

Little Sweet 1611

Chapter 1611: Superstar King

"...?You've freaking watched too many movies, haven't you?! Can't you follow the script?! Can't you?!"

However, this was the best run-through from Big Dipper already...

All Ye Wanwan could do was follow Big Dipper's lead and keep acting.

"I'm Ye Wanwan, a mercenary from Scarlet Flames Academy! Since you're Big Dipper, I've got the right person then." Ye Wanwan snorted while staring at him.

"What?! You're actually a mercenary from Scarlet Flames Academy?! Who ordered you here to fight me? if you don't tell me, I'll kill you!" Big Dipper looked furious.

"...?! I can barely keep acting with Big Dipper as my opponent... I really miss my time as a manager in China..."

"Enough rubbish!" Ye Wanwan was exasperated but had to persevere and continue.

"Fine! You're truly a contemptible wretch... Wait, no, you're truly a hard bone to chew! Are all of you Scarlet Flames mercenaries so hard? I don't believe it! I'm going to break your bones! Let's see if you'll confess then!" Big Dipper viciously lunged toward Ye Wanwan.

"...?You freaking... Who designed your lines...?"

Ye Wanwan snorted upon seeing Big Dipper attacking and struck with her palm.

However, her palm was still in mid-air when Big Dipper suddenly howled with pain and flew back several meters before crashing to the ground heavily and wailing tragically like a pig being slaughtered.

Ye Wanwan stared at the ceaselessly wailing Big Dipper, her lips twitching. ?Where's my sword?!

"Did I freaking touch you? Why did you fly back? Do I freaking have superpowers?!" Ye Wanwan marched forward and grabbed Big Dipper by his belt, lifting him up. "I'm asking you! Do I have superpowers? Do I have supernatural abilities?!"

Big Dipper finally stopped his howling and looked at Ye Wanwan, silently thinking for a moment before saying, "Sis Feng, I think it's entirely plausible! My acting is super realistic and complements your unrivaled strength, Sis Feng! Look, you haven't even touched me and I already flew back and look seriously injured! When you go back to Scarlet Flames Academy, everyone will deeply revere you!"

"So you've given much thought to this then," Ye Wanwan said with a smile.

"That's right!" Big Dipper nodded frantically. "You truly understand me, Sis Feng! My acting is different from other people! If I went and became an actor, would I become a superstar?"

"Do you want me to murder you?" Ye Wanwan gritted her teeth.

She swore she'd never been so exasperated by someone before! There probably couldn't be more than one person like Big Dipper showing up every millennium!

"Sis Feng, tell me then—how should I act? I think this type of acting method is nearly perfect! Your standards are seriously too high, Sis Feng. Even if you really invited a superstar, I don't think they'd act as well as me... Sis Feng, why do I feel like you're about to cry?" Big Dipper grinned innocuously, flashing his brilliantly white teeth.

Ye Wanwan: "..."?*D*mn you...*

"Follow this script! And learn the lines by heart!" Ye Wanwan tossed a sheet of paper at Big Dipper, looking utterly disappointed.

Nearby, Seven Star looked at Big Dipper and sighed. He calmly walked up and said to Ye Wanwan, "Since this isn't working, how about I go first, Sis Feng?"

Even Seven Star couldn't tolerate Big Dipper's extremely exaggerated acting, let alone Ye Wanwan.

Chapter 1612: Where's my sword?

Ye Wanwan nodded in agreement with Seven Star's suggestion. They had nothing else to do anyway, so she could act out a round with Seven Star first.

"I've also written your script..." Ye Wanwan said to him.

"Sis Feng, no need for a script. This type of acting shouldn't be too hard," Seven Star replied calmly.

"Old Seven, Sis Feng isn't satisfied with even me... So let's not mention you. Just wait until you get a shouting! How arrogant are you to say you don't need a script?" Big Dipper curled his lips contemptuously.

Ye Wanwan deleted the previous video with Big Dipper and restarted the recording. She was a bit less worried about Seven Star since he was more reliable than Big Dipper. This was an undeniable truth.

...

"So you're Seven Star from the Fearless Alliance," Ye Wanwan said expressionlessly while staring at Seven Star.

Seven Star turned around, indifferently examining Ye Wanwan.

