

Lie To Me Alpha by Veronica Vito

Chapter 16

Matteo's Pov

I was mad at her for the whole night, and I almost lose control when I saw her with Jay in a corner.

Acting like a jealous mate wasn't a problem as my words of breaking her still replays in my head. Yet once I saw her again, she walks like a drunk person, which gave me this weird feeling.

She's lucky, I was there when she fell. I sat her on the bed Thunder growled in our link furiously. He says his Mate has drunk something spiked.

Cursing to nobody, I lay her down then rushes downstairs to get a bag of ice from the fridge.

"Have you seen my b* of a friend?" Gia laughs lightly, and I could see she's drunk.

Her hands trail on my shirt, "I hope someone F her up tonight in the conditions she's in. She shouldn't have drunk it," she laughs.

I grab her by the collar, don't even care if she's a girl or not, "what did you put in the drink?" I'm surprised of having this side of mine.

"Why would you care, now it's a good time to f her, your friends want her pretty bad," she laughs again.

I heard her murmured about her mate, wanting her too, but I was too pissed that I choke her.

"What did you put in the drink?"

"I don't know, I just bought from someone on the street, and it wasn't meant for her," she coughs once I released her.

Tossing her on the ground, I mind linking Tina, a friend of mine to take Gia home and quickly went upstairs with two bags of ice in my hands.

ADVERTISEMENT

I found a guy standing at the foot of her bed, he was to open up his shirt and unzip his pants.

'How the hell did he get in my room?'

The bags fell from my hands and the next thing I did surprise me even more. I grip his neck with my bare hands, choking him, "you don't get to r someone on my bed or any other girls in a party. At my party, nobody took a girl without their consent."

I push the door open and threw him from the stairs. I then mind linking Jace, my other friend who doesn't drink to take care of the brick I threw downstairs.

He was to break a code in our party, I explained to him and he proceeds to what I said, and that code should never be broken by anyone.

I check on her, just to make sure he hasn't touched her which luckily he didn't. Then I move back quickly and filled the tub with warm water before filling it with ice.

I went back to find her body shivering, with her temperature now high. She was shaking, whatever drug Gia put in the drink, it seems dangerous.

My mind is going crazy, trying to find a way to calm her down and not for me to invade her privacy by taking off her clothes.

Randomly I grab a girl who was to have s with one of my friends in the room next to mine.

"One minute to remove her clothes and put this on her," I demand, handing her my black shirt.

She was about to protest, but I gave her a threatening look. "Fine, now turn around," she works behind my back.

"Done."

ADVERTISEMENT

I look at my wristch, it wasn't even a minute. Rapidly I move her aside and carry Adaah who was in a shirt only to the tub.

"Thank you would be nice," I heard her call after me.

I watch as she whimpers before her body temperature calm down and she was back to normal.

I dial my private doctor's number, "Amber, I need you here at my private house urgently," then I hang up the phone.

A few minutes later, my room door is open, and Amber came inside, "are you okay?"

"Yeah, I'm fine, but I just need you to check and change someone for me" I show her the way to my bathroom.

She took a peek inside, and she went shocked. "What did you do to Lyndon's daughter." I push her inside.

"Someone spikes the drink she drank, and I just happen to help her. I don't know what drug was in the drink. So I just did the only thing I know it could calm her down."

Amber moves to touch her forehead then her pulse, "I need her to change first."

I handed her the towel with a pair of jeans that belong to my ex-fling, not Quinn, and my black polo shirt. She ushered for me to move out of there, and when she's done, I carried her back to the bed.

Amber took her blood test and did a final checkup before she came and stood beside me.

"Thank you for saving her. Mia would be very grateful to you for helping her daughter," Amber pats me on the shoulder.

ADVERTISEMENT

"She's beautiful, a rare beauty don't you think," rolling my eyes, I thank her and push her out of the room.

The party isn't over yet, but I call Jace and Jay to finish it and let everyone go home.

After hearing everyone's gone, I sat there watching her. Remembering I should have hated her, instead I help her.

'I couldn't believe I help our sworn enemy,' I mumble to our links

'Correction you hate her not me, that's your problem. You hate her all for nothing,' Thunder says.

"I should have left her down there."

"Matt, it's not her fault that you two or we are paired together, so maybe you should stop with your revenge idea and love her instead. She's a victim here, it's not like she requested the moon goddess to pair you guys up."

Thunder tries to knock some sense in me, but I am too stubborn to listen to my wolf.

"I don't care. I'm only helping her, just like I would have helped other girls. So it doesn't mean I'll stop with my plans."

Closing our links, I went and slept on the other side of the bed, watching her sleep.

“She’s beautiful,” I slap myself, ‘what am I even thinking,’ then I turn to the other side.

As I say, I’m stubborn, so no my plan still proceeds besides this move could be helpful in my case.