

Little Sweet 831

Chapter 831: Pretty good luck

Cai Yong Li was stunned for a while then he knitted his brows and said, "Luo Chen? You want to have two grown men on the cover together? Mr. Ye, we're a fashion magazine that targets the female audience and we've always had female artists on the cover ever since we started. We've never had two male artists together before."

Cai Yong Li thought Ye Wanwan had one more artist under her, so after she made such a ridiculous suggestion, he couldn't help but feel quite dissatisfied with her lack of professionalism.

As for Cai Yong Li's doubts, Ye Wanwan already anticipated them beforehand, so she laughed. "Chief editor Cai, men have the consumption power and it's exactly because your magazine targets the female audience that this arrangement might spark an unexpected outcome, right?"

What Ye Wanwan didn't mention was the enormous group of closeted, crazy consumers.

Right now in the entertainment industry, nobody could ever expect this market to have such a huge influence in the future...

Ye Wanwan was about to continue when an anxious voice of a woman could be heard from his end...

"Chief editor, if we can't find someone, we'll have an empty cover for the upcoming issue!"

"Where are the backup photos I got you to pick from?"

"Those won't do, chief editor. The quality is horrendous, so we can't use them... what should we do? We'll be trampled by Beauty once again! Ay... but our priority right now is still to get someone on the cover for this issue; the sales for it is secondary!"

After a moment, Cai Yong Sheng said something to his subordinate and returned to the phone. "Mr. Ye, we'll have the shoot first thing tomorrow morning. Is that okay?"

Ye Wanwan: "Of course."

After she hung up, Ye Wanwan had a calm look. At first, she thought she would have to be more convincing and add in more twists and turns, but things went her way and saved her the hassle.

Those female artists who VIVI appointed initially had flaked out on them, which caused them to be in a frenzy to find someone at the last minute.

They could collaborate with other magazines, but the influence of the other magazines wasn't comparable to VIVI's at all.

In the realm of celebrity catfights today, aside from the red carpet and filming opportunities, magazine covers also illuminated the status of a celebrity in the fashion world.

In the fashion world, the chief editor of top fashion magazines practically possessed a supreme right. The designers and models recommended by them would instantly become popular and this applied to stars as well – when editors put them out there, that created a trademark for that individual.

With a magazine like VIVI, the number of artists clamoring for the cover was overwhelming. There were no artists who would dare let a chance like this go, so it would've been nearly impossible for Ye Wanwan to get through normally.

However, in recent years, the competition in the fashion industry had become more and more intense. Although the power of VIVI was there still, their concept was too backdated. In recent years, they'd gradually begun to decline.

After she ended the call, Ye Wanwan turned to her two artists – their images counteracted one another and they were complete opposites as well.

One was an arrogant and overbearing tease while the other had a calm, introverted, and cold personality.

Uh, why didn't I notice this before??

These two kids... really feel like a CP [1]...?

Feeling somewhat afraid, Gong Xu couldn't help but mutter, "Uh, Ye-ge, are you worried about something? You have a strange look in your eyes..."

Ye Wanwan coughed lightly and retracted her gaze. She nagged them: "Go to bed early and don't stay up late. We'll be doing a shoot for the cover of VIVI's magazine tomorrow morning."

Chapter 832: The name matches the reality

Gong Xu sighed dispiritedly. "VIVI? Ay, they're not as awesome as Fashion, eh..."

Ye Mu Fan gave him side-eye. "How could you criticize them? It's already good enough that they didn't criticize you. With VIVI being a really established fashion magazine in China, they have extremely strict requirements for their artists' reputations – everyone in their magazines is top-tier artists. If it wasn't for our good luck, how could you possibly have had a chance to be on the cover?!"

"What's wrong with you? Young master (I) is also quite popular, alright..." Gong Xu whined.

Luo Chen spoke up, "Are Gong Xu and I shooting together?"

Ye Wanwan nodded. "Yes, I fought for a two-person cover."

Ye Wanwan didn't tell them much about it. She wanted them to be natural during the shoot to leave the rest to the public's imagination.

Ye Wanwan: "If there's no problems, we'll confirm the shoot. Also, Luo Chen, I sent you a copy of the script I showed Gong Xu before. I didn't send it to you earlier because you had better projects, but right now, I can only get you to be on this drama series with Gong Xu."

After all, they had limited crew members and would need a huge sum to hire other artists...