"May I ask if you sought me out due to a conflict or a favor?" Seven Star aloofly asked Ye Wanwan.

"It's neither a conflict nor a favor. Just official business," Ye Wanwan replied.

"Based on your outfit, you must be a mercenary from Scarlet Flames Academy." Seven Star smiled, unconcerned. "People from the Independent State's three great academies sought me out in the past, but I'm still alive while they're dead. Would you still like to continue?"

"Enough nonsense. My mission is to beat you up." Ye Wanwan sneered.

However, as soon as Ye Wanwan finished speaking, Seven Star disappeared from his spot. He took a step forward and immediately appeared in front of Ye Wanwan. Without a word, his hand shot toward her.

Ye Wanwan was surprised. This lad's acting wasn't bad...

Ye Wanwan dodged to the side instantly, and their right hands collided with each other.

"Bang! Kaboom!" Strange noises came from Big Dipper's mouth.

Ye Wanwan: "..."

Seven Star: "..."

Ye Wanwan swore she would hack Big Dipper to death if she had a sword on hand!

Ye Wanwan and Seven Star tried to remain unaffected by Big Dipper and continued to fight.

"Kaboom, kaboom! Bang bang bang! Pow!"

However, Big Dipper's volume grew louder and his noises turned stranger.

"If you don't freaking give me a reasonable explanation, I won't be Sis Feng unless I kill you!" Ye Wanwan threw out her acting shoes and seized Big Dipper by his right ear, dragging him toward her.

"I would also like to know what you're doing," Seven Star added while looking at Big Dipper, who looked like he had been wronged.

"I... I'm providing sound effects for you... Is there a problem...? Your fight didn't look imposing at all to me. Look at how silent it was when your palms slammed together! The kabooms, bangs, and pows were my sound effects..." Big Dipper hastily explained.

"Do you have a sword?" Ye Wanwan looked at Seven Star.

"I don't." Seven Star shook his head. "But... I can go and grab one."

"Don't! Fine, I'll stop dubbing..." Big Dipper urgently protested.

"If you appear in our shot again and continue your so-called dubbing, Seven Star and I will beat you to death. Do you understand?" Ye Wanwan fumed between gritted teeth.

"Understood, understood... I guarantee I will just sit on the side and won't move an inch!" Big Dipper promised while clapping his chest.

This time, Big Dipper learned his lesson and didn't continue making trouble. He merely sat on the side and watched, not daring to even breathe loudly.

Half an hour later, Ye Wanwan's scene with Seven Star finally concluded.

Chapter 1613: The result of the DNA test

"Perfect!"

Ye Wanwan was beaming as she gave Seven Star a hand from his position lying on the ground.

Seven Star's acting was absolutely satisfactory. It surpassed Luo Chen's, let alone Gong Xu's. What was more frightening was that this was Seven Star's first time acting.

"As long as you're satisfied, Sis Feng," Seven Star said with a nod.

Ye Wanwan stared at him pensively. His looks were coldly handsome, he was fairly young, his acting was good, and his martial arts skills were a giant thumbs up too...

If she brought Seven Star to China and introduced him to the entertainment industry there, taking on the role of his manager...

He would absolutely become a money-making tree!

If she was the one to package and mold Seven Star, he would definitely become an international superstar!

"Seven Star, is this really your first time acting?" Ye Wanwan asked him doubtfully.

"Yes," Seven Star replied. "There's nearly no situation that requires acting here."

Just as Ye Wanwan wanted to say something else, Big Dipper eagerly ran over to them and giggled. "Sis Feng, what's there to praise about such crude acting skills? I can also act like that if you let me..."

Ye Wanwan glanced at Big Dipper and could only force herself to act out her scene with him.

Big Dipper's acting this time was a tinge better than earlier. Ye Wanwan didn't want to continue wasting time, and the video shouldn't have any problems after some post-production editing.

After recording the videos, a young member of the Fearless Alliance came running over.

"President!" The Fearless Alliance member ingratiatingly looked at Ye Wanwan and carefully said, "President, First Elder told me to come here to inform you that the matter you requested produced a result and he wanted you to go back and take a look immediately..."

"What's the result?" Ye Wanwan asked him curiously.

