

Let Me be Your Ex Chapter 303– 304

Chapter 303

“Anyone who can be an old friend with my mother, according to my estimation, the family situation should be good. Even if the experienced nurses who have lived in her house for many years will be so nervous even if they change to a new environment?” The man stared at Miriam with deep eyes. Ask the first question.

“You said that she hasn’t changed her environment for many years, and it is inevitable that she will be nervous.” Miriam didn’t care.

The man raised his eyebrows, and the corners of his mouth moved slightly: “How low is your aunt’s salary, which will make her wear almost worn...” He paused here, thought for a moment, and continued, “Wearing old fashioned clothes. Shoes come to see the employer’s first side.”

They were old Beijing cloth shoes. He probably hadn’t seen them before, so he didn’t know how to describe them.

Miriam was almost amused by the name he gave to the shoes, and forbearance, replied: “I have said that the family is not good, maybe there is something unspeakable, and it is not wrong to dress plainly.”

The man condensed his eyebrows: “What is unspeakable? The beginning of all bad things is because there are too many unspeakables. To put it bluntly, it means that you are not innocent.” Seeing Miriam obviously displeased, he did not stop, his expression was faint, and his speech was unhappy. The employees hired are all odd and weird. Experience tells me that if there are two people in front of you to choose, I will definitely choose the one that has obvious shortcomings, but there is no so-called unspeakable hidden, because I can be prepared to avoid letting him come into contact with possible mistakes, and right The other one is hard to guard against.”

Miriam was speechless by what he said, but thinking about it carefully would be a bit general, and she couldn’t deny her all at once.

Seeing her frowning, Bryan became more and more entangled, and couldn’t help but smile: “Since everyone is here, you will have to finish these two days. Then you can choose by yourself.”

...

Another aunt arrived at noon, surnamed Wei, who looked younger and very capable. Miriam let them take care of cooking and the other for hygiene.

Bryan went to work after eating, Miriam sent him away and returned to the living room.

“Miss Lu, I know pregnant women are prone to hunger, so I prepared some snacks, made with vegetable juice, milk and eggs, low in sugar, you can try it.”

The snacks are very delicate, the light green vegetable juice looks very beautiful, but I just finished eating and can't eat anything.

He took it and smiled and said: “Okay, I will eat later, you can go to the rest meeting when you are finished, and you don't have to be with me all the time.”

Aunt Cai seemed habitually embarrassed and nodded and left.

Aunt Wei, who was cleaning the corner, glanced here, did not speak, and continued to clean the stairs.

Mother Lu's attitude was obviously better for Aunt Cai. The two discussed the dishes and were very agreeable, as if they had identified her.

“Miriam, call Bryan and ask when you will be back and why it is so late today.” Lu Mu shouted out of the kitchen.

I looked at my watch, it was almost seven o'clock, picked up the phone and put it down.

There was a feeling that from morning till night, except for hoping for him to go home, he had nothing to do.

“Wait a little longer, maybe something is going on in the company.” The voice was dull, and the book in his hand turned a page, but nothing was remembered.

More than half an hour passed and still did not come back. Father Lu was also a little impatient and said to Miriam: “Take it over, I'll call and ask.”

Miriam was silent before picking up the phone to dial.

The beep sounded for half a minute without anyone answering it, and then calling it again, still no one answered.

He looked up and saw everyone waiting, relaxed and said: “Let's eat first, maybe in a meeting, Aunt Cai waits for him to come back and do something.”

Aunt Cai nodded quickly. Father and Mother Lu heard that a meeting might be possible, and didn't say much.

After eating, Miriam watched TV for a while, both Lu's father and Lu's mother went to sleep, and the two aunts were still cleaning up.

After nine o'clock, there was another call, but no one had no choice but to call Lin Shui, and the connection was made, but he could not say anything over there.

“President Shao is having a meeting. I may not be able to go back tonight. I told you to rest first.”

Without talking nonsense with him, he said quietly: “It seems to be by your side, let him answer the phone, I have something to say.”

“This... is not by my side, his cell phone is out of power, the company is a bit urgent, and I have to go to Xinyue to socialize at night, and I will go back when it is resolved.”

Miriam was silent, expressionless, staring at the characters on the TV without moving. After a few seconds, she said, “Okay, let Shao remember to rest and don’t stay up too late.”

Lin Shui breathed a sigh of relief and immediately said, “Okay, I’ll pass it through.”

