

Little Sweet 1001

Chapter 1001: Outbreak of good acting

Gong Xu smiled as he put his hand on Luo Chen's shoulder. "Good brother of mine, when there is good fortune, we must share it together! You don't need to thank me!"

Luo Chen silently swatted a certain someone's hand off. "..."

Ye Wanwan waved her hand with disapproval. "Don't play around anymore. Go get ready – you're both about to film!"

The two went to prepare themselves and Ye Wanwan returned to where Han Xian Yu was sitting, waiting for the filming to begin.

In the film, Gong Xu played the young master Xue Shao Yang, who was from a rich family, while Luo Chen played Shen Yue, a sniper from a special forces unit.

Filming began from when Xue Shao Yang first met Shen Yue's little sister and kept sticking to her like a stalker, causing him to develop a bad relationship with Shen Yue.

After the Xue family noticed how Xue Shao Yang wasn't ever focused on studying and was becoming even more disobedient, they decided to send him to train with the unit with their family's soldiers.

Once he entered the unit, Xue Shao Yang met Shen Yue for the second time.

If this film went the youthful idol route, their box office sales wouldn't be too bad judging by the looks of the cast...

But due to Ye Wanwan's ambitions, her goal went beyond the box office.

In her previous life, Tan Zhen Xin made a lot of severe cuts in the film for the box office, so the remainder of the film that was released only contained some romance between Xue Shao Yang and Shen Yue's little sister.

Ye Wanwan took a different route and instead, she kept most of the original script where the focus was on the two male leads while the female lead became a supporting character.

The majority of the film focused on the process of Xue Shao Yang entering the unit and becoming an elite soldier from his original rich playboy self...

The scene that was going to be filmed today was when Xue Shao Yang was hanging out with his sleazy friends and harrasing a first-year female student. Coincidentally, this female student was the little sister of Luo Chen's character, Shen Yue.

Shen Yue had just returned home to visit that day and went to the school to see his sister. He then encountered Xue Shao Yang and his friends harassing his sister and the two parties fought.

Shen Yue protectively placed his sister behind him and angrily rushed forward to beat up the others.

Xue Shao Yang had a vain and frivolous expression as he sneered at Shen Yue. “Hey, even if you’re Shen Ying’s older brother, you can’t interfere with her feelings! What if she likes me and has feelings for me?! If you hit me, won’t she feel hurt?”

Xue Shao Yang was being ridiculous and overbearing, causing the nerves on Shen Yue’s face to nearly explode from anger.

At that moment, Xue Shao Yang glanced at Shen Ying and asked with a smirk, “Fellow student, you’re sure you... really don’t like me?”

A breeze passed by and the youth’s light smirk under the cherry blossom tree was a truly romantic and dream-like sequence...

What girl could resist such temptation? Shen Ying was no exception.

The young girl was blushing red on both cheeks and she lowered her head as she was pulled away by her older brother.

After walking a short distance, Shen Ying couldn’t help turning back for a glance.

In her eyes, it was clear she had left her heart behind...

The playful Xue Shao Yang seemed as though he expected she would look back and he instantly broke out into a smile...

This scene emphasized Xue Shao Yang’s personality and the most detestable aspect of it was how Gong Xu was able to fully bring out Xue Shao Yang’s arrogant, vain, and overbearing nature.

Clearly, he was in the wrong and made no sense, but he was able to correct the wrong into a right through his words. The line he said to Shen Ying especially made people’s hearts flutter.

On camera, the youth was overbearing, but with his fresh outfit, dazzling good looks, and high-spirited attitude, people couldn’t look away.

Ye Wanwan was nodding with satisfaction as she observed the scene. She hadn’t wasted her efforts on Gong Xu.

Chapter 1002: He’s really a genius

After filming ended, the surrounding fans and students began to excitedly scream non-stop...

“AHHHHH! GONG XU’S SO HANDSOME!”

“I’M ABOUT TO PASS OUT!”

“Who said my Gong Xu can’t act? They must be blind, right?”

“I came just for my little angel Xian Yu, but how did I end up falling for Gong Xu?! This can’t be right, can’t be right! I need to save myself for my little angel Xian Yu! I can’t cheat on him like this!”

“Oh! I can’t hold back! I’m sorry...”

“Great! Cut!” the director shouted.

Filming was done in one take.

The director kept giving praise: “Not bad, not bad! The acting was very natural without any flaws, especially for Gong Xu!”