"Um... this subordinate doesn't know. First Elder didn't tell this subordinate," the Fearless Alliance member answered.

"Let's go. We'll head back now," Ye Wanwan said to Seven Star and Big Dipper.

...

Soon, Ye Wanwan returned to the Fearless Alliance.

First Elder placidly entered the office with a report in hand and stopped in front of Ye Wanwan's desk.

"What's the test result?" Ye Wanwan asked First Elder.

In truth, this test was ordered impulsively by Ye Wanwan. She didn't really think she could be Woriless Nie since it was seriously too much of a stretch.

"President, the results are out. Take a look for yourself," First Elder said to Ye Wanwan with a smile as he gently placed the report on the desk.

Ye Wanwan: "..."? Didn't I say I couldn't understand the result at all last time...?

"I can't read the contents. Tell me directly." Ye Wanwan had no choice but to be frank.

"President, according to the final results of the test, at least 99% of the DNA matches," First Elder quietly explained to her.

Ye Wanwan was taken aback?. At least 99% of the DNA matches... First Elder is saying...

"The scientific explanation for this is that there is a positive blood relationship," First Elder added.

Ye Wanwan felt like a volcano erupted in her head and her mind turned blank.

The load of information this time was truly too much and was more shocking than the result from last time that said the current Worriless Nie was an impersonator. Ye Wanwan found herself unable to accept it.

Upon seeing Ye Wanwan in a daze, First Elder furrowed his brows and looked at her with worry.

"President... are you okay?"

Chapter 1614: I'm actually Worriless Nie

First Elder didn't know what had happened or the origin of the sample given to him by Ye Wanwan.

However, based on Ye Wanwan's reaction, First Elder could guess that the owners of the sample had a deep relationship with Ye Wanwan.

"Ah... I'm fine." Ye Wanwan regained her wits and smiled at First Elder faintly. "Alright, I understand. You've worked hard the last two days; you can head back now."

"President, you mustn't hide any problems from us." First Elder vaguely sensed that something big would happen due to this test result.

After speaking, First Elder turned and left the office.

After First Elder left, Ye Wanwan allowed her shock and whiplashed feelings to fully surface on her face.

Ye Wanwan was extremely certain that the hair sample used in the test was hers and it was personally given by her to First Elder, so there couldn't be any mistake about that...

In other words, the samples were indeed from her and Tangtang... So the test result couldn't have any errors at all...

"I... I'm Tangtang's biological mother?!" Ye Wanwan was flabbergasted, and disbelief enveloped her.

Not only was she Tangtang's mother, but she was also Madam Nie's daughter and Nameless Nie's biological younger sister!!!

"How could that be possible..." Ye Wanwan murmured, finding it hard to accept.

This way, that mercenary told the truth and didn't lie... The person they intended to assassinate in China was truly Worriless Nie—her.

Ye Wanwan was stupefied from head to toe.

She somehow went to Scarlet Flames Academy, somehow met Li Xin, somehow sought out Li Xin's big brother then somehow tested her DNA with Tangtang's... All of the aforementioned would be nothing if it weren't for the fact that the final test result somehow verified she really was Worriless Nie, the Second Miss of the Nie family who went missing for many years!

Ye Wanwan felt her head swelling as thousands of thoughts raced through her mind.

If she really was Worriless Nie, then who was Tangtang's father?!

Did she know Si Yehan when she was in the Independent State back then and was still Worriless Nie? If she knew Si Yehan, could Si Yehan be Tangtang's father?

But if she really had a child with Si Yehan, could Si Yehan truly be absolutely clueless?!

Si Yehan obviously didn't know about Tangtang...

If she didn't have Tangtang with Si Yehan, then who did she have Tangtang with...? Her fiancé, Ji Xiuran?!

Soon, Ye Wanwan rejected this notion. If it really was Ji Xiuran, how could he not acknowledge Tangtang? Even if he didn't, the Ji family would acknowledge this grandson, right...?

Also, Nameless Nie previously mentioned that his sister, Worriless Nie, had Tangtang with a wild man, so this wild man couldn't possibly be Ji Xiuran...

"Wild man..." Ye Wanwan murmured. Just who are they referring to as the wild man...?

