

Little Sweet 1331

Chapter 1331: Really plan to take them in?

“Yeah...” Ye Wanwan didn’t know what Liuying was doing, but her only option in this situation was to nod and go along with him.

“Heh... What fond memories...” Liuying smiled faintly. “Back then, President single-handedly eliminated an evil power in China... We happened to offend that evil power and were coincidentally saved by President...”

The five-member mercenary group was startled. When were we ever abducted by an evil power?

“President, my name is Liuying. Do you still remember us after all these years...” Liuying asked with a chuckle.

Ye Wanwan put on an act and pretended to contemplate it for a moment before saying, “Now that you mention it, it does ring a bell...”

“Unfortunately, President rejected us when we wanted to follow President... You told us that you’d think about taking us in if we could get to the Independent State ... President, we went through a profuse amount of trials and hardships, but we finally caught up to you and arrived in the Independent State,” Liuying said.

Old Jiang from the five-member mercenary group was the first to regain his senses. He didn’t know why Liuying and Master were saying this, but they wouldn’t go wrong by following Liuying’s story!

“President... We want to follow you...” Old Jiang added hastily.

“Ah, you’re truly persistent. However, my Fearless Alliance doesn’t allow just anyone to enter... Moreover, you’re outsiders... Outsiders... need to die,” Big Dipper said with a sneer while looking at Liuying and his group.

“Wait,” Seven Star interjected suddenly. “Didn’t you say you belonged to the Rose of Death earlier. Isn’t that inconsistent with your current explanation?”

“Um...” Old Jiang’s brows furrowed.

“That was a little trick of ours,” Liuying said. “What kind of behemoth is the Fearless Alliance? If small fry like us came to the Fearless Alliance and clamored to see Bro Flattop of the Fearless Alliance, you would probably kick us out immediately, right?”

Liuying continued as he looked at Seven Star, “However, if we said we were members of the Rose of Death, a faction like that would probably alarm the President... As the result shows, we achieved our objective, didn’t we?”

Seven Star sunk into silence, his eyes assessing Liuying.

“You’ve gone through a lot of trouble to enter the Fearless Alliance,” Ye Wanwan told Liuying and the five-member mercenary group.

“That’s right... Mas—President, we really want to follow you,” Little Lolita said pitifully.

“Sis Feng, they’re outsiders. According to the traditional rules established by the Martial Arts Union...” Seven Star turned to Ye Wanwan.

“What? Do I need you to tell me what to do?” Ye Wanwan questioned him coldly.

“It’s Sis Feng’s own decision, of course.” Seven Star retreated to the side and didn’t say anything else.

“Big Dipper, bring them to my office,” Ye Wanwan instructed Big Dipper before leaving.

...

After Ye Wanwan returned to the office, her face was ashen, and her heart was pounding madly.

It had to be said that there were truly too many risks today. What kind of trouble was Liuying cooking up this time?

She originally thought Liuying would expose her identity. To her surprise, Liuying actually helped her instead.

However, what puzzled Ye Wanwan was why the five-member mercenary group was with Liuying. Additionally, all six of them came to the Independent State and knew she was in the Fearless Alliance...

“Sis Feng, you don’t really plan to take those outsiders in, right?” Big Dipper opened the door and entered at that time.

“Where are they?” Ye Wanwan asked.

“They’re outside the door. I didn’t let them enter,” Big Dipper replied.

Chapter 1332: Life’s like a play and completely relies on one’s acting skills

Big Dipper thought for a moment before sincerely saying, “Sis Feng, I heard that the Martial Arts Union is about to make trouble for you.”

“Oh?” Ye Wanwan was startled. She didn’t do anything—why would the Martial Arts Union come to make trouble for her?

“We don’t know why yet... But getting the Martial Arts Union’s attention definitely isn’t good... The rules of the Independent State prohibit the entry of outsiders. If you take in those people, I’m afraid it won’t end well,” Big Dipper replied.

Ye Wanwan naturally knew the Independent State’s rules, but didn’t Bro Flattop of the Fearless Alliance always ignore the rules?

“Also... Sis Feng, those six people might be decent in the outside world... But they’re trash in the Independent State... especially our Fearless Alliance. What can they do? They’re a waste of rice!” Big Dipper kept trying to persuade Ye Wanwan.