“Ahahahaha... I already said it before! This young master is really a genius! Isn’t my work worthy of a Golden Orchid? So easy! Ye-ge, you don’t need to worry about my acting anymore!”

After hearing everyone’s praise, Gong Xu’s smile was so wide that it reached his ears.

Ye Wanwan sighed as she watched from afar.

This guy... really thinks they’re praising him...

Earlier on, Ye Wanwan helped him go over the script several times. This scene matched his personality completely, so of course there were no flaws in his acting. Ye Wanwan already predicted that much.

The trickier parts were in the second half...

Han Xian Yu set down the script in his hands and said to Ye Wanwan, “There’s a lot of potential in this film and there’s even hopes of winning an award. It’s not impossible that he wins a Golden Orchid for Best Actor...”

Han Xian Yu said that before helplessly adding another sentence. “Of course, I’m talking about Luo Chen...”

This film had two male leads and Luo Chen wasn’t bad as long as Gong Xu didn’t drag his hind legs. Looking purely at Luo Chen’s acting, he had a shot at the award.

Ye Wanwan rubbed her chin and suddenly said, “Xian Yu, in the history of the Golden Orchid, has there ever been a precedent of a film winning two awards for Best Actor?”

Han Xian Yu was stunned. “That’s... never happened before! Although there’s several movies with two male leads making the cut, it’s never happened before. Even if there are two male leads in a film, there can only be one. You’re not thinking...”

Han Xian Yu never imagined Ye Wanwan actually carried such hopes. Not only did she want the Best Actor award for her film, but she wanted two!

Ye Wanwan smirked. “We’ll have to see if Gong Xu is willing to put in the effort... As for Luo Chen, he has about an 80 percent chance...”

Han Xian Yu laughed. “You’re that confident about Luo Chen?”

Ye Wanwan appeared smug. “Of course. I groomed him personally!”

Han Xian Yu then asked, “What about me?”

Ye Wanwan sighed. "You received a Golden Orchid when you were eighteen and the film you debuted in was received extremely well. Last year, you were even nominated for a national film. You've already left the rookie group and are considered a veteran with talent. There's nothing more I can do to help you..."

Eh, why do I suddenly understand Si Ye Han's words from earlier?

"The nomination for the film last year was because of you. You were the one who made me decide to choose that film," Han Xian Yu replied.

Aside from that, Ye Bai also gave him other reminders. During those times, he wasn't even her artist. He was only a friend.

She helped him countless times – she just never took it to heart.

After Han Xian Yu finished saying that, he changed the topic back to Gong Xu. "The scene Gong Xu just did was very good, but as for the latter half, I'm afraid..."

Ye Wanwan peered at Gong Xu and smiled. "After the first half of the film is done, I prepared a training camp of hell for Gong Xu..."

Chapter 1003: Can't relax at all

"Sss—"

Gong Xu, who was completely engrossed in his own acting skills, suddenly felt chills running down his back.

However, Gong Xu didn't pay any attention to that and cheerfully skipped toward Ye Wanwan to be praised.

"Brother Ye, Brother Ye, did you see? Don't my acting skills deserve a Best Actor's?"

"Not bad, good job!" Ye Wanwan's face was full of grandmotherly kindness without revealing any of her true feelings.

Gong Xu turned boastful immediately. "Hahaha, Luo Chen, just follow my lead without any worry! With my skills, I'll certainly win that bet!"

Luo Chen: "..."? I can't relax at all, alright...

Emperor Sky Entertainment, general manager's office:

In dealing with Tan Zhenxin's incident, Ye Yiyi had been utterly exhausted lately from making all sorts of apologies and handling the media.

With the truth laid bare, Emperor Sky Entertainment had no choice but to publish an apology statement, announce that the shooting of the movie would be stopped, and give Xu Lin his deserved compensation.

Ending the shooting of the movie caused quite substantial damage to them since all the promotion and pre-shooting preparations they made at the beginning all went down the drain.

Originally, this movie was estimated to be quite profitable. Now, not only did they not earn a single cent, but they also had to lose a large sum of money.

“I was too careless and didn’t expect to fall into Ye Mu Fan’s trap...” Ye Yiyi was self-reproaching.

Gu Yue Ze embraced her delicate body and gently comforted her. “Yiyi, don’t blame yourself. It’s just money. It’s nothing to Emperor Sky. As for our reputation, the one who stole the script was Tan Zhenxin; we can’t be blamed for our oversight. It won’t cause too big of an impact on us.”

