: War of Hormones

I was drying my hair when my room door busted down.

I look over my shoulder and saw a fuming Matteo standing there.

“What the f*** was that all about?”

I ignore him and pick up the comb from my dressing table. I sat down before it slightly brushed my hair.

“Ada**ah, I’m losing my patience here” his fist collided with the wall leaving a hole there.

“You are going to fix everything you broke down,” I say while watching him through the mirror.

He is pissed off at me for kicking his precious jewels but who cares I’m also pissed too. He should be apologizing instead of causing a ruckus in my room.

Luckily my dad has taken Wesley to visit my grandma. He has left me a note on my nightstand that they have left without me since I was fighting with the prick in front of me a while ago.

“You know kicking my balls in front of my Pack warriors is disrespectful,” he almost shouted at me

“You disrespected me” he accusingly pointed his finger at me like it was my fault he got kicked down there.

I wanted to go all alien monsters on him but I kept myself cool and keep on brushing my hair like those princess girls.

“You think you don’t deserve it,” I told him and my hand stops brushing my hair.

He stops pacing around and threw me a glare. I put the comb back on the dressing table and face him “the last time I remember my mate was being a bigger d***.”

My mate looks at me narrowing his eyes but ignore it and further said, “so you can’t just expect me to just sit by and let you walk all over me. I’m not some kind of a door where you can open and shut every time you want to.”

I dismissively told him further that he can't ignore me just like that. I mean everything was fine between us not until the night he cries in my arms.

I wish I would know but unfortunately, I don't. So I am just going to be here for him until he opens up to me.

Matteo heaves his shoulders then scratches at the back of his hair, "I'm sorry okay but I just... I'm sorry Addy."

I stood up and walk to the other side of my room peeking out of the window.

I watch the field where mates and their pups play. A couple caught my attention. They look so young and in love.

I cross my arms around my chest "you know I could live without you and be with another wolf" I said while fixing my eyes outside and I heard him growl at my words.

Thinking whether should I tell him or not but seeing the two mates from afar kind of give me enough courage to say what I want to say to him.

I sighed turning back to him admitting my true feelings now "but I don't want any other wolf mate. Let's be honest here Matteo... I just want you."

The next moment I found myself on the bed with Matteo on top of me.

He was quick enough to pin me down on it with my legs apart and his body between them.

He bares his fangs at me and I know he's fighting with his wolf.

This position we're in wasn't the one I expected as when I say want I mean in another way but either this is not so bad as well.

When Matteo won control over his wolf it took a minute for him to breathe then he looks down at me again.

I felt something swirling inside of my stomach making me want to do something to him which I don't know how to and I don't think I'm up to.

So it was better to fight it off and focus on staying mad at him.

Yet all my resolution and restraint were thrown out of the window when Alera send me a similar scene of two people in the same situation.

Except the two were half-naked but we aren't. Seriously this wolf of mine I don't know where she gets all these images from.

I should have been feeling embarra**ed or disgusted by it. Yet, screw that I just want it for him to take me to another level. If you know the level I'm referring to.

ADVERTISEMENT

Other proposals or Mate things can do later but this is definitely what I want now.

Shutting off the images in my head and Alera I thrust my hips up to his jewel in slow motion.

Then I lick my dry lips before biting on my lower one seductively letting out a moan.

Matteo's breathing became heavier as he leans down to me our eyes pouring right into one another.

"You know, I was thinking I want you in another way like being official with you as your mate in front of your Pack"

I let out another moan while whispering to his ear "but this I don't mind either."

Matteo leans closer and I was ready to welcome his kisses and to feel him against me without these clothes.

Yet someone rushes in shouting "Alpha."

He was to pull away but my legs abruptly wrap around his torso arching my back and faking out a moan like we are doing it with our clothes on

"Ahhh Alpha please don't stop."

I heard the person cursing and saying 'oh my...gross dude' but I just slightly smirked to myself.

Yes, I wanted to play with that person's head since he marched in without a knock ruining my moment, and two I want to teach my Alpha a lesson for avoiding me.

Matteo looks at me with shock and I innocently smile at him then give him a wink before unwrapping my legs from his torso and slightly pushing him away.

I sat up to find the person as none other than the Beta.

Matteo growls at him menacingly "don't you dare come rushing in like that" he warns him.

"Well, it's not my fault that there's no door and your scent leads to this room. Dude what are you going to do if Ada**ah finds out you're banging some chick in here" he turns to Matteo scolding him.

ADVERTISEMENT

"And you?" he turns to me but his eyes widen when he saw it's me

"Hello, there Jay."

His mouth went into an O shape realizing it's me Ada**ah and he apologetically looks at Matteo lowering his head down.

I swear that Beta can be so dramatic sometimes.

"What are you doing here?" Matteo asks dismissing the awkwardness I cause in the room.

He looks at me then to Matteo instead of saying it he looks back to Matteo and his mind link to him.

Feeling a little bit worried if something must have happened to my dad or Wesley I quickly get out of bed.

"Where are you going?" he asks

"I'm coming with you"

"No you're not," he says gritting his teeth.

"No way, I am coming with you so whether you like it or not I'm coming" he let out a defeated groan before dragging me with him.

I rush around looking for my shoes "Addy" he calls to me impatiently

"I'm coming."

I put on my running shoes and take one last look at the bed "gosh I am not going to do that again."

I shook off my memories of our compromising situation and follows Matteo.

Chapter 72

/ Lie To Me Alpha by VeronicaVito3
: Enemies Alert

I follow behind him and Jay in my wolf form as they head to our northern border.

Thanks to the moon goddess that it wasn't Wesley or my dad but there are intruders near the borders.

We arrived there on time and find two men sitting on a log with their warriors beside them facing our pack warriors. It's like they are waiting for someone to drop a bomb and then for them to attack.

All our pack warriors on border duties were all in their wolf's form. Growling at them with challenges but no one wasn't fooled enough to fall into the enemies' trap.

They were all waiting for their Alpha to make a call. Matteo jumps in mid-air and landed before his warriors making the Intruders snickers at each other.

"Matteo" a man who looks like Matteo chuckles in his way standing up from the log smiling at him.

"Never thought of the day we would see each other again. After all, you took that Alpha forcibly without earning it" he was cut off by Matteo's loud growl.

He pretends to be scared by it then he laughs out even more. "Son, did you miss me?" the revelation of him calling Matteo his son made me stunned with my eyes rolling from side to side.

"Well, we came to give you a little warning that you have to be prepared cause son when I come back I'll make sure nobody lives including that prissy a** mate of yours," I could see Matteo's wolf losing his patience.

His father smirks and another man stood up dusting his shorts.

"Ahhh right! But not so fast Roman, you know we need to have a taste of her before killing her in front of him and her father. After all, it's such a waste to let such beauty go without pleasure," he licks his lips making Alera growl and me spitting out in disgust.

Matteo took them off guard when his paws claw at the man's chest not too deep as the man was quick to move back.

ADVERTISEMENT

His men came forth shielding them and Alera growls in return ready to help our Mate kill them.

Things escalated so fast that our pack warriors join in the fight against their minions. I could see Matteo fighting his way to get to the two men behind their fighters.

When we were about to win, they suddenly retreat taking the injured b***** with them and his father salutes in his direction with a smirk.

Matteo's growl rumbles through the woods. His wolf becomes ferocious for not being able to kill the intruders who have an escape.

Some of his warriors went after them along with Jay.

The rest quickly shifted and my eyes widen at their nakedness but my wolf proudly looks on without shame at our Mate while he paces around in anger.

