

Lie To Me Alpha by Veronica Vito

Chapter 81

/ Lie To Me Alpha by VeronicaVito3

: Date to Remember

"Matt," I nervously stood there while he keeps on staring right into my eyes and he looks as if he wants to cry.

"Matt," I try again nervously as his silence is making me feel bad and wonder if something has happened. He took me with surprise when he kisses me which I did respond to it.

We heard someone clear his throat breaking up our kiss. I turn to find my dad with an awkward look on his face.

"Sorry dad," I said with embarra**ment

"Make sure to bring my daughter home safely Alpha" he warns him.

"No need to worry sir" he tug on my hand and saluted my dad before pulling me out of the Packhouse.

"So where are you taking me?" He smirks tapping his fingers on the wheel "secret" he said.

"Oh come on, I don't like surprises," I told him and he replied again "I know." He smiles "just be patient love" he winks at me.

We travel for almost an hour before he stops the car on the side of the road then hops out of the car. I watch him go to the back opening up the boot then come back and open up my door.

"What are you doing?" I ask with confusion and he bends down without saying anything "legs please my lady" I un-buckle my seat belt and put my legs out without another word.

He removes my heels and put on sneakers that perfectly fit on me. Then he stood up from the ground holding a cloth in his hand. I narrow my eyes at him "are you trying to kidnap me" he laughs shaking his head no and gesturing for me to turn around.

"Not until you tell me Alpha" I folded my arms stubbornly and he forces me to face in the front. "Don't ruin it, now close your eyes baby" he whispers to my ear sending chills to my body and I gulp nervously biting my lip as I complied with his demand.

He tied the cloth around my eyes making me not able to see anything at all. I hear the car engine starts before it moves again.

We stop again and I hear him open and shut his door until mine was open and he unbuckles my seat belt. He gently carried me in his arms bridal style.

My hands went around his neck "are you sure you're guiding me to the right place" I hear him chuckle "I might going to dump you in the water."

I jump up in alarm holding on tight to his neck "you wouldn't dare" I warn him and he just laughs out. He stops and I refuse to let go "come on baby we're here now" but I refuse and still hold onto his neck.

"Trust me," he whispers "promise you're not dumping me in a water"

"I promise," he said.

Slowly I release my hand and he gently put me down on the ground. I felt him move behind me with his warm breath on my neck and his arms around me.

"You said on our second date that one of your dreams is to be with me here in this place...just you and I. However, we couldn't have it back then because our relationship was private," he kisses on my neck making me shiver in delight.

"Now I want you to relieved that dream back then with me this very moment"

The blindfold is then gently and slowly pulled away from my eyes. Not wanting to rush in his surprise I take my time opening my eyes.

I stood there stunned not knowing what to say as I was filled with emotions right now. This is one of the places I used to come when I was young but that was when I was only eight.

Yes, I may have made a promise at that age that I will come back here someday once I find that one person for me. It's childish to others and maybe too normal for other people but to me, I always make things meaningful in places like this.

I broke into a smile before running towards the merry-go-around, like a kid. I spin myself around the horses before I run back to him and drag him over.

He put me on one of the horses before he got behind me. We acted like young teenagers on their first date with him stealing kisses and taking photos of us while I giggle in his arms and slightly push him away playfully.

After we ride in the merry go round we then move on to other games and then I realize we're the only ones and the employees around this place.

“Did you just actually hire the whole place?” I ask him and he nods his head yes “what? it’s anything for my woman” I roll my eyes and drag him to another game.

So we visited most of the places I wanted to go and as for the final place, I ask Matt if I want to revisit the place in the photo on his phone. We went there and pump into Alpha Hernandez and his Mate with their pup in a stroller.

He talked with Matteo while his Mate Daniella and I talk. She’s an amazing woman and I could see why Dante fell for her because not only she has the looks but her personality was amazing. Her words were humble and she’s a very respectful woman. Their pup is so adorable too.

We bid our goodbye and left while I and Matt stay longer until it’s dark and he told me we have a final place to be. So I put back on my heels and we head for the cruise he hires just for the two of us.

I know this mate of mine has made everything so magical for me today. It’s like I am living a fantasy world where just one flick of his finger and everything appears as I wish for them to be.

He took me on the deck and once again I was more than surprised. Like I said it’s like something out of that fairytale where everything was beautifully decorated and magically created.

He shows me to us already made dining table with food already served on it and the waiters welcomed us with smiles. Matteo took out my chair and I sat down with a smile never leaving my face.

“Please Alpha let us know if you need anything,” one of the waiters said before Matteo dismissed them politely.

I turn and mouth him a heartfelt thank you in which he told me that it’s all for me, his Mate. I wasn’t really hungry since the whole date we always stop for food but looking down at the food before me my stomach rumble and I couldn’t resist eating again.

Matteo apologizes to me for not being a perfect Mate but then he never elaborates more on it.

After some time when the waiters clear our table and I sat there looking over the sea. Matteo disappeared from my side and only appear again once the band plays a song which words starts like this;

‘Can this be true,

tell me can this be real

How can I put into words what I feel...

He smiles at me extending his hand and I took it happily. He takes a lead with me standing on his toe as he waltzes us around. He stopped before turning me around and whispering to me to look up at the sky.

The fireworks explode into the sky making me more surprised and mesmerized by the words written in the sky.

“Will you be my girlfriend and luna?”

I bit my lip with tears already in my eyes. I gaze back and find him on his knees with a single black tulip in his hand.

“I thought you already asked?” I took it from his hand and stood him up.

His hand brushes away a strand of hair from my face “I know but that was the inappropriate way. Besides I don’t know if you remember but you told me on our third date that you love tulips especially the black one,” he smiles pressing his forehead on mine.

“You love that book the black tulip by Alexandre Dumas. You always fascinated me with your faves and likes of the works by humans,” he trails his finger on my jawline.

“So, would you take this stupid a** Alpha as your boyfriend and mate?” he asks again and I could hear the nervousness in his voice.

I pull him down to me “yes I would love that” he was to kiss me but I stopped him. Our faces were just inches away from each other

“I don’t want to hear you calling yourself stupid a** Mate” my nose brushing against his.

“You are perfect to me” I slowly lean into him.

“The words of the song are a bit wrong you know” he kisses the side of my mouth making me groan.

He whispers to my ear before he looks me in the eyes “God didn’t spend a little more time on you” I lean to his touch as I listen to his soothing words.

“He spent all of his time on you” I smile at his words melting my heart

“Because baby you’re a masterpiece of his creation and I love every inch of you and your soul” without further restrain we both lean in with our lips finding one another.

Once it did my body burns under his touch with so much desire that I forgot we have an audience around us and I completely lose myself in it.

This kiss was different from all the time we make out, or me being stupidly sold myself out.

My hands burying in his hair with his hands around me were pressing our bodies tightly together.

Today day and this very moment is a date to remember for me.

Lie To Me Alpha by Veronica Vito

Chapter 82

/ Lie To Me Alpha by VeronicaVito3
: Written in the Stars

I slump against my door with my cheeks burning red and my heart beating uncontrollably.

I don't know how to explain it or how should I put into words what I am feeling right now.

Everything was magical and memorable for us both.

I walk towards my bed and without changing, I threw myself on it and scream in my pillow. Then I sat up and slap myself on both cheeks lightly.

"Oh my" I screech in a low voice and slump back on the bed kicking my legs in the air and my hands slapping on the bed like a child.

I know my reaction is crazy but I just couldn't fathom my feelings right now. Everything was just f***ing perfect and his words were like music to my ears and a melody to my heart.

Not wanting to move or wash off his scents I reach for my pillow and hug it tightly with a big grin on my face.

"Sorry, shower but tomorrow is another day" I mumble, and Alera screech in disgust but who cares.

It's just me in this room and no one will know whether I have taken a shower or not. Sometimes afterward I close my eyes and dream of only sweet and w*****s with him tonight.

Blame Alera for forcing all those imaginations in my head along with intimate thoughts of us and him together.

