explain! The Morsley family had never wanted to be one of the four prominent families in Yaleview!" Andy continued, "The title of the four prominent families is made up by the outsiders, and the Morsley family has nothing to do with this! Besides, I warned them a long time ago that they aren't allowed to use my reputation to be domineering and bully other weak families! Mr. Goldstein, over the years, the Morsley family has never been involved in anything in Yaleview. Also, we have never used the title to do anything that shouldn't be done!"

Jonathan's words had scared him a lot.

Andy had always been high and mighty when he was in front of outsiders. A 100 thousand Dragon Scale Guards were at his command, and his actions could determine the survival of the entire nation. He was the King of War in the Asura's Office and controlled the lives of countless people.

However, in front of Jonathan, Andy was only a lucky person who was chosen by Jonathan himself.

He was extremely aware of how he came to hold the title of King of War.

Andy was also aware that only a word from Jonathan would be enough for him to be stripped of his title at any time. He might also have his title changed within a night from King of War in the Asura's Office to a prisoner!