All his glorious parts were on display before us. I wanted to look away but Alera is the one in control now.

So all I'm doing is sitting by the back of our mind and watching things unfold before us. Things that are making my vision blur, my body burning hot and my mind went mad.

I may sound stupid but who could blame me for seeing our opposite s** in their birthday suit for the first time. I don't know about the time I was eighteen or 21st but I would take this moment as mine first time.

Yeah, my dad was the only male wolf around me and it's not like he shifted in front of me because he never.

Matteo who notices me still in my wolf form eyeing him shamelessly smirks before winking at me. All the angry expressions on his face were gone and there once again my c***y mate is back.

However, when he saw his warriors all gaze at me probably expecting for me to shift in front of them. His fist tightens as he growls at his warriors and they all scurry away apparently looking for shorts.

ADVERTISEMENT

He didn't need to do that as Alera's eyes were on him and nobody else.

I guess if there was ever an award for the perv of the year my wolf would be awarded it by me.

Kicking away the dirt from her paws we turn to our right and find Jay who has come back chuckling at his Alpha folding his arms.

"Where are they?" Matteo asks his return warriors. "They just disappeared" one of the answers and Matteo held his fist.

"Alpha, they have moved to the west border," one of the warriors inform him.

We were about to head there when Evan came rushing to our side from the east border direction "Alpha, I think this is a diversion."

Cursing out loud even more Matteo howl to his warriors "we are going back now," he shouted to the rest.

"Those who were on duties here stay behind and watch the border, Jay I need you here." He turns to Evan and told him to go to the Eastern border.

He links to his gamma Shalom to stay there on the southern border.

Afterward, he looked back at me as if asking me to follow him. Alera gladly runs to his side. We all return to the Packhouse and strangely nothing happened as everything is in place.

Everyone was outside doing their normal work. When I saw my dad's car park outside of the packhouse I began to panic that I rush into the house calling out his name.

"Dad"

ADVERTISEMENT

I shouted but it was so quiet in the house, got me wondering where all the pack members have gone to apart from the people outside of the house.

"Dad" I rush to the room and only see Wesley in his crib.

I began to panic even more but at the same time, I try to stay calm while taking steps to his crib. I lifted him in my arms wondering where my dad could have gone to. I don't hear the shower or any movements within the room.

"Ada**ah?" I almost jump but not enough to drop my baby brother on the floor. Turning to confuse to the door at a guy who stood there with a duffel bag sling on his arm.

"Who are you?" I ask holding on to Wesley and wondering how he knew my name.

The door opens again revealing Matteo. He took a sniff in the air and once he saw the intruder in my dad's room he sneers at him.

"What are you doing here?" he asks the stranger while narrowing his eyes.

"Why? Am I not allowed to come back home to my room?" he says sarcastically.

"You forgot this is not your home but a Packhouse, once you move out without notice this room doesn't belong to you anymore," Matteo says taking steps towards me.

"You can use Quinn's room" by the mentions of her name the stranger lifted his gaze to him. He looks at me once again before exiting the room.

My dad then suddenly appeared in the doorway "dad" I run into his arms with Wesley still in my arms.

I am just happy that they are okay and nothing happens to them.

: Old Friends

Matteo's Pov

Hugging his children in his arms Lyndon raises his eyes at me concerning his daughter's actions.

His brow furrow and I sigh linking him that we will talk later in my office.

"Ada**ah, your door will be fixed today I already told the men to put it back," I said and walk out of the room giving them space for family time.

I walk down to my office and came to face with Kevin leaning against the door.

Once he sees me he stood right up "I didn't expect someone else taking up my room and that he's the one your dad claims as a hybrid," Kevin says with no hard expression on his face.

I know that he's playing a pretend game something that he has always done to get secrets out of us. Once he knew he would joke about it in our face when we have a drinking night.

Yeah, he can be a pretty jerk to us but when we were young he was a good guy not until his father remarried Quinn's mother.

We may have some ups and downs sometimes but in the end, we are all still friends, me, him, Jay, Kai, and Jace.

Today, it is a surprise to see Kevin back here after he changes College without telling any of us or even reconnecting to any of us through the years. Now here he is right in front of me like nothing has ever happened.

I ignore him and walk past and into my office. He followed me inside and sat on the couch on the right.

I took out a whisky from my desk and pour it in two gla**es then I walk back and sat opposite him handing him another one. We both chuck it down instantly without saying anything.

Kevin sighs rubbing his neck "I'm sorry for what happened earlier. I just never expected anyone to move in especially Ada**ah's father." I took another gla** of whisky and drink it while listening to him.

"I'm not here to take back the Gamma t**le or crush on Ada**ah or tell our pack he is a hybrid," he said.

My hand clenched around the gla** and slowly I put it down on the table. I am still trying to act normal even though I want to leap over and choke him with my bare hands.

ADVERTISEMENT

"Good, because I'm not giving you the Gamma position cause we're friends. And who says her father is a hybrid? The last time I checked everyone in this pack is normal," I swirl the gla** in my hand.

He looks at me to see if I'm lying yet I won't give him the benefit of a doubt.

"Yeah, you're right I guess your father was only making up nonsense," I nod my head in return.

The door flew open and Jay saunters his way inside "you b*****s" he shouted at Kevin.

He storms over him and hits him in the face making Kevin wince in pain but he never retaliates.

"You deserve that," he said and looks aside at me.

"If you're thinking of hitting me I suggest you wouldn't. So don't move or even dream of it" I take another sip of my drink.

"f**er" he took the empty gla** on the table and the whisky from my hand.

He pours it in his gla** then drinks it "ah now that's much better," he sat down beside me and Kevin who's wiping off blood from his busting lip.

"It's good that you're here now" Jay's eyes light up in excitement "because boys we're getting laid tonight."

He winks and I glare in his way making him laugh out loud "so I suggested you clear all your schedules today Alpha and you too the prodigal son" he pat Kevin on the shoulder.

We both furrow our brows at him and he smiles saying "the crew is reuniting today."

I slump back to the couch closing my eyes remembering that the only girls in our crew were Quinn and our other friend.

"You can invite Ada**ah"

I heard him but I didn't want to open my eyes and face Kevin. I know Kevin may not have any more crush on Ada**ah but still, he would be hurt if he knew that I'm her mate, especially when he likes her back then.

ADVERTISEMENT

"Jay informs the Gamma, Delta, and our head tracker, head technician, and top warrior that we have an urgent meeting today," I told him "and now time to get out as I need to plan."

"Dude you need to relax and of course I will let them know" I heard them move around

"Alpha, remember to turn on your phone," he calls back before I heard the sound of the door closing.

My eyes open and I stare at the bottle of whisky in front of me with a blank mind. Moving away from it I went back to my desk and started working on a plan for my Pack's safety.

My friends are my least concerned as Ada**ah and my pack is my priority and concern now. Their safety is more important to any fun or reunion with my old crew.

I work on a plan for an hour before a knock interrupted me "come in"

The door opens and Ada**ah's father came inside. I forgot that we have to talk "please take a seat"

I move from my desk and sat down where I was sitting earlier when Kevin was here.

"What happened Alpha?" he asks and I sigh rubbing my face

"My father and James came today to warn us and they were making diversions on all borders," I told him.

"And Ada**ah?" he asks "she was with me. I swear I try to make her stay but she was too stubborn to listen" Lyndon nodded his head.

"They were here in the packhouse," he said and I stood up abruptly. "No need to panic Alpha, they were just here for me and that's why when you came back I wasn't here," he explains.