On the following day, I woke up and help the women in the kitchen to make breakfast before waking up Wes and cleaning him up. Then I took him over to the daycare as I have the training to do.

Gia whom I haven't seen since our get-together eagerly waves in my way once she saw me coming over onto the field.

"Hello Addy" she screams and hugs me when I made it to where she stands.

"Gosh it feels like ages" she smiles widely. "Oh well, you're glowing" I tease which is true Gia looks different. She blushed "Ed has agreed for us to have pups and" she fiddles her fingers.

"I'm pregnant," she says in a whisper but I could hear her. I am happy for her so I congratulate her with a big bear hug.

Ed frowns when he saw her on the training field and yep my friend was forced to go home to rest.

Ed is being cautious with their pup the guy was head over heels and not only that he seems happy to welcome their pup in this world.

Matteo surprised me with a peck on the cheek and then to my exposed shoulder. Shyly I pushed him away playfully and walk towards my team ignoring the stares from some of our pack members.

"Okay team, grab a partner" I glance at Matt whose eyes are on mine, and winks at him cheekily.

The following days our pack members were starting to pay more attention to the two of us because our actions were hard to hide.

Our pecks on the cheek and him throwing glances in my way were enough for everyone to see and raise interest in our relationship.

It's kind of scared me cause I don't know if they will approve of me as his Mate or not.

Do they need a luna who has no memory of her past? That was one of the questions I ask myself constantly.

After training Matteo took me on a picnic date, this time we took Wes with us. I was not a fan of wearing a bikini or sunbathing so that's why we go for a picnic in the park instead of the beach.

Our routine of dating and working carries on like that for another past two months; where we train our pack so hard and finish off any of our work then he takes me on a date.

I love every minute and second that I get to spend with him. It doesn't mean I'm spending more time with Matt than I am in negligence of my responsibilities over my brother and dad.

No, I always make sure that they are been looking after or taken care of before I disappear with my man.

In those past two months, there were also some minor attacks on our packs but our warriors were all well trained now.

Today concludes our official training for the whole pack and tomorrow we're going back to normal schedules and training.

So I will be free again and I'm glad to focus solely on taking care of Wes again.

Matteo in celebrating our two months and three weeks anniversary since I officially become his girlfriend has decided to take me on another date tonight.

If it's finished earlier then I'll be going over to grandma's house. Damn it's been ages since I have seen or even visited her.

When our day is done and the night comes, Matteo took me to dinner on a skyscr***r building that I never knew existed in our pack.

The building was near to the neutral territory that used to be owned by the council which is now owned by Alpha Hernandez.

After our cla**y dinner there he then took me to watch the stars on the spot he says we use to meet once. I remember it as a place I discover during my history research when I was in school.

A place that is unknown to the pack members but then that's all I remember of it, not me taking Matteo here.

The place looks different as everything is now clean and the gra** has been mowed. The last time I saw it I was the same height as the gra** but I'm glad it's all been cut down and it has been cleaned.

Matteo then leads me further in the woods with a telescope hanging from his broad shoulder. I never knew he would be interested in things like that.

We came to a clearing that overlooks a river from afar and some mountains. The place was too high making the view more perfect and very beautiful.

Matt spread the blanket on the gra** before setting up the telescope near it.

“Mi Amore, you have to see this” his hands gesture for me to come over while he fixes his eyes on the telescope looking up at the stars.

“What is it?” I ask with glee and he motions me to get nearer. He made me stand in front of him then I bend down to look through the lens.

One word on my mind is wow because I have never seen the stars and the sky up-close.

Matteo then began to point out the stars and their names “you see those lines of stars in a person bowing to the moon and the other stars beside it” I shook my head once I saw it.

He explained to me that it’s written in our ancient history that the star near the moon is the Alpha v nu and the rest beside him is his xi beta.

The one besides is o omicron which is the gamma, δ delta π pi, ζ zeta σ sigma, η eta τ tau, θ theta υ upsilon, ι iota φ phi, κ kappa χ chi, λ lambda ψ psi, and lastly μ mu ω, the omega.’

He then told me a little bit of historical background on the story of the moon and the stars.

It is said the moon is Selene herself in another language it means luna. She is also the moon goddess who fell in love with the first original Alpha.

History says that it is a forbidden thing to do but Selene herself could not resist the bond between her and the Alpha. So they carried on their love affair without knowing that the gods have a scheme behind her back.

Indeed when the opportunity comes a ma**acre occurs and the pack was to be rid of by the gods. The gods were victorious as their power could not match up with our werewolf abilities.

There was only one thing the Alpha and his pack wishes for and that is to stand by their luna forever none other than the moon goddess herself.

Selene discovering the betrayal of the gods seeks revenge and executed them all. She also made the last dying wish of her Alpha come true.

“They say our fate is written in those stars and yours is in the moon and that fate is the nu/alpha can never shine for long without its luna and its luna can never be without its Alpha.”

He turns to me taking my hand and putting it on his heart, “therefore, it is my duty to protect, to love, and to standby my luna forever.”

He kisses my fingers before pulling me on top of him “we were both created and meant for one another and our fate of being Mate is already written in those stars my luna.”

Our lips met together and I push myself closer on top of him. He rolls me down taking control of our actions and climbs on top of me pampering me with sweet innocent kisses.

I smile when we stop to catch our breath “I love you Ada**ah, please always remember that” he confesses

“And I to you.”

Lie To Me Alpha by Veronica Vito

Chapter 83

/ Lie To Me Alpha by VeronicaVito3
: Blows the Gaff

I clutch my hand to my chest thinking of those stars and our date tonight which again was perfect.

After our date, Matteo dropped me off at my grandma’s because I wanted to see her and he left for the pack urgently. I wanted to stay there at grandma’s house but I know I have to return home for Wesley so here I am back in my room at our Pack.

I am still thinking of our date and kisses, as it keeps replaying in my head. I smile making my way to the closet taking out my nightgown and putting it on the bed before heading for the shower.

I stop then bit my bottom lip and turn towards the mirror taking a look at myself. My cheeks turn red again and I slap myself moving towards the mirror up closer.

“No” I lick my lips remembering his sweetness and mumble “yes” I couldn’t stop smiling and giggling to myself.

I don’t know how others felt like on their date “but Oh my moon goddess” I scream at my other self in the mirror.

Alera’s jaw fell open and she spat at me “f*** you’re one crazy human. I swear the moon goddess was half asleep when she chose me as your wolf”

I shrugged it off and tease her through our links then I walk towards the showering humming to myself.

I was to take off my dress when I hear a piercing cry. “Wesley” I drop the towel and adjust my dress back down before running towards my dad’s room.

I bust into his door without knocking and saw my dad sitting at the edge of his bed breathing hard. My eyes widen at the state he's in and worries now coursing through me.

There is blood glistening from his body due to the full moon tonight. His hand grips the edge of the bed while he groans in pain.

Wesley is wailing and crying out loud "Da-" he cut me off "Wes" he pointed to his crib and I nod my head moving towards Wesley's crib.

I pick up my baby brother and rock him in my arms trying to hush him back to sleep. I am so worried right now and I don't even know what happened to my dad tonight.

"Dad" I cry out to him and he winces in pain. He growls at me and I could see his eyes were changing from dark red to his normal ones.

The room was slammed open and Matteo looks at me in panic.

"Take him to the cell," he told his warriors who came up quickly towards my dad. I move quickly in front of my dad growling at the warriors and Matteo

"Don't f***ing move or even touch him," I warn them.

I felt my dad's hand on my shoulder "Ada**ah, move" he told me and I refused. He raised his voice "Ada**ah" and I step aside while they take my dad who didn't put up a fight.

I am confused as hell about what's happening "what are you doing?" I ask Matteo who whisper something to his warriors and they left immediately after nodding at him.

"Amore we'll talk later," he says and dashes out of the room.

I hated that I couldn't put Wesley back to sleep soon. I try not to be harsh with my baby brother as he has no idea what's going on. So I patiently rock him gently back to sleep and gave him a goodnight kiss before going to look for my dad.