Ye Wanwan didn’t refute Big Dipper’s words.

It wasn't until arriving in the Independent State that Ye Wanwan truly understood the saying: "However strong you are, there's always someone stronger."

For example, Liuying was the head captain of the Si family's hidden guards in China, so he was quite capable. But that was only in China; his strength was utterly insignificant in the Independent State.

"Take your leave first and let them enter," Ye Wanwan told Big Dipper.

"Hold on... Sis Feng, there's something else. Wen Ziran is about to come back..." Big Dipper said hesitantly.

"Wen Ziran..." Surprise rose in Ye Wanwan's heart.

After entering the Fearless Alliance, Ye Wanwan crammed information about all of Bro Flattop's interpersonal relationships, so she had heard about Wen Ziran.

Wen Ziran was Bro Flattop's sworn elder brother...

Rumors said he was an utter lunatic and degenerate. His ill reputation rang far in the Independent State.

Based on Ye Wanwan's understanding, Wen Ziran and Bro Flattop, Bai Feng, had an extremely good relationship and were close like a biological brother and sister. After Bro Flattop went missing, he caused a series of commotions but didn't obtain any information about Bro Flattop.

"I got it." Ye Wanwan nodded.

Another person greatly familiar with Bro Flattop and also someone not to be trifled with...

Ye Wanwan sighed inwardly. Life was really like a play and completely relied on one's acting skills. If this continued, she would get an Oscar soon!

Now though, she could only think of an impromptu solution whenever a challenge arose. No matter who Wen Ziran was, she had no choice but to keep acting.

Shortly after, Big Dipper turned around and left the office.

A moment later, the five-member mercenary group and Liuying slowly entered the office.

"Lock the door." Ye Wanwan told Bearded Man.

Bearded Man quickly locked the office's door from the inside.

"Master... what's going on?" Little Lolita looked at Ye Wanwan with confusion written all over her face.

Why did Master pretend to be unfamiliar with us earlier... Also, how did Master turn into the president of the Fearless Alliance?

"Let me ask you first," Ye Wanwan asked the mercenary group, "How did you come to the Independent State and how did you know I was in the Fearless Alliance?"

"Uh... Emperor Ji told us," Little Lolita answered honestly.

"Ji Xiuran?" Ye Wanwan was startled by Little Lolita's answer.

“We were brought here by Emperor Ji’s people from China...” Old Jiang explained.

“Emperor Ji also told us... you were in the Fearless Alliance, Master, so we came here,” Little Lolita said.

Ye Wanwan frowned deeply as she sunk into contemplation.

Chapter 1333: Realization

Ji Xiuran ordered people to go to China and brought the five-member mercenary group back to the Independent State, meaning Ji Xiuran knew her true identity already. Ye Wanwan recalled Ji Xiuran’s self-introduction to her that day...

Ye Wanwan was confident Ji Xiuran definitely knew she wasn’t the president of the Fearless Alliance, Bro Flattop.

However, what Ye Wanwan didn’t understand was why Ji Xiuran didn’t expose her if he knew her identity.

“Why did he follow along?” Ye Wanwan turned to Liuying.

“I don’t know...” Old Jiang shook his head. They were unfamiliar with Liuying and didn’t know how Liuying was brought to the Independent State.

“Long time no see...” A bitter smile surfaced on Liuying’s face as he looked at Ye Wanwan.

Back then, after Si Mingli and Qin Ruoxi gained control of the Si family, Liuying believed Qin Ruoxi betrayed Si Yehan, so he snuck into Qin Ruoxi’s room in the middle of the night to assassinate Qin Ruoxi. Unfortunately, Qin Ruoxi wasn’t at the Si residence that night, and he was caught by Emperor Ji’s subordinate, Duan Fei, and was brought here.

Ye Wanwan was pensive when she heard Liuying’s explanation.

In other words, Duan Fei wanted to abduct Qin Ruoxi and bring her to the Independent State, but Qin Ruoxi wasn’t in her room and Duan Fei coincidentally ran into Liuying, who went to assassinate Qin Ruoxi... A series of incidents later, Liuying was brought here.