Luo Chen hurriedly said, "Nah, not at all. I read the outline of the script – it has a really good story!"

Ye Mu Fan casually asked, "Then who's the main lead and supporting actor?"

Judging from the acting of these two people, the main lead would definitely be Luo Chen and the supporting actor would be Gong Xu.

With Gong Xu's character, what if he starts fighting with Luo Chen?

Ye Wanwan replied, "They're both the male leads – Luo Chen's character is a gunman from the special forces while Gong Xu is acting as a hedonistic son of rich parents..."

Ye Mu Fan nodded. "This is pretty good and their roles are quite suitable. Where did you get this script from and who's the screenwriter?"

Ye Wanwan looked into the distance. "After a bit, I'll take you guys to meet him."

Ye Wanwan then turned to Gong Xu and Luo Chen and warned them, "The assignment for the two of you right now is to study the script attentively and prepare for the filming. I'll be getting someone to give the two of you some special training. As for the registration of the company and formation of a crew, just leave it to Felix and me!"

Luo Chen: "Alright, Ye-ge."

Gong Xu: "Yes, sir!"

After some discussion between the four of them, Ye Mu Fan recalled something and hurriedly said, "Eh, hold on, I almost forgot about one important matter – we still have to discuss what we're going to name our company? I'm bad at coming up with names – you guys think about it!"

Luo Chen looked at Ye Wanwan. "We'll leave it to Ye-ge to decide."

Gong Xu suggested excitedly, "The four of us established this company, so why don't we call it 'The Four Heavenly Kings Film Industry'?"

Ye Wanwan: "..."

Gong Xu blinked. "Ay? Isn't it good? What about 'Booming Awesome Entertainment'?"

Ye Wanwan sighed. "Shut up and let me think..."

Gong Xu sat down obediently. "Oh..."

Actually, Ye Wanwan wasn't really good at coming up with names either and after some thought, she suddenly had inspiration...

Ye Wanwan rubbed her chin. "Why don't we call ourselves... 'Age of the Immortals' – how about that?"

Luo Chen: "It's pretty good." –??Anything Ye-ge says is good.

Gong Xu's eyes lit up. "Wah! That's cool! It's very domineering! I like it!"

Ye Mu Fan burst out in laughter. "Isn't it a little too arrogant?"

Ye Wanwan raised her brows. "Let it be, then... the name matches the reality."

The moment Ye Wanwan said that, there was a surging tide in all three of their hearts. "Alright!"

Chapter 833: Giving out red packets

After the four of them were done with their discussion, they left and went their own ways.

At the entrance of the bar, Ye Wanwan asked Ye Mu Fan, "We definitely have to move out of the apartment after resigning. Where do you plan on living?"

Gong Xu has always had his own place, while Luo Chen already bought a place he could move into at any time.

Ye Mu Fan replied, "I'm definitely moving back home – I've been wanting to move back to stay with mom and dad and now's the right time. I already told them and they're really happy! What about you? Do you want to go back with me?"

Ye Wanwan said, "I want to, but it's quite inconvenient for me to go back due to my identity as Ye Bai. I already bought a courtyard in the suburbs of Beijing at a low price and although it's a bit old, it won't be bad after a bit of cleaning up. It's really quiet too!"

Ye Mu Fan frowned. "How could I let you live alone in such a faraway place?"

Ye Wanwan replied casually, "Don't worry about me. I hired a few servants and furthermore, my boyfriend will come over often to keep me company."

The mercenaries she rescued in Myanmar had already been disguised as servants and were arranged to live in the courtyard.

Ye Mu Fan: "..."

The last sentence is the key!?

Ay, it's hard to keep a grown girl at home...

Ye Wanwan already arranged for someone to move her luggage from the apartment to the new place while she was on the business trip. Hence, after she parted with Ye Mu Fan, she headed straight to the suburbs.

Ye Wanwan stopped the car outside the entrance of the courtyard.

She saw a small two-story building and there was a glass greenhouse in the courtyard. Although it was slightly old, it looked very stylish. It had a rustic atmosphere and it was away from the hustle and bustle of the city; it gave off a sense of paradise.

This used to be an architect's home so it had a great layout, but since the couple moved abroad years earlier, it became deserted.

As soon as the sound of the car engine was heard, a petite figure rushed out from the courtyard.
“Master, you’re back! Ah...”