I hung up the phone, rummaged through the drawers one by one, and went to the bedroom to look for something. The movement was not small.

Aunt Cai knocked on the door and came in: “Miss Lu, what are you looking for? You are inconvenient, let me find it for you.”

Miriam released the cabinet door in her hand and turned around, frowning slightly: “Car keys.”

“Car key? Are you going out now?”

Miriam stopped talking.

Aunt Cai immediately realized that this is not her responsibility, and grinned, “I’ll look for it again in the living room.”

Suddenly a voice came from outside the door: “Assistant Lin gave me a car key, saying that if I am in a hurry, I can pick up Miss Lu.”

Miriam walked out and saw her take out a handful from her pocket.

“give it to me.”

Aunt Wei immediately became embarrassed and did not let go.

“It’s too late and it’s not safe. Where are you going? I’ll take you there.”

Miriam’s face was cold, and her white face was not warm.”I can go by myself. You are not sent to monitor me. There is no need to follow me step by step.”

Driver and caregiver, such a versatile babysitter, Bryan probably didn’t have to work hard just to find him, and he didn’t know what unexpected skills were hidden.

There was a slight sarcasm at the corner of his mouth.

Aunt Wei's face changed slightly, her hands folded on her lower abdomen, and her head bowed respectfully and said: "Don't dare, it's just that I am responsible for Miss Lu's safety and must do this."

Miriam became angry: "You are a caregiver, but not a bodyguard. You don't need to be responsible for so much. Besides, why do I trust you so much when you first came here? What if you have other ideas?!"

Aunt Wei didn't explain, standing in a low posture, she had been carefully trained at first glance.

Seeing that the two were frozen, Aunt Cai said cautiously: "Or, I will accompany Miss Lu out. Although I can't drive, I can at least take care of it."

Aunt Wei still didn't speak.

Miriam laughed angrily. The nurse who came on the first day was so arrogant. It was really the first time she saw him. The person he found Bryan was really extraordinary.

"You have to follow, but I can warn you not to be nosy except driving."

Aunt Cai took two steps forward, hesitating: "Or I'll follow along..."

Aunt Wei gave her a secret glance: "No, you can rest early."

Miriam couldn't help but confront her: "Follow, help me get a coat and bring some food."

...

The three came to the garage, Aunt Wei took the driver's seat, Aunt Cai was in the co-pilot, and Miriam was in the back.

Chapter 304

"Miss, fasten your seat belt." Aunt Wei said, looking back, expressionless.

Miriam ignored her, it took a few seconds to tie it up, and the car started afterwards.

"Positioning Xinyue." With a command, he closed his eyes for a false sleep.

She didn't know where this Xinyue was, and had never heard of it.

Lin Shui could lie to others without blinking, but he stammered when he told a lie to himself, and he was full of loopholes, not knowing whether it was intentional or what.

The time spent on the road was almost 30 minutes, and it was almost half past ten. It was not in the city center, but it was extremely lively.

It turned out to be the home club. From the outside, you can tell that it is the gold cave of the rich, and the lights are flashing and people are dizzy.

As soon as the car stopped, the doorman came and drove.

“No, I have a driver, let her drive over.”

Aunt Wei originally wanted to get out of the car and follow. It can be seen that she said that, she couldn't make her own decision and hand the car to the doorman. She could only say to Miriam: “Wait for me, I will come over when I stop the car.”

Miriam's expression was faint, and he didn't say a word. As soon as the car drove away, Aunt Cai accompanied him in.

The lights inside were very dim, and the hall manager saw a pregnant woman coming here and walked over immediately.

“I'm looking for someone, Bryan.” Without waiting for her to ask, he reported his name.

The lobby manager looked startled and looked at her up and down again, and said politely: “Do you have an appointment with Shao always?”

“No,” blinked, “isn't he here?”

“Yes, it's just that we can't disturb the guests in Area A easily, so you have to ask for your identity.” The lobby manager smiled.

Shao is always one of the few big benefactors in their store. If he is offended, he may not be guaranteed his job.

“I am him...” I didn't know what to say for a while, and was taken aback.

Aunt Cai quickly said next to him: “She is Mr. Shao's wife. She has already greeted Mr. Shao. You can tell us the place directly.”

The manager beats a drum in his heart. If the wrong person is put in, nothing will happen. The rich people like them will have some trivial family affairs. If this is not the righteous, wouldn't it be a stab.

Seeing him hesitate, Miriam took out a card from his bag, and said quietly, “Help me open the same box. I will rest first. When Mr. Shao sees the guest, you say, let him Come find me.”