"What's our next move?" he asks

"I was working on it and I don't know if Jay has informed you but we have a meeting today" he nodded his head then we talk a little about the progress of our warriors.

Lyndon excuse himself after we talk and I went back to my room to take a shower.

ADVERTISEMENT

Sometimes afterward I lie on my bed watching the ceiling and then finally I decided to call my friends that I won't become.

It just then I remember I don't have my phone with me. I look everywhere in my room but there was nothing.

I try to think where I could have dropped it. Damn it I haven't even locked it' I curse under my breath.

I retrace my steps and memories then it hit me I must have dropped in Ada**ah's room when she was teasing me earlier.

I went towards her room and knocked on her new door but there was no answer. I then twist the knob and find it unlocked.

I open up the door and saw Ada**ah back facing me. "Ada**ah have you seen my phone?" she doesn't speak.

I repeatedly ask her again still there was no reply and right when I turn to leave she spoke in a low voice.

"This photo"

She turns to face me with her eyes that seem to be red from tears with my phone in her hands.

My heart beats faster and I began to freak out. No, it cannot be a photo of me and Quinn. I try to remember if I already deleted all of it when I was with Ada**ah

'Right, Thunder?' I call out to my wolf for confirmation. "Um bro why would you ask me that?" he retorts sarcastically

"Now rest in peace motherf***er," he spat at me closing off our links.

Gosh, or could it be Jona's photo, the one I took at the hospital. 'Damn' I keep cursing myself

"This photo" she started to tear up breaking my heart.

"I can explain."

: Foreplay

"This photo," his eyes widen and I started to tear up a little.

I mean I am filled with emotions now. Seeing this photo got me wondering if we could be like this again.

"This photo," I held it up to his face while I repeat myself "was this is us before I lose my memory?" I ask nervously.

I wipe off my tear smiling at him while at the same time I couldn't stop myself from moving towards him. I show it to him and he seems to give out a long sigh of relief and it confused me a little.

He takes a look at the photo and then back to me.

The phone fell off of my hand and he took my face cupping it with his hands.

"It was the moment we confess our love for each other. The first time that I admitted to my feelings and told you in return that I f***ing love you too," he kisses me full on the lips and I could see a tear slip out of his eyes.

I try to match up with his kisses as he was going fast and urgent. I hesitate for a moment but right when he murmured against my lips that he loves me I pull him back again and gave myself all into that moment.

The image of us in his phone keeps playing in my mind. How we look at each other with so much love.

It was like a photographer has taken it, with us kissing in some sort of a park. The background says it all for me as there were kids with blurry pictures behind us with a ball.

Instead of keeping on wondering about our past, I am going to live in this moment and move forward.

I smile at that while kissing him and without much thought, I shut it off and decided to recreate that scene even though I don't recall it.

Like I said I want to move forward with no looking back which I hope when I remember it wouldn't be that bad.

"I love you too baby," I whisper against his lips then we continue.

ADVERTISEMENT

Things become heated and I become hot. I quickly disregard my cardigan and move backward towards my bed.

Once the back of my legs hit it I fell with him on top of me and our lips still attached to another.

I raised his shirt touching his rip abs and feeling his skin with my hands.

'Too many clothes,' I thought to myself as I tighten my hands on his shirt and suddenly it's ripped off from him.

He smiles through our kiss murmuring feisty then he bit on my earlobe and keeps leaving a trail of kisses from my neck to breast.

I roll him on his back and sat on top with my hands on his chest. I felt something nudging down there against my p****.

I look at Matteo who blush and grunt in a low husky voice. I saw something hard almost budge out of his Jean.

My eyes widen and felt a bit scared wondering what if it's going to explode.

'Oh no,' I started to panic and look back at Matteo who seems to see the fear in my eyes. I think he was ashamed as his hands were reaching up to get me off of him and apologizing to me immediately for his actions.

'd***** him,' Alera growl through our links "no, that thing under his pant is going to explode, no way" I argue back

"Just do it, grind on him" she pressed me to do it.

Before Matteo flip me off of him completely I push him back on his back and plant myself right on top of his bulge.

I gulp feeling it twitch down there against my p**** sending goosebumps to my body and thousands of b***erflies to my stomach.

"Now what?" I deadpan to my wolf while trying to catch my breath in front of Matteo who closes his eyes while f***** each side of my dress fabric.

ADVERTISEMENT

"Now roll your hips," she directed me, and without delay, I do as she said.

Rolling my hips in slow motion and biting my lips with a little moan escaping my lips as the feeling of doing this is f***ing amazing and unexplainable.

Matteo grunts and moan louder underneath me which gives my wolf and me more satisfaction.

More greediness and desire consume me and I ended up going fast on his hard friend.

“Ahhh... Please...” another moan escape my lips not sure what I’m begging for.

“Faster baby,” he grunts and I keep on rolling my hips feeling a sensational building inside of me as I roll faster than before moaning out his name.

I felt it form in the pit of my core with Matteo’s hold tighten ready to rip off my dress.

Indeed, before the building sensation explode in and out of me and for Matteo ripping my dress at the same time. A loud piercing cry was heard in the room with the door slam open.

I hurriedly got off of him throwing him back his half torn shirt and adjusting my dress. I run towards Wesley’s crib while ignoring my dad at the door.

Gosh, I forgot about Wesley in the room and I’m embarra**ed by being caught by my dad.

So yes the person who slams the door was my dad. He probably thought something happens to Wes and me, that’s why he came running in.

I cradle him in my arms and rock him back to sleep looking back I saw Matteo with his head hung low.

My father clears his throat and everything was so awkward between all three of us.

I wanted to reach out to my mate but my legs were stuck. So without saying anything Matteo got up from the bed and walk outside of the room and my dad didn’t stop him either.

ADVERTISEMENT

He looks at me and I sigh “dad nothing happened” he nodded his head and it makes me feel worst and not just ashamed right now.

Realization hit me off my action today and I never thought of others until this moment between my dad and me.

My father must be ashamed of having a daughter who was willing to have s** with the Alpha in the packhouse.

It wasn't very long since we move here and even if he is my mate I should have thought of my dad's image too.

People now might think that my dad and brother have been getting well treatment because his daughter is f***ing their Alpha even if we aren't sleeping. Indeed, people would always a**ume and spread rumors.

"I'm sorry dad," I mutter in shame and if he could read me he came up to me and hugs me with Wes in my arms.

"Don't worry about it dear, to think again your mom and I were worse than you two," he kisses me on the forehead.

"Like I say before he's your mate and you have every right to feel that way and you know I wouldn't mind having a grandchild soon," he smiles nodding his head which makes me more embarra**ed.

"Dad, that is never gonna happen anytime soon besides Wes here would be sad," I said.

He pinches my brother's cheek "what about him?"

"Dad I don't think he wants to be an uncle at a young age plus almost the same age as them" I laugh and my dad looks at me with amus****t.

"And how would know this young lady?"

"Intuition and he did scream" I joke and my dad responds by holding us two again.

I nuzzled my head in his chest telling him to thank you for understanding and heart forgiving.

/ Lie To Me Alpha by VeronicaVito3
: Walk of Shame

Matteo's Pov

I walk out of her room with my head hung low in shame.

I avoided her dad's eyes and even not a glance back to my mate.

'Damn' she is getting addictive and I'm afraid she is going to be the one getting hurt in the end. I couldn't believe I let my desire for her take over me.

Yet who wouldn't want to be with her especially when she is all I have and she has all of my heart.