Ye Yiyi’s eyes darkened. “However, that script is now in Ye Mu Fan’s hands...”

The good script she picked with great effort landed in their opponent’s hands, and they basically helped their opponent promote for free. How could she be happy with that?

Gu Yue Ze was unconcerned. “When Xu Lin gave them the script, one of the requirements was to be completely loyal to the script. And you’ve seen the original script.”

“If it isn’t altered, do you think anyone would accept the depressing and suffocating plot near the end and the tragic ending? A wasteful young master like Ye Mu Fan doesn’t know the current movie market at all. Soon, he’ll find out this isn’t a career he can succeed in simply because he wants to. Don’t worry! I’ve already invited top producer, Rong Junwei, to come back and remake the movie that made him famous, ‘That Summer’!”

As soon as Ye Yiyi heard Rong Junwei’s name, surprise and joy filled her face. He was the king of the box office and the godfather of idol dramas; he had once achieved miracles in the box office!

Ye Yiyi looked at the man in front of her with great admiration and coquettishly leaned into his arms. “Yue Ze, thank goodness I have you. I wouldn’t know what to do otherwise...”

Then Ye Yiyi continued, “Yue Ze, although you’re merely the interim general manager right now, Grandfather is old now, and my father... You know him. He really doesn’t have much experience in management and completely relies on the expensive people Grandfather hired from overseas to manage things for him. I’m Father’s only daughter, so in the end, our Ye family will have to rely on you...”

In other words, the Ye family would belong to her in the future, which basically meant it would belong to the son-in-law, Gu Yue Ze.

Gu Yue Ze’s eyes glinted, and he gently said, “Yiyi, don’t worry. Your business is my business. Although I’m only an interim manager, I’ll do my best. Just leave the rest to me. You can just happily wait to become my bride!”

Chapter 1004: Other people’s fans

Ye Yiyi concealed the sharp glint in her eyes and blissfully nodded. “Yes!”

She didn't care at all whether the Ye family's family property would end up in the hands of an outsider. After all, being the mistress of the Gu family was much better than being the eldest miss of the Ye family.

As for the senior management and shareholders of the Ye family, they didn't care whether the one in charge of the Ye family was Ye Hong Wei's grandson or his grandson-in-law. They only cared whether he would help them earn more money and obtain more profits.

Hence, she had to team up with Gu Yue Ze and try to take control of the Ye family as soon as possible...

Otherwise, once her true background was exposed, she would lose everything...

Her plan was smooth sailing at first, but then Ye Mufan unexpectedly changed and became smarter.

However, that was fine. It might be hard to conspire against Ye Mufan, but it was too easy to trick that idiot, Ye Wanwan. It was impossible for Ye Mufan to watch over her 24/7.

The following few scenes were shot very successfully.

Ye Wanwan naturally didn't forget to get something for a certain fan. After obtaining permission from Han Xianyu, she dug out her Polaroid and found a perfect angle before snapping a photo of him in his professor clothes. Then, she had Han Xianyu sign the photo for her.

On the side, jealousy bubbled in Gong Xu, and he sneakily slid over. "Brother Ye, why don't you want my signed photo?! Could it be that you don't have any friends who are fans of me? That's illogical!"

Ye Wanwan raised her brows. "Your fan?"

"That's right! Thank carefully—you must have some!" Gong Xu was completely serious.

Ye Wanwan pondered over it carefully before saying, "Hm, I think there really is one..."

Gong Xu was instantly satisfied. "Ahaha, I knew it! Come come come, take a photo of me! I'll give you a fancy autograph!"

Ye Wanwan had no choice but to take a few photos of Gong Xu as well.

Gong Xu happily signed his name with a flourish. "Brother Ye, which friend of yours has such excellent taste?"

Ye Wanwan replied, "Oh, you've met her. She came to the shoot to stand guard last time—Jiaojiao..."

"..." Gong Xu's hand trembled, and the pen he was holding fell to the ground with a clang.

His face turned ashen. He swallowed and said, "Brother Ye, I suddenly realized my acting skills are too awful and don't deserve to be liked by fans at all. I'm going to read the script..."

After saying that, he snatched all his signed photos back and crushed them into a ball. Then, he shot to a chair some distance away like a bolt of lightning and read his script studiously.

Are you for real?! Wahhh!