When the little Lolita mercenary, wearing a lovely maid outfit, rushed out and saw Ye Wanwan in her men’s clothes, her eyes bugged straight out at her. “Ahhh! Master is so handsome! I’m going to faint...”

Although master already told them she also had a male identity, she didn’t think master would look so incredibly handsome in menswear!

Soon, four other people came out to the courtyard. There was a fat man in a chef’s outfit, an old man dressed as a housekeeper with a swallow-tailed coat, a long-haired man wearing rain boots while holding a pair of shears for branches and leaves, and a bearded man dressed as a security guard.

They all stood in a row and said in unison, “Master! Welcome home——”

Upon seeing how well-mannered they were, Ye Wanwan nodded in satisfaction. Not bad eh, much better than the MLM group of five...

“Master, Heidi has already prepared the meal. May I know when you’d like to have dinner?” the elderly mercenary asked respectfully.

Ye Wanwan replied: “In half an hour.”

Ye Wanwan sat on the couch in the living room while fiddling with her phone, deep in thought.

She sent Nameless Nie a text, but why hadn’t she heard from him for so many days?

For convenience’s sake, she added the five of them on WeChat and established a WeChat group.

Thus, Ye Wanwan directly sent a message in the WeChat group:

[Is anyone there?]?

But after waiting for some time, the group was still quiet and no one replied.

Are they all busy?

Ye Wanwan rubbed her chin and waited for a while longer. There was still no reply, so she casually tapped on her phone and sent the group a red pocket containing a dollar.

[Nameless Nie received your red pocket.]

[Spray of Flowers received your red pocket.]

[Devotee received your red pocket.]

[Little Sweetie Aisin Gioro received your red pocket.]

[?Dead Man received your red pocket.]

...

Ye Wanwan: “...”

Chapter 834: Prepared a big feast

Ye Wanwan was completely speechless – she asked them a question and nobody answered, but when she sent out red pockets, every one of them snatched one within seconds...

[?Famous Ye:...]

Ye Wanwan sent an ellipsis in the group chat.

After they snatched up the red pockets, there was silence once again like it was a dead group.

Ye Wanwan didn't buy it and sent another red pocket in the group chat.

It was still snatched up in seconds...

Looking at the record of these five people grabbing the red pockets, Ye Wanwan was speechless.

Upon seeing that it was almost dinner time, Ye Wanwan placed her phone down, went upstairs to shower and changed her clothes.

When she came back downstairs, the dishes were all ready.

Ye Wanwan sat down and took a bite. To her surprise, it tasted pretty good.

"Master, how... how is it?" Heidi stammered and stood by the side, afraid that the Black Widow would take it out on her if the food wasn't to her liking.

If he was better looking, there might be a chance he could be her boy toy, but with his looks, the Black Widow would only treat him as fertilizer [1].

"Not bad."

"Heh heh, that's good, that's good. To be quite honest, I used to be a chef but I haven't cooked in a long time. I'm really out of practice now. Master, don't worry, I'll get better at it!" Heidi tried his best to show his loyalty. "I won't disturb master any longer – please enjoy your meal!"

In the kitchen:

Five people were huddled inside, gossiping.

Little Lolita peeped at Ye Wanwan, who was in the living room, and exclaimed, "Wow, master looks beautiful when she's dressed as a woman and looks dashing when she's dressed as a man. She even looks quite easy going!"

The fatty glared at her. "Stupid girl, what do you know? That's just on the surface – she kills people like scything flax, bathes in human blood and feeds human bones to the dogs! Easy going? It'll be your doomsday if she gets mad!"

The bearded man nodded his head continuously. "Exactly!"

The long-haired man was worried. "Ay, we're living under the same roof. How are we going to live with her...? What if master isn't in a good mood one day... wouldn't that be the end for all of us?"

The bearded man and fatty looked at one another then revealed sinister smiles. “Don’t worry about that; Fatty and I already prepared for it!”

“Ah? Prepared? What did you guys prepare?” The long-haired man didn’t understand.

“Prepare what, prepare what?” Little Lolita probed.

“Move aside, we prepared a big meal for the lady...” smirked the fatty.

Long-haired man: “Feast...?”

Little Lolita: “...???”

In the living room, Ye Wanwan was enjoying her meal.

At first, she invited Si Ye Han over to take a look at her new place, but he had something at the last minute and had to go on a business trip so he couldn’t make it.