I found four warriors in the living room along with other members of the Pack who are in their sleeping attire. It is so weird to find everyone staring at me and it makes me feel awkward.

I motion to one of the warriors I saw earlier and he came up to me "can you please show me to my dad?" he smiles "yes luna."

I wanted to correct him on that but decided not to because in a sense I'm their Alpha's mate.

He shows me to the cell they kept him in which is quite secretive and hidden in the house. "Dad" I step inside to find Dr. Omalley and a nurse tending to his wounds.

My father looked at me with a pale look "what are you doing here?" I walk up to him holding his hand into mine with a tear slips out of my eyes.

"Dad, what happened? And why are you in here?" he closes his eyes "Adda not now?" he groans in pain. Dr. Omalley put his hand on my shoulder and I moved away sobbing.

My hands clench into fists and I angrily wipe my tears off and storm out of there. I heard my dad's faint voice to me not to do anything stupid but still, I brush it aside and moved my legs towards a destination in my head.

When I reach his office I open it and found out he wasn't there. I turn and focus on his scents then followed to it until I made it outside to the meeting room.

Without much thought or patience, I kick the door open like a bad chick and storm my way inside.

"So much for being a great couple" Alera rolled her eyes in my head.

Matteo stood up when he saw me and again without him explaining anything I slap him hard on the right cheek.

The slap echoes inside the room and I held my head high feeling much better. He slowly turns his head to me with a confused look on his face.

Okay, maybe I am wrong for slapping him I mean I could have waited for him to explain. "You" I was going to lash out at him but my nostrils caught different scents and then I could feel a strong aura filling the room.

I turn my gaze and came to face with hazel eyes of Cora's brother who sat there in shock. Then I drag my gaze around the room and find other people staring in stunned at what I did.

I smile with my hand reaching out for Matteo. I accidentally touch something that I shouldn't.

Women's eyes in the room almost bulge out and the males were coughing averting their gaze elsewhere. I gulp and slightly felt embarra**ed with my actions.

Turning to him I removed my hand from his thing slowly and crash myself into his chest burying my head there.

Yep if you guess that my hand was on his d*** then you are right. It may not be touching it directly for real since he has pants on but honestly, it's still f***ing embarra**ing to find my hand down there. He kisses me on the head and made me sit beside him.

Clearing his throat, he started the meeting and I just lower my head wishing the ground could swallow me now.

"She shouldn't be here; her father is a hybrid. Who knows that she might be like her father's filthy creature," a voice accusingly said.

Yet I just don't look up because I didn't want to jump in conclusion and embarra** myself again. So I remain seated as I don't know if his words meant me or someone else.

"She's my mate and my luna to be" Matteo's hoarse voice filled the room breaking it into silence.

"You do not speak to her like that" the chair kicked away and he moves to stand up and was ready to attack the accuser.

I hurriedly held his hand into mine intertwining our fingers together. Raising my head I frown at the man half standing at the edge of the table.

I frown at him "who are you calling filthy creatures when you are one yourself" the man growl slamming his fist on the table.

Matteo's was hard to be controlled. I did not care anymore if my body is pressed against his as I did not want him to be intrigued by this dingy man.

Jay rushes up and helped me hold him back.

"You cannot let a hybrid walk freely in our lands, they are murderous being and dangerous to our kind."

I tighten my jaw "then let me ask you this; did my father ever murder your member or try to take over your packs?" none of them speak including the dingy one.

"What did my father ever do to you? Because of the last thing I remember he never sow other lands but do right by this pack and our people."

Silence filled the room and I felt Matteo squeezing my waist lightly.

"I'll cast my vote" Alpha stood up from his chair with a woman holding on to his hand, she must be his Luna.

"Lyndon hasn't crossed my border or harmed any of my packs therefore I vote for his freedom," he said with the stern.

"Thank you, Alpha Gibson," Matteo said with calm. Dante stood up and support Alpha Gibson, even others except for this dingy, stupid man.

He glares at us before he smirks at me in sinister "luna. Pshh the last time I remembered she wasn't the one that was--"

"you stick your nose where it should be elder McCoy," Alpha Gibson's luna shut him up. "That business is not ours. We are only here to discuss the status of what we were urgently called here for."

The man lowers his head in respect muttering "sorry luna Elle."

"Ahhh right I just remembered you call us here in the first place. I don't know what your motives are but I hope you're not with James or Roman" she said and her mate stood by her scowling at McCoy.

Matteo growled at McCoy wanting to kill him instantly but I held him back.

"I warn you now if you're with the enemy then I and my pack won't just sit by," Matteo threatens him.

After when he is calm and everyone has made a decision. Matteo announces the final verdict that their father is free and despite him being a hybrid he is not a harm to any packs.

He also reassured them that, his Luna is not a hybrid but a full-blood werewolf.

When the meeting is done and everyone is gone Matteo leads me to his room.

"Come on, I'll clear your confusion and maybe you'll get it baby girl" he winks at me and I slap his arm as he leads me away.

I stop "what?" he frowns "well we have to get Wesley here," I told him and we head there.

Lie To Me Alpha by Veronica Vito

Chapter 84

/ Lie To Me Alpha by VeronicaVito3
: Cold Feet

Matteo's pov

I look at myself in the mirror over a million times "I don't deserve her" I mutter adjusting my tie.

I'm pretty nervous for tonight, it may not be our mating ceremony but I'm scared too. What if everything goes wrong?

"You're damn right about that a** hole" I turn to find Jay smirking at me

"You don't match up with her, Shrek."

He teases me and I narrow my eyes as he walks inside the room closing the door behind him.

"Who the f*** is that?" I spat and he retorts "the ogre in a cartoon for kids" I frown still not knowing it.

"Dude, it's a movie by the humans" shaking my head because of his childish joke Jay snorted and stops before me. "Chill out Matt, everything is set now," he says then pats me on the shoulder.

"Don't worry about tonight and just introduce your woman, you lucky b*****. I swear if you're thinking of bailing on this then it's your loss bro" he joke and I glare at him in return.

I sigh heavily "what's wrong?" he asks with concern to me. "I'm scared," I told him honestly "I know I should be happy but why do I feel sad and scared on this day?" I started to pace around.

Jay held me in place by holding my shoulders together "everything is going to be fine trust me Matt" he said with determination.

"You think?" I ask unsure and he nods his head to confirm. I sigh straightening my shirt before walking out of the room and down the stairs.

My pack members greeted me down the foyer then we move inside the dining hall. Everyone has made their presence tonight making me more nervous about introducing her tonight.

"Hello, Alpha," one of an elder in our pack came up to me. "I hope you don't mind me asking; what's the occasion tonight?" I smile gawking my head to look at the door and see if Ada**ah has arrived.

"Well, Mr. Orlando, I believe that would ruin the surprise tonight," I smile at him.

"Matt" her voice sends shivers to my whole body and abruptly I turn around and the sight of her blew me away. I didn't care about anyone else but I just went up to her and kiss her on the lips. I am not claiming anything just me being a boy in love.

Mr. Orlando smiled at us and he strutted towards us knowingly "well, this is amazing. It's nice to have you tonight luna" he extended his hand and Ada**ah took it politely.

"Finally you got some balls now Alpha" he joke making Ada**ah laugh in return.

I squeeze her waist lightly and she looks at me biting her lip. 'Okay please don't tempt us' Thunder groan through our links.

After some time when everyone is seated, I stood up from the head of the table to make a toast and to announce her as my official luna.

"I made some mistakes in the past which you all know and are aware of. There was the only one that was never a mistake and the moon goddess happens to make her my other half. I know I told you on the night after the attack but I would love to reintroduce her again," I gesture for Ada**ah to come and standby me.

"She's the one that stole my heart and is chosen to be our luna as it is her rightful place. I hope you will all show her the same love and protection I am giving to her. Please, everyone, meet and welcome your luna and my mate Ada**ah Natasha Rumanoff" everyone applause in enthusiasm.