Telling her that I say I love her at the moment referring to our photo on my phone. I meant it back then when she says she loves me for the first time.

I remember that day when I took her on the date on the Crescent Park. It was also the last time I truly admitted to her before everything else has gone wrong in our lives.

Our life wasn't normal and still, it isn't as I am still lying to her about everything.

I close my eyes once I remember what we were doing and almost did. This wasn't the first time she makes me lose it and wanted to take her right there.

I just don't think I can do that to her without confessing the truth first.

"Are you okay?"

I stop then look up to see Jay frowning at me before his eyes travel down and up to me.

He smirks knowingly and I turn down to find myself in a mess. I forgot when the door opens I kind of c** in my pants. Now it was wetting my front pant.

Kevin walks through and the same expression was on his face.

"I swear did you just?" Jay started and I growl out at him pushing him out of the way "f*** off."

I storm towards my office and I could hear them both laughing "did you see that?" I ignore them and keep on walking.

Once I reach my office door I open it then close it again behind me.

ADVERTISEMENT

"f*** that was so embar**ing," I told Thunder who only shook his head holding in his laughter.

I fell back down on my chair taking a deep breath and right when I try to relax there is a knock on the door.

"Come in," I close my eyes as I waited for the person to come inside. I could hear more footsteps coming in.

I finally look up and only come face to face with Ada**ah's dad. Even though he is at the back of Jay but why do I have to look at him first. It is making me feel guilty and ashamed of my earlier action.

It was so f***ing embarra**ing to be caught by the father of my mate in the bedroom like that. I wouldn't mind if it was anyone else because then I would show them my possessive side over her.

Unfortunately, it was her father and that was a huge turn-off for me.

"Alpha" Jay clear his throat bringing me out of my thoughts.

"Yes, umm please take a seat everyone," I say and they all take a seat before me.

I gave Jay the papers and he handed out our devise plan to everyone in the room.

"We are going to train not only our warriors but also everyone else in this pack hard. Except for our elders and young pups that cannot fight" I stopped to look up if anyone has any opinions but it seems not. So I continued to explain more.

This includes the hiring of a high technician from Aaron's pack to work with my pack's team on the installation of a new system to protect our packhouse.

In that way, if I fail as the leader and our borders become weaker during any there's still a barrier to protect my people from the enemies. I know my other fellow Alpha brothers will help me but in case they are late in helping us.

Afterward, I then a**ign them to age groups for training leaving out the youngsters from 10 to 15 years old.

"Alpha" our Gamma raised his hand making Jay and Evan cough out loud.

They are mocking him for acting like a school kid but our gamma ignores them.

"Yes, Shalom,"

"Who's going to train them, the ones without a trainer?"

I think deeply of who is going to take on the job as we needed someone with a lot of patience and knows how to handle the att**ude of youngsters.

ADVERTISEMENT

"Alpha, may I suggest" this time it was Evan I nodded my head yes to him

"Why not our luna?" he said and right, when I was about to respond the door, opens wide interrupting us

"Matteo"

She peeks her head inside not knowing the audience until her body is seen in the doorway with Kevin behind her.

She stiffened for a moment before she focused her eyes on me.

"Since our future luna is here, please come in. Why not hear her opinion on the matter?" Jay says and I began to worry.

Hada**ah told me to give her time but this idiot Jay is going to make her freak out and thinks we're forcing her into this luna responsibility.

"Ada**ah" he calls out to her and I was to get up when another voice intervenes.

"This is impossible" Kevin mutters to himself pushing Ada**ah aside and walking right in.

I slam my hand on the table "Kevin don't you f***ing push her like that" I warn him and he laughs a little.

"My sister is the luna not her," he pointed to Ada**ah which makes her fold her arms and move right in front of Kevin.

"And your sister is? Look here pup I don't know who the hell your sister is but I think she was preying on the wrong man. He is not her mate" she dares him with her look.

I didn't know my innocent Ada**ah has that dominant and possessive side to her and I just f***ing love it. Honestly, it's turning me on even more.

She flips her hair then walks in my direction and sat on my lap. "Damn" I close my eyes restraining myself from doing something stupid in front of everyone in here.

"You see, I'm his Mate and your luna. So don't say your sister is because I'm still alive here" she proudly announces to him.

I felt relief that she's finally accepting the fact that she is not just my mate but also a luna.

Possessively I wrap my arms around her and put my head on the crook of her neck to calm myself. Kevin's fist clench before he storms out of the room

"Hada**ah" her father seems to warn her of her att**ude in which she raises her hand in surrender and stood up.

ADVERTISEMENT

"I'm sorry everyone for my behavior. I just love acting very much" she smiles

"I guess I'll see you soon," she was going to dash out after pulling that little stunt of hers but I held her back.

"Not so fast luna" she frowns at me

"You haven't decided yet whether you should train the youngsters or not"

"luna" Jay says earning a glare from her "I know you don't like being called luna. We won't call you that unless you train them" I smile at Jay and hope she would accept it but I know they will still call her luna.

She stood there thinking "fine but no luna t**le" she hisses around before going out of the room.

I smile at her before carrying on with our meeting.

Afterward, we concluded it and Ada**ah's dad stays behind and I grow to be nervous.

"I won't scold you over your actions with my daughter earlier. All I want to warn you about is, don't ever break her heart again. I know everything may not be your entire fault but don't hurt her again. You'll be there when I decide to tell her the truth," my eyes glisten with tears that Ada**ah's father is giving his blessings and also want me to be there when it's time to face the truth.

"We need to take it slow until I know she is fully recovered and ready for it," I felt something heavy lifted out of my chest.

Lyndon stood up from his chair "take care of her and don't break her because if you do I don't care if you're an Alpha I'll haunt you until the end of this world" he warns me with a stern look.

I thank him and as he was to walk out he halts in his steps "oh and Alpha"

I look up at him with my eyes almost in tears in his acceptance of our relationship.

"I think you need to change."

He walks out laughing and just like that I felt embarra**ment gliding over me as I look down at my Jean.

My mate didn't just make me c** in my pants without s**.

It was not once but twice she did and everyone will know about it as Jay's mouth cannot be shut up by anyone.

: Familiar

I don't know why I ended up going to his office in the first place. Now I will face the rebellious attitude of the teenagers tomorrow in training.

Skipping my way through the front door I am stopped by a hand in the way. I turn up to find the stranger from earlier and I narrow my eyes at him.

"You're his Mate?" he asks with disbelief "I don't get it," he scratches his hair.

I know his name is Kevin since Matteo calls it when we're in the office but anything else I don't.

"Ummm didn't you hear me in there and what part you didn't get huh?" I folded my arms on my chest as I am annoyed by him.

"The truth of me and your Alpha being mates or your sister not being the real luna," he squints his eyebrows.

"No, I don't get it...the funny part is it seems like you don't remember me. Now to think again aren't you supposed to be mad" he said.

I kick his right leg so hard that he winces in pain and fell on the floor "that's when you're wrong Kevin I do remember" I lie through my gritted teeth.

Anyways where is the fun if I don't pretend to remember him? "I am not supposed to be mad because I am," I smile down at him and continue to walk out of the house.

My dad has granted me to go hang out with my friends and leave Wes with him which was a great idea and perfect timing.

My friends are available and they were willing to see me again going out with them instead of staying in the packhouse forever.

Gia waves at me from the car and I hop inside with glee "hmmm nice ride" I commented.

"Thanks, it's Ed's car and mine is at home" she replies.