Just as she was about to go to work after eating, there were footsteps at the door.

“Sorry to disturb, hel-hello...” A man suddenly appeared at the door.

The man was handsome and had a great figure. His charisma was comparable to a superstar’s.

Out of habit, Ye Wanwan sized the man up carefully and her eyes lit up slightly – if 10 marks was a full score, this man scored at least a nine.

After that, Ye Wanwan looked at this stranger suspiciously. “You are?”

The man appeared a little nervous and walked over to Ye Wanwan carefully like she was some terrifying beast. “I... I...”

Ye Wanwan frowned. “What?”

The man pursed his lips and didn’t speak. He simply took off his coat and revealed an unexpectedly translucent shirt inside, and there was even a black necklace around his neck...

Then the man leaned over and knelt in front of Ye Wanwan. “I’m here to serve you, madam... Please, madam, enjoy at will...”

Ye Wanwan: “...?!”

HUH?

WHAT THE HE?!?

Chapter 835: Play any games you like

Serve...

Enjoy?

Ye Wanwan looked at that man before her dressed in a translucent top with a black collar around his neck and was completely stunned. She couldn't react at all.

She merely wanted a proper meal at home – what was happening here?

The man noticed she wasn't speaking, so without a second thought, he started taking off that top which was so see-through that he was basically revealing everything...

Ye Wanwan finally came back to her senses and hurriedly stopped him. cough... "Wait wait wait! What on earth are you doing?"

History always has shocking similarities...

Why do people keep stripping before me lately?

The man said anxiously, "Madam, are you unsatisfied with me?"

Unsatisfied?

What do I need to be satisfied with?

Ye Wanwan pinched her brows. "Get up first and put your clothes on properly."

At this moment, the five people peeping from the kitchen were panicking.

"What's going on?! This doesn't make any sense! Master actually asked him to put on his clothes?"

"Is it because this man isn't good enough and master doesn't like him?"

"I don't think so! I hired him from the black market at a high price – look at his body, his face..."

"Weird, when did the Black Widow start being a vegetarian?"

Ye Wanwan: "..."

Bro, could you speak properly?

What's with this guy?

Is he trying to bribe me?

But that couldn't be it as she was in her normal female outfit right now and this person wasn't surprised at all, so he couldn't be someone from the entertainment industry...

Ye Wanwan pinched her brows. "Whoever you are, get out."

"Madam...?" The guy was shocked. After all, he hadn't made any mistakes. "But why?"

Ye Wanwan glanced at him and said casually, "You're right, I'm not satisfied."

The man froze – this was an insult to him!

“Uh, madam, sometimes, you can’t be too sure. I can say that none of my clients were unsatisfied with me after they tried...”

The man spoke and tore his shirt off at the same time...

Ye Wanwan was speechless. Why doesn't this person listen?

Just as she was about to speak, a cold and clear voice came from the door:

“What are you guys... doing.”

Ye Wanwan’s soul flew out of her body. Every inch of hair on her body stood on end and she turned her neck rigidly to look.

She saw that the main door wasn’t closed and Si Ye Han, who was supposed to be on a business trip, was standing at the door. There was an icy aura all around him like a demon from hell.

*F*ck...!!!*

Ye Wanwan looked at the man wearing an indecent shirt then turned to Si Ye Han. She took at least three seconds before she reacted, “No, Si... Si Ye Han, I can explain...”

Si Ye Han’s gaze swept across the interior of the house. It was as if there was an unmelting frost that covered his face; there wasn’t a hint of warmth at all. Darkness spread in his eyes like a beast who could tear a person apart in the next second. “Seems like I came at the wrong time.”

Before the beast inside his body lost control and charged out of its cage, he turned around and left immediately.

Ye Wanwan looked at this scene and panicked. She hurriedly caught up with him but the man with the collar was blocking her way...

“Madam, who is he...”

“F*ck! Who is he?! He’s my...”

Upon realizing that Si Ye Han was about to leave, panic started to engulf Ye Wanwan. She gritted her teeth, stepped directly onto the dining table and leaped across before she finally caught up to Si Ye Han. With a loud “thud,” she stood behind him and slammed the door shut...

Si Ye Han had nowhere to go. He turned around slowly with his frosty eyes that looked as though they could lose control at any moment and he looked at the girl who was panting. “Get out of the way.”

I’m dead. He looks like he’s really fuming this time...