Ye Wanwan naturally leaned toward Si Yehan being the father, but right now, the only person deeply related to Si Yehan, Lord Asura, still hadn't admitted he was Si Yehan. Even though Lord Asura was poisoned by the love gu, he remained unaffected.

Right now, every clue pointed at Si Yehan though. As soon as Lord Asura admitted he was Si Yehan, many questions would be answered!

Of course, she couldn't remember any of this. It would be best if she could have the headmaster of Scarlet Flames Academy help her. Otherwise, even if she knew she was Worriless Nie, she wouldn't be able to remember anything.

"I... I'm actually Worriless Nie..."

Ye Wanwan looked stunned.

Chapter 1615: She wanted to see Tangtang the most

Ye Wanwan stared at the test result in her hand with evident shock. Every memory fragment since her rebirth flashed through her mind like a carousel lantern.

She lived two lives, but she still hadn't known who in the world she was until today...

However, she was still puzzled about many things. Why didn't her grandfather's words to her in her memories match reality at all?

If she was Worryless Nie, how could she be Chinese and an orphan even though Madam Nie and Patriarch were evidently still alive?

She even wondered whether her death in her previous life had a mystery behind it or was related to the Independent State...

Moreover, why did Si Yehan replace her memories? Just what happened back then that caused her to leave the Independent State...

Ye Wanwan's fingers slowly clenched around the report.

She finally found out her background, but her mood became heavy and solemn.

It was obvious Nie Linglong was currently keeping the entire Nie family in the dark. She was certain that the power behind Nie Linglong was extraordinary or else she wouldn't have been able to bribe so many test centers in the Independent State and manage to use a fake Worryless Nie to fool everyone.

Many of the internal factions under the Nie Linglong were probably under Nie Linglong's control already.

Ye Wanwan couldn't surmise the real situation concerning Nie Linglong at all.

After learning about the test results, her first reaction was to reunite with her family... but she rapidly calmed down after considering everything.

If she did, she might act rashly, or she might bring danger to the Nie family and Tangtang.

She needed to figure out the power behind Nie Linglong along with Nie Linglong's objective so she could make thorough preparations.

Bai Feng's identity would allow her investigation to run more smoothly.

Ye Wanwan took a deep breath before standing up to head to the Nie residence.

Right now, the person she wanted to see the most was... Tangtang...

...

Nie residence's main door:

As soon as Ye Wanwan arrived, she saw Tangtang at the main door. However, there was a man wearing a steward's uniform blocking Tangtang and appeared to be speaking to him.

Wasn't the Nie family's steward an elderly man?

Why was there a different person?

Judging from Tangtang's expression, he was furious.

"Move!" The little fella was icily staring at the young steward in front of him.

“Little Young Master, please go back.” The steward was bowing respectfully, but there wasn’t any reverence or fear in his eyes. Instead, he looked fairly confident.

Tangtang’s gaze turned harsh. “Insolence. Since when can you tell me what to do?”

The young steward appeared to be shocked by the child’s severe gaze and aura. He calmed down and continued to say uncaringly, “Little Young Master, this isn’t my command; it’s your mother’s command. The Independent State hasn’t been peaceful lately, so it’s too dangerous for you to willfully leave and go outside like this. Even if you made a ruckus in front of Madam and Patriarch, it’d be useless.”

“Insolence! Are you threatening me?”

“This subordinate wouldn’t dare. This subordinate is merely doing as Second Miss ordered. Second Miss is doing this for your own good! Guards, send Little Young Master back to his room!”

Tangtang lost his patience and ignored that young steward, heading straight for the door.

The steward immediately ordered coldly, “Why are you standing around? Hurry and stop Little Young Master!”

The guards in black on the side immediately rushed forward and blocked Tangtang’s path. Meanwhile, the young steward grabbed Tangtang’s arm, wanting to forcefully drag him back.

Chapter 1616 Baby, don’t be scared, Mommy’s here

“Little Young Master, you should head back with us nicely. Don’t make things hard for us...” The young steward grabbed Tangtang and forcefully dragged Tangtang inside when he saw Tangtang’s noncompliance.

Watching this scene, Ye Wanwan felt like an inferno was burning in her chest. Her eyes chilled, and she marched toward the door.

