Author's POV:

Arjun and Diya were talking with Ajay and Aasha, when Arjun felt a tap on his shoulder. He turned around, and saw his ex-fiance and his ex-best friend standing there with a stupid grin playing on their lips. Arjun and Ajay groaned mentally looking at them, while the girls made a disgusting face.

Arjun looked at Ajay, who blinked his eyes in assurance.

"Hey guys!" Greeted Arun with a smug look on his face.

"Hello", said Arjun and Ajay with a boring look on their faces.

"May I know who are these beautiful ladies here?" Arun said, looking at them lustily.

Ajay and Arjun clenched their fist tightly, looking at him, and pulled their ladies towards them by their waists and hugged them possessively.

"Chill guys, I'm just asking. It's okay if you don't want to tell me", said Arun.

"I think we should plan something new this time, Arjun. What do you say?" Ajay asked Arjun, raising his eyebrow at him.

"Of course, why not? This time it should be more interesting and painful too", said Arjun, smirking.

"But before that, don't you think we should remind him of what happened last time?" Asked Ajay.

"Why not? Umm, Arun, I heard that you are working as an employee in the company which was owned by your family once upon a time. Is it true?" Asked Arjun, making an innocent face.

"Come on, Arjun. What can he do when his father went bankrupt and lost all his assets? So, he has to do some job to care of his family and meet his expenses, right. Don't you know he is the only person who receives the lowest salary in his office? By the way, where did you rob your dress and the car, Mr Arun, when you were struggling to meet your daily expenses?" Said Ajay.

Chytra's grip on Arun started to become loose. As she still doesn't know that, Arun lost all his properties the very next day, as he and his father supported her on their engagement day two years ago. Arun glared at Chytra and held her tightly by her waist, digging his nails in her skin, making her hiss. But he was least bothered about her pain.

Arjun and Ajay laughed inwardly, seeing her struggle.

"Just wait and watch, Chytra. I'll make sure you get the worst punishment for pushing my friend into darkness. This is just the beginning", thought Ajay in his mind.

"By the way, Arun, what is your father Satya Harishchandra doing now? Is he happy with your work? I mean, whatever you do is always right for him. After all, you are his pride, right? He always used to support your decision, and help you in getting what you need, even if it means destroying others' happiness. Was he still the same supportive father, or did he change?" Asked Ajay with a smug look on his face.

"Ajay, mind your tongue. You are talking about the king of real estate business, Mr. Harishchandra. And why should I do some cheap job when my father has crores in his account? I guess, you got some wrong information about us", said Arun, trying to maintain his strong aura.

"Is that so? Then why are you sweating like a pig even in the air-conditioned room?" Asked Arjun, rubbing off his sweat with a tissue.

"And we didn't get any wrong information. We have the owner of your company here. Just wait a minute", saying that, Ajay called someone from his mobile.

Within a few minutes a man in his late twenties approached them, and greeted Arjun and Ajay.

"Hello buddies, how are you?" Asked that person.

"We are fine, Sudeep. But someone is very eager to meet you", said Arjun.

"Who is that?" Asked Sudeep.

"Look beside", said Ajay.

Sudeep turned and saw Arun who was sweating profusely, and beside him stood Chytra with a confused face. Sudeep made a face, looking at them.

"I thought we have someone important to meet. Not some roadside beggar and a thief!", said Sudeep.

Arun looked at him horrified, and started to look here and there.

"What?"

This time it was Chytra who shouted loud, gaining the attention of the people around.

"Geez, why are you shouting like a mad woman? Don't you know, he is the cleaner in my office? And he stole my car keys yesterday, and ordered a branded suit in my name. My guards are searching for him from yesterday from the time I got a call from the boutique to pay the bill, as he said that he would pay the bill later. Now I understood, why he did all this", said Sudeep.

"Do you think she is an innocent by her looks, buddy? Then you are totally mistaken. She is way worse than him. First she impressed his father with her charms, now she is roaming with his son thinking that he is a good businessman, not knowing that he is bankrupt. And, the worst thing is she is still saying to everyone that, she is Arjun's fiancée", said Ajay.

Arun and Chytra looked down, embarrassed and everyone started to laugh at them, and started to mock the duo.

They went away from there, fuming as their plan didn't work. They thought to defame Arjun, and made a plan which got flopped. But what they didn't know was they were being played. Yes, it was a trap set by the trio Arjun, Ajay and Prem. They knew Arun would do anything to destroy Arjun's happiness, and Chytra wanted Diya to leave Arjun. So that, she could again enter his life.

Arun was always envious of Arjun, Ajay and Prem. Three of them were smart, talented, toppers and from respected and rich families, and got successful in their respective fields. Ajay and Arjun are from the same village and are best friends from the time they were wearing diapers. Ajay's father owns an imports and exports business, while his mother is a Chemistry professor in a reputed University. Ajay did his masters in Mass communication and owns his own Ad agency and also helping his father in his business.

Prem and Priya joined the group in the middle. Priya is also an agricultural engineer like Arjun and is the head of the quality checking department in Arya Farm Fresh Foods Ltd. Prem's father owns one of the largest cement producing industries in Asia, "Gladstone Cement", while his mother is a housewife. Prem is a Chartered Accountant and is the CFO of the "Gladstone Cement". Aasha is a web developer.