Ye Wanwan put on a sad face and was about to cry. “Wifey... there are outsiders here... could you please... give me some face?”

Si Ye Han: “...”

At the same time, Ye Wanwan roared, “THE FIVE OF YOU, GET OVER HERE RIGHT NOW!!!”

She thought wrongly just now – how could that be a bribe? She had five experts guarding this place so nobody could walk in and out of here whenever they pleased unless they were the ones who set it up.

She even thought these people were reliable – seriously...

Very soon, the five of them came out of the kitchen one after another. “M-Master... You called for us?”

Chapter 836: Call me anytime

The man wearing the black collar froze when he saw Si Ye Han.

Just a second ago, he always believed that there was absolutely no woman who could resist his charms.

He assumed this woman wasn't satisfied with him only because she hadn't tried him yet...

But when he saw the man at the door, he finally understood the difference between heaven and earth...

It was no wonder this woman showed no change in expression when she saw him.

The five mercenaries were about to break down. Originally, they wanted to gain some brownie points and curry favor with their new master, but who knew that they would get “caught in the act” by the main wife.

While they were spying from the kitchen, they wondered why the legendary Black Widow, who was known for not discriminating between any males, was suddenly a vegetarian.

But now, it suddenly dawned on them that it wasn't that she was a vegetarian, but... she was “henpecked”?

Truly, as the saying went, “everything has its weakness”...

Who would've thought that the Black Widow, who had no lack of men, would fall head first for this man?

In the living room, the five of them drifted into their own thoughts.

Ye Wanwan didn't care what they were thinking. She looked at each and every one of them as she said, “Tell me exactly who this person is and why he's in the house all of a sudden?”

At this moment, Ye Wanwan was suppressing her anger. Her eyes were gloomy and she was even scarier than Si Ye Han standing next to her.

The five of them were so scared that their legs were trembling; they looked at one another and didn't dare to utter a word.

Little Lolita hid behind the old housekeeper. “Mmmm-master... I don't know anything...”

The fatty tweaked his ears and scratched his cheeks then blurted out, “Master, he... he's the new servant we just hired!”

Bearded-man exclaimed, “Master, he's an assassin!”

Ye Wanwan: "..."

Could the two of you get some agreement between your statements before talking? This will cause my death, alright?

Actually, Ye Wanwan didn't need to think any further to know what was going on. Finally, after pinching her brows, she waved at them. "Take the man away."

Hurry up!?

Having this man here was like holding a ticking time bomb. Hurry and take him out of Si Ye Han's sight.?

The fat man and the bearded man nodded then immediately got up to get the man to leave...

"Leave quickly, go, go..."

"Quick, quick, quick..."

The man picked up his clothes from the ground and stood up slowly then walked towards the door.

As he brushed past Ye Wanwan, he glanced at Si Ye Han then looked at Ye Wanwan and said softly, "Madam, no wonder you weren't satisfied with me. I admit I really can't compare with him in terms of appearance, but..."

But what??

Ye Wanwan frowned. She suddenly had this feeling that his next sentence wasn't going to be good.

The man paused, chuckled, then continued to speak. "But madam, you can't just judge a man by his appearance. If he's too boring, he would just be nothing more than a decoration. Don't you agree, madam?"

YWW: "..."? Agree your father!!!?

The man flashed an ambiguous smile and lowered his voice, but Si Ye Han could still hear him. "Madam, if you change your mind, you can still call me anytime. For you, I can give it to you free of charge oh~"

Ye Wanwan: "..."

When the man finished speaking, he turned and left. The five mercenaries were trembling so badly that they started to rub their hands instinctively. Damn, why does it feel so cold all of a sudden???

Running faster than a rabbit, the five people slipped away very quickly.

Finally, there was only Ye Wanwan left in the living room facing a great devil whom she didn't have the guts to look at...

Damn it, I got into trouble even when I was just sitting at home minding my own business...

Chapter 837: Might not be suitable for kids

Ye Wanwan grabbed Si Ye Han's arm and tried her best to explain. "Even if you gave me a hundred guts, I still wouldn't dare to look at other men... it's those unreliable fools' fault for taking matters in their own hands – I'm also a victim here... Also, that guy is obsessed with appearances! If he only looks at appearances, what about personality?!"

Ye Wanwan rambled for a long time but at this moment, explanations didn't matter to Si Ye Han anymore.

Si Ye Han: "Let go before I start to regret things."