Why's Brother Xianyu's fan a cute girl while my fan is so scary?!

Thankfully, he escaped fast enough.

Ye Wanwan's lips twitched slightly as she watched Gong Xu fleeing. It was a rarity that there was a girl he didn't dare to flirt with.

The remaining scenes today merely needed Gong Xu to be himself, so there shouldn't be any more problems.

Hence, Ye Wanwan glanced at the time on her phone and said, "I have plans later, so I'll be leaving now!"

Han Xianyu nodded. "Alright, go on."

The ears of Gong Xu, who was pretending to be studious, twitched, and he instantly rolled back over there when he heard that. "Huh? Brother Ye, you won't keep watching? I still have scenes in the afternoon! If you leave, you'll affect my passion for acting!"

Ye Wanwan grinned. "You're so awesome, so I'm not worried, and I don't need to keep watch!"

"Hahaha, Brother Ye, you're right. Don't worry about me then! I'll definitely be fine!"

"Do your best then!"

Chapter 1005: So what if she's good-looking?

After greeting everyone, Ye Wanwan returned to the car and changed her clothes and make-up.

Professor Li Yue's seminar was held in the multimedia hall located on the east side of Imperial Media University. When Ye Wanwan arrived, a majority of the seats inside were taken already, so she was met by a sea of people.

Aside from the actual students of the university, there were also many students from other universities who came, so the hall was abnormally lively.

When Ye Wanwan reached the entrance to the hall, the hall abruptly turned silent for a second before erupting into a clamor, and countless pairs of eyes landed on her.

"Sh*t! What major is that beauty in? How come I've never seen her?!"

"Our university has a beauty like her? Why didn't I know! Is she an entertainer who's already made her first public performance and doesn't attend classes often?"

"If she's an entertainer, there's no way we wouldn't know about her!"

...

Ye Wanwan spotted an empty seat in the third to last row. She walked over and sat down.

She was naturally aware of the stares and discussions around her.

Back when she first attended senior high school, she was ridiculed everywhere she went. But now that she changed her appearance, she received an instant change in treatment.

Ye Wanwan had just sat down, but there was already a guy trying to hit on her. “Hey, beautiful, what major are you studying? How come I haven’t seen you before? How about we exchange WeChat information?”

Before the guy finished speaking, a girl’s furious voice was heard from the side. “Xu Changdong! Do you want to die?!”

The guy was instantly startled. “Cough Yu Ya, didn’t you say you weren’t coming today?”

“So you think you can flirt with girls behind my back, huh?” As the girl spoke, she glared at Ye Wanwan on high alert.

The guy exclaimed, embarrassed, “No! I was merely curious since I didn’t know her...”

“What’s there to be curious about?! There are plenty of people like her at our school! There’re even run-of-the-mill girls like that in the neighboring school! They rely on the fact that they look a little pretty, so they’re preoccupied with trying to hook some rich men every day. How would they have the time to attend classes? Naturally, you don’t know her!” the girl snapped irritably.

Having been accused of living off a rich man for no reason, Ye Wanwan raised her eyebrows slightly. “Beauty, I don’t seem to have ever offended you?”

The girl angrily retorted promptly, “Not having offended me? You were seducing my boyfriend!”

The guy hurriedly tried to smooth things over. “Honey, don’t be mad, don’t be mad! Sigh, I like a girl who’s intelligent with good grades like you; how could I take a liking to barbie dolls like her?! I was really asking offhand just now...”

“That’s right, Yu Ya. Don’t be angry!”

Many people on the side also piped in. Their expressions were very disdainful when they looked at Ye Wanwan.

Ye Wanwan was quite speechless too. As if it wasn’t enough that she was discriminated against for being ugly back then, but she was still being discriminated against now.

So what if I’m good-looking? Why can’t I have good grades despite being good looking? Do I deserve to be discriminated against simply because I’m good-looking?

Thankfully, Professor Li entered right then. The hall regained its silence, and Ye Wanwan could finally focus on listening to the seminar...

“Students, everyone, hello! I’m very happy to have received an invitation to hold this seminar. The topic I want to talk about today is emergency public relations. I’ll summarize a few classic case studies from corporations and the entertainment industry from recent years and launch a discussion with you students...”

Professor Li's seminar was very interesting. It was different from how most other people liked to talk about theory and knowledge – there was a lot of practical information in his seminar, and he cited classic examples from real life. Hence, all the students listened with keen interest, and even Ye Wanwan gained a lot from it. Soon enough, more than an hour had quickly passed.