Ye Wanwan still couldn’t comprehend Ji Xiuran’s intentions. Why did he bring people with a connection to her to the Independent State... What did he plan to do?

“Old Jiang, wait outside the door with them. I have something to say to Liuying.” Ye Wanwan turned to Old Jiang.

Old Jiang nodded and led Little Lolita and the others outside.

Only Ye Wanwan and Liuying remained in the office.

“Is there news about... Si Yehan...?” Ye Wanwan asked.

Liuying shook his head. “Not long after Ninth Master disappeared, Qin Ruoxi and Si Mingli took control of the Si family... and I left the Si family. However, I’m in Ninth Master’s debt. I just wanted to kill Qin Ruoxi for her actions as final payment toward the Si family and Ninth Master. After that, anything that happens to the Si family will be none of my business.”

Ye Wanwan had never doubted Liuying’s loyalty toward Si Yehan and the Si family. Liuying was merely a bit blindly loyal.

“Miss Wanwan... I’m very sorry... for the past events...” Liuying mocked himself. “I always thought you had an ulterior motive for staying with Ninth Master. However, I was too stupid. The one with an ulterior motive wasn’t Miss Wanwan—it was Qin Ruoxi.”

Guilt toward Ye Wanwan lingered in Liuying’s heart. After Qin Ruoxi took control of the Si family, he not only realized Qin Ruoxi’s true personality but also his own stupidity.

“Let’s forget about the past for now... Earlier, you...” Ye Wanwan looked slightly perplexed.

Liuying smiled. “Are you talking about how you’re pretending to be the president of the Fearless Alliance?”

“I learned from Old Jiang that you claimed to be the Rose of Death’s leader, Black Widow... but Rose of Death hasn’t appeared for many years and its leader probably isn’t Miss Wanwan’s age. Hence, I surmised that Miss Wanwan was pretending...”

“Then I saw Miss Wanwan again in the Fearless Alliance, and those people called Miss Wanwan ‘President’. I thought maybe Miss Wanwan was pretending to be the president of the Fearless Alliance this time...”

Chapter 1334: Your pet as well

“And Seven Star clearly didn’t believe Miss Wanwan’s identity, so I naturally knew what to say,” Liuying explained.

Ye Wanwan nodded. It had to be said that Liuying might be stupidly loyal and often acted ignorantly in the Si family, he was actually an intelligent person.

This time, if it weren’t for Liuying, she and the five-member mercenary group would’ve been in big trouble.

“Miss Wanwan... You’re now the president of the Fearless Alliance, please give me another chance... I don’t want to return to China.” Liuying suddenly half knelt down next to Ye Wanwan.

Ye Wanwan was contemplative when she heard that.

If she allowed Liuying to stay, she didn’t need to worry about Liuying exposing her identity.

Based on her understanding of Liuying, Liuying wouldn’t betray anyone who he swore his loyalty and fealty to. If Liuying wanted to harm her, he wouldn’t have rescued her earlier.

If she allowed Liuying to stay, it would be advantageous to make him responsible for searching for Si Yehan in the Independent State.

Ye Wanwan made a decision after a moment of thought. She nodded and said, "First, find a place to rest with Old Jiang and the others. I have a plan for this. Remember, don't let Old Jiang and the others mention the Rose of Death again or call me Master."

"Thank you, Miss Wanwan... I understand what to do." Gratitude surfaced in Liuying's eyes.

Liuying soon got up and left.

After Liuying left, the black panther, Virus, slowly strolled into the office and silently sat down next to Ye Wanwan. His eyes, akin to brass bells, glanced at Ye Wanwan occasionally.

Ye Wanwan didn't hold any fear toward Virus anymore.

She knelt down next to Virus and scratched his chin.

Virus leaned his head against Ye Wanwan's arm with pleasure, causing it to sink instantly. Ahem, this head truly wasn't a lightweight...

"President!"

An elderly man suddenly burst into the office in haste.

"ROAR!"

Virus's terrifying eyes turned to the elderly man instantly, and a roar escaped his mouth.

"Little Black, behave," Ye Wanwan quickly pacified Virus.

Virus immediately narrowed his eyes. Ye Wanwan's comforting words were evidently very effective.