They all stood up as Ada**ah takes my arms with a drink in her other hand. She kisses me on the cheek before facing our pack.

"I wouldn't say I am a perfect luna but I will give my all to standby Matteo and our Pack. I will only strive for the betterment of our pack and protect you all as you have done to me. Indeed, I cannot do that if you don't give me a chance. So I hope you'll give me that chance. To the Moonstone Pack and our future"

Again everyone applauds with smiles on their faces. Everything went smooth as I expected Ada**ah, on the other hand, conversed with our pack members freely and everyone looks on with happiness on their face of meeting their new luna even though they have known her.

When the night is done Ada**ah took Wesley to bed and then she came over to my room. We just cuddle and talk about how she enjoys the night and how she didn't expect everyone to accept her wholeheartedly.

After she fell asleep in my arms I pull the duvet over her and made my way to the office. I knock on Lyndon's door lightly and he opened it within a second.

He was still on his long sleeve shirt and pants that he wore over dinner tonight. It seems like he hasn't been asleep yet and I wonder what's got him up.

"I need to talk to you," I said nervously and he nods his head in agreement. We made it to the office after 5 minutes and then I pull out a whisky and two gla**es.

Certainly, I need this for our talk tonight. I don't know how he'll take it but I am doing what is right. I offer him a gla** and he refuses then I take I gulp it one go. I need this before I tell him what I wanted to do.

After gulping down three shots I take a breath and blurted "I want to confess to her about everything, will that be alright with you sir?"

Lyndon rubs his face as he is thinking then his hand reaches out for the whisky in front of us. He pours it into his gla** and takes a shot then we sat there for another minute without speaking to one another.

"I have been waiting for you to say that. I know I was the one who told you not to at the beginning but I have to be sure of you too. We don't know what my daughter decides to do.

I have been watching her progress but I still don't know what she will do because she's her only person. So let me ask this again; are you ready?" he raises his brow at me and without a doubt, I respond with a yes.

"Good cause honestly I wanted you to be ready too before we tell her. You have to face the consequences but you can't face it if you're not ready." I nod my head in agreement and Lyndon stood up from the couch and came on to my side.

He embraces me muttering "I'm happy for you, son" I almost burst into tears when I hear him saying, son.

It means a lot to me to hear him say it and especially when it's genuine. Well as everyone knows my mother left me when I was young and my dad wasn't even a father at all to me lately. He's on a mission to destroy my mate, her family, and me.

Lyndon pat me on the back lightly before pulling away and gave me one last rea**uring nod with a smile before he left me in the office.

I sigh in relief with tears cascading from my eyes. I am so happy that I just couldn't wait for tomorrow to come and for me to be rid of all of my guilt.

Therefore, tonight there is nothing more for me to do than to kiss her freely in bed and her to mine in my dreams tonight. Whatever she chooses I'll respect it and hold on to my heart that belongs and beats for my Ada**ah only.

I turn off the lights in my office and was about to walk out when Evan burst in the door.

"Alpha" he struggled to breathe hard.

The reaction on his face washes away all the happiness from me and before he could say anything further the emergency alarm went on.

Lie To Me Alpha by Veronica Vito

Chapter 85

/ Lie To Me Alpha by VeronicaVito3
: Crisis

I woke up in alarm just in time the Pack emergency alarm went on and there is only one explanation and that the enemy has made another move to our borders.

Turning around to wake up Matteo in fact, he wasn't beside me. I quickly got out of bed and fish around for a shirt and leggings.

Unluckily, this is Matteo's room so I make a run for my room disarraying my nightgown at my closet door and putting on a shirt that goes with my leggings.

I then run towards my dad's room and only to be met with one of the warriors halfway.

"Luna, your father has gone ahead to where the Alpha is outside the main border. All warriors and everything has been prepared" he said urgently.

"I'll be there in a minute, make sure everyone is safe," I told him and he replied with a yes.

Instead of heading to the border straight away, I rush towards my brother first who is in my dad's room. I pick him up from the crib and went straight to the secret vault but I was careful enough not to wake him up.

When I arrived there all older people and young teens with their mothers and pups were all moving inside of it. One of the elderly women held out her hands and I hand Wes over to her with care.

I am grateful to my pack for being so kind to me even though I haven't been officially anointed as one. Yes, I may have been introduced but I haven't taken my vow yet as a seal for my commitment to our pack.

"Please take care of him" my kiss lingers on his forehead "I promise I'll come back," I murmur to him one last time before I pull away and help the others inside.

I ran out of the safe house and move to help with our other warriors in checking every house in the pack to see if we have left out anyone.

"Luna, everyone is safe and is in the safe house...You too should go in there" one of our warriors says with concern as he came out of the last house we searched.

"I'll be fi-" an explosion from our southern border interrupted us.

The warrior curse out and then the others who were s***tering around came rushing back to where I stood.

"Matt" I mutter and without further delay, I rush to the border but before that, I call back to a few warriors to stay behind and guard the house while the rest follow me.

We reach there in time to see Matteo whose knuckles are in blood with another one splayed downside his leg. I could scent that the blood wasn't his and only belong to the feral wolves.

He is explaining the next plan to our warriors with no sign of feral wolves beside them now.

A feeling of relief washes over me and I did not wait for another minute as I quicken my step towards him. At that same time, he looks up from his map, then slightly drops it down and rushes in my way.

I crash myself into his arms and held him tight before taking a step back and then pulling him down for a kiss. After our little moment, I take a deep breath asking him breathlessly

"Where's my dad?" I ask

He was to answer when one of our trackers informed us that my dad is following James and Roman. I felt something tighten in my chest and I knew that this is a bad thing.

My dad shouldn't have done that. Yet the good thing is the tracker said he has found their hideout and that is where they are going to head out to.

I know Matteo is going to make me stay but I couldn't do that, not when I need to be sure my dad is safe and alive.

It is reckless of him to take such a move but I know my dad was tired of those two a**holes becoming a threat to our lives. So I can pretty much understand him too but it doesn't mean he is going to do it alone.

Matteo held me back "you can't go, let me do this. I will bring him back safely," I glare at him shrugging his hands off from me.

"Don't stop me Matt; he's the only parent I have left. I'm still going there whether you like it or not, I can't lose him too. I need to be there for him."

I turn and ran towards the weapon center back at the Packhouse at full speed ignoring his calls after me. Taking out every silver knife and put on gloves so that I won't get a burn from any silver.

I just need it in case the enemy might use it against me. I exit the room and find Matteo leaning at the door all ready to go.

"f*** he is faster than me," I thought to myself and I try to ignore him by walking towards the door without a single word to him.

"You're not going alone, I'm coming with you, and it's final we're doing this together" with that he speeds up his walk and takes a lead, and again I don't talk which made Alera whine at me.

We reached the southern border and all our warriors look at us for further instructions.

"Clear everything and look out for them as I know they will attack again. Make sure you're on your best guard. Alpha Reed, Hernandez, and Gibson will be here soon," he said with much authority.

"Alpha, they are here," Jay announced and he nods his head before turning back to the warriors. This time his expression softens and instead of being authoritarian, he said his next words with encouragement and care.

"So please defend our home well as I and your luna are going after the main target. We trusted you so be on your best guard and don't think of dying before fighting. We have walls to protect us but just in case they made it inside make sure to protect yourself well. This is what we have been preparing for."

And just after Matteo gave out his words the siren went on again signaling for intruders.

We went near the borders and saw feral wolves coming out of trees like dead zombies. Nodding to Shalom, the warriors put up our defensive wall and start to attack the ferals again.

Matteo and I knew our pack is safe because this is what we have been training for and we are well prepared for this attack. Not forgetting the other three infamous Alphas we'll guide and help our people if the Intruders made it through our defense walls.

Indeed, we will try and draw as much attention of the ferals as we can and lure them to follow us as we are going after my dad, James and Roman.