“Release him! Ye Wanwan ordered.

Tangtang jolted when he heard Ye Wanwan’s voice, his enraged eyes filling with surprise and joy. He spun around and shook off the steward’s hand before swiftly leaping toward Ye Wanwan. “Mommy!”

Ye Wanwan knelt down and caught the tiny figure. “Mommy...” The little fella plastered himself into Ye Wanwan’s arms, his figure trembling slightly. “Mommy... Mommy...”

As Ye Wanwan listened to the little fella’s repeated calls of “Mommy,” she felt like an iron claw was gripping her heart tightly, and her heart spasmed with waves of pain. “It’s fine, baby, don’t be scared. Mommy’s here!”

“Mommy... Tangtang missed Mommy... Tangtang wanted to go see Mommy...”

Heartache filled Ye Wanwan as she listened to the little fella’s childish voice.

From the looks of it, the fake Worriless Nie purposefully didn’t want her to be too close to Tangtang, so she had to ground Tangtang and prohibit him from leaving the Nie residence. She listed Tangtang’s safety as the reason so that even Madam Nie and Patriarch Nie wouldn’t oppose and would even back her up.

Ye Wanwan previously didn't know her identity, so she tried her best to avoid getting too intimate with Tangtang in order to not impact Tangtang's relationship with his biological mother. She knew Tangtang really liked her but still restrained herself from seeing him.

She didn't expect to hurt Tangtang in the end.

Ye Wanwan's heart was about to shatter as she watched the little fella sticking to her like a ball of mochi.

"President Bai, this is the Nie residence, not your Fearless Alliance. Out of consideration for Eldest Young Master, we allow you to enter as you please, but it doesn't mean you can behave atrociously here. I'm advising you to mind your own business!" the young, steward imperiously said.

This steward had to be Nie Linglong's underling...

Ye Wanwan ignored the steward's threat and warning and patted Tangtang's head in comfort. Then she looked at the steward's right hand without a trace of warmth in her eyes. "Just now... you used that hand to touch him?"

The young man haughtily glanced at her from the corner of his eye. "What?"

"Tangtang, close your eyes," Ye Wanwan instructed Tangtang. The little fella didn't know the reason but immediately closed his eyes obediently. "Okay."

A second later, a shriek like a pig being slaughtered rang throughout the estate.

"Ahhh!!!"

This shriek was accompanied by a bone-chilling cracking sound. In the blink of an eye, Ye Wanwan had forcefully broken the man's wrist.

"AH! AHHH!!!" The man rolled back and forth on the ground while clutching his wrist in pain.

If she used her normal strength, she absolutely couldn't have snapped an adult man's wrist with ease like that. However, with fury raging through her mind, it appeared natural she could do that.

Before, Ye Wanwan never understood why incomprehensible martial arts strength occasionally exploded out of her...

Now, she finally understood... This was strength that belonged to Woriless Nie, her true self...

However, due to her lack of memories... her abilities were very unstable and couldn't be controlled...

Chapter 1617 There's nothing that I, Bai Feng, am scared of

She had to meet with Scarlet Flames Academy's headmaster as soon as possible and recover her memory...

Otherwise, with her current situation, not only could she not protect herself, but she also couldn't protect the people she wanted to protect.

"Bai Feng! You... you actually dared to... act atrociously in front of the Nie residence..." The young steward viciously glared at her, malice brewing in his eyes.

“Baby, you can open your eyes now,” Ye Wanwan said to Tangtang with an oddly gentle tone as she leaned down before immediately chillingly glancing at the man lying on the ground. She chuckled lightly. “Heh, there’s nothing that I, Bai Feng, am scared of in this world. Do you want to try me?”

It had to be said that it was quite satisfying to use her identity as the Independent State’s tyrant...

Now that she could use her identity as the president of the Fearless Alliance to investigate Nie Linglong and since the enemy was in the light while she was in the dark, it was more advantageous for her.

“You...” The steward was probably wary of the Fearless Alliance’s name and recalled their terrorizing style, so reluctance flashed through his eyes, and he didn’t say anything more.

Ye Wanwan was originally worried she acted too violently and would be disliked by Tangtang.

However, Tangtang was looking up at her with sparkling eyes as he exclaimed, “Mommy’s really awesome!”