Only then did the elderly man speak. "President... Um, Emperor Ji is here... He's specifically looking for you. Do you want to let him inside?"

The only one in the Fearless Alliance who knew their president was Emperor Ji's fiancée was Autumn Water. No one else was in the know.

Hence, it was normal for this elderly man to be on high alert upon Emperor Ji's arrival.

"No need to panic. Bring Emperor Ji here," Ye Wanwan said with a frown. Perfect timing. She just wanted to ask Ji Xiuran why he brought the five-member mercenary group to the Independent State.

The elderly man naturally wouldn't second guess his president's decision, so he turned and left.

A moment later, Ji Xiuran appeared in Ye Wanwan's line of sight with a faint smile on his lips.

Before Ye Wanwan could say anything, she saw an enormous white tiger following behind Emperor Ji.

This... this white tiger was familiar to Ye Wanwan. Isn't this Great White?

Great White naturally walked to Ye Wanwan and evaluated her with mixed feelings in his eyes.

Virus stood up, an inexplicable vicious glint surfacing in his eyes when he saw Great White next to Ye Wanwan.

"This white tiger is probably your pet as well," Ji Xiuran said to Ye Wanwan with a light chuckle.

"You know..." Ye Wanwan frowned.

Ye Wanwan surmised Ji Xiuran probably discovered everything already.

Chapter 1335: Why the heck are we getting married?!

"Know... know what?" Ji Xiuran stated with a dry smile, "While you were gone from the Independent State, it turns out you went to China... That place is rather nice... I was afraid you would get lonely, so I brought some of your friends from China here. You aren't angry, right?"

Ye Wanwan was startled.

Could it be that Ji Xiuran didn't investigate my identity but simply investigated the places I went and the people I befriended?

Then Emperor Ji brought the five-member mercenary group and Liuying to the Independent State just to fend off my boredom...? What kind of mad logic is this?

Of course, Ye Wanwan wasn't dumb. Since Emperor Ji didn't raise doubts about her identity, Ye Wanwan wouldn't seek trouble for no reason or say anything that might expose herself.

"Oh right..." Emperor Ji looked at Ye Wanwan. "Are you close to the Si family of China?"

"Eh... we're alright. I had some interactions with the Si family in China..."

"Oh? Only some interactions?" Emperor Ji's lips turned up with an inexplicable smile.

"Yes..." Ye Wanwan nodded with conviction.

"That's fine. I was just asking... I heard that the patriarch of the Si family disappeared... He should be your friend, right? How about I help you look for him?"

"Huh... Look for him?" Out of fear, sweat drenched Ye Wanwan.

Things really couldn't be explained if he was found!

"No need... I've greatly troubled you already... I can find him myself." Ye Wanwan forced herself to be calm and smiled placidly.

"I was just joking with you." Ji Xiuran smiled faintly. "The Fearless Alliance has changed in the years you were gone. There are a lot of side factions. You should be able to use the people I brought to the Independent State. You should feel more at ease with a few confidants by your side."

"Thank you so much..." Ye Wanwan said.

Everything would be fine as long as Emperor Ji didn't doubt her identity...

“You seem to be quite nervous every time you see me.” Ji Xiuran walked closer to Ye Wanwan. The smile that lingered on his lips made her feel like a spring breeze had washed over her.

However, Ye Wanwan wasn't in the mood to admire this handsome man's good looks. How could she not be nervous? She was pretending to be Emperor Ji's fiancée. Everything would go to hell if she made any mistakes...

“I'm your fiancée. Why would I be nervous around you?” Ye Wanwan steadied her mind and asked with a chuckle as she met Ji Xiuran's long and narrow, witty eyes.

“Oh... is that so?” Ji Xiuran said.

“Why else?” Ye Wanwan feigned calmness.

“Hm... You're right.” Ji Xiuran nodded. “Then I think it's about time for us to get married. What do you think?”

Why can't we keep being an engaged couple?! Why the heck are we getting married?!

“I haven't been back in the Independent State for that long... You should know about the situation with the Fearless Alliance. There's a lot of business that requires my attention. I also need to stabilize the Fearless Alliance's internal affairs. Let's postpone it...” Ye Wanwan said placidly after pretending to think for a moment.