I half shifted into Alera, not wanting to tear out my clothes, meaning my werewolf scent is in full control. Alpha Eric, Dante, and Aaron came into view and they all spoke with Matteo for a minute before wishing us two, Jay and our chosen warriors all the best of luck.

We follow our trackers run towards the hiding out hoping we would make it in time as it was a bit far from here.

At that moment all I could think of and hope for is my dad's safety.

Lie To Me Alpha by Veronica Vito

Chapter 86

/ Lie To Me Alpha by VeronicaVito3

: Crisis

I woke up in alarm just in time the Pack emergency alarm went on and there is only one explanation and that the enemy has made another move to our borders.

Turning around to wake up Matteo in fact, he wasn't beside me. I quickly got out of bed and fish around for a shirt and leggings.

Unluckily, this is Matteo's room so I make a run for my room disarraying my nightgown at my closet door and putting on a shirt that goes with my leggings.

I then run towards my dad's room and only to be met with one of the warriors halfway.

"Luna, your father has gone ahead to where the Alpha is outside the main border. All warriors and everything has been prepared" he said urgently.

"I'll be there in a minute, make sure everyone is safe," I told him and he replied with a yes.

Instead of heading to the border straight away, I rush towards my brother first who is in my dad's room. I pick him up from the crib and went straight to the secret vault but I was careful enough not to wake him up.

When I arrived there all older people and young teens with their mothers and pups were all moving inside of it. One of the elderly women held out her hands and I hand Wes over to her with care.

I am grateful to my pack for being so kind to me even though I haven't been officially anointed as one. Yes, I may have been introduced but I haven't taken my vow yet as a seal for my commitment to our pack.

"Please take care of him" my kiss lingers on his forehead "I promise I'll come back," I murmur to him one last time before I pull away and help the others inside.

I ran out of the safe house and move to help with our other warriors in checking every house in the pack to see if we have left out anyone.

"Luna, everyone is safe and is in the safe house...You too should go in there" one of our warriors says with concern as he came out of the last house we searched.

"I'll be fi-" an explosion from our southern border interrupted us.

The warrior curse out and then the others who were s***tering around came rushing back to where I stood.

"Matt" I mutter and without further delay, I rush to the border but before that, I call back to a few warriors to stay behind and guard the house while the rest follow me.

We reach there in time to see Matteo whose knuckles are in blood with another one splayed downside his leg. I could scent that the blood wasn't his and only belong to the feral wolves.

He is explaining the next plan to our warriors with no sign of feral wolves beside them now.

A feeling of relief washes over me and I did not wait for another minute as I quicken my step towards him. At that same time, he looks up from his map, then slightly drops it down and rushes in my way.

I crash myself into his arms and held him tight before taking a step back and then pulling him down for a kiss. After our little moment, I take a deep breath asking him breathlessly

"Where's my dad?" I ask

He was to answer when one of our trackers informed us that my dad is following James and Roman. I felt something tighten in my chest and I knew that this is a bad thing.

My dad shouldn't have done that. Yet the good thing is the tracker said he has found their hideout and that is where they are going to head out to.

I know Matteo is going to make me stay but I couldn't do that, not when I need to be sure my dad is safe and alive.

It is reckless of him to take such a move but I know my dad was tired of those two a**holes becoming a threat to our lives. So I can pretty much understand him too but it doesn't mean he is going to do it alone.

Matteo held me back “you can’t go, let me do this. I will bring him back safely,” I glare at him shrugging his hands off from me.

“Don’t stop me Matt; he’s the only parent I have left. I’m still going there whether you like it or not, I can’t lose him too. I need to be there for him.”

I turn and ran towards the weapon center back at the Packhouse at full speed ignoring his calls after me. Taking out every silver knife and put on gloves so that I won’t get a burn from any silver.

I just need it in case the enemy might use it against me. I exit the room and find Matteo leaning at the door all ready to go.

“f*** he is faster than me,” I thought to myself and I try to ignore him by walking towards the door without a single word to him.

“You’re not going alone, I’m coming with you, and it’s final we’re doing this together” with that he speeds up his walk and takes a lead, and again I don’t talk which made Alera whine at me.

We reached the southern border and all our warriors look at us for further instructions.

“Clear everything and look out for them as I know they will attack again. Make sure you’re on your best guard. Alpha Reed, Hernandez, and Gibson will be here soon,” he said with much authority.

“Alpha, they are here,” Jay announced and he nods his head before turning back to the warriors. This time his expression softens and instead of being authoritarian, he said his next words with encouragement and care.

“So please defend our home well as I and your luna are going after the main target. We trusted you so be on your best guard and don’t think of dying before fighting. We have walls to protect us but just in case they made it inside make sure to protect yourself well. This is what we have been preparing for.”

And just after Matteo gave out his words the siren went on again signaling for intruders.

We went near the borders and saw feral wolves coming out of trees like dead zombies. Nodding to Shalom, the warriors put up our defensive wall and start to attack the ferals again.

Matteo and I knew our pack is safe because this is what we have been training for and we are well prepared for this attack. Not forgetting the other three infamous Alphas we’ll guide and help our people if the Intruders made it through our defense walls.

Indeed, we will try and draw as much attention of the ferals as we can and lure them to follow us as we are going after my dad, James and Roman.

I half shifted into Alera, not wanting to tear out my clothes, meaning my werewolf scent is in full control. Alpha Eric, Dante, and Aaron came into view and they all spoke with Matteo for a minute before wishing us two, Jay and our chosen warriors all the best of luck.

We follow our trackers run towards the hiding out hoping we would make it in time as it was a bit far from here.

At that moment all I could think of and hope for is my dad's safety.

Lie To Me Alpha by Veronica Vito

Chapter 87

/ Lie To Me Alpha by VeronicaVito3
: Stay with Me

As expected we managed to draw their attention from our Pack to us and the chase began. There were more of them than we expected.

Matt held onto my hand tightly. Side by side we fought against them all until we were able to defeat the majority of their numbers while others now run towards their hideouts direction.

We began to chase again towards the mountain where other feral wolves disappeared to. Turning back we were pretty much far from our pack. Matteo and his wolf were leading in the front of us now but he always makes sure that I was in sight.

I push my legs harder to try and get there soon. We were suddenly ambushed from the other side by other feral wolves, who growls in our direction. Their eyes burning with hate without any hint of humanity shown in them.

Matteo quickly pushes me behind him holding me tight on the waist as Jay and Evan are already in their defensive stance hiding me from the feral's view. We are most likely surrounded by them right now.

The red eyes wolves move in for a kill and I felt Matteo's hand around me tighten before releasing me and attacking the wolf who jump at us.

I turn back throwing another one with a silver knife which caught him right in the middle of his forehead. I ran to him and took out the knife again to kill him off before turning to the others slashing at their throat using the same knife.

Alera growl wanting to take over but I just can't as we don't have spare clothes to change into if we ever shifted completely into our wolf form.

Once I kill another wolf Matt yells at me to go find him with Jay while he, Evan, and the other 15 warriors will hold back the remaining feral wolves.

I was hesitant for a moment as I didn't want to lose him either but Matt shouted at me that he'll be alive. I dodge other attacks and get to where he was.

Jay and the others fought the ferals while sealing us from any harm.

"Promise, you'll not die in me" I whisper against his lips "I promise" he replied before he pushes me back towards Jay.

"Go" he shouted

I gave him one last look before I quickly move with Jay and the others again to catch up on my father, with our best tracker now leading the way.

All I hope for while running was for Matt to be alive after this because I am seriously going to mate him and I'll make sure to never fail in seducing him.

I also pray for my dad to be okay when I arrive there. I just keep on hoping he is still alive. Losing one parent is enough pain to go through.

Another thirty minutes past and we finally arrived at our destination. It surprises me as I try to catch my breath that we are actually on top of a mountain.

The place was clear than we expected. It was nothing like those built-up military bases or a hideout or some kind of prison for experimental centers for feral wolves.

Nothing was on here except trees and a clearing side with nothing built on the land.