Ye Wanwan’s eyes softened, filling with heartache.

Mommy isn’t awesome at all... Mommy caused you to be alone ever since you were born...

Mommy didn’t even know about your existence...

“Tangtang, how about Mommy takes you out to play today?” Ye Wanwan asked the little fella.

The young master steward got up and angrily shouted, “Bai Feng, Miss Worryless ordered that no one is permitted to leave the Nie residence with Little Young Master. Do you know the consequences of brazenly kidnapping our Little Young Master?”

As soon as the steward spoke, the guards blocked Ye Wanwan’s path instantly.

Kidnap?

She was Madam Nie’s foster daughter, and Madam Nie told her that she could enter and leave as she pleased. If they were worried about Tangtang’s safety, nothing was safer than being with her, the president of the Fearless Alliance.

These people were merely instructed by Nie Linglong and “Worryless Nie” and purely wanted to make trouble.

Hence, she didn’t plan to talk logic with them.

Ye Wanwan was holding Tangtang’s little hand when her lips turned up as she nonchalantly ran her eyes over everyone present. “It appears you’d all like to see my Fearless Alliance’s Seven Kill Order for yourself?”

When the guards present heard the words “Seven Kill Order,” chills automatically ran down their backs as though they recalled something extremely terrifying.

The entire clan would be destroyed within seven days; there’d never been an exception.

Although failing their duty would cause them to face punishment from the patriarch, provoking the Fearless Alliance would cause their whole family to be destroyed...

Moreover, who was Bai Feng? With her martial arts skills, they wouldn't be a match for her even if they had double the enforcements. After all, she snapped the steward's wrist without batting her eyes just moments ago.

These guards also knew very well that Little Young Master wouldn't be in any danger with Bai Feng. It was just that Second Miss prohibited Little Young Master from leaving the house.

After a moment of deliberation, everyone looked at each other and simultaneously paused in their steps.

Under everyone's fearful gazes, Ye Wanwan directly led Tangtang by the hand and left the Nie residence.

The little fella tightly clasped his mommy's hand, afraid she'd let go. The little fella tightly clasped his mommy's hand, afraid she'd let go.

Behind them, the steward clutched his wrist with a dark expression. "Quick, quickly tell Second Miss and Third Miss to come back, and inform Madam and Patriarch that Bai Feng from the Fearless Alliance abducted Little Young Master!"

Chapter 1618 They could do anything

Ye Wanwan led Tangtang out of the estate's gates.

The little fella suddenly dropped his head and stopped walking. "Tangtang, what is it?" Ye Wanwan asked as she leaned down. "Mommy... Tangtang should go back," the little fella quietly said.

Ye Wanwan blinked. "Why? Tangtang doesn't want to be with Mommy?"

The little fella immediately looked up emotionally. "Of course not! Tangtang wants to be with Mommy! Tangtang always wants to be with Mommy... But Grandpa and Grandma will get angry, Tangtang doesn't want to cause trouble for Mommy..."

He knew that even if Grandpa and Grandma didn't do anything to him, he'd definitely cause trouble for Mommy.

Ye Wanwan was incredibly moved by the little fella's consideration. She gently said, "Don't worry, baby, you won't. Mommy's here; Mommy guarantees Grandpa and Grandma won't be angry and Mommy won't get into trouble, so don't worry and come with Mommy, okay?"

Heh, even if there was trouble, it would be other people getting into trouble...

"Okay!" The little fella vehemently nodded, his eyes brimming with trust and dependence.

"Mommy..."

"Hm?"

"Can Mommy call Tangtang 'Baby' again?" the little fella asked hesitantly.

Ye Wanwan chuckled softly. "Of course! Tangtang is forever Mommy's baby!"

The little fella immediately replied back with sparkling eyes, "Mommy is also Tangtang's baby!"

Ye Wanwan met his eyes, shining as bright as the starry night, and couldn't help but clutch her chest. Heavens... How can my precious baby be so adorable and cute...?

Such an adorable and cute child is actually my child! Mine!!! Her eyes were nearly spitting fire from envy the first time. She wondered just what kind of genes his parents had to have to produce such an adorable and pretty child...

She never would've expected herself to be Tangtang's mom... This was simply too... miraculous...