ADVERTISEMENT

I laugh at that “you seem to be in a bad vibe today” she sighs starting the engine “trust me; we’ll talk about it once we get there.”

We both arrived at the diner and went to take our reserve table at the back near the window.

We settled down and a waitress came up to our table “hello ladies, may I get anything for you” we both smile at her and gave her our order including Cora’s one as she is running late.

Gia looks bothered by something then she waved to the waiter again “please can I have an espresso martini” the waiter takes down her order and disappears again.

I look at her with shock “why are you drinking in the daylight?” I raise my brow at Gia.

“Seriously I never met anyone who would drink in a broad daylight. It’s not good for your health” I try to raise my concern with her.

“Well it’s this b**** you’re sitting with when my f*** of a Mate refused to give me pups,” the waiter came right on time, and Gia took it from the tray and drinks it in one go.

“Another one sweetie” the waiter looks between the two of us and I nod my head to her. “Please make it four, this time,” I said and look around for the drinks menu turning it over and the first one I saw I just said it.

“Add three Gin spritz,” I said smiling at the waiter, not sure of what I am even ordering but I know my friend might need a fake drink buddy.

She looks at me with shock but I just roll my eyes at her “I order it for Cora,” she laughed a little.

Now I know why she looks bothered and frustrated the whole time in the car.

When the waiter left I held her hand “Gia, have you talked to him about it?” I ask and I could see a tear drop down on her cheek.

She wipes it off and nods her head “yes I told him I want pups but he said he isn’t ready. I mean what’s so wrong with having it now than later” she complains.

“Gosh, I don’t know about other females but I want a mini Ed and me around right now. I don’t mind my age but I want one” she sighs slumping her back against the long leather chair.

“He will come around and when he does don’t complain to me again about going into labor” she finally laughs.

“Yeah I won’t... trust me” she rolls her eyes.

The drinks arrived along with our food and I turn to the door to find Cora coming our way.

Gia look at her phone then up to me “now we wait for the s*** herself” she said sarcastically and Cora hit the back of her head.

“Says the stripper herself who shakes her a** on any moving things” she retorts and I spit out the water I was drinking.

“Move hustler,” my jaw drops as she scoots me over.

“What? Don’t act so innocent I’m sure you have already jumped on that piece of sh-” she didn’t finish as I clamp my hand on her mouth.

Oh my, if others caught wind of our conversation they would surely think we’re those names. Yet these two jokes are pretty dirty. Damn! I wasn’t any different from them considering my actions with Matteo.

Once I remember my actions with Matteo today I blush and Gia caught me turning red.

“Ohh did our innocent Ada**ah just blush” she claps her hands with glee.

“OHHH... details, details” Cora pout her lips at me like a child.

I push her away burying my head in my hands but too late they are pushing me for it. So I told them about it and they crack up laughing while applauded to Alera for her actions even though they seemed to dislike Matteo.

We chat for hours with them teasing me and Cora cheering Gia on her frustrations.

I look outside and saw that we have been in here for a long as the outside was getting darker. Indeed, I don’t mind as I am having fun with my friends for the first time since my accident.

ADVERTISEMENT

I saw a guy parking his car then he got accompanied by his other two friends and a girl. I watch as they made their way into the diner.

It’s funny cause I feel like I met him before but it’s just that I don’t know where. I turn back to my friends who wiggle their brows at me.

“He’s hot right?” they both said and I quickly act like I don’t know what they are talking about.

They keep on pushing me until I told them "fine but no he's not hot, it is just that he looks familiar and it feels like we met before" I said.

They both nodded their head and we look at their way as they settle on the far table on the other side of the diner.

We talk for a while before Cora nudge me on the shoulder "he's coming this way" she whispers.

I look up to their table to find the guy walking towards our table with a smile plaster on his face.

"Hello" he extended his hand to Cora and Gia who are now on their feet to meet the stranger.

Alera frowns a little in my head at him but his smile never left his face. He extended his hand to me.

I gulped looking at his hand nervously Cora moves out of the booth dragging me to stand before him.

He suddenly embraces me into a big bear hug "aww Ada**ah" he pulls me back with his hands still on my shoulders.

"How could you pretend not to know your Kaiser," he fakes hurt.

My head keeps spinning and tries to connect its cell on who the f*** is Kaiser is to me.

: Chilling Out

'Should I be happy or not I thought as I watch the stranger before me.

I knew nothing of him but he seems to know me better. So I guess he's someone from the past.

"It's good to see you again Ada**ah" he broaden his smile as I keep on frowning at him.

It is funny that he can't take any hint that I don't remember him. He smiles at Cora and Jea. "We kind of met in College, we're friends" he nervously said while nodding his head.

The door of the diner opens and I saw my mate in his black v neck shirt and denim pants walking inside with Kevin on his side.

I felt my insides swirl and I gulp at the sight of him as I have just seen him in another light or lens filter. My core throbs with urges to grind him again as I did before.

"f***, Alera see what you have made of me?" my wolf bluff "hoi that's you being h**** not me" she deadpan.

I instantly took a drink from our table and gulp it. My throat burns from the liquid I drank. This must be my first time tasting alcohol and I must say it's okay.

They both didn't notice us as they turn in another way and wave to the people at the table Kaiser was at and I silently pray he wouldn't.

Unfortunately, the door opens again and that big mouth Jay turns in our direction shouting

"wood Helloooooo Ada**ah and your friends," he waves his hand in our way.

Matteo's head whip in our direction and I take another drink from the table. Suddenly I feel like the earth moves beneath me after taking two shots of it.

"Are you okay?" Kaiser asks and I just nod my head at him while my eyes fix on Matteo coming in our way with Jay trailing behind.

ADVERTISEMENT

I gulp my saliva when he is nearer and when he finally did he didn't waste any time giving me a, hi or hey.

He pecks me on the lips with his hand going around my waist holding me tight.

"You drink alcohol?" I just blush like a freaking idiot instead of replying. I wish my mouth could say anything yet I couldn't even utter one sentence.

Matteo rested his head on my shoulder hugging me from the back while facing Kaiser.

"You know my girl Kai?" everyone has different reactions when he asks that to Kaiser.

Take, for instance, Cora and Gia; they roll their eyes with glare muttering 'p****' and 'oh please' while Jay looks on like a lovelorn puppy and whimpers 'whipped' and as for Kaiser he is taken aback by his question.

"Come on buddy, how did you know my girl?" Matteo asks him twice.

Kaiser scratches the back of his head "we met in College" he finally said. "I didn't know she's taken" Kaiser added on.

"What is that supposed to mean?" Matteo removes his head from my shoulder and he seized his friend up and down with his eyes.

"Look it wasn't that long since we last saw each other and I thought she didn't have a boyfriend cause she said she didn't" Matteo frown even more with Kaiser's words.

"Well buddy, she is my mate not boyfriend" he corrected him and I know he is getting possessive.

Kaiser's eyes widen even more "man, I'm sorry... I just didn't know she's your mate" his eyes rested on me.

"Hmmm, now you know that she is mine so whatever feelings or crush you have for her beat it," he said with a stern look.

ADVERTISEMENT

I look at him with disbelief at how he is treating his friend. I mean he didn't have to be a jerk about it, the dude just says he didn't know we're mates.

"Don't need to be a jerk to your friend" I elbow him in the stomach. I am letting his attitude go since his friends are around but wait till we go home.

"He's my friend, not yours" he kisses me on the neck and I glare at him.