"Luna, it's an underground base" the tracker informs me on it. "The entrance is this way" he pointed to the other side on the ground.

He was to lead me to the main entrance when my eyes met with two wolves in their half-shifted form are fighting.

They were not very far from us but from where they fighting there seem to be the edge of a cliff.

"Dad" I froze in my step and Jay look on to where my eyes did not focus. I almost cry when I know he is still alive

"This can't be" Jay curses and we turn to a lifeless body lying on the ground, none other than McCoy.

What a f***ing traitor no wonder why he insisted on punishing my dad. I dart my gaze again back to my dad, who is still fighting against Matteo's dad.

"Jay leads the other to the underground, see if they have any prisoners, and let them out. I'll help my dad out," Jay looks at me with disapproval but I ignore him. He shook his head while following the others.

I was to move to help my dad when James jumps in my way unexpectedly. He sneers at me and extracts out his claws and without exchanging words he jumps in the air to attack me.

I was ready to counterattack when another huge wolf jumped in the middle and slashed at James wolf. He growls at James standing in between us and is more than ready to attack.

"Matt" I try to reach out "it's Thunder next time, Now Go" he growled urging me to go help my dad. I kiss on Thunder's back before running to help my dad.

I almost reach them when another wolf attacks me from the left side out of the blue. This opponent wasn't easy to kill off immediately which made Alera and I growl in madness and this time we most likely went feral that before the motherfuc*ker attack again we snap his head off.

"Now that's much better," Alera relaxed her muscle and turn to my dad. This time I knew that I am too late and forever I cursed myself for this.

"No please moon goddess don't" I beg

I watch in fear as Roman, Matteo's dad plunges a silver knife to my dad's heart when he loses his balance. My father in return was quick to get back and forcibly rip out the heart of Roman crushing it into his hands.

I ran up to catch up with him but Matteo held me back. Right then I saw more wolves going up towards my dad making me scream in horror

"Nooooo"

I scream while I kept on pushing and screaming trying to get out of Matteo's hold but he held me tight.

Roman fell down and was about to take my dad with him but my dad shook off Roman's hold and turn to fight other feral wolves whom he took down with all his strength.

I scream while thrashing around Matt to let me go and for me to go to him. I just don't care whether I die with him I just needed to hug him once more.

"Dad"

I cry out loud uncontrollably then I saw him smiling back at me with tears flowing from his eyes as he kills another feral wolf.

He coughs out blood and the place suddenly shook like an earthquake. I don't know what's going on but I just didn't care, all I ever care about right now is my dad.

My heart broke into million pieces seeing him with that one last smile on his face and the fact that it's his way of saying goodbye.

I keep on thrashing around as desperately want to get away from Matteo

"Dad" his smile never left his face and his eyes fixed on mine.

"I love you" he mouths me and with that, he took the remaining wolves with him and fell down.

I scream out loud "Noooo, dad" Matteo holds tight on me but I keep pushing and punching him on the chest "dad."

The place began to shake even more violently. Matteo frantically started to drag me away from there not too harsh but only for me not to slip out of his hold.

"Let me go" I keep thrashing around while sobbing and fighting against his hold.

"Dad" I scream while crying "please let me go to my dad" he didn't stop as his grip was firm around my waist.

We were out of sight and were almost back to the ground instead of the top of the mountain yet I was still like a beast hitting and thrashing around in Matteo's arms.

"Shhhh please more, not now. Think of Wesley" he begs me.

"Please he needs you and your father needs you to be there for him. I need you please stay with me" I felt his tears on my shoulder, and then I found myself slowly going numb.

"Please Ada**ah stay with me, I love you" he cries in the crooked of my neck.

I broke down crying remembering that I can't just leave Wesley or him alone. I have promised Wes that I will go back to him alive. How selfishly I want to die with my dad when there are people I have to take care of.

My parents wouldn't be proud if I go with them and leave Wesley behind with no one to take care of him. Our grandmother may be alive but he still needs me here.

On the other hand, Matteo needs me, I love him too what would he do without him.

"I'm sorry" I apologize to no one while Matteo held me in his arm.

"I'm sorry" I apologize again while sobbing and deep down me I knew this one is for my dad. I have failed him miserably today, as I wasn't able to help him and to save him.

I slump back in his arms crying without fighting Matt again.

"Please stay with me" he continues to whisper in my ear while holding me close to his chest with his tears drops on my bare neck and he is rocking me back and forth like a child.

The last thought in my head was this could be all a dream and for my dad to stay with me... with us... me and Wesley.

Lie To Me Alpha by Veronica Vito

Chapter 88

/ Lie To Me Alpha by VeronicaVito3
: Prisoner

Matteo's Pov

I walk back out of the house and without turning to my warriors who are mourning the loss of their top warrior I went straight for the pack's gym.

It has been an hour now since we got back from chasing after Lyndon. The enemies are gone now. My father too was gone.

I didn't feel any remorse yet despite that he is still my father and somehow I kind of felt a little bit of pity for him.

The cause of him becoming like that was my mother's fault. Maybe not entirely but her not loving him made him the man who he is now.

Yet the damage he has inflicted on my life has already been done and can never be undone. My Mate and I will forever be in this cat and mouse game while I'll always hide and she chases after those missing memories that withheld the truth.

Maybe she won't now but I know one day she will and I have to be honest with her before that day. I guess I'll always be imprisoning myself with my guilt, sadness, and regrets.

Honestly, I don't know what to tell her either; that her f***ing mate couldn't retrieve her dad's body like the mountain that we were on was a volcanic one.

Lyndon's body could not be retrieved from the lava as it was already into ashes. I'm the one with secrets now and the burden is getting heavier on me.

I punch the punching bag when I reach it. Then I hit again as once wasn't enough to get everything out of my head and system just for a little.

I am trying to cope with everything that has happened earlier. I was hoping to tell her about everything and again it didn't go my way.

I don't even know anymore if we were meant to be as every time I was this close in telling her and again I am being thrown back to 100k miles away from her.

Why does this always have to happen?

I heavily sigh with sweats dripping down from my body after another hour of working out. I rested for a while there, before going back to the house and having a shower then I head to the office.

I wanted to check on Ada**ah but I just couldn't face her now, not after everything that has happened. I failed her again as a Mate in protecting our family even though victory was on our side.

Ada**ah is in her room, along with Wes beside her. She has blackout due to the loss of her father. I wish there was something I could do yet I couldn't.

I sat there in my office sometimes afterward burying myself into work. There is a knock on the door "come in" I don't look up at the person rather I focus on the work in front of me.

"Alpha, Dr. Omalley has already taken a test on each prisoner and all are free to go back to their families. So we have already contacted the prisoner's families from different packs' Jay bit on his lower lip as if he's nervous.

"Unfortunately there's only one prisoner around three or five years of age that was likely to be in the second phase of the experiment and we couldn't find anyone related to her" Jay further explained and I could tell that he is frustrated.

I don't blame or be mad at him either, as I know everyone is exhausted after the attack.

"We only have her name and last name but we don't know who she is. Our trackers have tried their best but it seems like her data wiped off completely," he concluded with a sigh.

He handed me the file and I flip it open only to find it blank and just her baby photo and name nothing else inside it.

"Did you have a search on all packs," I ask "that we did too and, we even call them but none seems to have heard of such name?"

I keep on tapping on her name in the file "Holly Davis" I repeatedly said it to myself. Suddenly I remembered an incident that happened 3 years ago before the defeat of the rogue King by Alpha Hernandez. I don't know if my instincts are true but I know I have to try and I will contact them immediately.

"I'll handle this from here, and just ask elder Rue to help the pup and put her in a spare room. After that then you can rest. Now you may dismiss as well Jay," I gave him a warm smile.

Once he left I slump back on my chair rubbing my face with my hands before picking up the phone and calling Dante.

"Luna Daniella speaking," she answered and just the right person I was hoping to find.

"Hello, Daniella it's me Alpha Matteo" I hear shuffling then her rambling in a low tone.