Ji Xiuran chuckled lightly. “I was merely joking with you. I also don't plan on getting married.”

Ye Wanwan's eyes brightened.

Ji Xiuran doesn't plan on getting married?!

This is freaking wonderful!!!

If that's true, then I can act more realistically!

“What did you say?!” Ye Wanwan's face chilled instantly. “You don't plan on getting married? What do you mean? We're engaged. Do you plan to keep being my fiancé? For your whole life?”

If it's Ji Xiuran himself who doesn't want to get married, it has nothing to do with me~

Chapter 1336: Be good, don't be angry!

When Ji Xiuran heard that, he looked at Ye Wanwan with amusement, indulgence surfacing in his eyes.

“That's more like you...”

“Xiao Feng, I wanted to ask you a question,” Ji Xiuran quietly said.

“What question?” Ye Wanwan replied.

“Were you happy all these years?”

Ye Wanwan turned silent. What does Ji Xiuran mean...

“I’ve been fine...” Ye Wanwan answered after a moment of thought.

“You don’t need to answer my question right now. Tell me later. I have something to do, so I’ll take my leave now.” Ji Xiuran turned to leave.

Anyway, it was good she somehow made her way through!

Ye Wanwan immediately turned around and looked at Great White with a joyous expression. She never would’ve imagined she would see Great White in the Independent State.

Before Ye Wanwan could walk toward Great White, Virus intercepted her path and blocked Ye Wanwan behind him.

Virus seemed a bit agitated and kept growling at Great White lowly occasionally as though in warning.

However, Great White merely peered at Virus from the corner of his eye, as though deeming it below himself to pay attention to Virus.

“ROAR!”

Before Ye Wanwan could react, Virus released a low and powerful roar and walked toward Great White, using his paw to slap Great White a few times, seemingly testing something.

Ye Wanwan was dumbfounded. Virus didn’t want to attack Great White, right...

Don’t humiliate yourself! A panther was merely a panther after all, how could he compare to a tiger... especially a haughty tiger like Great White?

After continuous provocation from Virus, Great White finally stood up slowly, his bone-chilling eyes turning to Virus, a low warning growl coming from his mouth.

“D*mn...” Sweat covered Ye Wanwan’s body. These two ancestors weren’t planning to fight, right...?

Ye Wanwan didn’t mind a fight between people since she could just pull them apart. If two ferocious beasts started fighting though, how would she pull them apart and who would dare to do that?

“Great White, be good... Don’t be angry...” Ye Wanwan hastily soothed him as she turned to Great White.

However, what Ye Wanwan didn’t expect was that her pacification ignited Virus’ fury in an instant.

Faster than Ye Wanwan could react, Virus transformed into a black shadow and pounced at Great White.

In the blink of an eye, Virus and Great White rolled into a tumble and started fighting.

Inside the office, the growls and furious roars of wild animals rang out ceaselessly.

Ye Wanwan stood in her spot and facepalmed when she saw the fight. What kind of sin did she commit...

“Sis Feng, what happened?!”

Big Dipper rushed in all of a sudden.

Big Dipper didn’t need Ye Wanwan’s answer and could see the situation for himself as soon as he stepped into the office.

“Ah... This white tiger is strong. It can actually hold its own against Virus...” Big Dipper nodded reflexively as he watched the animals fighting from the sideline.

“Separate them!” Ye Wanwan ordered Big Dipper.

Big Dipper froze in his spot upon hearing that and turned to Ye Wanwan in disbelief. “Sis Feng... you aren’t serious, right...? You’re telling me to separate two fierce beasts in a fight?!”

If he really did that, Virus and that white tiger would probably rip him apart...

Chapter 1337: No thanks, I’m uninterested

Ye Wanwan didn’t think too deeply and swiftly shot forward, hugging Virus.

Virus roared but abruptly calmed down when his vicious eyes saw Ye Wanwan.

“Great White!”

Ye Wanwan hugged Virus with one arm and hugged Great White with her other arm.

Big Dipper was flabbergasted by this scene and automatically gave Ye Wanwan a thumbs up. “A-awesome... Sis Feng, I don’t admire walls, but I admire you...”