"Okay lovers enough for the show and Matt cut the kissing thing or you'll end up like early today," Jay says wiggling his brow at Matteo and he glare right back at Jay.

Jay turns around and calls over his other four friends including Kevin to come over. I could see Gia and Cora glaring at Jay and even I hate the idea of them joining our table.

We are just hanging out for the first time by ourselves and here is the douche inviting his whole party crew.

The waiters came right away and set up another table with extra chairs to fit all of us at the corner. Luckily the place was spacious enough for us all.

There was no squeezing around or breathing in to do so that we could fit there.

Once we settled down Jay began the introduction with Jace, Anna, Kaiser, Hani, Cruz, Kevin, and Logan. I could see the girls gritting their teeth while faking a smile with the introduction.

My friends do not even like his friends. It's like we're two different sets of groups that don't seem to hang out together and aren't supposed to.

After the introduction, it came to my attention that Hani is an addition to the group as the others have been friends a long time.

There was a little bit of tension in the beginning but after a while, everybody just chills around and the girls were hard on chatting with Ana and Hani.

Matteo held my hand and whisper in my ear wanting to know if I am okay. I blush again and nodded my head like a young kid.

ADVERTISEMENT

He leans in to kiss me and I look away to the other side with giddy and only to see both Kevin and Kaiser staring at me.

They abruptly turn away but too late as Jace has noticed his two friends' actions and he frowns at it. There was a little bit of disappointment written on his face until he turns and met my eyes. He then replaced it with a smile and turn back to talk to Jay.

Gosh, that dude was so talkative; I don't know why Matteo made him a Beta. I would say Evan could be one since he was cooler than the chosen Beta.

Since everyone was talking to one another, Matteo and I were talking in low whispers. He has put up a barrier for hearing between us and the others around, shutting them off from our conversation.

He is apologizing for his earlier behavior and also kind of asks me whether I want to be his Mate or not. Of course, we already said the 'I love you' words but we haven't talked about us being a real item.

So yes, I have agreed to be his Mate and also to go on a date with him once we're both free.

"Okay, that's it you two, enough" Cora stood up slamming her hands on the table and reaching for Matteo's shoulder breaking a temporary barrier between us and them in hearing.

"I'm calling Jem" and she took out her phone dialing a number while taking a shot. After calling her mate she then calls Ed earning a distasteful glance from Gia yet it didn't stop Cora from doing it.

When Jem and Ed joined our table sometimes later, Jace suggested that we should go to a club to end our night.

Everyone agrees to go except for me as the alcohol was kind of making me dizzy. I know I only take two-shot but seriously my headaches a lot. Maybe because it's my first time drinking.

The girls pouted their lips and gave me a kitten look as if they are going to cry if I don't go.

I ended up going and I love how Matteo's hands never left my waist even though his two friends creep me out.

I want to tell my mate but I know it's going to ruin our night, therefore, might as well wait after tonight.

: Discourse

I wanted to go home as my head still throbs in pain and maybe because it was from the drinks I drank and the club lights.

"So I heard from your friends a while ago that you don't remember anything"

I turn towards Kevin and Kaiser who was sitting opposite me in our VIP booth. I should have gone with Matteo when others won a dare against him and drag him on the dance floor.

"It's funny I wonder how you will react when you have them back" I don't speak but rather my attention was on the crowd before us.

"I think you're falling for the wrong guy, I don't think he's a qualified mate"

Kaiser chuckle at what Kevin said taking a sip of his drink. I avert my gaze to him "and who do you think is qualified enough? You?" I ask and they both remain silent

"Trust me; he's way more qualified than you. If you think you can have a chance with me" I point to myself "beat it" I quote Matteo's previous words.

"You're not him and you can never be him to me," I stood up to go but his words made me stop "you're only saying this because you don't remember what he has done to you. Aren't you curious to know?"

Kevin stood up and made his way towards me chucking another drink. Kaiser tries to stop him but he shrugs off his hands. He stood before me with his proud look as if he has all the right cards to play but I won't even feed up his ego.

"You'll regret it Ada**ah and I can't wait for that day" he winks at me and is about to move away when I held back his arm.

I stood before him straight and tall “Kevin, you see I do remember what he did to me” I lie and Kevin look at me with disbelief.

Like I said I’m not going to boost his ego “therefore I won’t regret it. The only thing I regret, is encountering people like you who are best friends with my man and yet for a girl you’re willing to betray him” with that I made my way to the dance floor searching for Matteo and the others.

However, I couldn’t even find them. I stood there in the middle with my thoughts on my past and what I am experiencing now.

Truth be told, I wanted to know and remember what really happened but there is always a part of me that is afraid of knowing everything. I am afraid to be unhappy when yet I am now happy with him.

ADVERTISEMENT

Therefore, I’ll try and avoid it as clearly to others it seems my past is not even that good.

Trying to forget Kevin and Kaiser’s words I move my hips to the music shaking my head and losing myself a bit. I felt hands on my waist and I knew it wasn’t Matteo but just a stranger who needs somebody to grind on.

Therefore, when I felt his body move against mine I try to pull away as it felt disgusting to me but the a** just grips my waist and a**. I push him once again and the stupid idiot wouldn’t bother.

Suddenly his hand was ripping away from me and replaced with sparks and b***erflies. He then was dragged by the guards out with a bloody nose and a bruised face.

Matteo slightly kisses my neck while holding me securely in his arms. He is probably trying to calm himself and his wolf down.

“I want to go home,” I told him and he lifted me in his arms after giving me a long French kiss in the middle of the crowd. He made me sit on the stool near the bar “hey you’re okay” he cups my face with the palm of his hands.

“It’s just my head” I replied “I want to go home” I rest my head on his chest.

“Oh my, is she okay?” I heard Gia asking with concerns then followed by Cora. The two almost created a commotion which made others gaze in our way and think that something huge happened.

Too tired to speak I look up at Matteo for his help “ladies, she’s fine and wanted to go home” they both turn to me and I hug my man closer.

“Pshh the b**** just wants to get laid” Cora shouted through the music-making more people around us glanced at me.

I blush to bury my face in Matteo's chest hoping that no one sees me as it's so embarrassing now.

"Shut up," I say without even looking at them which earns laughter around me.

We bid our goodbye and Matteo was about to swoop me off of my feet but then I push him away and quickly walk to the exit. I could hear people saying Alpha to him as he followed after me.

When we arrived home everyone has gone to bed. All rights of the Packhouse were off except for the front door. We walk side by side with our hands brushing together before he held mine into his firm.

ADVERTISEMENT

I kick off my shoes once inside the house. Matteo held them up and lead me to the nearest couch. He sat down on the floor and started to rub my aching feet.

I stare at him as he massages it and it got me thinking of what we talked about earlier in the restaurant.

"Matt" he stops massaging my leg and glances up at me "Matt" I repeated and he nods his head "or should I call you Mattie boo" he laughs lightly squeezing my hand.

"Anything that would satisfy my baby" he winks at me with his hand gliding over my leg to my thighs and I push it away playfully.

"Matt, about us, dating; what does it mean to our bond?" I ask him nervously and went on to say more "I mean do we have to mark each other and Mate" I bit my lip nervously.

He smiled at me and came up to sit next to me taking my hand into his then he faces me.

"I won't force you to do it or even pressure you with it. Yes, I am your mate and we are dating now but I want you to have your memories back before we do it," he caresses my cheek and I lean into his warm touch.

"I know when you have them back you need to decide before doing it. Now is not the time because I don't want you to regret us" I could see that somehow he's feeling hurt.