She told me that she is going to get Dante but I told her it's her that it's her I needed to talk to which she let out an oh in response. I know she has a niece that they have been looking for even after the attack they still look for her.

It was when she almost went insane before giving birth that Cameron ordered everything to suppress this includes all the child's data despite Dante's disapproval. Yet Cameron has more right to the child than him or Daniella as he was the father.

I don't know what happened but that is just a glimpse of rumors that were spreading around.

I may not be a fan of those rumors then but I know this one might be helpful especially when it's not a rumor but a fact which I am about to ask her. So I have heard the name of her long-lost niece is Holly Davis.

"Holly Davis, do you happen to know her?" I ask and she is silent for another twenty minutes.

I know she's shocked to hear the name I mean who wouldn't right?

"Is it just her?" she asks again and I could hear her sniffing

"no" I replied shortly.

"Then you just got the wrong-"

she didn't finish as I cut her off and explained the child's features in the photo I'm seeing. She didn't speak again but only to be replaced with a loud sob.

I hear a door slam open and someone cursing out loud. I knew that Dante is now mad and wanted to kill the person on the phone who made his Mate cry. I was going to put it down when he shouted through the phone and his mate's sobs were uncontrollable.

"I swear if you-

"cut the crap I didn't hurt her she is just in shock, I think," I told him and he growls at me through the phone.

"Dante"

"How the f*** do you know-

"it's me Matteo" he cursed out even more before apologizing after I explained to him the situation.

"Thank you, Matt, and please be informed that we'll come over because I don't think she wants to delay seeing Holly"

"perfect then we'll wait for your arrival" I turn off the phone and started to walk out of the office.

I made my way to see Ada**ah who is still in bed without waking up. I pick up the now awoken Wes and head downstairs. After I fed him I link Jay to know which room he has put the young pup inside before I head there with Wes in my arms.

I watch as the young brunette pup plays with toys. A strand of her hair was behind her ears "how is she doing?" I ask Rue who sat on the chair near her.

"Good Alpha and better than we expected," she responded.

"Alpha, they are here," one of the warriors informed me through the links "e*****s them here and tell Evan to bring me a file on my desk"

After a while I heard footsteps then Cameron came inside and went straight to the pup only for her to bite his hand and hiss at me. She growls and stands in her defensive stance, she is alert.

Daniella who has been sniffing came forward "Holly" she calls her out then did sign with her hands in which the child whimpers mommy before jumping in her arms.

Daniella held her close as if her life depends on it and she starts to kiss all over the pup's head.

"Thank you Alpha Matteo" Cameron extended his gratitude "always welcome anytime Alpha Cam but it's all thanks to my beta and warriors" I turn to Dante "so I'm confused she is?" I point to Daniella

"Holly's her niece," Dante said.

"and the sign she did is a gesture of love and only families know it" Cameron explains.

I link Dr. Omalley to check on the pup again before she left with Dante and his Luna.

I heard screaming and it's coming from Ada**ah's room. I rush there holding Wes securely in my arms. I put him gently in his crib before turning to the thrashing Ada**ah who keeps calling out in her dreams to her dad not to leave her.

Her nightmares have now prison her in her dreams and reality. I pull her in my arms with a stray tear hoping tomorrow will be better for her.

Lie To Me Alpha by Veronica Vito

Chapter 89

/ Lie To Me Alpha by VeronicaVito3
: Forgiven?

Matteo's Pov

If you ever wish tomorrow will be better, then don't get your hopes up as not everything goes in our hope and wishful thinking.

Four days past and Ada**ah has woke up but she was still in her world.

She refused to hear or to let me touch her or anybody else near her. She just wants to be all by herself and even with Wes, she is starting to pull away from him.

I spent more time with Wes than she ever did. Ada**ah was in denial and withdrawn.

We indeed have held a funeral for Ada**ah's father today even though it's sad that we could not retrieve his body but we still do it with our traditional tribute.

It breaks my heart every time I see her drown in her misery. It is hard for her to lose both of her parents and all I can do is to be there for her.

I am trying my best to make sure that she won't walk alone even though I am guilty of my lies but I am afraid, really afraid to tell her all about it.

I don't know how she will take everything and I don't want her to suffer anymore because I know now it's not the right time. Therefore, after the funeral nana, Gloria has told Ada**ah her father's wishes and I know it pretty well as Wesley is a hybrid like his father.

She has agreed to let her grandma have him but I know Ada**ah this must be hard for her too.

We went back to the packhouse and nana Gloria is still ignoring me but only pretends to smile at me when Ada**ah is around.

We talk a day after I informed her of Lyndon's death but that was strictly it. She did not let me in her home or even welcome me in her open arms like she used to before. I know that she knows the truth and that is the very reason she is despising me now.

When Ada**ah was out of sight I move to nana Gloria but she nodded her head no to me and stood up to move away.

"Nana" I try to go near her

"I am not your nana" she corrected me "I only have two grandchildren and it happens not to be you."

She never smiled at me and I was grateful that all of my pack members were out today. Everyone has gone out after the funeral.

"I am only here for Ada**ah and Wesley, nobody else" I wanted to cry seeing the woman whom I always considered my grandmother despises me.

"Please no-" I beg her but she threw me a cold glance

"I am going to say this one last time I am not your nana. I don't know what's your motive in keeping my granddaughter beside you or even pretending to love her but mark my words, Matteo. She will leave you when she remembers," she spits on the ground between the two of us.

I try to move again in front of her but Ada**ah emerged from the house with Wesley in her arms and a bag hanging from her shoulder.

"Grandma are you sure about this, I mean I can take care of him besides he is all I left." Nana Gloria shook her head no

"Ada**ah, I'll take him with me for the meantime when danger is alleviating then you can come to fetch him"

Ada**ah stood there with her eyes still on her brother. It seems like she doesn't want to hand him over to her grandma but in the end, she finally nods her head, yes handing him over to Gloria earning a tear to slip from her eyes.

Wesley was about to awake and nana Gloria swiftly rocks the baby in her arm before heading to the car outside the house.

Ada**ah moves when her grandma moves to get inside the car. I could still see her struggling to let her brother go.

I went and snake my hand around her waist pulling her to my chest.

"Bye grandma, please let me know if anything happens to him," she bits her bottom lip looking at her sibling.

She took a deep breath waving goodbye to her grandma.

The car moves to go and she took steps by step "please grandma call me" she started to tear up as she follows the car.

"Please let him be okay" she runs to it but I quicken my step and held her arm back into mine but she pushes me back and quickens her steps towards the car as it reverses to go.

"Please grandma call me if anything happens to him" she taps on the window giving her a phone call sign.

The moment she moves I move along with her cause I knew she needed me to be there when she turns back. She chases after it as it left and when it's fully out of the gate.

She turns back running back into my arms and started to cry there. She buried her head in my chest f***** my shirt with her hands while crying for her brother.

"He's going to be alright nana Gloria is taking care of him" I murmured through her hair. Then kisses her on the head "they are both in good hands Aaron will protect them I promise Addy."

I held her tightly and for a moment I felt her body weight on me and I pull her away from my chest to see that she has fainted.

I carry her back to the house and lay her on the bed. I call Dr. Omalley to come and check her and he did come minutes later then left after a**uring me that she's alright and it was just minor stress.

I sat there at the foot of the bed on my chair watching her asleep. My thoughts wondered how would I be able to tell her everything on my own. I wanted to tell her but I know now is not the right time.

When she wakes up I watch her as she looks around the darkroom then she pulls her legs up to her chest laying her head on it. I move to the bed and sit down before her.

I took her into my arms and hold her there against my chest. I felt her hands instantly going around my waist. She didn't cry as I know her tears must have gone and dry but I could only feel her sadness overwhelming her at this very moment.

"You're not going to leave me as they did?" she whispers while her arms tighten around my waist then I felt something wet soaking my shirt.

I tilt up her face to see me. My thumbs brush her cheek wiping off her tears while smiling at her.

"No I won't, I'll be here with you whenever you need me" I kiss her forehead, then her eyes, nose then finally a peck on her sweet lips.