Before... I lose control...

Ye Wanwan obviously wouldn't let him go at this time. When lovers fought, it was fine if they ended the fight and made up on the spot, but if they left the conflict for a period of time, that problem would become more troublesome for sure.

Especially for someone like Si Ye Han, who thought a lot and kept to himself.

If this was the Si Ye Han from before, things would've turned bloody ages ago. But right now, he was deliberately suppressing his own emotions and he wanted to leave because he wasn't sure what he would do if he went out of control...

"Er, 9th master, Miss Wanwan..."

Xu Yi, Eleven and Feng Xuan Yi appeared at the door. The three of them were holding bags of daily necessities in their hands. Si Ye Han probably instructed them to purchase them since he knew Ye Wanwan was moving.

Seeing this made Ye Wanwan feel even more guilty. Darn it, Si Ye Han just returned from his business trip and rushed over to give these things to me, but in the end, he actually witnessed that scene and that wasn't the first time...?

Xu Yi felt that the atmosphere was a bit off, so he probed carefully. "What's going on..."

Ye Wanwan had a headache and whined, "Went whoring and got caught by your master..."

Xu Yi: "...!"

Eleven was stunned. "...!!!"

Feng Xuan Yi: "..."

Duang! Duang! Duang!

Their jaws dropped...

Xu Yi: "Miss Wanwan... you... what... what are you saying..."

Eleven was shocked. "Whor... whor... whoring?"

The three of them became mutes at the same time.

Ye Wanwan pinched her brows and glanced at the three of them. “All of you, put the things down and leave immediately.”

The three of them looked at each other and didn’t understand what Ye Wanwan meant. Xu Yi, who was trying his best to mediate the situation, was taken aback. “Huh? Wh-why...”

Ye Wanwan sighed. Her fair fingers stroked Si Ye Han’s collar then she spoke softly, “Because the next scene... might not be suitable for kids...”

Si Ye Han: “...”

Xu Yi, Eleven, Feng Xuan Yi: “...”

In the next second, the three of them put the bags down and instantly disappeared without a trace – they followed orders really well.

Upon seeing that the three of them had disappeared, Ye Wanwan used some force to pull Si Ye Han closer and she moved towards him with her peach blossom pink, soft lips...

Si Ye Han narrowed his eyes. His head was telling him that this was the tactic she always used...

The fire around his chest was about to burn him to ashes and it was telling him that he should push her away at this moment...

However, his body didn’t want to cooperate at all and remained still. Instead...

Ye Wanwan suddenly stopped when they were so close to one another that they could feel each other’s breath.

Si Ye Han’s expression turned frosty...

“Wait...” Ye Wanwan narrowed her eyes and pulled out a hairpin from her hair then “swish,” she flung it towards a certain direction.

“AH—” A certain fatty, who was peeping from the corner, wailed loudly, followed by the footsteps of those five people fleeing in disarray.

Finally, the courtyard was in total silence...

Ye Wanwan clapped then kissed her beauty. “All’s good now~”

Si Ye Han: “...”

Chapter 838: Leveled up coaxing skill

In the end, when Ye Wanwan was about to kiss him, Si Ye Han actually tilted his head and evaded her kiss.

There was a layer of ice in his eyes. Rather than anger, it looked more like helplessness and annoyance.

Ye Wanwan’s face dropped when she didn’t get to kiss him. She then said angrily, “So be it! Si Ye Han, who do you think you are?! How could you treat me this way?! Do you know you’re being so hateful?!”

Although the group of five was chased away by Ye Wanwan, Xu Yi and the other two weren't far away as they were worried.

They hid in a corner at a distance. Eleven, who had excellent hearing, heard what Ye Wanwan said and panicked. "Oh dear, oh dear, they're going to fight..."

Xu Yi froze. "No way. Why? Miss Wanwan knows how to size up the situation. She also knows how to coax 9th master – why would she start fighting with him?"

Eleven's head was aching and he said, "Under such circumstances, there's no use even if she coaxed him, right?"

Xu Yi was anxious. "What should we do..."

As expected, after listening to Ye Wanwan's words, Si Ye Han's face turned ugly and his tone was as cold as ice. "What did you say?"

Ye Wanwan threw caution to the wind. She folded her sleeves and exploded in fury. "I SAID! Who do you think you are?! Just because you're slightly better looking, have longer legs and a higher IQ, and are very comfortable to hug, you're just relying on the fact that I like you, fell head over heels for you, and fell so deep that I don't feel a thing even when a naked man stands in front of me..."