Ye Wanwan tuned Big Dipper out and kept comforting Great White and Virus as she knelt next to him.

These two ancestors’ astrological signs probably didn’t match. They started ripping each other apart the instant they met without even a greeting.

“Little Black, be good. Great White just came here, so don’t bully Great White,” Ye Wanwan meaningfully lectured as she ran her hands over Virus’s ink-like fur again and again.

“Haha... Sis Feng, you sound like you’re disciplining your son!” Big Dipper guffawed loudly. “Virus has been with you in the Fearless Alliance since he was young, so this place is basically his territory. A fierce beast like him is extremely intelligent and also has a very strong territorial sense... so it’s normal that they would fight...”

“Do I need you to tell me?” Ye Wanwan glanced at Big Dipper. This buffoon lacked a brain, right? He had the guts to explain something that was common sense?

Any wild beast has an extremely intense sense of territory, alright? Who hasn’t raised a few wild beasts before...

“Sis Feng, I heard... It was Emperor Ji who brought this white tiger here...? What’s the deal?” Big Dipper asked Ye Wanwan curiously.

“It’s a white tiger I adopted after leaving the Fearless Alliance. I asked Emperor Ji to help me find him last time.” Ye Wanwan found a random excuse.

Big Dipper was briefly startled and was filled with admiration. “You truly deserve to be my Sis Feng... You can raise two beasts anywhere you go... Oh right, Sis Feng, my friend raised a bear. Are you interested? If Sis Feng is interested, I can tell my friend to give his bear to you.”

“...”?No thanks, I’m not interested!

“If you’re truly bored out of your mind, then get your a over here and help me look after them,” Ye Wanwan said coldly.

“Uh... Sis Feng, I suddenly remembered I have something to do... I’ll talk to you later...” Big Dipper dashed out of Ye Wanwan’s office as soon as he finished speaking.

After a while, Great White and Virus continued to stare at each other with an intense hostility in each other’s eyes. If it weren’t for Ye Wanwan’s continual pacification, Great White and Virus probably wouldn’t relent until one survivor remained.

It had to be said that Virus’ fighting capability caused Ye Wanwan to develop a whole new level of respect for him.

Great White was a big-sized feline while Virus was medium-sized feline. One was a tiger and one was a panther, yet they still fought each other on even grounds...

“Be good, Little Black. Be good, Great White... Come on, shake paws. You’re good friends from now on.” Ye Wanwan grabbed Virus and Great White’s paws and smacked them together.

However, Virus released a dangerous growl while Great White coldly looked at Virus.

“...”?Their astrological signs truly don’t match...

“President!”

An impeccably dressed, middle-aged man entered Ye Wanwan’s office with large strides.

“Speak,” Ye Wanwan said.

“President... there are people from the Martial Arts Union who want to see you,” the middle-aged man replied with a frenzied expression.

“Martial Arts Union...”

Ye Wanwan frowned lightly when she heard that.

Chapter 1338: Truly became a professional scapegoat

Big Dipper mentioned to Ye Wanwan earlier that the Martial Arts Union would seek trouble from her.

However, after coming to the Independent State and entering the Fearless Alliance, she followed the rules rather well and didn't do anything inappropriate. As the official power of the Independent State, why was the Martial Arts Union looking to make trouble for her?

'Could it be that Bro Flattop did something that offended the Martial Arts Union... and now the Martial Arts Union is adding the payback to my tab?' Ye Wanwan thought. 'If that's true, then I truly became a professional scapegoat!'

"I know. Come here and help me look after these two." Ye Wanwan slowly stood up but didn't look away from Virus and Great White, afraid that these two ancestors would start fighting as soon as she looked away.

Virus had no regard for his life at all when he fought, and Great White might not like to instigate trouble, but he wasn't afraid of trouble either... If Virus wanted to fight to the death with him, Great White would only comply...

"Ah... Virus... Pres—um..." The man in a suit's expression instantly shifted when he heard that and sweat soaked his forehead. "President, you know Virus' personality best. He's too aggressive and powerful... and only listens to you in the entire Fearless Alliance. How could I watch over them..."

What made the suited man most speechless was that his president not only raised Virus but also obtained a white tiger. If these two beasts started fighting, who could suppress them?

