

Life at The Top – Chapter 1479

Vinny sat on the ground feeling as though he had been struck by lightning.

The wounds and bloodstains on his body already made him look battered. However, no amount of wounds could compare to the impact of what Todd just said.

For a mobile phone manufacturer, losing touch with the most advanced semiconductor supplier meant death. Especially in Somerland, which was under the condition of Western technology blockade. They simply could not get advanced semiconductor materials from the West.

Even if they could be bought, they were all obsolete products that were out of date. The price was even more expensive than the latest technology semiconductors sold by foreigners to their own people.

Therefore, Nawait Semiconductor Manufacturing's supply was the only source of semiconductors Vinny could rely upon. This was the status quo throughout the entire domestic mobile phone manufacturing industry.

Now, Todd had made it clear that he would not supply them again, and his Fliegen would be finished in a few months time.

Vinny's scalp was tingling as he exclaimed, "No, Mr. Puller! Mr. Puller, please give me another chance! I am okay with you increasing the price, any price is fine!"

Yet, at this moment, where was Todd in that private room thick with the smell of noodles. Only Greg was left standing in front of Vinny.

Greg spoke indifferently while he was looking at the pale faced Vinny, "Mr. Goldman, the mighty Mr. Goldman... When you slapped me out of your office today, you didn't expect that the retribution would come so soon, did you?"

"Stop being so f*cking cocky!"

Feeling that his doom was imminent, Vinny had only a deep resentment toward Greg at this moment. He said to Greg bitterly, "You only have a good f*cking master. Your master is the awesome one, but what does it have to do with you? You're still the same mongrel in front of me!"

With a sneer on his face, Greg pulled up a chair and sat down in front of Vinny. Then, he said, "Yes, I just have a good master and good support, are you jealous?"

"If you have the ability to do so, you can also find a master who can make me lie in front of you and call you my daddy. But you can't, right?"

Greg felt very happy when he looked at the unpleasant expression on Vinny's face. Greg did not know how many years it had been since he had last felt like this. He was used to timid and meek, so he had not experienced this feeling of exaltation in many years. He quickly realized that he was too stupid before this. In this society, people like Vinny would always be the majority. If you were afraid of him, he would be even more fierce, forcing you to bow your head and step back, until eventually, you would be backed into a dead-end!

One's weakness and submissiveness would not gain the sympathy of people like Vinny. It would only make them unsatisfied with small gains and hungry for more. Therefore, when it came to people like Vinny, one needed to smash all of their teeth the moment they first start baring their fangs.

"If you can't find one, you should just admit your fate obediently."

After he slapped Vinny's face that was covered in blood and dirt, Greg felt that his attitude and way of thinking had changed greatly. However, he did not oppose this change. Rather, he embraced it wholeheartedly.

He knew if he wanted to survive in this cruel business world that was filled with deception he needed to change!

"Say, I still have to thank you."

Greg bent down and got close to Vinny before he said slowly.