Si Ye Han: "..."

A distance away...

Eleven was dumbfounded. "Ama-amazing..."

That actually worked?

As they were too far away, Xu Yi couldn't hear clearly and he probed urgently, "What's the situation? What did Miss Wanwan say, what did she say? Why does the atmosphere feel so terrifying?"

Eleven looked at Xu Yi with a complicated gaze. "Housekeeper Xu, you wouldn't want to know."

Feng Xuan Yi nodded as well.

Xu Yi: "..."

Alright, I already got a hunch that I'll be stuffed with dog food...

"You..." Si Ye Han wasn't able to speak at all.

Ye Wanwan was still mad and complained non-stop. "I hate you the most – don't you know how attractive and charming you are? Why are you being jealous like other people?"

Si Ye Han pinched the bridge of his nose. "Shut up."

Ye Wanwan was infuriated. "No, I want to speak! I..."

In the next second, Ye Wanwan stopped talking and the rest of her words lingered on her lips...

Si Ye Han's thin lips covered hers. His sharp teeth rubbed against her soft lips then he bit down harshly, fuming with rage between gritted teeth.

From the past till now... I've... I've always been this way...

I never... ever... gave her a way out...

Ye Wanwan smirked. "Thought you weren't going to kiss me~ I was speaking the truth, okay? Why didn't you let me speak? In this world, you're probably the person with the least possibility of having any connections with the word 'jealous,' but in the end..."

From men to women, from humans to animals, you're always either jealous or about to be jealous...

Amazing...

"A?man's heart is like a needle deep at the bottom of the sea" – I really don't know what you're thinking...

Si Ye Han's dark eyes were glued to the girl's angry and confused little face...

Because it's you.

Chapter 839: Only charmed by you

In the living room:

Ye Wanwan and Si Ye Han sat on the sofa. The five mercenaries didn't even dare to breathe too loudly as they stood in a row, trembling while awaiting their punishment.

Ye Wanwan scanned all of them sternly. "Do you guys have any idea who this guy next to me is?"

The fatty blurted out nervously, "Yes! Wife... wife of our leader!"

Ye Wanwan nearly choked on her saliva and she glared at the fatty with a head full of black lines.

The fatty hurriedly changed his words. "No no no... he's our master – he will be our male master in future!"

Ye Wanwan coughed then said in a serious manner, "Glad you guys know that. Next time, don't come up with all these messy and filthy plans – do I really look like a lecherous and perverted person?"

Group of five: "..."

Yes... you really look like one, okay!

It was rumored that the Black Widow had tens of thousands of boy toys, okay...

They shook their heads and said in unison, "No! No no no! Master, you're the most loyal and dependable person on earth. You view other men as dirt!"

Ye Wanwan was satisfied only after hearing that. "En, remember that. Go back downstairs!"

It was as if they received amnesty and they ran as quickly as they could.

After the five people left, Ye Wanwan hurriedly expressed her loyalty. “Heh heh, baby, don’t worry. In this world, I’m only charmed by you~”

Finally, Ye Wanwan managed to survive this calamity. The next day, Ye Wanwan arrived at VIVI magazine’s studio alive.

In the studio, the workers were having a chat.

The makeup assistant sighed while swiping through Weibo. “Ay, have you guys seen it? Beauty magazine’s sales volume this week already topped ten thousand...”

The lighting technician was surprised and exclaimed, “So high? It’s double the usual! They’ve broken another record!”

The little assistant sighed. “Oh well, everyone loves gossip and scandals. This time, with Gong Xu and Lucy Yang being such hot topics and also with Gong Xu leaving Dazzling at the same time, it was guaranteed that their sales would explode! It’s too bad the artist flaked out on us for this week’s issue. We’ll be the laughing stock once again when this issue is out...”

The lighting technician asked, “Oh right, who’s the replacement artist the chief editor contacted?”

The little assistant replied, “I heard it’s Gong Xu.”

The lighting technician was shocked. “What? Gong Xu again? Are they trying to compete with Beauty? If we copy VIVI and choose the same artist but still lose, wouldn’t it be better for us to lose for being flaked out on instead of trying to copy them...”

“Exactly! It would be so embarrassing!”