"I can never leave you alone. You can hate, push, hurt, broke or even kill but never will I leave you. Even if I die I'll still be right here with you" I said as I took her hands into mine and kisses her fingertips.

She pushes it away "you think I'll kill you" she glares at me and I smirk caressing her cheek and again she slapped my hand away.

"Okay come on I was only telling the truth and I didn't mean you'll kill me you know," I say earning a narrow from her eyes to me in return. I sigh "the bottom line is; I love you so much that I can't leave you here on this world alone"

I don't know if my words have melted her heart but I always mean those three words whenever I confess it to her.

"So would you forgive me if I say that even if you kill me I'll still be here? Come on I don't mean that part love" I could see tears about to burst from her eyes.

Therefore, I pull her back in my arms and then I hear her cry soaking up my shirt but I did not care at all cause my baby needs me here.

When I felt her body relax and calmer she pulls her head back and stares right up at me and before I could move away she kisses me.

Pulling me down to her as her hands held my shirt's fronts tightly. I was stunned that before I replied and pull myself away she shut me up with another kiss.

I didn't want to take advantage of her situation but her kisses are making me lose control. I push all my thought away and return her kisses holding her face in my hands.

I can only kiss but I could never push her for more because I love her that much and I don't want her to regret it.

If perhaps her memories are back, then I don't think she'll ever forgive me.

Lie To Me Alpha by Veronica Vito

Chapter 90

/ Lie To Me Alpha by VeronicaVito3
: Officially A Luna

I sat there on the step of the Packhouse bluffing and thought back on the days I try to seduce my mate in bed with me.

I am still not healing from my dad's death and thus I need some distraction and something to take my mind completely off from everything just for a while. Making love with him might just be the answer.

Matteo and I didn't go further on the day after my dad's funeral and since then I try but I was never in luck.

It was hard to do so even Alera was running out of her tricks.

I can't believe that wolf of mine made me watch horrible stuff to gain experience. Only in the end Matteo and his wolf were able to control themselves around us.

"Luna"

"Get lost" I retort with no interest in whatever Jay is going to say.

"Have you seen Alpha?" he asks again making me filled with annoyance

"already dead" I deadpan.

"I must have said that hurts" Matteo came from behind and sat next to me. I ignored him and look to the other side

"What is wrong with you?" he asks and I refuse to answer. "Ada**ah," he said my full name something that I'm used to now when he is getting frustrated or even when he is feeling emotional.

"Come on more! What's wrong?" he asks again and I shook my head no.

I didn't even want to talk about it now. As you know Jay is right in front of us and everybody knows Jay and his lousy mouth.

He's cool and fun but there are things he needs to shut up about, yet he still won't shut upon those matters.

I sigh standing up from the ground dusting my jeans "Ada**ah,"

"I said nothing Matteo, so it's nothing" I shrug my shoulders and left without turning back to him and mostly I avoided Jay as one wrong move and he'll guess it.

I hated that my hormones are frustrating me even more and it's always worse every time I am around him. I know that female wolf goes into heat but what I'm experiencing is not even close to it.

My grandma says yesterday when I visited her and Wes that I will only go into heat when the bond between Matteo and me is being sealed officially.

When I ask her for more she went on and further explain that when both mates acknowledge their bond they have to make a vow in front of the Pack. It is like the ones human-made yet it's quite different.

Mates after making that vow should mark each other to seal it.

The last step would be mating which most females prefer heating time as those were the times the males become hypers**ual.

Yet sorry but mine is getting crazy and I can't even make it by that time. She did even mention that when I decided to mate Matteo we both need to mate in front of the Pack.

Something I am totally against off and not willing to give everyone a free ticket for a free show.

I don't even know if Matteo is up for it as I am pretty sure he won't let anyone else see me naked but me no way.

I felt hands on my arm pulling me back "you're mad" Matteo stated.

"Is this about your luna ceremony?" I push his hand away "no it's not" I reply with affirmative.

Yes, and that is another thing we are still pushing for, my luna ceremony. It was not his decision but mine solely because it's what I want.

"Then what is it?" he asks and I ended up shouting at him nothing. Yep, that's exactly how the rest of our week went, me avoiding him.

When the day of my luna ceremony came Matteo asks me again and I told him that I was alright only if he agrees to acknowledge our bond tonight.

He didn't want to but I told him that if he doesn't then I don't see a reason for me to be his Luna. So it goes my way that I am going to be his Luna and he would mark me.

My grandma is also here and I swear there is something off about her. Like she has been asking me if this is what I want. I have to assure her that this is what I want to be with my mate.

Everything is settled and I couldn't wait anymore to be marked as his. I was nervous too but I knew him and I aren't talking because of me.

The clock strikes 10 pm and I took countless deep breaths. I went to his office and find him standing there by the window. I call his name twice but he didn't seem to hear me as his thoughts are somewhere else.

I went up and hug him from behind in which he jumps a little before his body relaxed.

"I'm sorry" I sniff in his scent and he turns back at me taking my face in his

"No, I should be the one to apologize" I smile kissing him. He looks at me with sadness then he smiles a bit. "Do you want this, you becoming my luna?" he asked nervously and I smile replying to him with a yes.

We kiss once again before we parted our ways and I went back to my room to find Gia and grandma there.

Wesley is crawling in his crib clapping his hands before he reaches out for me. I kiss him on the forehead about to take him in my arms when grandma shook her head no and ushers me in the shower.

Afterward, she and Gia help me out with my dress, which surprises me that she still has my mom's dress. It wasn't long but perfectly outline my curves and fall two inches above my knees.

Gia fixes my hair letting my hair down freely before putting a flower to my left hair. She then fixes my makeup and after they finish they both look at me with tears in their eyes.

"What a lucky mother f***ing b***** to have you," Gia says not even bothering to limit her words around my grandma.

She is in tears and they both hug me tightly before pulling away and Gia went up and carry Wes in her arms.

I stood there in the packhouse living room nervously all by myself. That is all I'm feeling right now. I know I shouldn't make rational decisions like this but still whether I wanted later it's going to be still the same.

I am supposed to be their future luna and right now is better than never.

The death of my father I will forever mourn but living my life is something that I should do because I have to.

I saw the lights deem then a path of fire lit the way on both sides as I walk in the middle. It was like having a human wedding except here right now is our marking ceremony and me anointing as a luna.

Becoming a luna is accepting my mate wholeheartedly and I agree to lead next to him forever. I took small steps then I felt warm hands on both of my elbows.

Looking to my left side I saw my mom smiling. This could only be a dream right I ask Alera but she didn't respond. I look to my right and dad gave me an a**uring smile.

A tear slips out of my eyes as I felt the warmth of their presence on my sides. They may not be here physically but now I know their spirit never left me.

I felt courage as their spirits guide me to my mate and his pack. Each step I take I felt myself closer and closer to him until I saw him standing there in his pure white long sleeve shirt and trouser.

Smiling I walk up to him taking his hands into mine. He pulls me towards him then kisses my cheek "you are stunning" I just smile not knowing what to say but only thanks.

I am grateful that my parents were with me tonight. Taking a look around I saw the Alpha and luna of the Moon bridge, then Daluna Pack and the Crimson. The Crescent luna and her mate were here too.

I didn't know many people are here to witness our mating. I smile when I saw our pack members smiling at me. There was no disdain or even glare in our way except their warm and welcoming smile.

It makes me feel confident and proud to be their soon-to-be luna in another 20 minutes.

Currently, I'm not a luna but just his Mate it would change after our vows declaration.

Matteo squeeze my hand and I tiptoe and kissed him on the cheek before we turn and knelt.

An elder stood before us, she is a representative of the council for our ceremony tonight. She doesn't smile or even has any emotion expressed on her face.

She mumbles something in an ancient language before raising her voice towards the gathering crowd.

She then let us exchange our vows and the list of laws and rules I should abide by.

Afterward, we did mark each other to seal our blood bound together as one with our pack.