"I won't regret it," I said touching his face.

"And if I have a son?" he says nervously and I slap his arms "I won't regret us and I don't want you to have a son to another woman because then I'll regret" I sigh sitting on his lap with both my hands on his shoulder.

Matteo stiffened a little and I went on to explain my reason. It may be too quick for us to talk about these things but I want to be honest with my feelings and my thoughts on everything starting with a child.

I lock my hands behind his head with my fingers brushing his back hair. "Not us but the fact that he's not mine and yours" he takes a deep breath.

"And if it's before this," he gestures between the two of us and again I wasn't expecting that question but I'll be honest.

"I'll see from your perspective and try to understand everything" I place a kiss on his lips.

ADVERTISEMENT

"Why are you asking anyway?" I pull back narrowing my eyes on him.

"I just want to know the alternative of our relationship if it comes to that situation," he says pulling me closer on top of him.

He kisses me on the lips again and I began to move my hips "because Ada**ah I love you so much that I don't want to lose you" I smile kissing him back.

Things were becoming heated I pull away whispering to him "where to? your room or mine?" I ask and he shut me up with a kiss then suddenly I felt myself being lifted from his lap.

I wrap my legs tighter around him as he stood up and carry me back to my room.

He put me on the bed as he trails kisses from my neck up to my lips. Then he kisses me on the forehead.

We both smile at each other then I felt his hands detaching my legs from my waist.

He kisses me again on the lips "have a good sleep babe" I groan pushing him away and turning my back to him.

I heard him laugh at me "goodnight babe" he gave me one last goodnight kiss before going out shutting the door behind him.

I could sense something or rather someone is in my room. I sniff the air again and could sense the fade scents of two wolves in my room.

I bolt right up pulling off the duvet and about to get out but a silver knife is held close to my throat. I hear my closet door open and a figure emerges from it. I couldn't see his face as it was a little bit dark in the room.

He slowly walked towards my bed and once he reaches the foot he stops and smiles at the person next to me

“Well, nice to see you filthy b****, and please meet my right-hand man” he motioned to the one holding a knife to my throat. I turn my head aside to find his accomplice smiling at me wickedly.

My eyes widen in surprise and he gave me a wink before reaching for me while his knife is still at my throat.

: In Hazy

“Get up and don’t think of linking him or your father,” he gestures for me and slowly I got out of bed with his stupid knife never leaving my throat.

I was afraid to move as one wrong move and the silver knife will slit my poor neck.

The b***** thinks he could betray Matteo and the pack. I don’t even know when he manages to get here so fast. One explanation could be that he followed us when we left the club.

He cuffs my hands together making me wince a little due to the effects of the silver burning my skin. Then he tied a cloth around my mouth to keep it shut from screaming for help. They were making sure that nobody knows they are abducting me.

Kevin snickers at me “oh Ada**ah you think we were done huh. I told you that you will regret it”

The man who used to stand at the edge of my bed moves closer to me and that’s when I see his face due to the rays of the full moon.

He is none other than Matteo’s father, whose name is Roman I think. He nods at Kevin who then pushes me towards the window.

He opens it stealthily and made us climb over ‘b*****’ Alera growl through our link as we found ourselves being pushed out of the window and landed in the arms of another kidnapper.

I wanted to scream and kick their a**es but of course, my mouth is being tied with my hands. So basically I can’t do anything here except to just go with their orders.

I look around at my kidnapers and there were four of them including Kevin and Matteo's dad who are now climbing down from the window.

Kevin smirks at me wickedly then he pulls my arm and drags me towards the woods.

The more I try to pull away the more he aggressively drags me to walk beside him. I try to look around for any soul in this pack but none was around.

ADVERTISEMENT

The guards who were on duty were no near to be seen which made it seems so strange to me. All I could think of was there are traitors within this pack and Kevin is one of them.

"Girl we need to save our a**," Alera snarl at me "and you think I don't know that" I retort through our link and try to think of possible ways to escape.

We were getting deeper in the woods taking a secret path that I never knew of but my mind was still busy finding some ideas or any means of survival.

In the end, I did the most cliché move in movies hoping that it would work. I pretended to abide by their every order and just defeatedly follow them without much fight.

Right when we near the borders I abruptly pull away from my hand and hit Kevin in the stomach with my elbow so hard. He fell on the ground groaning and the other two were too slow to catch me.

I try to run back but a hand got a grip on my hair forcing me back and I yelp in pain.

"You little b**** you think that little stunt of yours would work" he swirl my hair around his hand and pull it hard.

It hurts so bad that I felt the tears on my cheeks even though I'm a werewolf but I could feel my hair being almost torn from my scalps.

"f***ing...Take... Your... Hands off of her hair," a stern hoarse deep voice made Roman turn us around and loosen his grip on my hair.

Matteo is standing there leaning towards a tree with his arms across his chest.

"You f***ing made her cry," he said to my kidnapers while his eyes were fixed on me.

Roman let out a growl to his accomplices and Kevin just remains on the ground while the other two told him that they did not tell any soul.

ADVERTISEMENT

Roman look back to Kevin who widens his eyes and shook his head no but unfortunately Roman didn't believe him as he was quick to get to him and without words rip out his heart.

I froze with my eyes widened at the sight in front of me. Kevin's lifeless body is on the ground with his dead eyes on mine.

I started to feel suffocated and my breath began to quicken along with my heart rate.

I heard Matteo let out a light laugh "you think I'm not stupid to notice anything suspicious in her room" then he move away from the tree he was leaning on. I hear bones breaking and he growls around at the three remaining kidnappers.

"She's mine and when I said she's mine I don't sleep in protecting her. Nobody can take her away from me nor touch a single strand of her hair which you just did."

He lunges for his father without any further exchange but the other two were quick to shield Roman and take on Matteo.

My eyes were focused on Kevin's cold eyes again and I couldn't even dare to see who is going to win or even lend a helping hand to my mate.

Alera keeps growling at me to knock out of it but I just couldn't control my numb cold sweated body. My heart and breath too were so hard to calm down as I am in frenzy and panic mode.

More howls and footsteps were heard but it didn't even trigger me to be normal and come back to reality. I felt the cloth being untied from my mouth and then followed by the cuffs.

"Babe look at me" Matteo tilt my chin towards him pulling my gaze away from Kevin's eyes but too late Kevin's lifeless eyes trigger some blurred memories in my head.

I just couldn't focus on Matteo and his pleading as a flashback of someone's blood was on my hands as I try to rip off its heart then other blurred images of wolves growling and running into their forms flash before me.

Images started to fill my head, making me shake in fear and have a major migraine.

ADVERTISEMENT

Matteo is screaming at me trying to pull me out of my panic attack.

"Ada**ah baby please" he begs with my face cradled in his hands but all I could feel was pain and my vision now gets blurred.

"f***! Babe, please don't do this please Ada**ah" he rocks me back and forth as I just stare at his face in the blank.

Something wet drop into my eyes and I know it was his tears because once it made contact with my pupils I began to slowly pull out of my panic zone then I close my eyes.

My body finally relaxed in his hold and my breath; along with my heartbeat was back to normal and all the blurry images were shut out of my mind.

I reopen my eyes and came to face with his green eyes. Suddenly a clear image of his eyes mirroring mine flashes in my mind.

Everything else that was driving me into panic was long forgotten and his eyes along with his warm aura and touch were now my serenity.

I don't recall or see the settings around us in the image I saw but all I know were my feelings at that moment for him.

In those green eyes, I felt myself being crazy in love with him and he was loving me back in the same way.

