

A Lifetime With You Chapter 14

Chapter 14

Seeing that the shameless Selden was about to really kiss her, Ava had no choice but to reach out and cover his mouth.

"Selden, if you continue to act like this, I swear I will never speak to you again!" Ava said with a cold and solemn expression.

Selden looked like he still wanted to fool around, but he moved his face away. This was when the elevator doors slid open, and he walked inside with Ava in his arms. "Ava, how could you shun me like that? I really do like you with all my heart." Selden sighed and confessed his feelings to Ava. Even though he sounded like he was joking, his gaze was solemn. Ava snorted and didn't take his words seriously at all. She struggled again and said, "Let me go!"

Selden compromised and said, "Alright, alright. I'll let you go the moment we arrive at my office. I promise!"

Ava really couldn't struggle against Selden, so she gave up and emphasized solemnly. "You better keep your word, or I will never talk to you again!" Selden glanced at her in exasperation. "When have I ever lied to you?" Ava really couldn't think of any instances where Selden had lied to her. But given the behavior of this playboy just now, she was full of distrust for him, so she just snorted in response. The elevator doors slid open, and Selden carried Ava into his office. He didn't notice that two people had been following them all the way. After Selden closed the office door, Karen walked out from the shadow and looked at the photographs she had just taken on her cell phone. In these photographs, Ava and Selden looked extremely intimate. She cursed in disgust, "I didn't expect Ava to have hooked up with some random man out there!"

There was an innocent expression on Beth's face, and she seemed to be speaking up for Ava. "Auntie, you may have misunderstood things. That man is just my sister's friend. They could be said to be childhood sweethearts." Karen immediately grasped the main point. "They are childhood sweethearts? So, they've been hooking up for a long time?" Beth pretended to cover up for Ava and said, "No... No, they're just normal friends." Karen frowned and said in disgust. "Is that how normal friends are supposed to act? In my opinion, they are definitely hooking up behind everyone's back!" 2 "That slitty woman might have cheated on my son!" 2 "How shameless!"

"I must expose her in front of Damien so that he would divorce her. After all, my grandson's mother must not be a mistress!" Karen thought.

She waved in dismissal and said, "Alright. Why don't you go home first for now?" When Beth heard these words, her eyes immediately welled up with tears. She cut a piteous sight as she said, "Auntie, I can't go home. If my father finds out that I'm pregnant with my sister's husband's baby, he would definitely force me to get an abortion!" Karen immediately said, "No way! That's the Radbury family's grandson!" Beth started sobbing and said nothing. Karen thought about it for a moment and said, "Why don't you stay in your sister's mansion for the time being? Just tell her that I told her to take good care of you. If she dares to mistreat you, let me know. I'll stand up for you!"

What Beth wanted was to stay in Silky Way Manor where Karen lived. But she didn't mind staying in Ava's place to torture her sister either, so she nodded obediently and agreed.

"Thank you, auntie."

Karen nodded and said, "After you move in, take the opportunity to monitor that woman for me. See if she messes around with random men, and if you spot anything, notify me. Do you understand?" Of course Beth understood. She quickly agreed.

After Beth left, Karen immediately chose a photograph in which Ava and Selden looked the most intimate. She then sent it to Damien.

A Lifetime With You Chapter 15

Chapter 15

Before pressing the "send" button, Karen hesitated. This wouldn't do. The background of this photograph was a hospital. Ava would probably be able to explain herself. Karen decided to get someone to photoshop the background of the photograph into a hotel. That way, the photograph would serve as proof that Ava was cheating on Damien. At that time, that woman wouldn't be able to explain herself.

After treating Ava's ankle injury, Selden decided to take the rest of the day off to send her home.

It took Ava half an hour to talk Selden out of sending her home. In the end, Selden compromised, but he made Ava promise to treat him to three meals. Ava breathed a long sigh of relief the moment she entered the cab. Why was her friend like that? He was always fooling around with her and deriving pleasure from it.

At night

Ava sat on the sofa and waited as the butler prepared dinner.

This was when the doorbell rang. Surprised, Ava looked at the door. Dahlia Garden Mansion had never had a guest. And it was already late at night... "Coming!" The butler called out and ran towards the door to open it. Her body then stiffened, and she said in surprise, "Young master!" Ava's heart skipped a beat. Stunned, she looked at the door. There was a tall and handsome man at the door. It was really Damien. Why... Why did he come home all of a sudden? Damien entered the mansion quietly. He took off his suit jacket and handed it to the housekeeper. He then loosened and removed his tie with one hand as he walked towards the sofa and sat down in a languid manner. He looked so relaxed and leisurely that he seemed like an ordinary man who had just come home from work.

Ava was shocked, and she looked at him with a bewildered expression on her face. What was going on? Had Damien gone crazy? Or was he back to mercilessly torture and humiliate her again like last night? At the thought of this, Ava's face turned deathly pale. "This must be it," she thought.

Ava's entire body was tense as she looked vigilantly at Damien. But Damien merely sat quietly on the sofa with a hand on the armrest. He seemed to be focusing on whatever was playing on the television.

The lights from the television flickered in his jet black eyes. It might be Ava's imagination, but he appeared exceptionally tender right now.

After stealing a few glances at him, Ava quickly looked away.

This was so strange. What exactly was he trying to do?

"Young master, young missus. It is time for dinner," the butler said respectfully. Ava came back to her senses and hummed in reply. She put on her slippers and limped towards the dining table.

She could hear Damien's footsteps behind her. Ava felt a chill run down her spine, and she was about to turn to look at him when he suddenly picked her up and carried her in his arms.

"Hey, what are you doing?" Ava felt uncomfortable all over, and she looked vigilantly at Damien.

Damien's head was lowered, and his gaze was extremely icy, as though there wasn't a single hint of emotion in his eyes. "Bringing you to the dining room. What else?" Ava blushed a little and glared at him. She then looked away. She thought that Damien was about to bully her again. Who would have expected him to actually treat her well for once? But now that he was suddenly being so nice... Ava had an ominous feeling about this.

They finished the meal amid an eerie silence.

Damien put down his chopsticks and looked at Ava. Ava looked back at him and said in exasperation, "What?" Damien said expressionlessly, "Do you want to sleep?" Ava glared at him. She knew that this man was up to no good! It turned out that he only came back today to have s*x with her. What a b*stard! "No!" Ava said and limped towards the sofa. Damien got up and followed her. He then picked her up and carried her in his arms again.

Ava immediately let her guard up. Was this man about to force her to have s*x with him?