On the stage, Professor Li glanced over everyone. "I have another example here that I'd really like to discuss with everyone. Does everyone here know about the 'Han Xianyu molesting a young girl' scandal..."

Chapter 1006: Being mentioned by name

Upon hearing this, Ye Wanwan looked up from her notebook at once.

Hm, I never imagined that my actions would one day appear in Professor Li's lessons...

It felt quite magical.

"Of course I know! That scandal was such a large commotion back then! I bet there's no one here who doesn't know, right?"

"Han Xianyu was truly wronged! Thank goodness the whole truth was revealed in the end!"

The students beneath the stage all started to talk.

Professor Li nodded. "Who will analyze this case?"

The girl named Yu Ya appeared to want to raise her hand, eager to give it a try.

However, Professor Li paused on the stage, and his gaze shot straight toward Ye Wanwan's direction, evidently noticing her.

When the birthday banquet was held, Li Yue lavished her with praise and nearly started a brawl with Zhou Qinggang, the board member of Imperial City University, while fighting over her.

Upon seeing that Ye Wanwan was attending his seminar, Li Yue was naturally very pleased. Hence, he said with a slight smile, "Oh, I seemed to have spotted Imperial Media's top entering student this year, Student Ye Wanwan!"

What? Ye Wanwan!

Upon hearing this name, every student present revealed an excited and astonished expression.

Ye Wanwan was the top scorer on the university entrance examination for liberal arts of her year in Imperial City. Imperial Media University and Imperial City University both fought over her violently, but Ye Wanwan chose Imperial Media in the end. All of Imperial Media University knew about this.

Unfortunately, after Ye Wanwan entered the university, neither head nor tail of her could be seen. Aside from appearing for every exam and some key subjects, she was rarely seen.

All everyone knew was that after entering the university, she continued receiving scholarships for being number one in her grade and she even applied for early graduation.

“Damn, that legendary female top student also came today?” The guy who flirted with Ye Wanwan earlier also became a bit excited, but he didn’t dare to be too obvious with his girlfriend by his side.

“I heard she’s super impressive! She doesn’t come to class but still gets number one in every subject!”

“Just who is it?”

Everyone in the hall instantly followed Li Yue’s line of sight.

Hearing herself being mentioned by name by Professor Li, Ye Wanwan hurriedly stood up from her seat.

Ay, I thought I would be called upon by Professor Li today. Good thing I came.

The guy noticed someone suddenly standing up next to him. It was the beautiful woman he suggestively hit on earlier! His face immediately froze.

She... She is...

Next to him, his girlfriend, who had been clinging onto his arm saccharinely, was also startled.

Why did this girl stand up?

“Professor Li!” Ye Wanwan greeted him after standing up.

Professor Li nodded a few times in succession. “Quite good, quite good. Well then, Student Ye Wanwan, how about you analyze it for us!”

Upon hearing Professor Li’s suggestion, the girlfriend’s face instantly turned ashen and filled with astonishment.

This... this girl is actually Ye Wanwan!

The multimedia hall erupted with discussion.

“Sh*t! That beauty who entered earlier is actually the legendary top student at our school, Ye Wanwan!”

This case was created by Ye Wanwan herself, so there was probably no one who understood it better than herself.

After Ye Wanwan stood up, she fluently analyzed the case study from start to end.

Everyone was originally suspicious that something was amiss, but after hearing her textbook answer, all doubts evaporated...

Chapter 1007: Give us some room for survival

After Ye Wanwan sat back down, the guy next to her felt like he was sitting on needles while the girl also didn’t look too good.

She actually called Ye Wanwan a barbie earlier and even said she was one of those girls who didn't ever attend class and relied on their beauty to live off rich men...

What actually happened was that she was the top student two well-known universities violently fought over and she applied for early graduation...

The students near them all witnessed her jealously fighting over her boyfriend earlier, so they were all currently pointing at her and laughing.

The girl couldn't sit any longer. She stood up with her books with a dreadful expression and tugged on her boyfriend. "Let's go! Why are you still foolishly sitting here?!"

"Oh..." The man also stood up while awkwardly scratching his head.

"Um, Classmate Ye, s-sorry..." the guy hastily said this and chased after his girlfriend.

The other students in the hall were all sighing.

"Even the attractiveness of a bookworm is so off the charts these days? How should us normal people get by?!"