At this moment, the photographer, Xiao Yu Tong, clapped and said, “Stop chatting – the artist will be here soon.”

The moment he said that, footsteps arrived at the door. Ye Wanwan and Ye Mu Fan walked in together with Gong Xu and Luo Chen.

“Ah ah ah ah ah! It’s Gong Xu! He’s so so so handsome!” the little assistant shrieked.

Even if they were quite used to seeing good-looking men in their line of work, Gong Xu’s individual style and charisma with his dashing looks were quite attractive indeed.

The lighting technician said suspiciously, “Why’s Luo Chen here too?”

“I heard the two of them would be shooting for the cover together today,” the little assistant replied.

“You’re kidding – why would we have two men on the cover? Did the chief editor lose his mind from being too provoked?”

“Who knows what the chief editor is thinking...” the little assistant muttered while she watched the four people walking in – they were a feast for her eyes. “But Luo Chen and Gong Xu are really too good-looking ah ah ah, and is that person next to them their manager? Even their manager is so handsome! Wow, who's that behind them, huh? Why's today's attractiveness indexes so high..."

Chapter 840: Special theme

Due to stress, Chai Yong Li was somewhat crabby. "What's the fuss about? Go get ready!"

"Yes!"

The group of people then scattered like birds and beasts.

The photographer, Xiao Yu Tong, was wearing a light and comfortable dry-fit shirt and walked over in his little white sneakers. "Boss, what style theme are we shooting today?"

Chai Yong Li pinched his brows and tossed a stack of documents over. "Just follow this theme!"

Xiao Yu Tong glanced at it – it was a modern style that conformed with societal norms.

Ye Wanwan strode over and said politely, "Teacher Xiao, chief editor Chai, could I discuss something with the both of you?"

"What is it?" Chai Yong Li knitted his brows.

Ye Wanwan said, "I believe in both of your professionalism, but as a manager, I think there's no other person who would understand my artists better. Here are a couple themes I came up with for Gong Xu and Luo Chen according to their styles. The outfits were designed by Felix and if chief editor Chai and teacher Xiao find them suitable, maybe we could give them a go?"

Chai Yong Li looked at Ye Wanwan then took the proposal from her.

At first, he flipped through it quickly, but when he reached the last few pages, his expression froze and he looked intently at the contents. "This..."

He had to admit that because of the pressure from Beauty in addition to the female star flaking out on him, he already knew he would lose, so he didn't really put in much effort into the theme. However, at this moment, the proposal Ye Bai handed to him evidently showed a lot of effort put into it.

Ye Wanwan didn't rush them and merely stood by the side quietly.

"Yu Tong, look at this." Chai Yong Li passed the proposal to the photographer.

Xiao Yu Tong glanced at it and his eyes lit up. "This design is quite interesting. I think we can give it a go..."

He then turned to Ye Wanwan and apologized, "Mr. Ye, really sorry about it. Because of time constraints, we weren't able to prepare properly."

Ye Wanwan didn't mind and said, "Don't worry about it. If it wasn't for that artist flaking out, we wouldn't be so lucky to have gotten the chance to be on the cover."

Chai Yong Li and Xiao Yu Tong felt much better after hearing what Ye Wanwan said.

After some thought, Chai Yong Li said to Ye Wanwan, “Mr. Ye, we’ll go with the theme you proposed then!”

Ye Wanwan: “Thank you so much, chief editor Chai!”

After they settled on the theme, Luo Chen and Gong Xu entered the dressing room to get ready.

The workers were fixing up the backdrop and the photographer was adjusting the lighting while Ye Wanwan and Ye Mu Fan waited on the sofa.

Ye Mu Fan looked worried. “Wanwan, having two men on the cover together – will that really work?”

Even though he was very confident in his designs for the two of them, logically speaking, having two men on the cover couldn’t compare to having a man and woman, right?

Ye Wanwan didn’t explain further. “We’ll see when the end product is out.”

Ye Mu Fan: “I guess...”

After they waited for a while, Gong Xu walked out of the dressing room.

The moment everyone saw Gong Xu, their eyes glistened.

Gong Xu’s hair was temporarily dyed wine red. He was dressed in a flashy orange leather flight jacket paired with Dr. Martens boots. There were a few bloodstains drawn on the corners of his lips and porcelain face, and there was also a faintly discernible little snaggletooth at the side of his mouth.

Following that, Luo Chen also walked out of the dressing room...