She was clueless about the circumstances in which she had Tangtang.

She actually didn't have any memories of this event!

Such a precious memory...

Just what in the world happened back then that could make her bear to abandon Tangtang...?

She was clueless about the identity of Tangtang's father too... Ye Wanwan gently looked at the little fella. "Baby, can you call me 'Mommy' again?"

The little fella happily agreed, of course, and childishly called, "Mommy~"

"Good boy..."

Ye Wanwan patted the child's head and forcefully repressed her intense emotions before saying, "Oh right, Tangtang, I heard your uncle mentioning it's your mom's birthday in a few days?" She previously learned from Nameless Nie that Worriless Nie's birthday was November 23rd.

In other words, her true birthday was November 23rd.

When the little fella heard Ye Wanwan mention that "mom," his eyes dimmed, and he nodded. "Yes."

Ye Wanwan's eyes shifted, and she rubbed her chin as she said, "Hm, how about this, baby? I'll bring you to a cake shop for fun today, and you can personally make a cake for your mom! It can be... a birthday surprise for her!"

Tangtang cast down his eyes, struggle evident on his little face. "Will Mommy accompany Tangtang?"

Ye Wanwan smiled. "Of course Mommy will accompany Tangtang! Mommy will accompany Tangtang the whole day today!"

The little fella's face brightened instantly. "Tangtang wants to go"

As long as he could be with Mommy for longer, they could do anything...

Chapter 1619: Hold Mommy's hand forever

After leaving the Nie residence, Ye Wanwan brought Tangtang to the most high-end custom-made cake shop in the Independent State.

As soon as Ye Wanwan arrived, the owner fearfully came out to receive them personally. He immediately prepared all the ingredients and equipment when he discovered Ye Wanwan wanted to make a cake personally.

When Ye Wanwan first suggested this, the little fella looked a bit unwilling, but when they started making the cake together, it was evident he was particularly happy.

Ye Wanwan couldn't help but have mixed feelings as she watched Tangtang's joyful appearance.

This wasn't the right timing for her to tell Tangtang the truth, so right now, that fake Worryless Nie was his real mother to him...

"Mommy, Mommy, Tangtang's done!"

Tangtang's voice caused Ye Wanwan to return to the present. Her vision cleared and she saw that Tangtang finished hand-crafting his cake. The cake had flowers meticulously crafted from icing which were lining the edges and a giant heart made from cherries placed in the center.

"It's very beautiful! Tangtang's too awesome!" Ye Wanwan praised him immediately.

The little fella shyly pursed his lips before lifting the cake and handing it to Ye Wanwan. "Mommy... it's for you!"

Ye Wanwan was taken back. "For me? Didn't you make it for your mom?"

Tangtang brightly stared at her and seriously said, "But Tangtang wants to give it to Mommy. This is Tangtang's first time making a cake, so Tangtang wants to give it to Mommy!"

The "Mommy" that Tangtang was referring to was her...

Because this was his first time making it, it was the most important, so he wanted to give it to her.

Warmth flowed through Ye Wanwan's heart, and she leaned over to embrace the little fella. "Thank you... Thank you, Tangtang..."

Thank you, my baby...

This is the most precious birthday present I've ever received...

"Does Mommy like it?"

"I like it! Of course I like it!"

"Then let's eat it together, Mommy!"

"Okay!"

Mother and son devoured the little cake together before making another one.

This time, the little fella only made a few flowers and leaves with the icing but didn't place a heart in the center.

The little fella's mood plunged as soon as they finished packing up the cake. "Mommy... are you going to take me home now?"

Ye Wanwan glanced at the time. "It's still early. Mommy will take you to have dinner first, how about that?"

Tangtang nodded instantly. "Yes!"

And so, Ye Wanwan left the cake shop, one hand holding Tangtang and the other hand holding the cake.

However, the moment they stepped out of the shop, Ye Wanwan discovered a sea of people in front of them, and they didn't have any room to walk.

"What's going on up ahead?" Ye Wanwan mumbled.

A person trying to squeeze through the crowd answered, "The Shen family's food street is having a grand opening up ahead, and there's a giant promotion on the first day! Everything is free..."

Ah, the Shen family's food street was having a grand opening...