"Give us some room for survival!"

"I originally thought she was someone from the nearby Imperial Films coming to freeload on the seminar!"

After the seminar ended, Li Yue pulled Ye Wanwan to the side and started chatting with her fervently.

"Wanwan, how have you been lately? I heard you don't come to school often. What are you busy with?" Li Yue asked with concern.

"Professor Li..."

"Ay, calling me Grandpa will do! No need to be so unfamiliar!" Li Yue said with feigned anger.

Ye Wanwan coughed lightly and helplessly corrected herself. "Grandpa Li, I've been interning at my brother's place lately."

Li Yue nodded while chuckling. "Pretty good, pretty good! No matter how much you learn, it won't compare to practical application! If that punk of mine was half as hard-working and responsible as you, I wouldn't be so worried!"

Upon hearing Professor Li's thread of conversation, Ye Wanwan suddenly discovered with alarm that something wasn't quite right...

As expected, she promptly heard Li Yue saying: "Wanwan, ah, when are you free to come to Grandpa Li's place for a meal? That punk of mine just happens to be coming home next month. I can have him take good care of you..."

Ye Wanwan was rendered speechless. "..."

While Professor Li was flawless at teaching, he was obviously not so adept at matchmaking! This is too stiff, isn't it...

Ye Wanwan replied. “Cough Um, I’m not too sure, I’ve been quite busy at the company lately...”

“Not a problem, not a problem. Your work and academics are more important; we can talk about it when you have time. That punk of mine just graduated, so he’s free any time!”

Ye Wanwan found it hard to continue the conversation, so she randomly made up some excuse and hastily retreated.

How sinful...

She merely made a trip to the school, but she was hit on one moment and matchmade the next moment...

There were simply landmines everywhere!

After finally throwing Li Yue off her tail with great difficulty and running out of the multimedia hall, Ye Wanwan’s phone started ringing.

The caller was Si Yehan.

“Hey...” Ye Wanwan’s voice sounded guilty for no reason.

It had only been a short period of time, but how many times had she broken the rules and “provoked” the opposite sex?

“It’s finished?” His deep voice came through the phone.

“Yes, just finished. Coming to your place now!”

“I’m at the entrance of your school. I’ll take you to get styled,” Si Yehan said.

“Oh, alright. I’ll head over now!” Ye Wanwan hung up the phone and sprinted toward the entrance to the school.

When Ye Wanwan approached the entrance, she could see a black car whose brand she couldn’t discern. It was parked there, low-profile. Si Yehan was waiting for her while leaning against the car door.

What was unfortunate was that as Ye Wanwan walked toward Si Yehan, several guys started hitting on her.

Chapter 1008: An epic level master pacifier

“Classmate Ye, let’s exchange our WeChat information and study together!”

“Classmate Ye, Classmate Ye, I’m also from the Advertising program! Are you interested in joining our club?”

“Classmate Ye, let me tell you about drama club...”

Brothers, please stop talking to me! My life is on the line!

Ye Wanwan quickly spoke up, "Sorry, sorry, my boyfriend is waiting for me! How about next time I'm free!"

"Hm? Boy-boyfriend?"

She actually has a boyfriend already!?

The guys who struck up a conversation were all shocked before quickly revealing incredibly disappointed expressions...

After Ye Wanwan narrowly escaped those people, she miserably ran toward Si Yehan.

Ye Wanwan was currently wearing a simple white dress and wasn't wearing any other accessories. However, her looks were simply too outstanding. Her skin was fair like snow, her features were as pretty as a picture, and the slightly upturned corners of her eyes were like peach blossoms...

Si Yehan was well aware of the type of look all those men had when they surrounded her and looked at her.

They were coveting his prized possession.

"Let's go, let's go. Did you wait a long time?" Ye Wanwan asked as she observed his expression.

"Just arrived." Si Yehan opened the car door. His mood couldn't be discerned from his face.

After getting in the car, Si Yehan told the driver, Xu Yi: "Go to the shopping center first."

"Yes, 9th Master." Xu Yi started the engine, not daring to breathe.

What a tragedy! If I had known, I would've driven slower! Who could've known we would run into Miss Wanwan being hit on by a group of men...

"It's still early. We'll go buy some clothes first then get you styled," Si Yehan said as he read a finance and economics magazine, as though nothing happened earlier.