Therefore, in our current position and without another restraint I close our distance and hug him close to me.

I pray to the moon goddess that what I saw of him and me in my mind will be forever like that and I hope it wasn't a hallucination.

Matteo's Pov

After she pa**es out on me I carry her back to the house. Her father came running out of the Packhouse and once he saw her limp in my arms. He growls at me but Thunder and I were also in a possessive mode.

"What happened?"

"My father" I replied and could see his eyes turning from hazel to dark red as if he's fighting control with his beast.

I quickly link Jay to come and get Ada**ah. I hand her carefully over to him then I turn to Lyndon taking him by the arm and with our werewolf's speed we made it to an empty cell.

"Close it fast" I shut the cell door immediately and waited outside as I listen to his howls and strong banging on the walls.

He went on for hours until I don't hear it anymore. I know I have to fix this tomorrow as by the look of it one more blow and the walls will tumble down.

I open up the door and find Lyndon in sweat on the floor panting heavily like he has been running a marathon. I help him up and took him back to the Packhouse.

Afterward, I went on to check on the sleeping Ada**ah before I head down to my office. I keep on tapping my finger on the desk trying to control myself from going all wolf in my office.

I hated that they have hurt her and it was my fault. I should have stepped in the room and put an end to their scheme but I was so foolish to lead them on. In the end, they hurt and has caused her a panic attack.

The door to the office opens and Jay walks in along with my other two trackers and two warriors.

I know Jay is responsible for our trackers and that is why he came but the warriors Lyndon would have taken their place if he was on duty he wasn't because he was looking after Wesley for tonight.

"Alpha" one of the warriors says with their head in a bow. I could sense that they fear me and what they are about to say will determine their lives.

My pack knows that I'm not my father but I can be heartless when I want to especially when they don't do their duties right. "Sure, I am listening," I said and waited for anyone to answer.

One of them looked up and there I could see that he is not only in fear but is also in a cold sweat while fiddling with his hands.

"We have lost track of Roman when we went after him," the warrior says "and I couldn't track him down even his locations and whereabouts" one of the trackers finishes and they quickly lower their head again.

"We'll take any punishment Alpha," they all said in unison.

Closing my eyes, I held my fist tighter "you may dismiss" I said through my gritted teeth. They weren't told twice and somehow I wasn't mad at them but myself.

I glance up to find Jay still there I have him a nod and tell him to not punish anyone.

Once the door closes I smash my fist on the table before flipping it over and destroying everything that I could reach in this office. I let out all my hate towards my father for hurting my mate and ruining my life until I grew tired and felt my emotions overtake me.

I slid down there crying over everything. The faults I made, the choice I choose, the actions I take, and the f*** up life I have. When I am calm I went straight to Ada**ah's room taking her in my arms and lay there on the bed with her.

I know it's wrong to do this without her permission but I just need closure with her after what happened tonight.

Shutting my eyes I wish I was time. So that I could take everything back and starts my life over with my mate. I wanted to go back on the day I met her in the mall on the escalator.

Those sapphire eyes that held my gaze with glare and tardily turn away from me we're the same ones I wish to be mine forever.

I wanted to believe that she'll stay if her memories are back but some part of me knows better than that.

So therefore I hope when tomorrow comes and her memories aren't back then this man will give her all the love she deserves. The love which she should be receiving from the beginning, but I was too naive, too blind, and stupid to do so.

I then apologize to Thunder for not being the perfect human and to my sleeping woman for not being the perfect man for her. Thereafter I went into a deep slumber.

I woke up in startle and look around to find Ada**ah missing. I frantically got up to look for her yet when I look out of the window and find my pack members on the field I became confused.

'I wonder what's going on I ask myself

'Dude, don't tell me you forgot your plan and strategy' Thunder covers his face with his paws.

I try to think 'plan, strategy' and that's when it hit me today's training and I should be the one leading it. I cursed rushing to my room to take a shower and change into shorts and a tank top before rushing downstairs.

"Alpha your breakfast," one of our cooks calls but I just keep on running to the field and link her that I'll go without breakfast today.

I pa** over the youngsters and saw my mate in her long line bra which exposes a little of her skin and high waist black leggings.

My eyes were on her but my legs are moving in another direction.

"f*** she's hot," I gush at Thunder who rolls his eyes at me. She looks up and I curse to myself when I almost trip. I saw her laugh and I turn back and quicken my way over the training.

"You're late Alpha" Lyndon quirks his brow at me and I turn to find Jay chuckling.

"Do you want your team?"

"No we'll train altogether just for today" he nods his head and we continue with our training.

We were resting after five long hours and all our attention was on the youngsters who are still doing their training. I saw the young boys giggling around her. Three of them around the age of fourteen weren't even listening. One is pointing at her and then they murmured to each other ears.

It's funny when I felt a little bit jealous of the young boys staring at her that I want to go there and give them a hiding. I sigh with dislike and look around to find most of the boys in our training drooling over her. They were shamelessly checking her out.

I was jealous and mad right now that I couldn't even hold back any longer and turn to the boys.

"If your eyes are stalking my woman then I suggest you look elsewhere" I raise my voice and then I hear coughs and whistles from around.

"Our Alpha is getting-" someone started and I intercepted "shut it and don't even think of saying anything else."

I stood up and came to face with Evan who smirks at me raising his hand in front of his chest. Ada**ah's dad shifted uncomfortably beside Jay and I turn to walk towards Ada**ah.

They all acknowledge me and I snake my hands around her waist then kiss her on the cheek. "You may dismiss now" I order and when she is to protest the kids have s***tered to go home.

She pushes me on the chest lightly "now that was not nice Alpha" I pull her close to me. "What's not nice when I am here to ask my mate out on a date" she giggles in my arms.

"What makes you think I want to go on this date with you?" she crossed her arms and I pull her closer then beg her to go on a date with me today.

Finally, after her teasing me by saying no she finally nodded her head yes and conceal it with a kiss.

We were about to go get ready when I felt a tiny hand pulling at my shorts. Ada**ah and I look down to find a four-year-old kid. He's cute with his chubby cheeks and brunette hair.

"Is she your woman?" he asks

"Well, indeed she is" my hand is around her waist and I smiled at her.

The pup frowns after I say that and then he started to cry. I crouch down to calm him when his mother came over.

"Sorry Alpha" she reaches for him while apologizing but I told her it was okay.

Unexpectedly the little pup just pushes her hands away and huff at me crossing his arms. His tears were now long gone and are replaced with a glare.

He didn't look scary but rather so cute.

"Alfa she going to be my woman in da few char" his mother's eyes widen and apologizes again instantly.

Ada**ah lightly laughs at me and I frown at the pup. "It looks like you got yourself a compet**ion Alpha" she winks at me and runs towards the house laughing.

I groan hating that a kid is competing with me "listen here, kid." Jay who now stood beside me just pushes me over to go to the packhouse while laughing at the young pup.

Damn he must have heard it too

Sometimes afterward I waited for her down the corridor nervously as Ada**ah is preparing for our date.

"Are you trying to trigger her memories or taking advantage of my daughter?" I turn to Lyndon who watches me from the kitchen with Wes in his arms.

"No I'm not; I just want us to be two normal mates going on a date, without any fear of our past or future. I love her Lyndon I hope you understand that."

He pats me on the shoulder "I know and you may have made some mistakes but I won't judge you for that"

We heard clicks of heels and I turn up to find her standing on the staircase smiling down at us gracing us with her beauty.

"Wow, she is my forever"