Since she is here for consumption, the manager has less worries. No matter what her true purpose is, he should not know it.

This club has all kinds of entertainment, bars, karaoke bars, and dancing, I am afraid that the special services are not ambiguous.

Knowing that he cannot avoid coming to such an occasion in business.

I was taken directly to the box by the waiter. It was still very dim. There were wine and various board games on the table, and I could sing. However, because of the sound insulation effect, it was possible to sleep in the lounge.

After turning around, Aunt Cai found only a thin blanket and came out of the bedroom and said, "I'll go and ask the waiter for a quilt."

"Just ring the bell, you don't have to go in person." Pointing to the corner of the coffee table.

Aunt Cai glanced, smiled, and quickly said: "I'll take it, save them and run back and forth, don't delay your sleep."

Finished speaking and went out.

After coming back ten minutes later, holding a quilt, the face with a silly smile was obviously a little unnatural, as if he saw something that shouldn't be seen, and hesitated to say it.

Miriam blinked and asked, "Aunt Cai, what's wrong?"

"No... it's nothing, you go in and sleep, I'm guarding outside, and I will let him come when Mr. Shao comes out." His eyes were dodging and his words were uncomfortable.

Miriam's heart sank. Aunt Cai knew which room Bryan was in?

Feeling something is wrong, stand up and go out.

Aunt Cai immediately followed, standing in front of the door intentionally or unintentionally blocking her, smiling ugly: "You'd better go to rest, it's so late, it's not good for your child not to sleep."

"I'm not sleepy yet, go out and breathe." Miriam walked around her and came to the door.

As soon as he came out, he saw a familiar figure passing the corner. Miriam followed, but was held by Aunt Cai.

"Miss Lu...I still don't know about some things... These days are still growing..." She looked concerned and persuaded her in the voice of someone coming.

Miriam didn't think there was anything at all, but she was more suspicious, pulling her away and following the figure with a little effort.

The figure disappeared in a blink of an eye, and he walked two steps forward, faintly hearing the voice of speaking.

“Shang Rui is clearly here this time. Can’t you let me help you? Mr. Ming’s order must be won. If it is occupied by him, Longteng will only be at a disadvantage in the future!” Qi Yun’s voice came out intermittently, Even if the person who is speaking does not see it, he can know who it is.

“It’s not as bad as you think, I made my own arrangements.” The man’s voice was cold and low, but it was clearly audible.

Miriam stopped, motionless.

He blinked and hesitated to leave, even if he was curious, he had no habit of eavesdropping.

Qi Yun raised his voice, with some anxiety: “You didn’t see Mr. Ming just now that he was already in agreement? If he knew that our two were married, he would not ignore my uncle.”

Marriage...

Oh, is it going to involve family marriage again?

The voice suddenly disappeared, Miriam desperately wanted to hear the man’s answer, and quickly walked to the end of the corridor and turned her head.

His gaze was suddenly locked on the man’s familiar back, Qi Yun wrapped his arm around him, and the two of them were almost close to each other, and he said something in his ear, as close as a lover in love.

The two of them turned their backs to themselves, both laughing at Yan Yan. They were talking to a man. Looking at their dress and aura, it should be the so-called Mr. Ming.

The coldness on the soles of the feet quickly spread to the whole body.

The doubts and entanglements of so long seemed to be solved instantly.

What are you still struggling with? It only takes such an opportunity, the relationship that I thought was difficult to cut instantly fell apart, and it has always been just self-righteous.

The corners of the mouth smile spreading, full of irony, and the dry smile does not carry any emotion.

“Sister Miriam?” She didn’t know where she came from. She stood behind Miriam, with doubts and surprises, using the right tone for everyone in front to hear.

Bryan turned his head with a slightly stiff lips with a faint smile.

Miriam's expression remained unchanged, but from his perspective it was so unreal.

The man quickly let go and turned around, his face suddenly sank, and strode close to her.

"Ms. Shao, Ms. Ming, why don't you go in and talk?" Shang Rui came out of the box with a deceptive smile, just at the right time, with a gesture of watching the show.

When I saw Miriam, I smiled even more: "It turns out that Miss Lu is here. Why didn't she take care of her baby at home? This place is not suitable for pregnant women..."

Bryan's footsteps only stopped, and soon raised his foot again.

Miriam watched him getting closer, her eyes astringent, and she blinked vigorously.

...