Ye Wanwan looked at her fingers while also peering at his expressionless profile. She cautiously probed, "Um, Ah-Jiu, are you angry?"

Si Yehan carelessly stroked his fingers and coolly glanced at her. "Why would I be angry?"

Si Yehan purposefully played ignorant and pretended nothing happened.

However, only he knew the truth.

She probably underestimated how ugly that beast inside of him was...

A single extra glance at her and he would treat others like competition. To say nothing of using that type of gaze to look at her and speak to her right in front of him...

He naturally knew how vile, how selfish, and how unbearable his own thoughts were...

His nearly perverted possessiveness actually hadn't changed at all from the beginning until now.

He simply didn't want to alarm her. He simply was too greedy for her smile, so he learned to conceal himself little by little.

No matter how calm and aloof he looked on the surface, his insides were extremely rotten...

Ye Wanwan secretly assessed Si Yehan. In truth, Si Yehan's temper really kept improving these days...

If it weren't for the fact that she could instinctively sense his mood after knowing him for so long, she might've really been deceived by him.

After hearing Si Yehan's response, Ye Wanwan immediately said without hesitation, righteously indignant, "You aren't angry? You aren't angry, but I'm angry!"

Then she pointed at her neck and fiercely urged him, "Quick, quick, quick!"

Si Yehan's brows knitted slightly, not understanding her intentions. "What?"

Ye Wanwan anxiously said, "Quickly stamp me! There's always someone coveting your darling! So infuriating!"

Si Yehan was startled at first and looked at her fair neck inattentively. Then the feigned indifference and calmness on his face melted little by little. It was like a small flower blossomed from the ashes of his dead and decayed insides...

Xu Yi, who was driving in the front: "..."

Miss Wanwan's pacifying methods... I could write an epic about them...

Chapter 1009: Very willing to fulfill

Ye Wanwan had zero problems with calling herself Si Yehan's little darling. She boldly and confidently urged him, "Hurry, hurry..."

Seeing her animated face, a fire flared up from the bottom of Si Yehan's glacial eyes. His gaze lingered on her fair and graceful neck. Then his fingers gently caressed the side of her face and he slowly got closer with downcast eyes. "That's unnecessary... but..."

As he said that, he gently ran his lips over the side of her neck. His warm lips sucked her exquisite skin...

But he was very willing to fulfill this request...

Look away from indecency!

In the front, Xu Yi quickly raised the divider in the middle to avoid overeating...

...

The black car slowly drove away from the school.

The current Ye Wanwan had no idea Han Xianyu was stopped on the street across from Imperial Media University since who knew when and was intently watching the direction they left in. His face was exceptionally foul-looking.

“Xianyu, what is it?” Fei Yang, Han Xianyu’s manager, asked suspiciously.

Just now, Han Xianyu was about to leave after finishing the shooting, but he suddenly stopped when the car drove away from the school.

Currently, Han Xianyu’s expression was shifting unpredictably.

He just saw Ye Bai’s boyfriend at the entrance of the school picking up a female student and getting into the car with her...

The two of them hadn’t had any indecent interactions, and he only saw the man opening the car door for the girl.

Maybe they were merely friends or relatives...?

Thinking that, Han Xianyu originally planned to leave but he felt uneasy, so he ended up saying, “Brother Yang, please follow that black car up ahead.”

“Huh? Follow that car for what?” Fei Yang didn’t understand.

“Don’t ask, just do it quickly!”

“Oh, alright then...”

Fei Yang understood Han Xianyu well and knew he wasn’t the type of person to act recklessly, so he must’ve said that for a reason. Hence, he hurriedly did as he was told and started the engine to follow the car.

At the largest luxury goods shopping center in Imperial City.

Han Xianyu followed them until they reached the underground parking lot of Parkson Plaza. There were a lot of cars, so his tailing didn’t elicit the other party’s attention.

“Hey, Xianyu, just who’s inside that car ahead? Why are we following them?” Fei Yang was completely baffled and didn’t understand why Han Xianyu started acting like paparazzi.

Han Xianyu didn’t respond. He was intently focused on the car ahead of them.

He saw the two people inside the car getting out together. This time, the girl was hugging the man’s arm, and their unusual relationship became apparent.

Quickly, the man and girl walked toward the elevator and rode the elevator to the shopping center.

When Han Xianyu saw that man with another woman at the theater last time, he already felt something was amiss. However, Ye Bai explained she was a woman he knew before they were in a relationship, so he didn’t say anything more.

