

Life at The Top – Chapter 1716

After the reporter from the United States said those words, everyone was silent. The other reporters looked at him with admiration. In addition to that, they stared at Jasper with scorching eyes, hoping that he could answer this very difficult question.

Jasper looked at the reporter and met his hostile gaze.

Meanwhile, this reporter was very proud as he seemed to think that Jasper could not answer his question properly. He looked at Jasper with provocative eyes and a sneer at the corner of his mouth.

‘So what if you have money? So what if you are a big boss? You’re still stumped by me.’

“My reporter friend.”

Under the gaze of the crowd, Jasper spoke slowly. His tone was calm and his speech and demeanor carried poise.

“I wonder how much your monthly income is?”

Smither was stunned when he heard this question. Then, he subconsciously replied with a little pride, “I am an experienced senior reporter from the BBC, and I can get about 150 thousand US Dollars a year if I include travel expenses.”

“150 thousand US Dollars converted into Somer Dollars is almost 1 million Somer Dollars in annual income. This income is considered part of the high income group in all walks of life around the world, not to mention in the journalism industry.” Jasper nodded and said.

“Of course. The United States is the world’s strongest...”

Before Smither could finish his proud words, Jasper interrupted.

“But if I want to make this 150 thousand US Dollars, I could do so while I’m talking to you. If the sentence is a little longer, like now, it may be more than 150 thousand US Dollars.”

Jasper’s words were met with gulps from the dozens of reporters at the scene.

Smither’s triumphant expression froze on his face. He wanted to refute, but when he thought of the assets and wealth of the young man from Somerland in front of him, his confidence disappeared instantly. Feeling humiliated, he blurted out, “How can you be so shameless to compare your wealth with me?”

“Why not? Since you know that your wealth and my wealth are not at the same level, why use your 150 thousand US Dollars annual salary perspective to determine if I can afford a company?” Jasper asked.

“Um...”

Smither's face turned dark and then pale. He gritted his teeth and said, "However, the funds of JW Foundation being locked is a fact."

"Yes, that's true, and I haven't refuted it. However, do you think the funds of JW Foundation belong to me or JW?"

"The vast majority of those funds come from various investors. Even though JW Foundation's funds are in the United States stock market, JW Capital and the entire JW system are still here. My reporter friend, how can you be sure that I can't take out the money to complete the acquisition of Nokia?"

Smither's face was extremely stiff and his expression was also unpleasant. Right now, he desperately wanted to dig a hole and hide inside it.

"Everyone, that's all for today. More details will be disclosed through official channels later, so please look forward to it."

After Jasper finished speaking, he turned around and walked away.