Moreover, what would he do if these two wild beasts didn't fight each other and wanted to tear him apart instead?

"Do as I say, stop blabbering," Ye Wanwan ordered coldly.

"Alright..." Helpless, the suited man was forced to nod in agreement. He stood as far from the two animals as he could.

"Don't let them start fighting. You'll be responsible if anything happens to them," Ye Wanwan added.

"Um... President, if they really start fighting and I can't hold them back, what should I do?" the suited man asked when he saw Ye Wanwan leaving.

"Then come find me ASAP."

Ye Wanwan left the office after saying that.

The conference room on the fifth floor:

An elderly man and several young men and women had been waiting inside the conference room for a long time.

The leader was around 60 years old. He wasn't young, but he looked full of energy and didn't appear old at all.

The young people standing next to the elderly man all had their hands behind their backs with aloof expressions and an extraordinary aura.

Soon, Ye Wanwan entered the conference room, accompanied by Big Dipper and Seven Star.

Big Dipper announced while looking at the elderly man.

The elderly man, Elder Jin, lightly nodded upon hearing that but merely glanced at Ye Wanwan without any intention of speaking.

At Elder Jin’s signal, a young man in black sneered and said, “We’ve heard your name for a long time. What an honor to meet you today. Unfortunately, this meeting doesn’t live up to your reputation.”

Big Dipper’s brows furrowed slightly, but Ye Wanwan was there, so there wasn’t room for him to talk.

Ye Wanwan’s lips turned up into a bewitching smile. What a high and mighty front the Martial Arts Union had. They wanted to take her a notch down as soon as they met.

Ye Wanwan naturally didn’t hold any fear toward the Martial Arts Union since she wasn’t the actual president of the Fearless Alliance...

Chapter 1339: Tell her who I am!

Ye Wanwan coldly looked at the man in black. “Who the hell are you? Who said you could talk here?!”

“You...” The man in black’s expression changed.

“Heh... The Martial Arts Union, huh? How ridiculous.” Ye Wanwan looked at Elder Jin and said, “Your Martial Arts Union represents the official power of the Independent State. Don’t merely focus on minding external business; you should remember to also improve the quality of your internal departments. The Martial Arts Union strays seriously lack etiquette.”

Ye Wanwan might be talking with a poisonous tongue, but she was helpless inside. She also didn’t want to insult the Martial Arts Union, alright?

Big Dipper could be ignored, but Seven Star was next to her and watching her every move. She was forced to insult them...

At that time, the Martial Arts Union could blame the true president of the Fearless Alliance if they wanted...

“Bai Feng, who the hell are you? How dare you speak so rudely to the Martial Arts Union? Even Asura from back then wouldn’t do that, let alone you! Bai Feng, I’m telling you, put away the front you’re showing to the outside. You acting arrogantly and fearlessly is an utter joke to us!” a sweet-looking woman harshly shouted out of nowhere.

“Who the hell am I?” Ye Wanwan snorted and dryly said, “Seven Star, tell her who I am!”

“The president of the Fearless Alliance,” Seven Star replied.

Ye Wanwan nodded and slowly walked to the sweet-looking woman. Before anyone could react, she lifted her hand and mercilessly slapped the woman’s face.

Slap!

The crisp sound took everyone by surprise.

There were quite a few junior and senior management members from the Fearless Alliance inside the conference room. When they saw their president slapping a member of the Martial Arts Union without demur, they seriously jumped in fright.

However, this wasn’t a surprise. It would be reasonable even if the president suddenly drew out a saber and hacked that woman to death, let alone a mere slap. This was the president’s modus operandi indeed...

“You... you...” The sweet-looking woman clutched the left side of her face, frightening malice surfacing in her eyes.

“Who the hell are you? You’re bringing out Asura and Lord Asura to frighten me? When I led the siege on Asura back then, who knew where you were—were you playing with mud?! Get out of my sight!” Ye Wanwan shouted coldly.

Ye Wanwan turned to Seven Star before the woman could react. “Throw her out!”

Seven Star briskly complied and wordlessly approached the woman. He grabbed her by the lapels and forcefully flung her out of the conference room.

A loud “boom” was heard as the woman crashed onto the floor outside.