Arun joined the group with a motive and used them for his selfish purposes. He fake-loved with Aasha who is Prem's sister for his selfish reasons. Before he could destroy her life, Ajay saved her from his devilish plans, as he never trusted Arun from the start. He blackmailed Aasha and threatened her by using her private pictures, and smartly threw the blame on Arjun. But Prem and Aasha supported Arjun even after knowing that her life would be destroyed if that picture went out. Veeru deleted all those pictures by hacking all his devices after the mishap before Arun could release those pictures.

Ajay always had feelings for Aasha, but he shut down his feelings for her after knowing that she was in a relationship with Arun. After the mishap, Ajay was her greatest support. Slowly both of them fell in love with each other and got married a year back. Though she was reluctant to accept him after all the happenings, she slowly accepted him after seeing his efforts.

Three of them were together in their ups and downs, and they were always each other's strength. Ajay and Prem were the ones who bought all the shares of Arun's father's company. The company was already facing its losses at that time, which became easy for them and also the shareholders were fed with the behaviour of Arun's father. Sudeep was Ajay's cousin, who was taking care of the company. As he has knowledge of real estate, and also Ajay and Prem didn't want their name to come out.

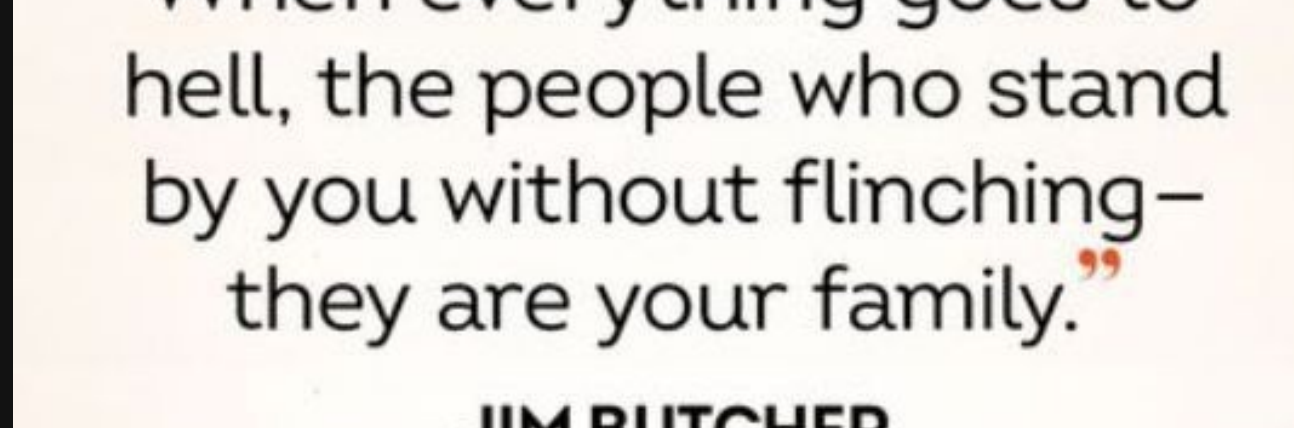

Arjun posting his engagement photo in the social media was also a part of the plan. And also he wanted to tell the whole world that he was taken. He knows deep down Diya is insecure about their relationship, it's his first step to remove her fears. And the second thing is Chytra. She is telling everyone that they have solved their issues, and they are going to marry in a few days. He knew media would definitely try to get the picture of his fiancée. That's why, he asked Diya to come along with him, and the other reason was he wanted to spend time with his cookie.

Prem inviting Arun to the party was also the part of their plan. They knew Arun would come definitely to the party, and create some nuisance. They came to know that Arun and his father were still cheating the people in the name of their company. So, they wanted to tell the world that he was bankrupt and the company was taken over by someone. That's the reason they also invited media to the party.

They would definitely make him pay for all the things he and his father did. They made sure Arun didn't get a job anywhere. When Arun and his father signed the legal papers of their company and assets, Sudeep put a document in the middle of those legal documents, which the father-son duo had signed without reading it. According to that, Arun has to work in the company as a cleaner with the minimum salary all his life. If not, then he has to pay a penalty of 200 crores. Their passports were taken back by the government, so that they couldn't escape to the other country. Arun has not only played with Aasha's life. He played with many girls' lives and also his father was a womanizer. They are just waiting for the right moment to put the father-son duo behind the bars for life-long. They are collecting all the proofs as Arun's father has a hand in illegal business. He supplies drugs to the college students and Arun helps his father.

Chytra doesn't know all these, but she is using Arun and his father for her personal motive. Chytra is a doctor by profession, but her license is banned as she was about to operate on a patient by taking drugs. Even that incident was planned by Avinav, Yash, Ajay and Prem. They destroyed her career before it was started.

After the party, Arjun dropped Diya at her home and moved to Ajay's home to celebrate their victory and plan further.

“When everything goes to hell, the people who stand by you without flinching – they are your family.”

Hello guys!

How is the update?

Few words about Arun.

Few words about our trio, Arjun, Ajay and Prem.

I know, there are no Diya and Arjun's moments in this chapter but I'll definitely compensate for it in the next chapter.

Do you want me to publish the cast? If yes, then give me some suggestions for the lead characters. I'll wait for your opinions.

Until then, keep smiling and take care.