Ye Wanwan's lips twitched. It truly was the Shen family's style to make everything free.

"Mommy..." The place was rather crowded, so Tangtang anxiously grasped the edge of Ye Wanwan's clothes. "Mommy, stay close to Tangtang. Don't get separated from me."

Ye Wanwan chuckled lightly and clasped Tangtang's hand. "This way we won't get separated!"

Joy filled the little fella's eyes and his lips curved upwards, two cute dimples emerging from his fair cheeks. "En..."

I want to... I want to hold Mommy's hand forever...

Since foot traffic was heavy up ahead and the food street was developed by the Independent State's tycoon, the Shen family, it should be decent. Hence, Ye Wanwan led Tangtang forward to join the festivities.

Chapter 1620: He's my son

The food street was brightly lit and decorated with glittering gold. The wide assortment of exquisitely-made street food made everyone dizzy from the selection and drool with desire. Moreover, everything was free, so it attracted a torrent of customers and unusual liveliness in the area.

For some reason, Ye Wanwan recalled that time in China where she and Si Yehan brought Tangtang to the amusement park and their family of three spent the whole day having fun there...

Ye Wanwan gathered her thoughts and asked, "Baby, what do you want to eat?"

Tangtang's head swirled left and right. It was obvious he was dazzled from the selection.

Hence, Ye Wanwan generously waved her hand. "Then let's taste every one of them!"

Ye Wanwan kept shopping as she walked and purchased takoyaki, skewers, cold noodles, and all kinds of street food, eagerly stuffing it into the little fella's hands after buying it.

As the mother and son duo ate while they walked, a person suddenly charged toward her like a whirlwind. "Ah, beautiful miss, we meet again!"

Ye Wanwan saw the newcomer and her brows raised. "Young Master Shen..."

"That's right, that's right. What an extreme honor that you still remember me, beautiful miss! Look at this beautiful setting around us. Aren't you bored by yourself, beautiful miss? Why don't you allow me to accompany you..." Shen Tianchen was joyfully hitting on her when he suddenly detected a sharp gaze shooting toward him like a dagger.

Only then did Shen Tianchen look down and meet a pair of bright and icy eyes.

"Apologies, Mommy isn't by herself," the little fella solemnly stated while staring at the man above him, his hand firmly holding onto his mommy's hand.

"Eh... You... you are...?" Shen Tianchen stared in shock at the child calling Ye Wanwan "Mommy."

Ye Wanwan chuckled softly and patted the ruffled child. "He's my son!"

The little fella was startled at first before resplendent light shot out of his eyes.

"Wh... what...? You... you have a son?" Shen Tianchen was shocked.

Ye Wanwan thought it would be perfect to use Tangtang to eliminate Shen Tianchen's crush.

Hence, she said, "Yeah. What? Is that a problem?"

Adoration brimmed from the man's expression. "For a woman who's endowed with beauty but also intelligence, intelligence but also martial strength, and martial strength but also viciousness like President Bai, it'd be logical for you to have 10 sons, let alone 1! Don't worry, beautiful miss, I absolutely don't mind!"

Ye Wanwan: "..."

What? 10 sons?! Can't he say less scary things? I'm shocked enough with one son!

When Tangtang heard him, his little face darkened again and his displeasure grew as he stared at Shen Tianchen.

"Beautiful miss, eat anything you want here!" Shen Tianchen generously proclaimed, exemplifying a filthy rich person.

"Couldn't I eat whatever I wanted to begin with...?"

"Ah! That's true! But you should be treated differently, beautiful miss. I'll personally accompany you today!" Shen Tianchen said.

"..." Ye Wanwan was exasperated. ?I don't need it, okay?

Unfortunately, Shen Tianchen wasn't an easy person to dismiss. He forcefully followed her and Tangtang the whole time with an especially eagerly attentive attitude.

After all, since this whole street belonged to his family, Ye Wanwan couldn't get rid of him even if she wanted to.

"Mommy..." Tangtang cautiously stared at Shen Tianchen and covertly pulled her hand.

Ye Wanwan looked down and asked quietly, "What is it, baby?"

Tangtang hesitated for half a day before saying with a solemn expression, "Mommy, please don't like this person!"