“President Bai, you’re too insolent!”

Several members of the Martial Arts Union coldly shouted immediately.

“Insolent?” Ye Wanwan snorted. “This is the headquarters of the Fearless Alliance... Even the heads of the four great clans would have to speak to me nicely if they came here, let alone clowns like you.”

“Remember, I don’t care whether you can call the wind and summon the rain in the Independent State... In my Fearless Alliance, coil up if you’re a dragon and lay down if you’re a tiger!”

Ye Wanwan ignored the members of the Martial Arts Union after saying that and turned to Elder Jin. With a faint smile, she asked, “Elder Jin, may I ask why you came here to talk to me today? There’s no harm in telling me.”

Elder Jin slowly looked up with a dry smile on his face. “Rumors say that the president of the Fearless Alliance fears nothing, not even the heavens, and even the four great clans are unwilling to provoke you. It appears the rumors aren’t false.”

However, Ye Wanwan’s brows furrowed slightly when she saw Elder Jin’s face clearly.

Her head felt like it exploded abruptly as several blurry memories surfaced in her mind... For some reason, she felt like she had seen this person somewhere before...

Chapter 1340: Can't say things carelessly

The fragments of memory that flickered in Ye Wanwan's mind were very blurry.

In those fragments, aside from Elder Jin, several faces that struck fear inside of her also appeared.

Her mind was very instinctively resistant toward these memories, and that explosive pain grew more intense.

"Sis Feng," Seven Star spoke up when he sensed something amiss in Ye Wanwan's expression.

Ye Wanwan took a deep breath and swiftly controlled her emotions.

The fragments of memory just now were too blurry, so she merely felt an instinctive fear. However, she couldn't recall just what was it that caused such fear. Ye Wanwan was clueless.

Ye Wanwan sneered at Elder Jin. "Elder Jin, logically speaking, since you came to the Fearless Alliance, I, Bai Feng, should welcome you as the host today. However, there are too many bothersome matters in the Fearless Alliance lately, so speak frankly, Elder Jin. Don't waste both of our valuable time."

"Okay."

Elder Jin's gaze landed on Ye Wanwan, and confusion surfaced in his eyes after a brief assessment.

Although he had heard the president of the Fearless Alliance's name, Bai Feng, before, their first meeting was today. For some reason though, he found this woman a bit familiar, as though they had met before.

However, Elder Jin didn't think too deeply about it. This woman was the president of the Fearless Alliance, after all. Perhaps he met her somewhere before she left the Independent State.

"President Bai, I'll speak openly then." Elder Jin calmly looked at Ye Wanwan. "Are you familiar with the Zhou family, President Bai?"

"Somewhat familiar," Ye Wanwan said.

When she first came to the Independent State, she would've ended up homeless on the streets if it weren't for the Zhou family, so she did owe the Zhou family to a certain degree.

"Alright." Elder Jin nodded. "I heard that President Bai used a firearm in the Zhou residence that day."

Big Dipper and the other senior management of the Fearless Alliance were shocked at Elder Jin's words.

Firearms were clearly prohibited in the Independent State. This rule was established by the four great clans instead of the Martial Arts Union, and none of the other rules in the Independent State ever conflicted with that rule.

The reason the Independent State was able to develop until now without any interference and disturbance from other countries was precisely because the people in the Independent State found using firearms disdainful and would never use firearms.

Once a power started using firearms, it would become the entire Independent State's public enemy without a question!

The president of the Fearless Alliance didn't dare to use firearms even at the peak of the Fearless Alliance back then. This wasn't because Bro Flattop was afraid; it was because she respected the Independent State and didn't wish to become enemies with the entire Independent State.

The current Ye Wanwan thoroughly understood the Independent State's rules and knew without anyone telling her that the rules implied not using firearms. She also knew that even the real Bro Flattop wouldn't dare to use firearms, let alone a counterfeit like her.

Hence, how could Ye Wanwan admit a heinous crime like using a firearm so easily?

"Heh..." Ye Wanwan looked at the expressionless Elder Jin and lightly chuckled. "Elder Jin... you can eat things carelessly, but you can't say things carelessly. You're saying I used a firearm; what proof do you have though?"