However, what was going on this time?

Could that man be deceiving Ye Bai and secretly maintaining contact with that woman?

Ye Bai liked him so much and was even willing to ignore the pressure of societal norms...

The more Han Xianyu thought about it, the angrier he got. Without any further thoughts, he picked up the mask and sunglasses next to him and swiftly opened the door, following them.

He had to confirm this. It'd be best if it was a misunderstanding, but if it wasn't...

Fei Yang was terrified when he saw his actions. "Hey, Xianyu! What are you doing?! Are you crazy?"

Han Xianyu was a public figure. If he appeared in such a public place and was recognized, it would certainly cause chaos...

"Brother Yang, I'll be fine!" The typically rational Han Xianyu didn't pay attention to Fei Yang's advice this time.

Chapter 1010: Why do I feel like you're catching your partner cheating?

To prevent being recognized by fans, Han Xianyu couldn't walk around freely. He had to find an upper-level terrace with a broad view and watch from there.

Although he had to watch from a distance and couldn't follow them, he could see the duo's interactions clearly.

Si Yehan and Ye Wanwan were acting like a couple in their honeymoon phase.

Because the couple had more than enough time, they started wandering through the shopping center and bought some snacks from the food stalls now and then. They fed each other, bite by bite.

When they finished strolling around, Ye Wanwan went with Si Yehan to pick up her gown from the place he reserved it.

Fei Yang watched as the man and woman, who Han Xianyu was tracking, entered a certain famous private styling club. He looked at the couple then at Han Xianyu, whose expression was concealed under his sunglasses and mask, with a face of terror. "Xianyu... why do I feel like you're catching your partner cheating? Could it be that you like that girl? Sh*t! Xianyu, you couldn't have started a relationship without telling me, right?"

Han Xianyu stared at the store and replied offhandedly, "I didn't."

"Oh... that's good... that's good... You gave me a scare... If you do enter a relationship, you must tell me beforehand... I won't be able to handle it properly otherwise..." Fei Yang patted his chest with fear. "But if you aren't catching your partner cheating, what's going on?"

Han Xianyu didn't say anything. His mind was a mess.

The only thought dominating his mind was: If this is true, what should I do... how should I tell Ye Bai...

However, he retained a tinge of wishful thinking. Perhaps that girl was his relative, like a younger sister or something...?

SPE Styling Club:

Guan Xiaohe, a woman in her 30s wearing the most fashionable clothes who was the top stylist there, had already been waiting for a long time. The store manager, Zuo Shangjing, also rushed back from abroad and made a rare appearance. They had closed the store for today.

After all, a person like Si Yehan couldn't be seen by ordinary people, but to their surprise, he was coming to their store personally. Hence, they had to prudently receive him today.

Originally, the store manager, Zuo Shangjing, was going to personally style the guest today. However... Si Yehan's assistant specifically requested a female stylist, so this job fell onto Guan Xiaohe's shoulders.

"Special Assistant Xu, may I ask when Chairman Si is arriving?" Zuo Shangjing inquired.

Xu Yi naturally wouldn't be a third wheel, so he came straight to the store and waited there. When he heard Zuo Shangjing, he answered, "Ninth Master is shopping with his girlfriend, but he should be arriving soon."

Zuo Shangjing, Guan Xiaohe, and the other stylists in the store were all surprised, as though they never expected a great character like Si Yehan to personally go shopping with his girlfriend.

As the appointment time drew closer, footsteps were heard outside the door, and a couple entered the store.

The girl possessed skin fairer than snow and extremely gorgeous looks while the man was extraordinarily handsome and had an impressive presence.

However, the girl was dressed leisurely and had an ice cream cone in one hand and a cup of milk tea in the other hand whereas the man was helping her carry a plethora of bags that contained snacks and clothes...

"Excuse me, Miss and Mister, our store isn't..."

"Our store isn't open today" is what Guan Xiaohe wanted to tell them, when she unexpectedly saw Xu Yi standing up and swiftly welcoming the ordinary couple.

"Ninth Master, the formal clothes are ready, and the stylist has arrived."

When Guan Xiaohe and the other people heard Xu Yi talking, they were all stunned. They never would've expected this couple to be Si Yehan and his girlfriend.

They thought Si Yehan's arrival would be accompanied by an entourage. Who could've guessed he would be so down to earth and even help his girlfriend carry her bags and snacks...
